Dies in Albany

Mrs. Adeline Stacy died in Albany, N. Y., yesterday morning after a long period of ill health. Mrs.
Stacy was 80 years of age, and although born in Hardwick, spent most of her life in Belchertown.
She leaves besides several brothers and sisters, a daughter, Mrs. Carpenter of Albany, and a son, Avery Stacy of this town. The funeral will be held in the chapel tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Town Meeting

While the amount of money raised at the town meeting last Saturday was a record breaker on account of the school house construction, still there was no great crowd out and no arguments presented against the raising of the needed money.

It was voted to authorize the borrowing of $30,000 for the high school building, and $25,000 for a grammar school building, the same to be provided for by bonds and notes to be paid in not more than 20 years.

The town voted to authorize the selectmen to sign the contract between the trustees of the Lawrence Memorial building and the town.

The article to raise $350 to pay for the fire alarm whistle, still on Community hall, was defeated.

The town voted to allow the tree warden $50 towards the expenses of this department, $150 for the purpose of shingling the engine house, $70 to the scaler of weights and measures, $20 towards legislative expenses, and $300 for a bronze tablet on which will be inscribed the names now on the honor board.

The amount appropriated to the legislative account was because of the expense of the water committee to the hearing in Boston.

A. E. Lewis was moderator of the meeting.

The Birds and the Moths

What a lonesome summer it would be if there were no robins and bluebirds in the orchards, no bobolinks in the meadows, no orioles in the elms, no sparrows in the fields and pastures, no thrushes in the woods,
no flash of brilliant color as we go along the highways, and no familiar bird music at morning and evening.

But are the birds useful, only because they please the eye by their plumage and the ear by their music?
The birds give much pleasure to an increasing number of people, old and young, who observe their interesting ways.

The birds appeal to our love of the beautiful and to our love of music and they should be protected, because they add so much pleasure to our life. But they should be protected because of the very practical service they render without charge to all who have orchards or forests or gardens and fields.

The insect enemies to our fruits and crops are legion. The annual losses from their destructive ways
total into the millions of dollars.
This statement is not the exaggeration of a bird lover. Ask for its verification from the Agricultural departments of state or nation and get an inkling of the vast value of birds to the producers of our foods.

The federal authorities announce that they will not be able to help Belchertown this year fight the gypsy moth and 130 colonies of them have been found. There is one class of helpers who will not fail to render assistance, the birds. Many birds have been observed in past years, feeding upon these moths and their young and their eggs. A partial list includes robins, cuckoos, woodpeckers, towhees, blue jays,
king birds and other fly catchers,
and various warblers, grosbeaks and tanagers. The birds may not be able to cope with the moth situation but they will help, and every bird destroyed by bird enemies makes the fight against insect pests the harder, therefore protect the birds from their enemies as much as possible.

If the gypsy moth gets fairly domesticated in Belchertown, we shall need all the help we can get from state and from birds to keep such pests in check. With a new insect enemy among us, we should appreciate more fully than some do, the free and valuable services of the birds.

Closes Pastorate

Rev. H. P. Rankin closed a pastorate of three and a half years at the Federated church last Monday evening with a special communion service. Rev. Mr. Rankin has manifested a great interest in the young people and has been the means of getting many of them to join the church. In fact, during his pastorate he has always stressed the note of personal evangelism. He has always tried to interpret the Scriptures with an appealing reasonableness.
Mr. Rankin left for the Methodist conference in Malden on Tuesday.

Cutting Roadside Trees

Tree Warden Kelley calls the attention of the townspeople to the law as it regards the cutting of roadside trees. He says that there have been gross violations of this law and hereby gives notice that he expects to see that its provisions are lived up to.

"Extracts from Chapter 87, Gen.
Laws of Mass.

Sec. 1. All trees within a public way or on the boundaries thereof shall be public shade trees.

Sec. 3. Except as provided by section five, public shade trees shall not be cut, trimmed or removed, in whole or in part, by any person other than the tree warden or his deputy, even if he be the owner of the fee in the land on which such tree is situated, except upon a permit in writing from said tree warden; * * *

Sec. 5. Tree wardens and their deputies, but no other person may,
without a hearing, trim, cut down or remove trees, less than one and one-half inches in diameter one foot from the ground, and bushes standing in public ways. * * *

Sec. 6. Violations of any provisions of the preceding sections shall be punished by forfeiture of not more than five hundred dollars to the use of the town."

Tree Warden

Prof. Monahan Lec- tures

Prof. Monahan of M. A. C. addressed quite a company of poultrymen at the town hall last Friday evening. He spoke on Poultry Diseases and their Control. He said that it took no great amount of brains to engage in the poultry business successfully for a few years but it did require considerable knowledge to keep it for a long time and make money. When everything was new and the ground was uncontaminated, he said everything went all right, but many an abandoned poultry farm bears testimony to the fact that something happened that discouraged the owners and put them out of business.

Forbearance

In a book which we without hesitation place first, forbearance is a virtue which is deemed essential. It is a grace of first importance. It is counted as a trait which is indispensable. The writers urge their hearers to forbear; the authors bid their readers to suffer long; patience is universally recommended.

Now all of us have a measure of forbearance. There is not one of us but has some power in curbing impatience. We are quite willing to put up with our fellows for a while. We do not lose our patience in an instant of time.

But we soon come to the limit of forbearance. If we bear with some nauseating individual for "seven times", our strength is spent; we are not able to hold out "seventy times seven" times. To suffer long is difficult and well nigh impossible. We can bear with people whom we think are in the wrong for a little while, but we find it hard to continue to bear for any great length of time. Who is there whose forbearance is so abundant as to hold out one year, two years, five years, twenty years? Most of us succumb after a short period. He is a saint who can suffer long and still be kind.

We need to have a more abundant measure of forbearance today. This is what the world needs. It is needed in business life, in social life, in economic life, in political life. There is much to try our patience wherever we look. We become impatient with the Senate, we say hasty things about France, we speak bitterly sometimes even of England. Even in our community life things get on our nerves very quickly and we say things which would have been better if they had not been spoken. It was good advice which our mothers gave us when they said there should always be two "bears" in each home, "bear" and "forbear."

Mrs. Harriette Holland

The death of Mrs. Harriette Holland deserves more than mere passing notice from Belchertown, not only because of the family to which she belonged, but because of exceeding great love for her native place, and how fitting the tribute paid by her kinsman to have the last services conducted from the home in which she was born.

A woman of wonderful memory, keen intellect and resource, Mrs. Holland could tell with accuracy just where any person sat in the Congregational church fifty years ago, just who lived on each farm, and during a last visit to Belchertown a year ago, it was most interesting and instructive to listen to the interchange of days long past, between the late Guy C. Allen, poet laureate of the town, and Mrs. Holland.

Every little detail in the home-stand of her childhood, now owned and occupied by Nelson Holland of New York, was remembered and the little white rose bush now celebrated in song by the late J. G. Holland, was cherished.

Verily, "Her eyes had such a star of morning in their blue, that all neglected places of the field broke into Nature's music when they heard."

Last Friday evening the Community club gave a farewell party to Mrs. Hawes at her home. The event was very pleasantly spent. Old fashioned games were played and refreshments were served by the club members. A check was presented to Mrs. Hawes as a slight token of the club's appreciation of her helpfulness. She has always been a very active and capable member, one who will be greatly missed in the social gatherings of the club as well as in its work.

Belchertown's Industries

From time to time it may be both interesting and informing to describe in some detail the various industries of Belchertown. Time was, they tell us, when every shop was a carriage shop. Then we might be termed quite correctly an industrial community. Such is hardly the case today, but still, here and there is an industry that we would hate to part with.

Perhaps we would not have to go outside our own premises to find an industry that might be missed. Some 20 years ago we began the printing business in a small way. Our patronage soon kept us outgrowing our equipment. The 3 x 5 inch hand press was quickly exchanged for a 5 x 8 and that in turn for a 7 x 11 foot-power machine. Then came an up-to-date 10 x 15 Chandler and Price press, still in operation. The demand for booklets of many pages made it a business imperative to purchase a cylinder press that would print a number of pages at an impression and also take care of posters that heretofore had had to be printed in sections. The new machine also took care of the Sentinel with a single impression where previously four workings were necessary.

In this connection it should be stated that the first week of April, 1915, the first issue of this paper appeared, so that we begin this week volume 8. We celebrated our anniversary yesterday with the arrival of a Linotype machine which, as is generally known, casts lines of type from molten metal. It is operated by means of a keyboard, and displaces the old-time method of picking up separate letters by hand. This machine will be used for "straight matter" of small sizes where a large quantity is required.

While it probably will be some time before the machine is in actual operation, we anticipate using it on the Sentinel and on booklets of various descriptions.

We are deeply indebted to our customers, far and near, who for a long period of years have continued with us and who have helped make this industry in Belchertown possible. We are also exceedingly appreciative on this anniversary of the Sentinel, of the support accorded us during the last seven years. We feel that whatever the Sentinel's failings, it, like the printing industry we are engaged in, might be missed.

ANOTHER INDUSTRY

Jabish brook was once the scene of many activities. Saw mills, planing mills, grist-mills and other mills were turned by its waters, but today the historic brook flows along with seldom a job. Water power, while we may have to go back to it, has for a time at least been displaced by power of other descriptions. These are doing their tasks where the world of business flows by.

Although almost under our nose, it was only the other day that we happened in at the shop of A. R. Ketchen, where his lusty gasoline engine does some of the work that water used to accomplish, like the planing of boards and the sawing of small lumber.

A band saw and an emory wheel are also attached. All the machinery is new and cuts to precision. The owner is equipped to do work on furniture suited to the parlor or build a dump cart that will stand a great deal of wear and tear.

As is the case with our other industries the help does not file in and out of the gate, there are no strikes and lockouts, still the handy shop by the side of the road is a friend to man, and like the other Belchertown industries would be missed.

If you or anyone else in his small way is working at something which is for the upbuilding of Belchertown industrially let us see whether after all it is as insignificant as it may seem.

How to Find Lost Radium.

A doctor recently threw away a $6,000 tube of radium which became mixed up with some bandages which were consigned to the furnace. A radium expert was summoned and he sprinkled zinc sulfide all about the cellar and then turned on the lights. Soon the anxious watchers saw a small glowing patch among the ashes in the furnace and found the tube of radium, which by its action had caused the zinc sulfide to become luminous. The doctor will be more careful in future.—Scientific American.

Why Cattle Are "Mavericks."

Sam Maverick migrated from Massachusetts to Texas in the early days of the great West and entered upon the business of raising cattle. He purchased several herds and put them out to roam the range. Whether from ignorance or from implicit faith in the honesty of the neighbors, it never occurred to Mr. Maverick that it might be wise to put his brand upon his stock.

At round-up time, whenever a cowboy found an unbranded animal, he would cry: "There's a Maverick!"

And, generally being of the unregenerate type, he would use his own brand on his find. The name Maverick soon began to be generally applied and to acquire a distinct metaphorical meaning; and when men had opinions which were vague and undecided, they were declared by Westerners of the old days to hold "Maverick views."

Why "Near" and "Off" Horse.

Because in the days when the driver walked beside the horses his position was always at the left, with his right next to the team. Therefore, in driving a pair, the horse on the left was nearer than the one on the right. The "near" horse is always the one on the left.

Why India Is Losing Cattle.

A census of the cattle of India shows that all the herds have been decreased during the last few years. The reason is that there was a famine of fodder during which it was impossible to get food for the cattle in some districts and it was scarce all over the country.

Why Known as "Dunning."

Because in the reign of Henry VIII there lived a bailiff named Dun, who gained a great reputation for making persons pay their debts. When every method of getting payment had been tried without success, Dun was put to work, and "dunned him" became the popular advice as a last resort.

How Sugar Came to New World.

Sugar gradually found its way into the new world from India, while one of the first American products to be carried to Europe was the cocoa bean, from which chocolate is made. Montezuma, Aztec king, drank it from a golden cup.

Why Called "Bridegroom."

Because in primitive days the newly wedded man had to wait upon the bride and serve at her table upon his wedding day, and thus was a "groom" on this occasion.

Why "Regatta."

Water entertainments are called regattas from the Italian word "regata," meaning a boat race. "Regata" is probably an abbreviated form of "remigata," meaning the act of rowing.

The big thing Mr. Monahan stressed was rotation of ground on which to raise chickens. He advocated three plots of ground, changing from one to the other each year. He was then very sure that with the proper amount of care, the infectious diseases could be avoided.

Mr. Monahan compared conditions in this country with those in the old, where for hundreds of years the poultrymen have used the same plots of ground. He said that one of the greatest English experts was surprised enough at what Americans "got away with in the poultry business," due largely to the fact that the country here is much newer.

Prof. Monahan divided diseases of poultry into two classes, those of fat hens and those of thin hens, as follows:

FAT	THIN
Liver disease	Worms, Intestinal
Gout	Coccidiosis
Rupture	Tuberculosis
Hemorrhage	Cholera
Apoplexy	Typhoid
Tumors	Para-colon or filth disease
Dropsy
Scoup
White Diarrhea

The speaker said that the diseases of fat hens were functional and that no great losses would be experienced therefrom. He said that the experimental department was overloaded with specimens of birds sent in that were afflicted simply with functional diseases.

As for diseases of thin hens, he spoke at the greatest length on paralysis, resulting in most cases from worms. He said that at the present time this was one of the worst enemies of the business. He advocated spraying houses with kerosene, and

We hereby tender our heartfelt thanks to all who in any way assisted at the burial service of our loved one.

We thank those who were interested in sending beautiful flowers, tokens of love, purity and esteem.

We thank those whose kindly acts made bright oases in a lonely, helpless life of an uncomplaining sufferer, and especially do we thank the neighbors whose acts of kindness ceased only when the form we so much loved was borne away to its final resting place.

yards with corrosive sublimate solution, and the use of tobacco in case of afflicted flocks. A bulletin regarding this latter can be found at the college.

Prof. Monahan said that some poultry remedies had been overworked, and cited among such, potassium permanganate and lime. He was also quite pronounced against commercial lice powders unless one wanted to part with his money quickly. He recommended the mercurial ointment or the sodium fluoride treatment instead.

Prof. Monahan claimed that electric lighting in poultry houses was a decided success. He stated that it was very interesting to notice how, with the breakdown of the electric light systems of the eastern part of the state, the egg production fell off while upon its resumption, the record again rose.

While those attending the meeting made few definite promises regarding the adoption of any of the suggestions offered, and while some of the practical poultrymen looked a bit askance at some of the doctrines presented, still the speaker had the confidence of his audience who came out in fairly large num-

"Bridge Row Drags Along"

Under this heading the Ware River News, last week, said:

"Contractors have recently informed the Ware selectmen that the Chapin bridge over the Swift River between Ware and Belchertown can now be built of steel and concrete for $3000, as the price for this kind of work has dropped greatly. That means that the cost is getting somewhere near the figure that Belchertown is willing to pay. Ware, a year ago appropriated $2400 to pay for its share, but Belchertown has refused to consider anything more than sending up a carpenter to the old bridge with a few slats and a pocketful of nails.

"Meanwhile the machinery of the law is moving slowly but steadily to force Belchertown to do its share.

"After two postponements, another hearing has been fixed for May 2 by the county commissioners, on the petition of the Ware selectmen to have the county do the work and send half the bill to Belchertown."

Larger Amount Coming

Some years ago, Whiting Street of Holyoke bequeathed a fund of $112,500 in the hands of trustees, the income of which was to be divided among the various cities, and towns in a fixed ratio, and on the death of a certain party named in the will, directed that the fund itself should be divided and the interest used for the worthy poor as heretofore.

Upon the death of the individual named, it was found that the fund had increased to $178,750, or sixty per cent. more than the original amount. The question as to whether the original amount or the larger sum should be distributed arose and the trustees referred the matter to the state supreme court. Its decision, recently handed down, decreed that the full amount should be divided. Just what amount is forthcoming for Belchertown has not yet been ascertained.

Like the other beneficiaries, this town, for the last two years, while the case has been under adjustment, has received no income from this source.

Clean-Up Day, April 19th

The Park Association has designated next Wednesday as Clean-up day and trusts that the citizens will respond to the call to go out and put the common in shape for the coming season.

Woman's Auxiliary Notes

The Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion will hold a meeting tonight (Friday, April 14) in the Legion rooms. Refreshments will be served at 9.00, all members of the Legion being cordially invited.

Meetings are to be held the second and fourth Fridays of each month.

Salvation Army Solicits Funds

A representative of the Salvation Army was in town Tuesday making arrangements for a campaign for the army in this town. This campaign is a part of a program for New England and is for the purpose of conducting its well-known welfare work. Nineteen different kinds of activities are being carried on in this state.

The quota for Belchertown is $318.70, this amount being based on a percentage of population. The Army plans to get subscriptions annually so that no further appeal will be made until next year.

No membership fees of a stipulated amount are asked for. Free-will contributions alone are solicited.

Funds will be solicited here during the last week in April and the first week in May. The Community club ladies have the matter in charge and have appointed the following committee: Mrs. E. E. Sargent, Mrs. E. G. Sargent, Mrs. Geo. Kelley, Mrs. D. D. Hasen, Mrs. Harriet Dickinson, Mrs. E. C. Howard and Mrs. W. S. Piper.

The Army had a great increase in membership last year, gaining in the aggregate 100 per cent.

Fire at Blue Meadow

Fire destroyed the house and barn belonging to Paul Haesaert of Blue Meadow, last Sunday afternoon.

The fire was discovered at about two o'clock as the family were eating dinner. Mr. Haesaert had been to the barn to water his horses only about twenty minutes before. Neighbors responded quickly and were able to save some of the machinery in the barn. Much of this, however, was damaged by the flames. A cow and horse were removed from the burning building, but two horses were consumed.

The flames spread with great rapidity to the house. The fire department responded but the apparatus was not equal to the occasion. Some of the furniture was saved. Mr. Haesaert is a coppersmith and was unfortunate enough to lose all his valuable tools.

Since the fire, part of the family have been staying at D. C. Randall's and part have gone to Granby to be with relatives.

The loss of the house and barn was partially covered by insurance.

Old Landmark Passes

By the burning of the Haesaert buildings in Blue Meadow last Sunday, another of the old land marks of the town passed away.

The house was built by Lemuel Randall about 83 years ago, and was considered modern and commodious at that time. It replaced the smaller structure where Lemuel Randall brought his bride, Jerusha Dwight, in 1816 and where a large family was reared, including the late Fannie, Alonzo D. and Charles L., all of whom will be remembered by old residents. Upon the sons becoming of age, the management of affairs passed into their hands, and the barn was built by them.

This has been the home of three generations of the Randall family: Lemuel and his family, here Alonzo D. brought his bride, Amy Owen, and here their children were born except Charles, the youngest son. Later Charles, Sr., took to himself a wife and here, too, Dwight C. first saw the light of day. Of late years the place has passed from the Randall family.

The writer has served on many a committee. He has observed that oftentimes there are as many minds as there are members upon the committee. No two think exactly alike. And so it is likely to be true that when the resolutions are drawn up which carry with them the signatures of each member, each member upon the committee has found it necessary to make concessions. Probably no one is wholly satisfied with the resolutions. One member wishes the resolutions had said more; another member wishes a certain clause was different. No one member considers the resolutions ideal, but they all realize that it is far better to frame resolutions which are not ideal than to do nothing. A partial step forward is better than no step at all.

Probably no bill passes which is wholly satisfactory to many. But something is accomplished. If we waited till we framed the ideal bill before we passed any bill at all, we would have no bills upon our statute books.

The same thing is true with reference to international treaties. When nations get together to confer and to make treaties, they find there are as many minds as there are nations. When treaties are framed due regard must be paid not simply to the rights but to the wishes of other countries. When after weeks of conference and deliberation, the nations have come to agree on certain items, the probability is that no nation considers the treaty ideal, but it is the best which can be done after each diplomat has made his concessions. Neither the Versailles treaty nor the Washington treaties were wholly satisfactory to our American delegates. They would have been better pleased with certain modifications here and there, but they were pleased to make concessions at points so as to achieve other things they considered important. As team work is necessary in a small committee, so it is necessary in conferences of nations. We wish some of our senators would realize this point. They act as though if a treaty was not 100% satisfactory, they must make reservations or amendments. It is a part of a good patriot to concede some things for a higher good. We should teach this truth to our boys and girls in school.

Y. P. S. to Hold Banquet

The date set for the Go-to-church banquet for the young people is close at hand and there is every evidence that it will be unique and quite exceptional in food, program, and fun. It is not necessary to state again the conditions under which one is entitled to go but be assured that if you are a member of one of the three teams you will have a place reserved. If you are a member of the society and have been unable to come regularly to church, you too will be entitled to a place, if you make your wishes known to the chairman of the social committee not later than Monday night next. Members of the three teams do not necessarily have to be members of the society. Let us see everyone out Wednesday evening at six o'clock sharp. The program will start at six o'clock with the banquet, then will follow speeches, etc. A grand surprise awaits you and don't pass it up for some fickle reason. There will be plans suggested for the coming summer months that will interest you and make you feel proud of your affiliation with the society.

Let us see everyone out Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock sharp.

Seeks Senatorship

John W. Haigis of Greenfield has announced his candidacy for senator in the Franklin-Hampshire district and sends the following statement to the Sentinel:

"I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for senator from the Franklin and Hampshire district. Many loyal friends throughout the district have expressed what appears to be a sincere and genuine desire that I enter the field.

"I was elected to the Senate in 1915 and 1916, and at the conclusion of my service, there was a demand that I return for a third term. On account of a two-year precedent which had long been observed, I declined to accede to it. This precedent has since been disregarded.

Federated Church Notes

At the close of the morning service of the Federated church next Sunday, an informal vote will be taken in regard to the calling of Rev. Mr. Hilliard of Erving as pastor of the Federated church.

Rev. Ellery C. Clapp of Northampton will occupy the pulpit next Sunday morning. Rev. Mr. Clapp comes as a supply.

In the evening there will be a special Easter service in charge of the Sunday School.

Rev. H. P. Rankin, former pastor of the Federated church, has been assigned to the church in West Warren.

Town Items

Mass will be held at the town hall next Sunday morning at nine o'clock.

F. N. Whiten, who has had many years' experience in the meat and provision business, is now associated with C. F. Aspengren.

Mrs. H. D. Hoag has been appointed school nurse and will visit all the schools once each month.

Mrs. Hoag takes up part of the work done by Mrs. E. G. Sargent previous to her resignation which took effect Apr. 1. Mrs. Sargent retired from her office with the good-will of the townspeople to whom she has rendered eminently satisfactory service.

Matters are going forward in regard to the erection of the new school buildings. The committee is conferring this week with architect Harding relative to completing specifications on the grade school building so that bids may be solicited. The necessary signatures have been secured to the school building contract so that the combined hall and high school building project has been cut loose from any uncertainties. It is expected that this part of the program will now move along with celerity, now that so much preliminary work has been accomplished.

Why Phosphorus is Taboo.

The invention of the phosphorus friction match was a very important step in the development of the match. It was brought into general commercial use in 1833. The first of this type made in the United States were manufactured at Springfield, Mass., in 1836. They were of the "strike anywhere" variety, and the inflammable head consisted of white or yellow phosphorus, together with sulphur and other substances that yield oxygen readily in the presence of heat, such as chlorate of potash, red lead, nitrate of lead and peroxide of manganese. White or yellow phosphorus is a deadly poison, which is liable to infect operatives who handle it with a distressing disease called "phossy jaw." The terrible suffering endured by workmen in match factories led to an international movement for their protection, and the use of white or yellow phosphorus now is forbidden by law in practically every country engaged in the manufacture of matches.

Why Astronomers Need Enthusiasm.

Admiral J. A. Hoogewerf, superintendent of the naval observatory in Washington, has trouble getting astronomers at $1,000 or $1,200 a year, which is the amount allowed for some of the young assistants who gaze nightly at the stars. They work in a cold observatory all through the winter and the admiral says their physical sufferings are often great. They have to be enthusiasts in their profession. The admiral recently received an application from a man who had no qualifications whatever, but when he was told of the amount paid for the services of an assistant he turned up his nose and said he could make much more at his trade, that of a plumber.

Why "Grass Widow."

A woman is known as a "grass widow," because she is a widow by courtesy or "grace." The term "grass widow," which is from the French, means any woman separated from her husband otherwise than by death. The French pronunciation of "grace" is the same as our "grass," which explains the corruption to "grass widow."

Why Heels Are Worn.

Because the sandal-like footwear of olden times was not adapted to horse-back riding, and when the high boots were introduced heels were put on for the purpose of giving the foot a good hold on the stirrup.

Dies in Springfield

Miss Emma D. Kieth of 24 Brown St., Springfield, and a former resident of this town, died on Tuesday in Springfield. The funeral was held yesterday at 3 p. m. at the Dickinson-Streeter company's parlors. The body was brought here for burial.

Turkey Hill Items

E. F. Shunway took his father and mother to Springfield for an outing one day this week, their first since their recent illness.

Mrs. E. E. Brooks is visiting friends in Florence, Mass.

The new gravel road between Turkey Hill and the Holyoke state road has recently been put in repair, which is greatly appreciated by those living near, but the unfortunate ones who live several miles off the permanent road would be glad to see a few loads of gravel placed in the mud holes to enable them to drive the old horse to town for the necessary groceries.

It is thought by some that the good old name of Turkey Hill should be changed to Radio Hill, as there have been nearly one-half dozen radio instruments installed in this region.

Mrs. Helen Clifford Dobbs has

Lecture on Boy Scout Work

The postponed lecture on Boy Scout work will be given under the auspices of the Community club in the chapel Monday evening at eight o'clock. Mr. Hillegas of Northampton will show lantern slides and lecture on the purposes of the Boy Scout Movement. This lecture is intended for older people rather than the boys themselves. Its object is to insure a wider understanding of the work, and of what the organization has accomplished. It is hoped that a large number may be present in order that the boys of our town may find cooperation and encouragement in forming a local Scout Troop.

Go-to-Church Banquet

The Go-to-Church banquet, the goal of all efforts in the Young People's societies for some time, was held in the chapel on Wednesday evening. It was a gala occasion and a fitting climax to the church-going campaign.

About sixty sat down to the supper served in real banquet style with all the fixings. Then came the reports from committees, after which the gathering resolved itself into committee groups to plan work for the coming month. Then each committee reported what it planned to do.

Some of the things ahead are the formation of a Junior society under the auspices of the Senior society, and another contest to be called the aeroplane-submarine contest. The society will be divided into two groups and at their regular meetings on Sunday evening will compete for honors as regards attendance and participation in activities of the society.

Theodore Hazen, honorary president, made remarks. Rev. H. P.
Rankin, pastor of the Federated church during the time the contest was in progress, was also present.
After the business meetings games were enjoyed.

Thus ended the go-to-church hanquet, but the society still believes in church attendance and wants its members to support the services as heretofore. The presence of the young people at the church services has been an inspiration to pastor and people.

Clean-Up Day

If April 19th came oftener, we do not know what the town would look like. People familiar with the place would probably pass on, not recognizing the spot. Not in many a year has such an array of workers appeared on the common to clean it up as was the case on Wednesday. Old and young were out to render community service and all found something to do to help along the cause.

Before noon the common had been raked from one end to the other and the army had their eyes on other fields to conquer.

Their deliberations were interrupted, however, by the call to the sumptuous dinner served in Grange hall by the ladies of the Grange to those who had raked valiantly.

Three trucks were on hand to dispose of the refuse on the park, E.
C. Howard's, E. C. Witt's and Chas.
Austin's, and all were kept busy during most of the day. Small boys played their part in tramping down
the leaves while the older ones loaded. Real loads they were, too. Chas.
Austin nearly got stranded with his big truck between the chapel and Community hall.

The after dinner work was equally as conspicuous as the morning's.
The chapel and Congregational church lawn came in for a good raking, both in the front and rear, and shrubby and trees were trimmed with willing hands. The Community hall school yard also "took it"
and the effects were marvelous.
Nothing daunted the enthusiasm of the workers.

Before night the cannon and cannon balls on the common had received a coat of paint, so it was a real clean-up day and speaks well for Belchertown's public spirit. It would have cost the town considerable money to pay for the work that was rendered free gratis.

F. D. Walker, president of the Park association, under whose direction the work was done, announced at the dinner hour that the annual meeting would be held next Wednesday night and hoped that new members and old would be on hand to attend the meeting.

Death of Mrs. M. C. Bardwell

Mrs. Mary Bardwell passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs.
B. C. Eastman of Peabody, last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Bardwell was born in Nova Scotia July 2, 1864, but spent most of her life in Belchertown. Mr. Bardwell died just two years ago to a day.

Mrs. Bardwell leaves a large family of children, Mrs. B. C. Eastman of Peabody, Mrs. Selden Hill, Miss Mary Bardwell and Raymond Bardwell of Beverly, Wm. Bardwell of Amherst, Roy Bardwell of So. Hadley Falls, Herbert Bardwell of Providence, and Dana Bardwell of Bel-chertown. She also leaves three brothers, Chas. Trainor of Belchertown, Homer Trainor of Palmer, and David Trainor of Nova Scotia.

There are four grandchildren.

The funeral was held in the chapel Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. C. H. Smith of Granby officiating. The bearers were the six sons.
Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Easter Service

A special Easter service was rendered at the Federated church on Sunday evening. The program was largely musical and was participated in mostly by those in the main department of the Sunday School. The Easter message was told in recitation, song and scripture. The service was in charge of Supt. Witt.
The program follows:

We Are Guilty

How are we guilty? What have we ever done to harm our neighbors? What have we ever said which has retarded any forward movement? We have never blocked any worthy enterprise. We have never put cold water on a forward step.

How are we guilty? We have never committed theft or murder or adultery or drunkenness. We have never burnt another man's house or even been guilty of cruel treatment to man or beast.

Is not our record pretty clean? Have we not a fine reputation? Can anyone rightfully accuse us of breaking any of the laws of society? We have never been haled before the court for any misdemeanor. How are we guilty?

This is where we are guilty, in omitting to do the things we should have done. We kept still when we should have spoken. We did nothing when we should have done much. We let the matter alone when we should have grappled with it with both our hands.

Our wrong is in neglect. We neglected to go to the polls, we neglected to vote for the worthy enterprise, we neglected to take a stand against a certain evil. The great cry of all devils today is the cry they have always had, "Let us alone." And too frequently we let them alone. We sit quietly by our fireside when we should be wrestling with some problem of the community at a committee meeting. We fold our hands when we ought to be attacking some evil. And all the favor-all devils ask of us is to let them alone.

We never criticized the lodge or the club or the church or the school, but we neglected them.

Armonia is more dead than alive. We never killed an Armenian as did the Turk but we neglected to be a mandate for Armenians.

The Russian famine is the most frightful in history. We are guilty if we neglect them. Can you mention a sin more deadly than the sin of neglect? R

The informal vote taken at the morning service last Sunday relative to the calling of Rev. D. L. Hilliard of Erving resulted in quite a large majority in favor.

Rev. J. O. Wightman of Florence, county missionary, will preach at the morning service on Sunday. There will be no evening service.

Pledge cards for the fiscal year beginning May 1, will be available next Sunday morning to all those who would like to fill them out and send them in, thus obviating the necessity of having canvassers call at a later date.

One of our most prominent citizens said the other day, "I would hate to live in a community where there was no church." We presume there are many like him who share the same opinion.

A bank in a town not many miles away advertised in one of the papers as follows: "Protecting the community, side by side stand the church the school and the bank." The bank had no hesitancy in placing the church first in the list.

We do well to consider what this institution of long standing in the community stands for and to appraise its value, so that when it asks for the wherewithal for its continuance, we may give it its just deserts.

The barn on the Historical association property has been removed. Concrete blocks are being used as paving around the premises. Miss Lucy Thomson of Pittsfield is making plans for the forestry work on the grounds.

Owing to illness among the members and also absence, the committee in charge of the next get-together social, has decided to postpone that event until fall.

Blake Jackson was injured last Thursday night in Springdale, being hit by the 9.30 trolley, express from Springfield to Holyoke. He had been down to see the high water and was just starting to walk home when struck. He was taken to the House of Providence hospital where it was found that his left leg was broken between his knee and hip. He also received other injuries.

The Methodist and Congregational churches concurred last evening in extending a call to Rev. Dow L. Hilliard of Erving.

Along the Way

(Clipping sent by a subscriber)

Let me sow a seed of kindness
In the lives along the way,
To spring up where flowers are lacking
And bear fruit some coming day;
Just a deed that helps another,
Just a word in time of need—
O, so many fields are waiting For the sowing of love's seed!

If I share another's burdens,
I forget about my own;
And in speaking words of comfort
Oft I find my troubles flown.
I can double all the blessings
That God sends me every day,
If I share them with the comrades
That I meet along the way.

O, the hearts that ache and hunger
For a kind word or a smile!
O, the weary by the wayside
That need helping all the while!
Who can ask a nobler mission
Than to work, as best he can,
In a faithful, earnest fashion
For his God and fellow man?

So, my comrade, look about you
For the fields wherein to sow Seed of love and human kindness
While the moments come and go.
God will send the rain and sunshine
That is needed; never fear.
Ours to sow, and His the harvest
When the reaping-time is here.

—Eben E. Rexford

WHY

American Actresses Win Popularity in Europe

Those persons who believe nothing but a pretty face is necessary to make you a popular movie star should read what film producers in England and France are up against in their search for young women who can make good in motion pictures, May Straunthan writes in the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

They claim there are just as many pretty girls in England and France as there are in America—though doubtless this is an exaggeration—but they admit their pretty girls do not screen as well as those of America. They frankly acknowledge the reason is lack of brains. These producers say brains are necessary to success as a movie actress.

Rene Navarre, French actor and would-be film producer who aspires to make his film city at Nice the rival of the one at Los Angeles, after which it is modeled, says he has tried hundreds of beautiful French women and girls, but they have failed miserably before the camera because of lack of the quick intelligence necessary to catch the point of a pose. In despair, he says the only thing to do is to start an academy for the training of camera-stars.

Miss Violet Hopkins, one of the few English girls who have made a success in motion pictures, attributes the success of the American girl to her ambition, thoroughness, her willingness to work hard and her study of types, not only of to-day, but in literature, including history and poetry.

So the American girl scores again.

CHEERFULNESS AS AN ASSET

Why Mirth Has Been Called "God's Medicine" by Those Capable of Appreciating It.

Mirth has been called God's medicine. There are few persons who cannot testify to the saving value of a smile. There is a story told of a man who received a wire while on a business trip that his business had been wiped out by fire. The depression which followed this news threatened for a time his mental balance, and he even gave serious thought to taking his own life.

While in this dangeous mood he received a letter from his daughter, a girl of nine, which read: "Dear Daddy—I went down to see your store that was burned and it looked awfully pretty all covered with ice. Love and kisses from Helen."

The man laughed and the day was saved. That glint of humor was like a ray of sunshine in a dark cell. The spirit of the man was released from the prison of his gloom.

Lincoln on the day that he read to his cabinet the emancipation proclamation opened that important meeting by reading from Artemus Ward. When rebuked by one of his serious-minded cabinet officers for having called them into an important session to hear such nonsense, Lincoln replied: "Why don't you laugh, gentlemen? If I couldn't laugh I would die."

Emerson has said, "Nothing will supply the want of sunshine for peaches, and to make knowledge valuable there must be cheerfulness."—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle

Park Association Meeting

The annual meeting of the Park association was held in the town hall on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. The secretary's report was read and accepted. The amendment to the by-laws which provides that the annual meeting be held the first Wednesday in April instead of the last of April as heretofore, was adopted.

It was also voted that all those who assisted in cleaning the Park last week be added to the list of members.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, F. D. Walker; Vice-president, J. W. Jackson; Secretary, H. A. Hopkins; Treasurer, L. H. Blackmer; Executive committee, E. C. Howard, L. H. Blackmer, E. O. Witt, H. F. Peck, Raymond Blackmer.

Federated Church Notes

Rev. Dow L. Hilliard of Erving has accepted the call of the Federated church and will take charge of the work here the second Sunday in May.

The annual canvass for pledges for regular church expenses will be taken next Sunday afternoon. A number of constituents turned in their cards at the close of the morning service last Sunday. A similar opportunity will be given this coming Sunday. Those who do this, materially help the canvassers, who will not have to make as many calls.

Rev. W. O. Parmenter of Springfield will supply the pulpit on Sunday morning. This service will begin on daylight saving time. There will be no evening preaching service.

Beginning with the prayer meeting next Thursday evening, the evening services of the Federated church will be held at 8 o'clock.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Federated church will be held at the close of the prayer meeting next Thursday evening. Last year's officers will report and new officers will be elected.

Boy Scout Lecture

Mr. Hillegas of Northampton, secretary of the Boy Scout work in Hampshire county, gave an illustrated lecture Monday evening in the chapel, under the auspices of the Community club. The lecture was an interesting one and portrayed Boy Scout activities in its many branches.

Mr. Hillegas not only gave an illustrated talk by means of slides but gave illustrations of another fashion that drove home the conclusion that what Boy Scouts learn is quite essential in every day living. He told of instances where Scouts had given first aid in a very commendable manner and told in a vivid way of the rescue work one Scout did at a fire before the firemen arrived. The boy's knowledge of what to do in circumstances of this kind enabled him to save the lives of people trapped in the burning house.

Mr. Hillegas also related incidents where a lack of Boy Scout training had caused unnecessary loss of life.

The lecture was attended mostly by the young people, many of whom would be glad to have a troop formed in Belchertown. The situation seems to be that there is no leader in sight to take up the work.

The Boy Scout movement has grown considerably in the county. There were only four troops last November, whereas now there are fifteen.

Mr. Hillegas has been in town a number of times in connection with the movement and hopes some day to see something definite shape up.

Red Bridge Officers

The Red Bridge Community League has chosen the following officers: President, James Field; vice president, Joseph Benway; secretary, Mrs. Grace Filer; treasurer, Alice Paine; social committee, Michael Cavanaugh, Merrick Allen, Mrs. Grace Filer, Ernest Paine, Mrs. James Field; executive committee, Marcena Alden, Joseph Benway, Albert Paine, William Johnson; auditor, Albert Paine; agricultural, Robert Allen, George Potter, Clarence Alden.

Annual Meeting of Community League

The adjourned annual meeting of the Belchertown Community League Inc. was held in the High school room last Friday evening.

The following officers were chosen: clerk, A. F. Bardwell; treasurer, H. F. Peck; directors, L. H. Blackmer, Wm. Orlando, H. F. Curtis, Mrs. E. C. Howard, Roswell Allen, E. C. Howard, R. E. Fairchild, D. P. Spencer, Mrs. H. F. Curtis.

The chief discussion at the meeting was over subletting the hall for the next six months to the present operator of the moving picture show so that he can arrange the program of entertainment to the profit of the League and for his own protection.

The prevailing sentiment was that the townspeople should receive preference as to time and price, but there was some difference of opinion as to how best these results could be obtained.

The matter was left with the directors to be brought before the stockholders.

Holyoke Minstrel Club Here This Evening

The Minstrel club of Holyoke High school will present an entertainment tonight in Community hall. The club is composed of twenty young ladies and fifteen men, who are now either students in High school or alumni.

This entertainment has been put on in Chicopee, Amherst, So. Hadley and Holyoke, meeting with success in every case.

The minstrel will be quite different in many respects from the general run of this type of show. Several novelty features will be introduced.

A five-piece orchestra will furnish music for the occasion. After the show there will be dancing in the Park View hall, music being furnished by the above mentioned orchestra.

An Egg Story

A fad that has been going for some time among poultrymen is that of putting electric lights in hen houses, but Mrs. Mabel Stebbins of North Main St. is being compelled by force of circumstances to install electric fans in her hennery.

Last Saturday morning she was getting together ingredients for a custard pie. She went to the egg pan containing eggs collected the night previous, selected one, broke it, when, lo and behold, she found it was boiled. As she doesn't remember having a boiled egg in the house for some time she concludes that in spite of the recent cold weather her hen house has been too warm and that with the accompanying dampness the boiling process has automatically set in.

Of course if there is a market for boiled eggs she will undoubtedly make no alterations, but will try to perfect the process, but if not she will have to install fans or else solve the mystery.

The Country of Books

This workaday world is so trying at times; Folks chatter and squabble like rooks!

So the wise flee away to the best of all climes,

Which you enter through History, Memoirs or Rhymes, 'That most wonderful Country of Books.

And griefs are forgotten. You go on a tour

More wondrous than any of "Cook's";

It costs you but little—your welcome is sure—

Your spirits revive in the atmosphere pure

Of the wonderful Country of Books.

Your friends rally round you. You shake by the hand

Philosophers, soldiers, and spooks! Adventurers, heroes, and all the bright band

Of poets and sages are yours to command

In that wonderful Country of Books.

New heights are explored; and new banners unfurled;

New joys found in all sorts of nooks—

From the work-weary brain misgivings are hurled—

You come back refreshed to this workaday world

From that wonderful Country of Books.

Chapel Fund Supper

An exceptionally fine evening and other considerations attracted a large number to the Chapel Fund supper in the chapel Wednesday evening. The silk bags given out a year ago, in which have been placed a penny a week for the chapel fund, were returned in goodly numbers and were exchanged for supper tickets.

There was also a large patronage from those who had not taken bags. The supper was of Social Guild standard and the decorations were pleasing.

The idea of raising money by sending out the bags originated with Mrs. Hattie Taylor and it has been largely through her efforts that the plan has been carried out.

The money realized on the proposition will go towards the fund the ladies are fostering for the enlargement of the chapel.

Aside from the supper and entertainment there was a table where aprons were on sale.

The program follows:

Song Young men's quartet
Walter Dodge, Watson Bardwell, James Aldrich, Robert Dunbar

Recitation Mama's Helper

Annual Meeting of Historical Association

The annual business meeting of the Belchertown Historical association was held in Clapp Memorial library last Friday evening. President Willard A. Stebbins, of Chicopee, presided.

The following officers were elected: trustees, Mrs. Maria Longley, Miss Marion Bartlett, Myron Barton, Harry Hopkins, Herbert Curtis, Willard Stebbins, Daniel Hazen, George Green, Everett Howard, Mrs. Alice Kendall, Merriok Morse, John Jackson, Lewis Blackmer, Fred Walker, Miss Lucy Thomson; president, Willard Stebbins; vice presidents, Fred Walker, Everett Howard; recording clerk, Miss Marion Bartlett; corresponding clerk, Mrs. H. F. Curtis; treasurer, Lewis Blackmer; auditor, H. F. Curtis; custodian, Mrs. H. F. Curtis.

The subject of most interest to those gathered at the meeting was that of moving into the new quarters on Maple street. It is hoped that within a few weeks the house will be sufficiently completed to allow for this long contemplated event. In its new home the association exhibit will take on added attractiveness.

A pleasing feature of the evening's business was the announcement of the receipt of a check from W. C. Walker of Cleveland, Ohio, who maintains an interest in this town and the work of the association.

Bridge Affair Settled

It seems that the matter of the Chapin bridge has at last been settled. At the hearing before the county commissioners on Tuesday, it was decided that a new steel structure be put in, Ware to assume 37 1/2 per cent. of the expense, the county 37 1/2, and Belchertown 25 per cent. According to present costs, our share will be around $1,100.

While Ware will be pleased with the outcome, it has Belchertown to thank for haggling over the matter till prices dropped, although that was not the real intention of the voters.

Busy Fighting Fire

Forest Warden J. J. Fairchild has been putting in some strenuous days, fighting forest fires of late. Last Saturday at one p. m. he was called to Leach's crossing where eight acres of young pines set out by the state, were burned over, some twenty acres of second growth, and five acres of brush land. 22 men fought this fire which was out at 4 p. m. The rest of the day was spent on the Belchertown line near the Holyoke range.

On Sunday at 10.30 they were called to a fire which started Saturday afternoon at Bondsville. The fire was on this side of Swift river and was set by the B. and A. R. R. This was a big fire and burned over from 250 to 300 acres of woodland. A big force of men tackled this proposition and had it out at 2.15 p. m.

The warden was called to Pond Hill Monday morning at 2.30. There were two false alarms Monday morning. The fire at Pond Hill was put out by six o'clock on the Belchertown end, but the line was patrolled all night by seven men.

On Tuesday at 12.30 a fire started in Belchertown at Mead's corner. It crossed King St. to Pelham and burned over Mt. Lincoln. About eighty men from Belchertown were at this fire which was put out with the aid of people from other towns, and Amherst students. While the fire started in Belchertown, only a few acres were burned over in this town. When Chief Fairchild arrived at the fire he saw that it would be a dangerous one and immediately summoned Forest Warden Crowe, who was in this vicinity assisting local forest wardens. He responded and took charge of the fight.

On Wednesday a call came from the south part of the town to a three hours fire. This started on property of the Boston Duck company. This fire was not so serious as some others, pasture land suffering chiefly.

Forest Warden Fairchild calls attention to the fact that orders have been issued to stop granting permits to have fires in the open until serious rains have soaked the ground. All previous orders issued are revoked and all persons starting fires in defiance of these rules will be arrested.

Science and Religion

Science and religion are not foes; they are friends. The world has been slow to learn this because the scientists and theologians have oftentimes taught conflicting views.

The reason why science and religion have seemed to be in conflict is because of the imperfect teaching. The mere fact that the scientist revises his theories of science and the theologian puts deliberately some time-honored creed into the waste basket because he thinks it cannot be squared with the religion from heaven, is proof that the teachings neither of science nor religion have been perfect.

All of them are human and sometimes err. But science and religion can never be in conflict. They are allies, not enemies. They would like to work together and not apart. Science has never destroyed anything of value in religion. Science has shown us, for example, that the earth is not flat, as those who wrote our Bible thought, but that does not affect religion one whit.

en each other. Neither the physician nor the minister can accomplish separately what they might if they worked in harmony, as we believe most of them do. Science strengthens one's faith rather than weakens it. Science is a bulwark to religion if given a fair chance. Both scientists and theologians are anxious to get at the truth, and we need never fear of truth.

Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Peck entertained a surprise party Monday evening at their home on Cottage St. in honor of the fifteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Rhodes.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes were the recipients of gifts of cut glass, pyrex, flowers and cash. The evening was very pleasantly spent with music, games and refreshments.

A Prayer of Consecration

The fields unto the harvest are white Unoccupied yet. Unoccupied still Nurtured and protected in thy Light I stand ever ready to do thy will:

Oh Lord of the harvest I aim to do Thy bidding and carry out thy commands; Thou wilt find me trustworthy and true, Willing to work for thee with heart and hands.

So, dear Master, ever do I pray That thou wilt lead to the neglected field; That there Thou wilt use me night and day, And strengthen me so that I may not yield.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Congregational church will meet with Mrs. A. L. Kendall next Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

Rev. W. R. Blackmer of Saxtons River, Vt., will be installed as pastor of the Congregational church in that place on Monday, May 22.

Miss Myrtle Blackmer, who has made her home in town for some time, is in training at a New York hospital.

The May communion service of the Federated church will be postponed a week so that the newly-called pastor, Rev. Dow L. Hilliard, may officiate.

The moisture of yesterday was quite acceptable in view of the prevailing dryness and the danger from forest fires.

Popular Summer Game Became Known as Tennis

Homer, magic word painter, has Naïsica, princess of Phoenicia, playing a game of ball with her maids of honor, which is said to have been the ancestor of modern tennis, after the usual changes and modifications that inevitably occur through the ages.

From Greece and Rome shortly thereafter a like game was taken into other European countries, and during the middle ages we find the royalty, especially the kings of England and France great players of the game.

In France players cried "Tenez," meaning "Take," supposedly meaning "Take this ball," with great gusto as they swatted the little ball, and it is from that word that the game is supposed to have derived the name of tennis. "Tenez" became successively "tenyse," "tenys" and then "tennis" in old English, after the usual procedure of corrupting words of foreign derivation.

For a time tennis was known in England as "rackets," getting that name through another line of nomenclature ancestors, beginning with the Arabian word "rahat," which meant "palm," and was supposed to apply to a game in which the palm of the hand was used as the bat. "Rahat" became "racketta" in Italian, "rackette" in French and was Anglicized into "racket" or "raquet."—Chicago American.

College Combines Study With Job

YOUNG men, wishing to succeed, must realize that trained men have better chances than untrained. It always was so in the history of our Great New England and it always will be so. Yet training takes time and that is what discourages a good many young fellows. When however a college has made it possible to combine study with a job on salary—thus learning and applying at the same time, a short-cut to success has undoubtedly been found."

Frank P. Speare Pres. of Northeastern University

The number of students in Civil, Mechanical, Electrical and Chemical Engineering is now 820. The number of students in 1910 was only 8. These figures show how the idea of co-operative education has grown in a few years. It is a system that combines work on a job with technical training, and obviates for employer and student the unhappy breaking-in period that usually faces the man who hires and the man who tries to work after leaving school or college.

In a statement recently delivered to a number of engineering firms and contractors in Boston and vicinity, Dean Ell made the system of the School of Engineering clear.

The School of Engineering, Northeastern University, is the highest development of "learning by doing." Its students alternate in their study between the classroom and industrial plants. They spend a certain number of weeks in studying the theory of engineering at college. Then, they spend a like period on the actual job.

This practical experience, lack of which often is the college man's greatest handicap, is made possible through the co-operation of many of the largest industrial establishments in this part of the country. More than 150 concerns already have recognized these and other advantages of co-operating with the School of Engineering and employ students because they are available at a wage which is satisfactory to both.

In practice there are two student-workers to each job in a co-operating plant. During the five weeks that A is on the job, B is in college. When B goes on the job for the next five weeks, A returns to the classroom.

The only variation from this plan of operation is in the case of freshmen.

On the actual job, the student learns how to get along with men. He acquires the rare characteristic, executive ability, which employers always are seeking in men, and which the men themselves must have to rise in their jobs.

Lectures on Fish and Game

The lecture last Friday evening by O. C. Bourne, chief warden of the department of fisheries and game in Massachusetts, was a most interesting one. The speaker said that his offerings were a composition of hot air and electricity. The hot air was anything but debilitating, however, and the electricity was used to good effect.

Mr. Bourne gave his discourse touches of humor and originality most pleasing. He evidently has imbibed considerable tonic himself from the woods and streams, which led him to prescribe the same medicine for his hearers. He said he had talked with a number of our citizens during the afternoon and if he was any judge the only thing that would put new life into them was the life of the great outdoors.

It was the purpose of Mr. Bourne to show what becomes of the fees received from hunting and fishing licenses and why the amount of the fees has been increased. He said that 100,000 licenses were issued last year.

He said that the fact that many birds and fish are becoming extinct was the reason why the fish and game commission is carrying on its work. Whereas the sky was fairly dark with some birds a few years ago, only a few are seen today. Some of them, he said, can be raised in confinement and some cannot.

The speaker said that were it not for the fact that a good portion of the 100,000 who took out licenses
last year were mighty poor shots, there would not be as much game left as there is.

Mr. Bourne said that a real sport was one who killed game sufficient for his needs and then stopped, so that the other fellow might have some, too. All through his lecture was this spirit of doing as one would be done by.

He said that true conservation was making the best use of the things we have. He pointed out that there is not good hunting and fishing all over Massachusetts. He said he knew a great many people in the eastern part of the state who thought nothing of travelling seventy-five or a hundred miles to get to a place where they could get a good shot or a good fish.

Carnations

The local unit of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion has made arrangements for the sale of carnations for Mother's Day, Sunday, May 14. The sale will start Saturday afternoon with a house to house canvass by the members and continue throughout the evening when the flowers will be sold around the business section of the town.

The Auxiliary, by placing an early order, are enabled to sell for a lower price than will prevail in the neighboring cities. It is hoped that everyone will wear a flower in remembrance of mother.

Grange Notes

At a special meeting on Tuesday evening the third and fourth degrees were conferred on a class of five candidates. H. Prescott Burroughs of Boxboro inspected the grange. After the degree work a social hour was enjoyed.

The next meeting promises to be one of especial interest as we are to have Mrs. Clifton Johnson of Hadley as a speaker. She will speak on The Spirit of the Home. Mrs.
Johnson is lecturer of Hampshire Co.
Pomona and chairman of the Home Economics committee of the state grange. All who know Mrs. Johnson realize that a treat is in store.

Catholic Mission Supper

The places of serving may change but the Catholic Mission suppers go on forever. The old town hall that knows no creed, and is open to all alike, had the honor of receiving the hungry crowds at supper time on Wednesday evening. The hall was sufficiently large to accommodate the eaters and the talkers all at once.

New tables and supports bore up the bounties that abound on such occasions. The small committee rooms in the hall were used as kitchenettes while a supply depot was inside.

As is usually the case, parties of varying numbers came from surrounding towns to swell the company. There was a large contin-gent from Holyoke, many of whom assisted in the pleasing program which followed the supper.

The program was varied in its make-up and liberal in its music.
All would have received encores but the numbers moved on in rapid succession. Miss Clark, by request, repeated at the close her solo, "A Little Bit of Heaven." The full program follows.

The Poverty of the World

The world is poor. It is poorer than we have ever known it. It was made poor by the Great War. In the early months of the War it was prophesied that it could not possibly last but a few months because there was not enough money to carry it on. But the War went on for years rather than for months. The wealth of the world was burned up. The nations became bankrupt. Generations yet unborn will stagger under the weight of the debt. There is as much danger in poverty as there is in wealth.

We must therefore work. It is no time to shorten our hours or decrease our output or diminish our energy. Rather our work must be more productive, more efficient, more skillful.

It is only by hard labor that we can rebuild what the War destroyed, only by persistent effort that we can create what the War consumed.

Every man must work. The production must be greater and the output must be larger.

It will take a long time to replace what the War in a few months destroyed. If we are wise we will see that the wealth of the world is not again burned up through war.

What Does it Mean to be an American?

$5.00 PRIZE ESSAY

by Miss Alice Howard

Prize awarded by Chauncey D. Walker Post, American Legion

What does it mean to be an American? If we are Americans we are granted certain inalienable rights, civil and political, as the right to peacefully enjoy our earnings, and freedom of speech and press. The right to vote and hold office are privileges which are as dear as life itself to an American.

But with these privileges we must assume certain obligations. We should not use our privileges to undermine our nation. It is our duty to use our vote, not for what money we can get out of it, as is so often done, but it should be used to support the right. If everyone did their duty the political bosses' rule would end and our corrupt political life would no longer be a blot on our fair name. In holding office the temptation to be corrupt is even greater than in voting. But men of America, fortune has smiled on you and your land. How long will you remain in her favor if you continue in your corrupt ways? Let him answer who can.

Another duty of every American man, woman and child is the one of setting an example to the strangers in our land, for if we are disrespectful to our flag and we reproach and revile our leader, the president, how can we expect to make good citizens of the immigrants?

The brave men who have offered their lives in the late war and the wars before it, struggled that our nation might live and "That government of the people, by the people, for the people, should not perish from the earth."

Shall we forget their heroism and neglect our duties, letting our government fall into corrupt hands? Let us unitedly say No! And let us resolve "that this nation under God will have a new birth of freedom." That to be an American will always mean, as it means now, an honor and a glory.

N. H., who were recently married, have taken up their residence in what was previously the Olaphomestead.

There will be a meeting of the Woman's auxiliary of the American Legion, this evening at 7.30. The auxiliary are planning to use the proceeds of the carnation sale to pay for the children's lunches on Memorial Day.

No Fires Yet.

Since the recent rains forest warden Fairchild has been issuing permits for fires but Wednesday he received word from the state authorities not to issue any more permits and to recall all those out. So the law is still on and brush fires or any other fires are not allowable. Forest warden Fairchild is authority for this statement.

At the close, Father McGrath of Bondsville thanked the people for their assistance and patronage and invited them all to attend the lawn party which will be held during July or August.

Father McGrath graciously acted the host during the evening, while Mrs. Garvey and her loyal assistants saw to it that the substantial things of life were provided.

The hall was beautified with flags, bunting and flowers.

Turkey Hill Items

Bartlett Green had as guest during the past week, Junior Shumway. Friday they were entertained at Mrs. J. R. Newman's in honor of Bartlett's fourteenth birthday.

C. R. Green attended Thursday a demonstration class given by the Eastern Electric Light Co. in Springfield relative to the Willis-Knight engine used in Mr. Green's lighting plant. He was accompanied by E. L. Schmidt.

C. R. Green took third prize for the funniest dressed man at a masquerade ball in Ludlow center Wednesday evening.

G. I. Moad of Winchester visited at New Mead farm this week while passing through Western Massachusetts on a business trip.

F. A. Tyrill returned to Chester

Tuesday in company with Mr. Mead. He will remain several weeks visiting relatives in Otis while there.

Mrs. Mary Shumway has returned to her home after assisting in the home of Mrs. Elmer Peeso.

Earl and Clyde Williams of Monson, formerly of this town, called on friends and relatives here last Sunday.

E. F. Shumway is experimenting under the direction of Massachusetts Agricultural College with two kinds of spraying solutions for scab and aphid in his McIntosh orchard, the two kinds being used side by side to learn their relative merits.

Miss Ethel Raymond of Northampton visited Miss Gladys Gay for the week-end.

A delegation of nine from Turkey Hill attended Pomona grange at Granby last week. The next meeting will be held at Belchertown, June 1st.

Mrs. J. B. Knight entertained Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Barker and Mr. and Mrs. Acker, all of Springfield. Mrs. Barker and Mrs. Rogers spent Thursday with Mrs. Knight.

Mrs. J. B. Knight and daughter Kathleen spent several days in Springfield last week.

H. F. Putnam and family visited at A. K. Paine's in Ludlow on Wednesday.

M. E. Olds of Granby is setting a large orchard of apple and peach trees. H. F. Putnam has completed the job of dynamiting the holes for the trees.

Miss Cora M. Sparks, who for the last twelve years has been living with Mrs. Clara Lincoln is now making her home with her brother, Geo. Sparks of Buffalo. Miss Sparks left town in February.

High School Notes

Principal Allen has recently received notice from the secretary of the New England College Entrance Certificate Board that the certificate privilege of the local high school has been extended for a period of three years to end Dec. 31, 1924. In view of the size of the school and the few who are graduated, this privilege is much appreciated. So far none who have been certificated have been required to leave college on account of being down in their work. Those who are intending to enter next year must certainly attend to business that no failure may mar our record.

Also from the State Board of Education word has been received that we are placed in "Class B" for Normal School entrance on certificate.

Town Items

Roswell Allen, the real estate dealer, has sold his home on North Main St. to E. A. Chadbourne of Great Barrington and will move June 1 to a newly acquired property in West Springfield. In business he will be associated with the Springfield Brokerage Co., of 264 Main St., Springfield.

The special school building committee has awarded the contract for putting up the graded school building to W. W. Davis of Springfield at a price of $26,663.00. It is supposed that the contract was signed yesterday. The terms specify completion by Sept. 1st. The Davis firm is the one contracting for the $250,000 Agawam school building.

The Woman's Relief Corps will meet with Mrs. Charlotte Trainer a 7.30 p. m., Monday, May 15.

$112.00 has been cleared for the chapel fund by reason of the silk bags returned and the recent supper the proceeds of which went for that purpose. It is expected that there will be further receipts which will make the fund still larger.

Mrs. R. L. Bridgman has opened her home for the summer.

Rev. Dow L. Hilliard of Erving will begin his pastorate here next Sunday, coming here for preaching only until parsonage facilities are in readiness.

Y. P. S. to start Contest

It will be of interest to the members of the Y. P. S., as well as others who are not already aware of the fact, that beginning next Sunday night the Submarine-Airplane contest begins. Those of you who are members, when you enter the room look for your tag on the membership board and take it off during the meeting. Bear in mind that you are a member of one team or the other and the kind of support you give your team will determine to some degree the failure or success of it. You will be definitely informed as to the points one may win at the next meeting, so make it a point to be there. It will count. It has been rumored that each member of the losing side will be obliged to put on some stunt at an entertainment given in honor of the winners, the real penalty, however, you will have an opportunity to decide upon Sunday night. So everybody out and show that you "are there" when it comes to a contest.

A very impressive induction service was held last Sunday night in the chapel by the Young People. Four associate members namely, Marjorie Ayres, D. Hazen, H. Archambault, and O. Davis became active. One, Gladys Terwilliger, joined as an associate member of the C. E. Watson Bardwell conducted the service with the assistance of Theodore Hazen. The meeting, in which all took a prominent part, closed by singing, "Blest be the tie that binds," as all present shook the hands of, and welcomed, the new members.

screen fully proved the statement.
Wild animals were "caught" in their native haunts, showing their habits and mode of life.

A number of slides were taken at the state hatcheries, of which there are a number in the commonwealth.
The way certain fish are caught in salt water and shipped to fish and game clubs for stocking inland bodies of fresh water was most interesting.

In fact there were no dull spots anywhere, and anyone who loves nature and the beautiful would have been interested.

Mr. Bourne's closing pictures were of forest fires, which were quite appropriate considering the great damage recently done by them. It is a fact, he said, that many forest fires are directly traceable to hunters and fishermen. The speaker said to pass the word along to be careful, as the next fellow can injure your reputation as a sportsman, and not only that, but these fires destroy the very things sportsmen are interested in.

Mr. Bourne urged a strict observance of the law, for the reason that laws were made because of certain conditions that had arisen. He said not to encourage the man who is trying to get the best of the game warden. In fact Mr. Bourne's policy was to put sportsmen on their honor, so that when they went out for a trip
they would honestly ask themselves as to what and how much they were

Gets Valuables

The house of Geo. Chapin on the state road was broken into Saturday evening and a number of valuables taken. After supper Mr.
Chapin went to call on Mr. Crony.
When he returned, about 9.30, he found his watch, chain, single barrel shot gun and $27 missing.
The police were notified but no clues were left by the law breakers.
During Mr. Chapin's absence a car was seen stopping at the place
by passers by, but as no suspicions were aroused, the numbers were of course not secured.

Town Meeting Monday

There will be a special town meeting Monday afternoon at two o'clock to consider the following articles:
Art. 1. To choose a moderator to preside at said meeting.
Art. 2. To see if the town will vote to raise and appropriate a sum of money to defray its apportionment of the expense to be incurred in the construction of a bridge over the Swift river to replace the so-called Chapin bridge.
Art. 3. To see if the town will vote to raise and appropriate a sum of money to meet the needs of the Forest Warden's department in the fighting of forest fires.

Exhibit Next Tuesday

There will be an exhibit of the work done by the 4 H club of Washington school at the school room
next Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Speakers from the state and the college at Amherst will be present.

All interested in the work are cordially invited to attend.

Fire at the Park View

A narrow escape from a serious fire occurred at the Park View on Tuesday afternoon. When the cook took off a lid, flames shot out and up the back of the stove, also the ceiling. A kettle of fat on the stove also took fire. But for the prompt action of carpenters at work on the premises the fire might have done considerable damage. As it was, the loss was comparatively small.

By means of the fire truck the blaze was extinguished.

Missionary Meeting

A special program was rendered at the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church in the chapel Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. The missionary society of the Congregational church was invited.

The program opened with a song,
after which came the scripture reading. Colored paper bluebirds protruded from the bluebird cake. As these were drawn, the verses on each were read. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Longley.

A story, "Chinese Boys and Girls"
was read by Miss Gertrude Story.
Then the missionary "salad", "What is Required of Us?" was served.
Mrs. Raymond Gay read questions, the answers to which were to be found tucked between the green paper leaf and "egg" placed thereon.
Members who partook read these answers.

An interesting feature of the program was a large sketch on paper.
Here was represented a missionary facing the obstacles of illiteracy, ignorance, evil customs, evil spirits, etc., as he takes up his work. These obstacles vanished, however, and hospitals, schools and all the other allies representing a higher type of life, took their places. Then over all was thrown the cross of Christ, the redeeming power.

The eight girls who responded to the question, "What shall we do about it?" were the following:

- Marjorie Ayers
- Ruth Aldrich
- Dorothy Kimball
- Gertrude Ayers
- Eleanor Gay
- Edna Howard
- Dorothy Blackmer

B. H. S. Wins 6-5

The B. H. S. baseball team came out strong in their first game of the season when they handed New Salem Academy a 6-5 beating.
Fitzgerald's fine batting, including a three-base hit with all bases full, and Kroll's catching were the features.

The home team had five Freshmen substitutes, and considering that the opposing team was much heavier, B. H. S. played an exceptionally fine game. The next game is scheduled for Friday, the 19th, with Brimfield playing here.

Mothers' Day Ob- served

Mothers' day was appropriately observed at the Federated church on Sunday. At the morning service a committee from the Young People's Society was at the door to give flowers to those not having them. The newly called pastor, Rev. D. L. Hilliard of Erving; alluded to the significance of the day at this service and attached a special Mothers' day sermon in the evening. The communion service formed a part of the morning worship. The church was decorated with flowers in keeping with Mothers' day.

Lend Helping Hand

Last Friday evening a number of truck owners responded to the invitation of one of our citizens to gather at the Park View after supper and take a hand at transporting some of the lumber from the hotel barn to the premises of Mr.
Haesaert of Blue Meadow where the latter is to erect a new house on the site of that recently burned. In all, nine truck loads, large and small, were transported. Quite a number of people came out to help load and unload the trucks. This movement to help Mr. Haesaert is in addition to the response of the immediate neighbors who had already pledged their assistance.

Letter from Turkey

The following letter was written March 9 from Marash, Turkey, by Wm. S. Woolworth, Jr., whose father was once pastor of the Belchertown Congregational church.

What am I doing? In the way of routine I am secretary and treasurer of the station. In this connection I am a Trust Company, having in my hands money and jewelry, which often has to be given to the heirs of the original depositor on the basis of semi-official decisions.

Although of course there are always arising places where one can be of service because of general knowledge, the main work that I have done for the Near East Relief has been in connection with housing.

with others, and then redistribute the families, trying to take into consideration who were friends and in what combinations propriety would be least shocked.

As you people probably know, money for relief has been seriously cut down, and threatens to disappear altogether. From the papers which manage to get through to us, it would seem that Russia is much in the public eye and is gathering in the American rouble.

This exodus, coupled of course with other reasons, has almost killed trade. In the market place shops are closed. Those that are open carry on a desultory business.

Relief has been helping the poor. To women and children who could not work they gave about eighty cents a month per person - and that in a city where prices may well be compared to New York prices.

THE ROOSTER AND A HEN

Once upon a time there was a Rooster. He had a fight with a hen. The Rooster was a big one. They saw a Hawk. He got the hen. The Rooster helped the hen. Then they got away. The Rooster said, "Cock-a-doodle-do." The hen said nothing.

A STORY ABOUT A CAT AND MOUSE

One day our cat caught a mouse and she had a lot of fun with the mouse. The cat kicked the mouse and the mouse ran away. The cat caught him again and played with her; the cat made me laugh. I went out and caught the mouse by the tail and dragged her around the grass and the cat caught the mouse by the head. It squealed and that was the end of the mouse.

THINK SHIPS SEA MONSTERS

Why Many Creatures of the Deep Follow Vessels for Days is Explained by Scientist.

Odd as it may seem, there is reliable testimony to the fact that ships are often mistaken by denizens of the deep for monsters after their own kind or liking.

One scientist who specially referred to the matter was the late Prof. Mosely, who, when on the famous Challenger, formed the impression that whales, as well as porpoises, will accompany a ship for several days under the belief that they are attending a huge whale. London Answers says.

The shark is frequently attended by sucker fish and when the latter have lost their shark they often cling to a vessel for days together, under the mistaken idea that the bulky craft is their long-lost friend.

So, too, with that other friend of the shark—the pilot fish. One of these fish will swim for days just before a vessel's bow, which it believes to be a shark's snout.

As time goes on and the huge "shark" does not seize any food and drop the hungry but faithful pilot fish some dainty morsels, the latter departs, thinking, no doubt, that it never before accompanied so stupid and inconsiderate a shark.

Sells Grocery Department

Negotiations have been completed by D. D. Hazen for the sale of his grocery department to A. H. Phillips, Inc. This department will be separated by an open grill partition with entrance from the store.

This sale will allow Mr. Hazen to devote more time to the other departments of his business, which include hardware, paints, men's furnishings, dry goods etc., all of which are an outgrowth of the small store on the old Hazen place, where Mr. Hazen was associated with his father over twenty-five years ago in the days when chain grocery stores such as Mr. Phillips owns, had not revolutionized the business as it has today.

The Phillips store is now located in the brick block with H. F. Peek as manager. He will have charge of the store in its new quarters, where more room will be available to the fast developing business.

Play To-night

The play, "All Charlie's Fault," will be presented in Community hall tonight by the Young People's society of the Second Congregational church of South Hadley Falls. The play was given in their home town with great success.

The play is presented here under the auspices of the United Young People's society and it is hoped that there will be a good patronage.

School Play-Ground Apparatus

The center primary school children ask the indulgence of the public in their campaign for funds for school play-ground apparatus. The following article by Louis Fuller, Grade IV, tells what the first venture is to be.

The 2nd Center Primary school is going to sell Ready-Jell. We have assorted packages. These are the different kinds:

Raspberry	Strawberry
Wild Cherry	Lemon
Loganberry	Red Currant
Tutti-frutti	Peach
Grape	Blood Orange
Red Currant

They are 10 cents a package. We are making the money to get some swings and rings for the school grounds.

American Legion Notes

The Women's Relief Corps request that all persons having flowers that can be used to decorate the graves Memorial Day, will kindly bring the same to the chapel Monday afternoon or by ten o'clock Tuesday morning. It is hoped that the children of the public schools will bring in large quantities as they have in the past.

The American Legion has replaced two of the memorial trees that were set out two years ago. The new trees are Acer Platanoides and Platanoides Schwedden.

All ex-service men and the Women's Auxiliary are requested to meet in front of the Congregational church Sunday morning at 10.15 a. m. to attend Memorial Day services.

The Memorial Day program, which will be found elsewhere in this issue, will be the only one printed, so be sure to keep this week's Sentinel for future reference.

Members of the Legion and G. A. R. will visit the schools on Friday and Monday.

Town Meeting Monday

At the town meeting Monday afternoon it was voted to raise and appropriate a sum not to exceed $1500 to defray Belchertown's share of the Chapin bridge between Belchertown and Ware. It was also voted to raise and appropriate $1,000 for the Forest Warden's department.

Pleasure Resort at Lake Metacomet

Lake Metacomet is to be capitalized as a pleasure resort. H. H. Barrett has purchased land near the swimming pool and is erecting an open air dancing pavilion with store in connection. The dancing surface will be 24x32 feet, and the store 12x20. The store is completed and will be open tomorrow and daily thereafter. Here are dispensed ice cream, candy and light lunches. The pavilion is not yet finished. The first dance will be held a week from tomorrow evening. The management is advertising boating, bathing, and fishing as well. It offers free parking privileges and solicits picnics and clam-bakes. Mrs. Barrett is opening the store at Lake Areadia which has been in operation during previous seasons.

Belchertown's Industries

THE BOOK BINDERY

A few weeks ago we started a series of articles on Belchertown's Industries, with the idea of reminding the people of our assets along this line. We would continue that series this week by saying a few words about our book bindery.

It is not located on our main street nor is it on the main arteries of travel, but the fact that people of discrimination seek it out among the hills of the northern section of our town is proof sufficient that it is worth talking about when we find it. If a man can bind a better book than his neighbor, as with the case of the mouse trap, the world beats a track to his door, no matter where he lives.

In an item some time ago we spoke of Mr. Reimann's binding the centennial book presented by Amherst college to its distinguished guest of honor at its centennial celebration. Much was said in the press about it, but that book sinks into insignificance beside the recent production of Mr. Reimann, the binding of the book, the Yerkes' Collection of Oriental Rugs, John Kimberly Mumford, which was contracted for by the Jones library

CORD TIRES

The tire section above at the left shows
the condition of a Firestone 33x4 1/2 Cord Tire after 20,994 miles on a Yellow Cab in Chicago.

The section at the right was cut from a new Cord of the same size. Careful measurements show that only 1/3 of the tread of the tire on the Yellow Cab has been worn away after this long, grueling test. The carcass is intact after more than 11,000,000 revolutions.

Firestone Cords have averaged over 10,000 miles on Chicago Yellow Cabs (1,200 cabs all Firestone equipped). In thousands of instances, they have given from 15,000 to 30,000 miles.

Look at the tread—scientifically angled against skid, massive and heavy in the center where the wear comes, tapered at the edges to make steering easy and to protect the carcass against destructive hinging action of high tread edges. The carcass is air bag expanded to insure uniform tension and paralleling of every individual cord. It is double "gum dipped" to make sure that each cord is thoroughly insulated with rubber.

This is the reason why Firestone Cords unfailingly deliver extraordinary mileage. It explains the unanimous demand of thoughtful tire buyers for these values. The local Firestone dealer will continue to provide the personal service that makes Firestone tire comfort and econ-

of Amherst, and was delivered last Monday.

This book is of mammoth dimensions and is one of a limited edition of 750 in the United States.

Mr. Reimann has bound this book with imported goat skin and has inlaid the same with gold and embellishments of red and blue.

The design was original with Mr.
Reimann and is a masterpiece of art. The color scheme of the cover was in keeping with the attractive printing of the inside pages.
The book was bound not only with an idea of the beautiful but with the idea of permanency as well, no pains being spared to produce these qualifications.

These two books we have alluded to have been special orders. Books galore are bound by Mr. Reimann for both the colleges in Amherst and the library as well, so say nothing of work done locally.

Mr. Reimann takes a hand at farming as his work permits—in fact, he chose his location and this part of his work from a standpoint of health. Binding, however, is his vocation. Like the true artist, he does not pretend really to have learned his trade, but is all the time reaching out into undiscovered possibilities that may make his work more worth while.

No write-up like this is necessary to bolster up Mr. Reimann's business. He already is "sold" weeks ahead. Our main purpose in calling this industry to the attention of our readers is to drive home the truth that in good old Belchertown
there can be and is being produced something that the world wants.

Two Accidents

There were two accidents to mar the holiday on Tuesday, neither of an exceedingly serious nature, however. While the services were being conducted at the monument, a child and a slowly moving Ford roadster collided in front of the brick store. The car stopped and assistance was given. Also during the ball game a hard-hit grounder struck a young lady from Pelham sitting on the grass near the walk on the west side of the park. She was struck full in the face and was rendered unconscious. Dr. Collard attended her.

Memorial Sermon

The Memorial day observance really began with the service on Sunday morning in the Congregational church at which the various patriotic organizations were the guests of honor.

Rev. Dow L. Hilliard based his sermon on the words, "What mean ye by these stones?", applying the thought to the presence of the veterans of two wars at the service.

Mr. Hilliard showed how vision had entered into human thought and life, and how at varying times obstructions had gotten into the way of the fulfillment of these visions. He said that our own fathers stood on the verge of national history, a people united in one great ideal, but Lincoln saw that a divided nation stood in the way of progress; and it had to be united.

He showed how in these later years the same vision had broadened and deepened till men saw a world united and progressing towards freedom, with all mankind standing as a unit in the family of God.

He said that liberty and freedom, and faith in the stability and worth of popular government were dear to us as a people and were ideals for which we had fought.

Mr. Hilliard showed that from the start the crowned heads of Europe had predicted the fall of our government, not by reason of foes without, but because of internal questions which would rend our country. It was with some measure of satisfaction, he thought, that they saw the Civil war break upon us.

The speaker showed how faith had entered into the life of the world, how this was not limited to American shores, but how the belief was increasing that our form of government was the best for the world (continued on page 4)

Memorial Day Observance

Again a Memorial day! And one of those days most fitting for the event. The sun shone in its radiance, and the hill top of Belchertown, clad in the garb of summertime, responded.

Not only nature responded, but a large number of people, old and young, came out to do honor to the men of '61 and the veterans of more recent fame. Parties from neighboring towns and cities drove in at an early hour, not willing to miss the simple exercises which the day afforded.

At approximately the four specified the line formed in front of Legion headquarters. First there was commander Parent and the color guard of World war veterans, then the Paderewski band of eighteen pieces, followed by eleven members of the Chauncey D. Walker Post.

In a car just behind, were veterans of the Civil war, Messrs. Hadlock, Bishop, Shaw and Roode. In the next two cars rode the selectmen and other guests of honor.

After marching around the common the line stopped at the chapel where the W. R. C., and the Woman's Auxiliary brought out flowers with which to deck the soldiers' graves. About a hundred school children also entered the line to assist in this ceremony. The veterans of '61 alighted and were escorted through the gates of Mt. Hope by young ladies, while following them were the women's organizations with the national colors.

SERVICE AT CEMETERY In the cemetery, prayer was offered by Rev. D. L. Hilliard, and a selection sung by five girls. Then the graves of fallen comrades were decked as taps sounded.

SERVICES AT MONUMENT The line then marched to the soldiers' monument on the park where fitting services were held. F. G. Shaw of the Grand Army deposited the wreath to the unknown dead, after which A. R. Lewis, superintendent of schools, gave an address in their memory. Supt. Lewis called attention to the reason for our success

It was a Memorial day game on the park Tuesday afternoon, but the memory is not one to cherish. Pelham came out at the best end of a 15 to 5 score, but that was not the trouble. We can stand defeat. It was to be expected that some one would lose. But the fact that there was so much loose playing, so much argument and so much lost time was what put the game just a bit outside the big league circles.

Nevertheless, we understand that some like to see plenty of action in a ball game and despise a no-hit affair, so for them the entertainment was decidedly worth while. What could one expect, anyway, from the first game of the season with some of the players just a bit unacquainted with one another.

There was a large crowd present and Pelham sent her full share of rooters, which all tended to keep up interest. The pitcher brought on by the visitors seemed to be quite a source of trouble. The Belchertown men were constantly seeing balks on the horizon, while the Pelhamites got no such vision and the pitcher vowed he had received no such sensations. There was no free for all on the diamond to settle the matter, but those to whom it was left, flourished words and rule books galore.

The visitors were not convinced but they gave in, trusting their advancing score to be sufficient to carry them through. This supposition was correct as at no time was the game in doubt. Belchertown secured her greatest number of runs in the seventh inning just after the visitors were thoroughly wrought up by having to submit to decisions they thought unjust. This had a psychological effect on the team and Belchertown began to have hopes. But the men from Pelham soon got back to normal and the lid was on. Sutherland managed to grab it off once, however, to throw in a run.

The game was not without its spectacular features. Warner's left-handed catch of a clean hit by Fairchild is worthy of mention.

As far as pitching was concerned Kroeck had the greater number of strike-outs to his credit. He had the pleasure of pitching 15 men the third strike, whereas Fairchild did (continued on page 4)

Memorial Day Guests

To enumerate all the guests on Memorial day would be quite impossible, but what a pleasure it is to have them with us. Each year they come back to deck the graves of their friends, participate in the Memorial day observance, and kindle anew the fires of friendship with those now living.

This mingling of friend with friend, this pausing in our passage through life to give time to express our appreciation of what others have wrought, and these reunions of family circles are indeed memorable occasions that are most profitable.

Big New Features

ADDED TO COLOSSUS

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Bring Entire Shipment of Novelties from Europe

Made even more tremendous than in 1921 by the recent addition of many more trained wild animal displays and the purchase of Europe's biggest horse show, Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey combined will exhibit at Springfield, Mass., June 19, 1922.

All who glance over the cable news or read the magazines must have noted the many contracts entered into by the Ringling Brothers for foreign talent last winter. A special ship was chartered this spring to bring the hundreds of human performers, trained animal acts and equine displays to America. More than a million persons saw the mammoth new circus of 1922 during the weeks that it exhibited in Madison Square Garden, New York. Now this marvelous exhibition is touring the country aboard five great railroad trains. It is a third bigger than the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey show of last season.

It is ten times larger than any other circus now on tour.

Big as is this wonder circus of 1922—with its more than twenty trained wild-animal displays in steel arenas, fully 150 wonderfully schooled trick horses, 700 men and women performers, 100 clowns and scores of features—the price of admission is no more than before. And though the trained animal numbers and the immense horse show were circuses themselves while touring Europe, they are not offered as separate attractions by the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey combined shows. Instead all are on one gi-gantic program. Everything is in one mammoth tent. One ticket admits to all and includes admission to the tremendous double menagerie.
There are more than a thousand animals in the zoo of this circus and these include a tiny baby hippopotamus only recently born, and accompanied by its three-ten mother.
Another remarkable zoological feature is an armored rhinoceros, the only one known to exist and for which the Ringlings recently refused an offer of $30,000.

cess in war. He said that the Revolutionary war was won because our cause was just, and righteousness will win. At the time of the Civil war there were those who would tear some of the stars from the field of blue. Here again our cause was just, and righteousness prevails.

Then, we entered the World war,
not alone because the safety of our country was at stake, but for democracy in all the world, and as there is a just and righteous God, and righteousness will win, we were victorious.

Supt. Lewis welcomed the brotherhood of nations now materializ-ing, when America is having the opportunity of becoming a big brother and assuming a place of leadership.

He said that no one wearing the uniform thinks our flag is just a piece of bunting, but it is something that represents the best, noblest,
and most glorious country in the world. It was an inspiration in the Civil war; it was an inspiration on the fields of France; and men suffered and died that it should not be dishonored.

He called attention to the need of setting aside one day in the year to honor those who had done so much for us. He said that there are those who sleep peacefully in the South, in sunny France and beneath the waves, whose resting place no one knows. In tribute to them he placed a bouquet of flowers in tender memory.

SERVICES AT HONOR BOARD

Here prayer was offered by Stanley Blackmer, chaplain of the American Legion, after which, at the sound of taps, a wreath to the fallen comrades was placed by Stanley DeMoss. The service concluded with the singing of America.
The line then marched to the park,
where lunch was served to the veterans, invited guests and school children, by the women's organizations. Following lunch, a concert was furnished by the band.

AFTERNOON SERVICE

The afternoon exercises were held in Community hall at three o'clock. A quartet, consisting of Messrs. Allen, Ayers, Aspengren and Atkins, with Mrs. Aspengren as accompanist, rendered a selection.
Prayer was offered by Rev. D. L.
Hilliard, Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read by Mrs. A. D. Moore.
Jr. Relief Corps orders were given by Mrs. E. C. Howard, and another selection was furnished by the quartet.

F. D. Walker, Jr., then welcomed the audience to the exercises and introduced the speaker of the afternoon, J. B. Ely of Westfield.

MEMORIAL DAY ADDRESS

We give herewith some of the striking sentences in Mr. Ely's address:

"Our affection for men who fought in the Civil war increases with the years and with the thinning ranks of its veterans."

"War is a fever which the healing influence of peace can alone obliterate from our human system."

"There must come a day when only the spirit of memorial can reach the army of '61 and these younger men must carry on its observance and perpetuate its traditions. Their presence today is a pledge to you that these things shall be done, that wreaths shall be placed,

flags lowered and bugles sounded,
and the spirit of a free people waited heavenward to you."

"America cannot forget! Armistice day will remind her; progress of events will remind her; peace endeavoring to eradicate the effects of the fever of war will remind her. I have never been so hopeful of the great mission of the United States as I am today."

"The strength of our state and nation has very largely rested during all its history upon the intelligence and straightforwardness of those men and women who, living apart from the complex social and economic condition of the larger centers, view with a better perspective and a clearer perception, the progress of events and the actions of men."

"Education, simplicity and that willingness to labor; those are the things I would preach; those qualities are the striking characteristics of our best citizenship; in them lies the hope of the nation."

The singing of America concluded the exercises of the day.

How Sand Is Traveling.

French geologists have long taken interest in the eastward march of the sands along the northern coasts of France, Belgium and Holland, says the Christian Science Monitor. A fine sand originating on the shores of Normandy has been found distributed on the benches as far east as Denmark. It was shown, after a careful investigation of this phenomenon, that the eastward march of the sands is due to the fact that all the sea waves approaching the coast from Brittany break in nearly parallel lines, with an easterly motion. The result is that the sands always progress in that direction. But the process is slow and gradual, and measurements have proved that the sand traverses, forward and backward, perpendicular to the shore, a total distance 8,000 times as great as that which it covers, in the same length of time, in its eastward progress.

How Life May Be Prolonged.

The publication of a monumental work by Viscount Bryce at the ripe age of eighty-three should persuade many of us who want to feel what it is like to be an octogenarian that old age can be attained without the aid of thyroid glands borrowed from the monkey. One of the secrets of old age would seem to be a lifetime of intellectual activity, and a lion's share of public service. It is quite astonishing the number of public men living at the present day who have passed their eightieth birthday. Lord Channing is in his eighty-first year, Viscount Morey is eighty-three, Mr. Frederic Harrison is close on ninety, Sir Harry Poland is still a vigorous letter writer, ninety-one, while the earl of Halsbury is nine-seventy, and possibly there are others.—London Chronicle.

and would bring freedom to mankind. He spoke of the faith of Edith Cavell, who said, "Patriotism is not enough."

But faith, he said, can only be sustained by sacrifice. Freedom is not aggressive. All it asks is to be heard. But squarely across the line of progress was a divided Union and men who saw God in human affairs were asking what would happen if the Union was not sustained. They saw in it the retarding of human development.

Again in these recent years, squarely across the line of advancement stood the nation ruled by so-called super-men who were determined to make a last stand, not simply to block freedom in the world at large, but to keep it from gaining a foothold in their own country.

To meet these obstacles in the pathway of freedom, our soldiers went forth to fight, and the crosses in France are silent testimonies to the measure of sacrifice that was required to save humanity.

Mr. Hilliard closed his remarks with the thought that whereas both wars had been won, we must see to it that those who sacrificed did not do so in vain, that we must do our part in the onward march of progress and the bringing to pass of a federation of the world.

Pomona Grange Meeting

Pomona grange met here last Thursday, a goodly number coming for the occasion. In the morning, George Eastman of Granby spoke on tariff legislation.

In the afternoon, school children gave a short entertainment. This consisted of a play by Jane Shumway, Edward Schmidt and Ola Campbell; recitations by Louis Fuller and Ellen Jepson; and a song, "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean," by four children.

There was also singing by a girls' chorus, and a piano solo by Miss Irene Vezina.

The address of welcome was given by the master of Union grange, Mrs. H. H. Witt. Lyman Clapp of Northampton gave a paper on "Taxation," and Mrs. Raymond Goodell of Dwight a paper on "Hampshire County Beauty Spots."

Mrs. French, home demonstration agent, had charge of the bread judging contest; Miss Lucile Reynolds, state home demonstration agent, gave a talk on "Would I be willing to have my daughter marry a farmer?" and Miss Grissel of M. A. C. gave a talk on design.

The home economics committee arranged a display of aprons. All in all the day was a very profitable one.

Grange Notes

Neighbors' night at Union grange proved a very pleasant occasion. Ware Valley grangers, to the number of 89, were present. Other guests made the number of visitors up to about 100. A very fine program was rendered, after which a social hour was enjoyed.

The next meeting, June 20, will be Children's night.

Sells Meat Department

D. D. Hazen has sold his meat department to McKillop Bros.

Aside from the sale of this department and the grocery section previously disposed of to A. H. Phillips, Inc., Mr. Hazen will continue his other lines as heretofore and will be enabled to give more of his attention to these departments than formerly.

With increased building operations going on in town, there is a large demand for hardware, paints and other such articles than there has ever been, and he plans to carry a large stock. While he has rented part of his store, he still has available several thousand square feet of floor space for salesroom and storage.

With a large insurance business and with duties in connection with his position as Ford agent, he still ranks as one of our foremost business men. Last season he sold over a hundred Ford cars and this season he bids fair to do even better.

Long Period of Service

With the sale of D. D. Hazen's meat department, just consummated, A. E. Warner, who has had charge of the same for some time, completed a long period of service for Mr. Hazen. He began work for him twenty-five years ago next August and has thereby completed nearly a quarter century of labor for one firm, a rather remarkable record, in these days of changing occupations.

Mr. Warner is a meat cutter of reputation and made a great many friends during his long career in business. For the present he expects to devote his energies to the carrying on of his excellent farm in the easterly section of the town, a farm upon which he and his father before him have devoted much attention.

Reminiscences

MRS. C. F. D. HAZEN

It has seemed very strange to me that Belchertown has so little fellowship, seemingly, with Amherst college, when many years ago we were on such friendly terms; but in a recent article in the Springfield Union there was a long piece, that Dr. Parke of Grace church, Amherst, wanted to bring about a moral reform, that formerly the college was Congregational, the president was a Congregationalist, the college minister a Congregationalist and all the professors, and it was where the ministers were educated. Well now, he said, there was no Congregationalist.

Fifty or sixty years ago it was no unusual sight to see one of the professors in our pulpit. May be the first I really remember was Prof. Tyler. He also officiated on other occasions.

Then there was L. Clark Seeley. He would come with a fast horse Sunday morning, much to the admiration of the young men, and everybody went to hear him. Though he was considered the best, and though his words were sweeter than honey and every movement a grace, I cannot recall a single sentence.

Then the tutors. Wm. Montague preached a searching sermon from, "It's a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God." His classmate, Mr. Cushman, came and preached. He also married Mr. Montague's sister, Laura.

The young men from Belchertown usually entered Amherst college if they were going anywhere, and I presume most of the ministers of former years were graduates.

I remember the Sunday School had two picnics on the college grounds and it was nice to go over the museum and see the different curiosities, the big pieces of dried

The New Emphasis

Things have a faculty of moving in a beaten track. Events move around in a circle of the same diameter and the same thoughts find expression. Yet occasionally one dares to widen the circle and venture out on a track the world has never tried. To such we are indebted. Perhaps with a leader like this we shall be compelled to recede from the new position but we are glad to have come in touch with one who realizes that all truth has not yet been revealed and perhaps there is a new way of putting it.

Memorial day has called this truth to our attention. Each year we honor the same events, we pay tribute to the same men, we honor the same cause, yet our observance of the day grows tiresome if there is not some new thought expressed, some new application made and some new landmark passed. Our perusal of what some of our Memorial day speakers said leads us to believe that some ventured out into new fields of thinking.

We have reference to the new emphasis placed on the cost of our various wars and their terrible barbarity. As each generation passes, the glory of war remains while the tragedy of it all passes. Could future generations really comprehend the horrors of our World war, they would see to it that the battles of righteousness are fought on a different battle ground than that of force.

The time has gone by when barbarity in the world should be accepted as a matter of course, and these Memorial day prophets did well to emphasize it. Let the children of our day realize that while we do not minimize the glory of our fathers, the time has come when the heroism of trying to prevent war is greater than heroism in war itself.

Those who read and weighed the words of Secretary Hughes at the Washington conference must have realized that this new heroism was being given tremendous emphasis.

Let us then get rid of this idea that human nature is just the same and will always be, and that wars must ever be. Such indeed would be the case if all kept proclaiming this doctrine and none dared circle out and discover that we are not hemmed in like animals in a cage, but with our knocking, find that there are doors yet we can open.

The world, it is true, stones and caricatures the men seeking to lead the world out, but it is sick and tired and suffering immeasurably because those in every field of human life, are content to follow the beaten track.

DERIVED FROM EARLY CUSTOM

How Missouri Got Its Now Generally Used Nickname of the "Show-Me" State.

An early-day custom in Missouri regarding marriages is said to be responsible for the famous expression, "I'm from Missouri; you've got to show me."

A good many years ago the marriage laws in Missouri were so loose that any one could get married without answering many questions. In 1831 a law was passed making it a misdemeanor for a minister or a justice to marry persons not having a state license. It also set the age of marriageable women at eighteen. If the applicant for a license did not know the age of his bride-elect he had to show her to the license clerk and let him judge her age. When the applicant went after the girl she naturally asked why she had to go along to get the license. When told that the law required her exhibition, she remarked: "Oh, you've got to show me?" This occurred many times during the first year or so of the law's enforcement and became a byword. Thus Missouri became known as the "Show-Me" state.

How You Can Be Transparent

A liquid that renders flesh invisible or transparent has been invented. If a hand or arm is immersed in this liquid its flesh will disappear almost entirely from view; the bones, however, will be visible, as under X-rays. The mixture makes the flesh of your hand transparent because it has the same index of light refraction as the flesh. The light rays passing through the liquid are not bent, or refracted, when they pass through the flesh, though they are bent by the bones, which have a different index of refraction.

Different parts of the body have different indices of refraction; any part can be made to disappear by submerging it in the proper liquid. But not all parts at once, so the magic cloak of invisibility is still to be discovered.

sand, hard as stone but with the stamp of the foot left in it. The skeleton, a monster, was there.

Mrs. Tuckerman made very pretty sea flowers, and some one told me how she preserved them. There was always some one to tell you about things. I met Lysander Thurston once there. We came to a skeleton and he said they put white beans in the skull and then put it in water and the bones all came apart.

Then there was Commencement. Some young people looked forward to it with much delight. They had a big celebration in Belchertown and invited Dr. Hitchcock down. The gathering was at Rockrimmon, the name Dr. Hitchcock gave it that day.

But why enumerate the names? Many places had celebrated people in Amherst college who took pleasure in coming to old Belchertown. Belchertown sent her sons to Amherst college, but she didn't choose all her ministers from her graduates. Rev. M. Blake was from Williams and he sent his son to the same college. Rev. Walcott was not from Amherst but Rev. P. W. Lyman was, also Rev. Charles Smith.

It's true I have not always lived in Belchertown, thirteen years in California, and maybe I noticed the change more than those who remained at home. I think the last students from Belchertown that I remember were Charles Randall, Harold Barton and Walter Blackmer, and the last minister from the college that I saw any notice of preaching out of Amherst was Rev. George. He was a Baptist.

Ten Times Biggest Circus

IN SPRINGFIELD SOON

World's Greatest Amusement Institution, Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Headed This Way

Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey day draws near and with it will come a vast circus of "ten thousand wonders" to exhibit in Springfield, Mass., June 19, 1922. This mammoth amusement enterprise has been officially recorded as "America's ten times greatest circus". It is a third bigger than it was in 1921. For in addition to the many innovations offered then, the present season's program numbers 10 more trained wild animal displays—making twenty in all—and the most superb trained horse acts that Europe has yet produced. The wild animal and equine displays of 1921 were introduced merely that the Ringling Brothers might judge of their popularity. So enthusiastically were these numbers received that the famous showmen immediately arranged for the purchase of the world's finest acts of this kind. An entire equine circus was bought outright and brought to this country last winter. And while the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey agents were securing this and the trained tiger, polar bear, lion, leopard and jaguar groups, they had orders to engage the foremost men and women performers of the European capitals. And these stars from city and jungle are all to be seen with this wonder circus of 1922.

Everything, including the great double menagerie of more than a thousand animals and exhibiting such rarities as a mite of a baby hippopotamus and its three-ton mother, is to be seen for the price of one admission ticket. And by

"everything" is meant not only the wild animal and equine displays, but the entire circus. More than 700 men and women, embracing the world's foremost arenic stars, take part. There are 100 clowns. Aside from the ferocious beasts, the program includes forty trained elephants. There are five companies of trained seals, many dogs, bears, monkeys, pigs and pigeons. It is the biggest circus program the world has ever seen, given under the largest tent.

Entertainment by Center Primary schools.

Children's Day Concert

The Children's day concert was not favored with a hot summer Sunday and clear skies. In fact a thunder storm of some proportions started in just as the young folks were about to wend their way to church. This, however, had no great effect on the program which was carried out in a much more complete manner than might have been expected. Most of the children were present and their parts were rendered in a commendable manner. The remarks of the pastor were most timely.

Trees Suffer

The trees have been the subjects of considerable hard usage during the last six months or more. First came the ice storm when strong trees were compelled to yield many of their branches. Then came cold weather and frosts in the early spring which did no good to the fruit trees. And now during the last week, trees of all kinds have been battered by rain and wind. Monday the wind was at its worst, and the way it whipped leaves, apples, pears and all kinds of fruit from the trees was a caution.

The crops will be materially less because of this uproar, vegetable crops included, as the wind did considerable damage by riddling leaves. So, other things beside chickens, cannot be counted before they hatch.

There is one consolation anyway. It ought to be perfectly safe to sit in the shade of most any tree this summer, for if its branches have stood firm during all this uproar, our heads will hardly be in danger.

The Lawn Party

The O. E. S. lawn party and strawberry festival will be held on the lawn of Carl F. Aspengren next Wednesday evening. The admission price, 35 cents, will include cards, dancing and refreshments. There will also be other attractions.

Club Formed

A Junior Hampshire county extension service canning club was formed Wednesday afternoon in the chapel at two o'clock. Miss Bena G. Erhard of Northampton was present.

Twelve children signed as members, and others are expected to join. Mrs. Henry Witt and Mrs. D. D. Hazen are the local leaders.

Favor Local Business

The special school building committee desire to do all in their power to help local business and so request that all persons having building material of any kind that would enter into the construction of the two buildings to be erected, kindly notify the committee, giving materials available with the price thereon. The committee will pass this information on to the contractors and will do what they can to cause local supplies to be used.

The contractor having in charge the erection of the grade building is employing considerable local help, so that the bars are not up on local labor.

Bids have been called for on the Memorial building, the time limit being June 20, at 12 o'clock noon.

Visit Postponed

Arron Slick from Punkin Crick has been forced to postpone his visit to town, owing to the coming numerable attractions. He promises, though, in the near future to come and entertain both old and young alike. Watch for announcement of his coming.

A grand and glorious celebration is promised the town on the Fourth by the American Legion and Woman's Auxillary. Plans are under way to start things going the night before and continue them throughout the day. Everyone should plan to spend the day in town, as there will be attractions galore. Watch for publication of plans and program.

Weather Reports Again

After a lapse of some time, the weather reports are again being given as a part of the telephone service. The weather, and the time as well, will be given at approximately half past eleven each day.

H. E. Sessions announces that whereas these reports have been confined to farmers' lines, those on any line, who make request, can avail themselves of this opportunity of getting their bearings each day.

Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Austin White of Sauk Center, Minn. celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, May 22, in a quiet manner at their home.

Mr. White was born in Belchertown, Sept. 24, 1836 and was once proprietor of the Union house. He was also a charter member of Vernon Lodge. Mrs. White was formerly Miss Neil Torrey. Mr. and Mrs. White have two children, Leta at home, and Mrs. L. H. Van Camp of St. Paul.

A rather remarkable coincidence is that Mr. White has a brother, John A. White of Denver, and a sister, Mrs. L. D. Fenton of San Diego, both of whom have celebrated within the last five years their golden anniversaries.

Reminiscences

MRS. C. F. D. HAZEN
Our school teachers were not many of them college bred men. The committee were looking for men who could manage unruly schools. In the summer a young woman would do.

Our fall term was a private school and the pleasantest as there came scholars from the best families in the out districts. Only once in a while was a college man among the teachers.

One winter we had Homer Eaton.

Tendencies

Rev. D. L. Hilliard stressed a very vital point in his sermon last Sunday evening, when he spoke on the subject of "Tendencies."

He mentioned many things that cannot be termed absolutely bad, but which are tendencies, and tendencies, he said, lead to habit, and habit to custom, and custom to downright destruction.

We think that he hit the matter very correctly. The devil of our day is more cunning than in any previous era. All he asks is that people start on seemingly innocent tendencies. The end is assured.

Rev. Mr. Hilliard spoke of the tendency to wink at some of our laws, which has a tendency to undermine all law, the tendency of laxity in dress, of carelessness in choosing companions, of forming the apparently innocent tendency of hanging on the street corners and frequenting places of a cheap moral tone, the tendency of being just a bit dishonorable in school, and the tendency of being careless how the sabbath is kept.

Mr. Hilliard cited many illustrations out of his own observations where people had gotten into serious trouble by following these apparently innocent tendencies. His closing observation was that tendencies usually lead down stream, whereas it takes effort to fight against the current.

We believe that in our civic life we need to learn this lesson of diagnosing tendencies. How the powers of evil do like to make us feel cheap by laughing at our being unwilling to surrender just a wee bit of a point; how they do like to try to make us think that we lack scope and liberality.

But the foundations of our town, state, national and international life will crumble to decay unless we meet and try to divert some of our present day tendencies.

Town Items

John Miner died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Louis Robinson, June 8, with illness incident to old age. Had he lived until July he would have been 88 years old. Most of his life was spent in York state. He leaves six sons and daughters, Mrs. Joseph Trabault, John and Joseph Miner and Mrs. Alonzo St. John of Feeding Hills and Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Emma Blackmer of this town. The burial took place Saturday at Feeding Hills.

Mrs. John Mason of Winchester is visiting relatives in town.

The interior of D. D. Hazen's store is being remodeled to meet the requirements of the business transfers recently alluded to.

Theodore Hazen graduates today from Central high school, Springfield, with exercises in the auditorium at two o'clock. Roger Babson is to be the speaker of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Hubbard of Utica, N. Y., attended the Middlebury college commencement exercises this week. Mr. Hubbard returned to Utica yesterday, but Mrs. Hubbard and children will remain in town for a visit with Mrs. Hubbard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hopkins.

Prof. and Mrs. Wm. Cowles and mother, Mrs. Sarah Cowles, of Amherst called on friends in town on Wednesday.

Dances are being held at Lake Metacomet every Saturday night. From now, on, Shaw and Dotman's orchestra of Springfield will furnish music. This orchestra has been in town on many social occasions.

A W. R. C. Association meeting will be held in Ware, June 20.

Mrs. Susan Haskell, who has made her home in town for some time, has gone to live with her daughter, Mrs. Susan Haskell Ray of West Newberry.

Those attending higher institutions of learning are commencing to return to town.

Why Mirrors Become Clouded. "These wintry and rainy days are sure tough for me," said the elevator man in an office building.

Look at those mirrors on each side of the car," directed the elevator man. "I have to wipe them off about every five minutes. On cold days the feminine nose gets red, and on rainy days off their noses. What's the result? Every carload I take up crowds over near these mirrors, takes out the old powder puff and starts dolling. There's a bunch of them, you see, and by the time I reach the top floor the mirrors are so clouded with powder they don't reflect a thing."

"Except possibly feminine vanity," observed the casual passenger.

Why Malamute Dogs Are Scared.

Malamute dogs, the half-wolf, half canine animals known as huskies, are selling in the North at $100 apiece and up, according to returned hunters and prospectors. When the North is snow-bound and lakes and rivers are locked with ice against navigation, travel is almost exclusively by dog-sled. The lowest price at which dogs can be obtained is $100 each, according to advices. First-class animals, such as crack "mushers" pride themselves on keeping, are hard to get at any price, and when obtainable cost several hundred dollars, or so much as a good horse in the South. Scarcity of dogs, it is said, is due to the neglect of breeding stock by the Indians.

Why the Turkey Died.

Mr. Smart did not allow his debtors much time to discharge their liabilities, and he had the effrontery to call on a customer for the collection of a bill on Christmas day. "I have called," he began, "to ascertain when you intend to pay me the cash you owe?" "Well, sir," replied the debtor, who was enjoying his Christmas dinner, "I am at the end of my resources; in fact I have nothing to pay anyone, and I can see grim poverty staring me in the face."

"That being so, I fail to see why you should be enjoying the luxury of a turkey," added the creditor angrily. "Aye," said the debtor meekly, "I couldn't afford its keep."

Why Gloves Were Important.

In 1083, when the earl of Shrewsbury promised to build an abbey at Shrewsbury, he publicly laid his glove upon the altar of the monastery church in token of his sincerity. In 1574 the queen of Navarre hesitated about going on a visit to Paris, but decided to go when the king of France sent her a pair of gloves. When she was swept away by the events leading up to the massacre of St. Bartholomew, it was considered an act of the blackest treachery, as gloves had been sent to reassure her. As men became more enlightened and learned to read and write, signing one's name to a promise took the place of all this sort of thing. But there is one curious survival even now. Not many annual fairs are held nowadays, but when they are, it is no unusual thing to see a great glove publicly exhibited. This is a token that the king has granted a license for the fair to be held and so long as it lasts the glove remains where everybody can see it.—Christian Science Monitor.

Why Dough Is Kneaded.

If bread should be baked out of un-kneaded dough, or without yeast or baking-powder, it would turn into a hard, indigestible mass. Kneading makes bread or cake spongelike in structure—that is, full of holes; for the process entraps particles of air, which expand during baking and puff up the dough. In the case of baking-powder, the addition of water causes the tartaric acid in the powder to act on the baking soda (sodium acid carbonate) to generate bubbles of carbon dioxide inside the dough. These, too, expand upon baking, filling the cake with numerous holes. The yeast, as it lives and grows in the dough, gives off carbon dioxide. The result on the dough is the same as before.—Popular Science Monthly.

Why One Should Read Lamb.

So you ask me again why you should read Lamb, and I answer: first, because he has always something to say and conveys his thought "without smothering it in blankets"; second, because in antique fancy, quip, oddity, whimsical jest, humor, wit and irony, rare gifts all, he is a supreme master; third, because his limitations and tragedies were, like ours, many, but his courage in facing them, unlike ours, was cheerful and invincible. . . . and, fourth, because he has taken the homely and familiar for his subjects and sheds fresh and beautiful light upon them.—S. Reminiscences

He was in college. Then we had older men, among them S. Allen.

Mr. Eaton from Pelham was a good teacher, too. He always read in the Testament, one chapter, a verse around. But very few offered prayer.

There was one from the south part of the town who led in prayer. One morning when he was praying, the scholars were whispering and he opened his eyes and stamped his foot hard, then he finished his prayer. I don't know how much he felt like it but he stopped the whispering. Of course it was like a clap of thunder out of a clear sky.

Our Sunday began early Saturday evening. All unnecessary work was put aside, the stand was put in the center of the room and the S. S. lesson studied for the next day. The American Messenger could be read. No True Flag in religious families.

Sunday was over with the sun with some, and others went to monthly concerts or other religious meetings in the Brick hall.

Ducks Are Enabled to Shed Water From Their Backs

"Like water off a duck's back" is a phrase that we often use, for a duck's back is the most perfect waterproof in the world.

Land birds are soon saturated by a heavy shower of rain. You may see them afterwards fluffing out their feathers so that sun and wind may dry them. But no drop of water can penetrate the plumage of any aquatic bird. Gulls, ducks, grebes, and cormorants dive after food on the bleakest days without getting either wet or cold.

These birds are provided with a natural mackintosh in the shape of a covering of feathers which fit tightly one on top of the other. But their plumage would not remain waterproof if they did not look after it carefully. Every feather must be greased at least once a day if it is to turn the water. Watch a duck after its bath and you will see the process. The beak is pushed hard into the roots of the feathers, and then brought up to their very tips. Diving birds are provided with special glands which supply the beak with all the grease it needs.

SAYS ANIMALS DO REMEMBER

Why Old Idea Is Wrong Is Proved by Incidents Related by English Writer.

I have read an article in which a trapper denies that animals have a real memory, says a writer in the London Times. He admitted that most of them knew enough to avoid a trap after an experience or two with it, but contended that this was merely a manifestation of the self-preservation instinct.

The same man cited an instance—not at all unfamiliar—of a dog's refusing to hunt with a man who had kicked him. He said that this too was only the instinct of all living creatures to avoid injury.

Animals do have memory—at least some of them do. The trapper's theory would not explain those many evidences of recollection wherein self-preservation plays no part. I once carried a fox-terrier into the house after he had been well-nigh killed by an automobile. His master had just moved into the apartment house, and I had never seen the dog before that day. We moved away two days later, and I did not see the terrier for over four months. Then one day I passed the house—or was about to do so—when out came that dog, wagging his stubby tail. He jumped all over me, in joyful recognition—and memory.

An amusing story, significant on this subject, is told by my father. As a boy he lived on a farm, and was always a close student of animal nature. The mare he usually drove was old and fat, and would never go faster than a walk unless urged. There were two roads to town, one branching off from the other and a little shorter. It had been Old Maud's custom to take this road, of her own volition, until on one occasion a vicious dog barked at her and snapped at her legs. After that the driver had to be on his guard; Maud would speed up when about 50 yards from the turn-off and try to get by it before she could be restrained. This showed not only memory, but a sense for planning.

"Play is the serious work of childhood. To make a successful man or woman the child must be taught to succeed in play, which, with him for the moment, is the paramount issue of life. Success is not always involuntarily learned; it most often must be taught. And children must be taught to succeed.

"There is no more effective means of teaching them to succeed in life than by teaching them to succeed in play. Clean play, that builds up the body and purifies the mind, prepares the child for the great problems of manhood and womanhood.

"Give the child a place to play, give him instruments with which to play and show him how to get the greatest benefit out of it and you have enabled a younger generation to set its tender foot on firm ground.

"Unless the child is given the wholesome recreation that childhood demands, we cannot expect to find initiative, body and mental vigor in the years of maturity. And this movement is growing so fast that soon the town or city without adequate playground facilities will be considered as an unsafe place within which to live."

The above, although taken from a catalog advertising playground apparatus, contains a good bit of sound wisdom. The teachers of the primary schools in the center believe that a child ought to play. They believe that he must play to attain his best physically, mentally and morally.

But in our center primary schools are children who never play on the school grounds. Some, in fact, have to be driven out of doors even in pleasant weather. A few are too shy to mingle with others in play, but many do not know how or what to play.

Theoretically the teacher should instruct them, I suppose, but in practise a primary teacher gives her free periods to helping put on rubbers, buttoning little coats, finding a lost mitten, giving permission to go to the store, keeping order among delinquents who have forfeit-

The Celebration

The townspeople may rest assured now that it will be unwise for them to seek amusement elsewhere the Fourth. Plans are nearly completed for the big carnival the night before, the ball game, band concert and magnificent display of fireworks on the Fourth.

It is going to be something worth while. Next week's Sentinel will carry full details and program of the big time. Watch and plan for it. Let's go and make the old town hum!

The American Legion has presented to the selectmen an itemized statement of Memorial Day expenses, showing an unexpended balance of $13.30 from the $150 appropriation. This balance is to be used, with the consent of the selectmen, to buy flags to replace, from time to time, faded and torn flags on the graves.

Enlarging Business

C. F. Aspengren is enlarging his business and is now handling a general line of groceries in connection with his meat department. Raymond L. Blackmer, formerly with R. M. Shaw, has entered his employ and will have special charge of the delivery service, which Mr. Aspengren plans to extend.

Aside from his store facilities, Mr. Aspengren has a storehouse at his disposal, which will enable him to carry a larger stock than formerly.

Annual Meeting

The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Clapp Memorial Library was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Maria D. S. Longley, on Saturday evening. The reports of the various officers were read and accepted.

Miss Marion E. Bartlett, the librarian, notified the trustees that the pressure of home cares made it impossible for her to continue to serve as librarian another year.

The trustees voted to accept the notice with regret. Mrs. Doris Squires was elected to the position while Miss Bartlett was chosen assistant librarian.

Miss Bartlett was appointed, with the president, to serve as a book committee for the selection of books for the library.

Acting under Sect. 3, Art. 2, of the by-laws, and upon the judgment of a representative of the family on the board, Knight L. Clapp was retired from the active list of trustees and placed on the honorary list. Addison H. Bartlett, who for the past thirteen years had served as secretary and treasurer, resigned his place as trustee on account of continued ill health. His resignation was accepted and his name placed on the honorary list.

For the vacancies thus created on the board, Messrs. Wilbur F. Nichols and Arthur F. Bardwell were nominated and unanimously elected. Wilbur F. Nichols was elected secretary of the board and Arthur F. Bardwell, treasurer.

The following library statistics for the past year are of interest:
No. of books distributed 15,492
No. of books added 127
No. of registrations 56
It is also worth knowing that in the annual report of the Board of Free Public Library Commissioners of Massachusetts, recently issued, the following item regarding our library activities, appears.

"Books, magazines and flowers have been given to the library, half-hour musicals have been a feature of the library hour on Saturday evenings. During the Pilgrim Tercentenary there was an exhibition of Pilgrim pictures and books. There are eight school deposits and one neighborhood deposit."

In view of the above, it is evident that the library fills a place in the life of the community and of the state as well.

Former Pastor Preaches

Rev. P. W. Lyman of Fall River preached at the Federated church Sunday morning. He commented on its being thirty-five years since he resigned the pastorate of the Congregational church here.

Rev. Mr. Lyman said that he stood between the living and the dead. The ten pastors who had preceded him had passed on to the other life, whereas the ten who followed him are still serving here.

Mr. Lyman, in speaking of his coming to the annual meeting of the trustees of Clapp Memorial library, said that the gift of the library was first made known to the people of the community by the announcement he was privileged to make at a Sunday morning service during his pastorate, when he preached a special sermon suited to the event.

Rev. Mr. Lyman gave a sermon full of human interest. In contrast with the statement that he stood between the living and the dead, in the course of his discourse he remarked that we have only begun to live. His vital interest in affairs of the world and of the Kingdom, convince one of the truth of the assertion.

Help You Choose Tires

500 miles at 94.48 miles an hour—a relentless grind over a rough-finished, sun-baked concrete and brick pavement at record-breaking speed—that is the grueling test Oldfield Cord Tires underwent successfully at Indianapolis Speedway May 30th. They were on the winner's car for the third successive year and on eight of the ten finishing in the money, upholding the confidence successful race drivers have in the trustworthiness and ability of these tires to meet the greatest demands of speed, endurance and safety. Their records in every other important race have been equally as good.

Consider this achievement along with another test of Oldfield quality made at Wichita, Kansas, this past winter and early spring.

24,525 miles on rutted, icy Kansas roads, running day and night on a Studebaker stock car without a single tire change. This test was made by a group of Wichita automotive dealers in a tire, oil and gasoline economy run. Mayor Kemp of Wichita was official observer and made affidavit to the mileage and service given by Oldfield tires.

You may never subject your tires to the grueling experience of Indianapolis nor the steady grind of bad winter roads, but it is good to know you can get such safety and mileage economy by buying Oldfield tires. Ask your nearest dealer.

165% Increase
The buying public is the surest barometer of the value of any article. Their approval of Oldfield tires has been demonstrated by the increase of 165% in business for the first five months of 1922 over the corresponding period of 1921.

Agents Everywhere
Oldfield Tires are distributed through 73 branches and distributing warehouses in all parts of the United States. More dealers are constantly becoming Oldfield agencies and Oldfield Tires are now available in your community.

Playground Entertainment

For some time the children have had balls and bean bags to play with. The proceeds of our sale of Ready Jell furnished us with two see-saws which have proved to be a howling success. The only difficulty is the satisfactory division of them among forty or fifty children.

In our rosiest dreams we primary teachers see a playground with all sorts of apparatus, see-saws, swings, giant strides, horizontal ladders, slides, traveling rings, something to tempt every child from the dead, stale air of the school room into the big, health-giving out of doors. And as our children sing in one of their songs, "The sweetest dreams come true."

To help make our dreams come true we are arranging an entertainment for next Tuesday afternoon. We have a number of songs with solos and chorus singing. Our boys' song about a race between the trout and the brook is rather snappy. You'll like the children's motion song, too, "Up in the old apple tree." There are half a dozen other musical numbers.

We have several little plays. One is by ten of the very littlest people which brings in Mother Goose and a number of her friends. The 1st primary also gives a dialog by three boys, entitled, "Fooling Grandpa."

The 2nd primary will also present "The Garden of flowers," introducing Jack Frost, Father Sun, two fairies and many flowers, 16 children in all. Nine other children give a humorous dialog, "Friday afternoon in school."

This entertainment, the proceeds

School Entertainment

The children of the Center Primary schools were put to the test Tuesday afternoon in the matter of giving a complete entertainment, and were not found wanting. The recitations, the songs, the plays, were all well rendered and moved along with dispatch.

The children not only took their parts, but had sole charge of the transfer of scenery as well, which was handled admirably.

"Friday Afternoon in School" was realistically produced, even though many of the performances of the scholars were, of course, typical of a previous generation. The Mother Goose dialog was just cute, that's all; while "The Garden of Flowers," where little girls in white with crepe paper caps and sashes, represented different varieties of flowers and refused to yield to Jack Frost, but arose one by one as Father Sun and his fairy awoke them, was really pretty. The program closed with a motion song.

There was a good attendance. People were sympathetic with the object of the entertainment—the purchase of more playground apparatus—but whatever the object, full value was rendered for the money received, which amounted to about thirty-five dollars.

The teachers of the two schools wish to thank all who so willingly helped them in this enterprise.

The Lawn Party

The lawn of C. F. Aspengren was the scene of a pleasing lawn party on Monday evening. Postponed from the previous Wednesday evening it was not paralyzed to any great extent. Parties from out of town, planning to attend, were unable to do so, but the patronage of the townspeople was good.

The lawn was hedged in with bunting, while the booths where the various articles were sold were made of freshly cut birches, also dashed with bunting.

The admission ticket entitled one to ice cream and cake with strawberries, but one could satisfy his cravings in other directions if he desired.

Mrs. Scott had charge of the soft drinks, while Mrs. Leon Ayers and Mrs. Beach sold the home-made candy. Mrs. Collier was the gypsy lady and her habitat was a tent made of more young birches. The guessing booth was in charge of Miss Irene Orlando. The food table was in charge of Mrs. Howard Mrs. E. A. Randall and Mrs. Sherman.

Charles Austin was the winner in the guessing contest and received a box of candy.

Sprinkled about the lawn were card tables where those so inclined enjoyed themselves. In the late evening, dancing to the music of a Victrola was participated in on the lawn in front of the house.

The party was of O. E. S. quality and could truly be termed quite successful.

B. H. S. Graduation

Five young ladies and four young men of the B. H. S. received diplomas on Wednesday evening. They took their seats on the platform where year by year those who complete their work at the High school, receive this token of reward.

The program rendered by them and by B. H. S. was up to the standard set by graduations in Belchertown. The setting of the exercises was especially tasteful this year. Overhead was the motto, "We Lead, Others Follow." In front of the platform were the numerals "1922", while all around the stage and festooned about the edge were the class colors, Nile green and gold, skillfully used.

The school came in as a march was played on the organ by Miss M. Louise Allen. Mrs. Clough, teacher of music in the schools, played the piano for the school selections and directed the music in the organ choruses.

The graduating class gave a variety of orations, declamations and essays, all of which were well delivered. As for the former, Walter Dodge gave a most excellent presentation in "The Spirit of the Herd."

The essays and orations showed some study on the part of those giving them. James Aldrich, in his essay on Education, said that our country was safe only as a large percentage of the population maintained a high order of citizenship. To the educated are left for the most part, the solution of our problems. He emphasized the fact that those who have gone before have contributed more than can be repaid in the matter of providing educational facilities.

Miss Gildemeister's portrayal of life in Porto Rico was most interesting, and especially so as she has lived in that island previous to her coming here. She told of the habits of the people, their social life, manner of living, the food they eat, and of their educational advantages. She said that she preferred life in New England even though here one has so much to do and no time to do it, while in Porto Rico there is plenty of time but nothing to do.

John Fitzgerald, in his oration, spoke for the forests and their preservation. He said that more timber is destroyed by fire than by the ax. He showed how the cutting off of the forests affected the small streams, and how the water would not be absorbed during heavy rain-falls when there is no vegetation. Forestry is not a matter of sentiment, he maintained, but a business proposition.

Miss Alice Flaherty likened life to a game. She said we must throw ourselves into it, must subordinate victory to good playing, and must obey the rules. She showed how the qualities of honesty and fairness, necessary in play, are of vital importance in the business world and in politics. She said that "a good sport" was a title to be envied. Men the world over, gamblers included, are demanding fair play. She closed with the words of Theodore Roosevelt, "Never flinch, never foul, hit the line hard."

The class historian reviewed the tempestuous days of school life at B. H. S. and commented on the war, the fire and other radical events that had transpired during the four years. The prophecy and will we quote at some length in another place.

Principal Allen presented the class to Mrs. W. D. Randolph, secretary of the school board, who presented the diplomas with appropriate remarks.

At the conclusion of the exercises —continued on page 5—

To Hold Numbered
Meeting

Once again the young people of the Y. P. S. are going to conduct a numbered meeting. This will be held next Sunday night and there is every evidence that the meeting will be a great success. This meeting will be unique in that several new, unannounced features are to be introduced, which will be a surprise and perchance awaken a more intense interest in the members for the summer months.

As this is the regular night for the consecration meeting, the members of the society will find that their participation in the service will be different only in the matter of responding to their number instead of their name. Every one should be present, however because of the fact that they will win several points for their team in so doing and also that a number of very important plans and suggestions for the summer months are to be set forth.

Among these suggestions are the following: a summer camp for members of the society, affording a week's outing, first for the young women and the following week for the young men; several hikes to points of interest; one meeting a month at one of the near-by lakes;
more outdoor meetings; and the biggest surprise of all awaits you Sunday night.

Don't fail to be present and win
every point you can for your team.
To miss this meeting is to miss a golden opportunity of service to others and of help for yourself.

The following extract is for the benefit of members of the society:

"If you can't be a pine on the top of the hill,

The Prophecy of the Class of 1922

B. H. S.

IRENE VEZINA

I was about to take a sharp curve
when from the opposite direction another car came into sight. Suddenly we hit; there was a sickening crash, a feeling that I was shooting through space towards the top of yonder trees, and everything turned to darkness.

Gradually I became conscious of a blurred light and in the midst of it
I saw the outline of a familiar face, Struggling to get control of my mental faculties, I blinked rapidly and looked incessantly. The face was still there, more clearly to be seen than before. Then I saw a white enamel bedstead, a near white stand and realized that the dainty white frill about the nurse's hair was not the halo of a vision, but Emma Dodge's cap. I was evidently in a hospital and by great good luck, here was an old friend caring for me.

Within a month I was able to return to my duties at the New York School of Music and Arts. I was just in time to hear a lecture on "The Value of a Musical Education." Still round, chubby, stout,
a rosy face framed with black hair,
eyes as snappy as ever, she forcefully delivered her lecture. I gasped with amazement on recognizing Ruth Gildemeister. While rather diffident and retiring in school, she was ready at repartee and never lacked wit—Witt. There was no mistaking her success along her chosen line.

The next day upon looking over my mail, I came across an invitation to the wedding of one of my girl friends. Considering my wardrobe, I found that I needed a new dress for the occasion. While I was making my purchase the next day, the clerk suddenly said, "Oh land! here comes that boss."

That shrug of the shoulders, that lock of white hair, the self-assurance of a man who had made good
—no dodging the issue now—it sure was Walter, yes—the very same, a little stouter, perhaps taller than when I last saw him.

Congratulating him for his prosperity, I inquired in what section of the city he resided. I asked him if he knew aught of his classmates and schoolmates. He said that he knew very little of the whereabouts of the class of '22, but of '24 he had located one member whom he had made his life partner.

Three days later I attended my friend's wedding. The guests had all gathered into the parlor. The minister entered the room with a solemn tread—head reverently bowed and hands clasped behind him. It was not until he turned to meet the bridal party that I recognized a former classmate, Milton Wood. Although he had grown to be somewhat taller and possessed that imposing air that marked him for the cloth, he was still the same Milton I had known as Reddy in High School.

Having finished my reports on the musical department of the Chicago Music and Art Institute, I turned my attention to the arts. Bonding over the canvas of one of her pupils, now bestowing a bit of praise, now offering some criticism and adding a slight touch here and there was Margaret Landers. . . . In one of the mathematics classes in the University of Wisconsin I found a dignified professor. It was evident that there was no napping in his classes. It was surprising, but surely my eyes were not deceiving me. Here was John Fitzgerald, helping others solve advanced mathematical problems similar to those that had caused us all so many moments of anxiety in high school.

. . . I had occasion to hear one of the cases appearing before the court. When the judge rose to speak to the jury, recollections of one of my classmates presented themselves to my mind. . . . There was no question: it certainly was Alice Flaherty. At the time that Alice had acted the role of Portia in the "Merchant of Venice" I had never realized that the theme would sink so deeply that twenty years later she would be presiding over a court.

Also sitting there in the courtroom was a young man busily making a record of the court proceedings. There was something familiar in his manner. He passed his hand quickly over his neatly pompadoured hair. Sometimes he gazed steadfastly at the jury and witnesses, all the while chewing the end of his pen and then he feverishly set to work again. Evidently his inspiration came by fits and starts. When he turned slightly I recognized James Aldrich and I then knew why my attention had been attracted. That was just what he used to do when taking an examination in High school.

Thus I had met all of my classmates. . . I was glad to find them happy and successful, by no means forgetful of the ambition which prompted us to choose as our class motto:

"We Lead, Others Follow."

The H. P. Cummings Construction Co. of Ware has been awarded the contract of building the Memorial hall and high school building at a price of $66,687.

A thunder storm of several hours' duration last Sunday morning did some damage in town. B. E. Shaw lost a cow and heifer, and several trees were hit. Another hard shower visited town Wednesday afternoon. The transformer at the Sentinel office was put out of commission, which helped to delay the issuing of this week's paper.

A fire that might have ended seriously occurred at W. H. V. Belding's last Saturday. It started in the ell part and was of unknown origin. Mr. Belding was in Holyoke at the time, only his niece and son being at the house. The driver of Dexter's Bread car, passing by, kept the flames under control till the fire department arrived and extinguished the blaze. The damage was around seventy-five dollars.

The Misses Dorothy and Marjorie Peeso entertained the Girl Scouts last Saturday evening at their home on Maple street in honor of Miss Perry and Miss Coon who organized the troop some time ago and have acted as Captain and Lieutenant ever since. The evening was a gala occasion, music, games and refreshments keeping every one happily engaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Allen and Miss Marion Bartlett, also Dr. E. P. Bartlett, just returned from California, attended the grammar school graduation exercises at East Longmeadow Thursday evening, where their niece, Alice Bartlett, graduated with first honors.

Fireworks Next Monday

The American Legion fireworks, postponed on account of the weather,
will be shown next Monday night on the Hopkins' lot, near Fellow's shop.

The carnival, which suffered by reason of the weather, will also be in session again next Monday afternoon and evening on the common, opening at five o'clock.

It is hoped that there will be a large patronage as it was not the Legion's fault that Monday evening brought no revenue.

The Legion has secured subscriptions among the townspeople to help pay for the fireworks, which will be well worth witnessing.

Grammar School Graduation

The large audiences attending both the B. H. S. and Grammar school graduation exercises bodes well for Belchertown. In both instances the respective churches were practically filled to capacity.

The ceremony attending the Grammar graduation in the M. E. church last Thursday did not fall far short of that of the High school. Much was made of the exercises—perhaps too much so in the eyes of some—but an outstanding feature was the upward look of the graduates. Indeed "Watch Us Climb" was the motto. It was portrayed in letters of red on an arch of red and white in front of the church. And the speakers frequently alluded to the coming days in High school.

The school marched to their places and the graduates rendered their essays, orations and declamations in fine fashion.

The "Class Diary", which was a history of school and class experiences, was entertaining, especially to the scholars, while the audience delighted in "listening in" to the telephone conversation that revealed the kindly future of those about to receive their diplomas.

Of course the class will, a rather recent feature of graduation life in town, was much provoking. Singularly enough, the bequests this year were made by brothers, Milton Wood for B. H. S. and Berkeley Wood for B. C. S.

The address at the close by Rev. D. L. Hilliard was short and to

Water for Belchertown

With the passage of the special bill in the Massachusetts legislature empowering the state to sell water to Belchertown, there comes to a climax a long series of efforts dating back some twenty or twenty-five years, to get water for fire and domestic purposes for our village. Meetings, hearings and solicitations galore have been held, but all plans came to naught. Private enterprise came near putting in a system by means of pumping from driven wells but that scheme failed. And then came the supreme effort of a few years ago to put in a gravity system with Chambray brook as a source of supply.

This enterprise was to have been financed by the town, but that was where the shoe pinched. People out of the center rose up in arms against paying bills for which they thought they would receive little benefit. Nevertheless the required two-thirds vote was nearly secured. Later meetings were called to reverse the decision, but to no avail. And all the while there was that ceaseless murmuring that Jabish, our natural source of supply, had somehow gotten into the hands of Springfield.

But it appears that now we have found a spring right on top of the hill and all we must do is to lay the pipe.

The pumping plant that furnishes the state school with water, and the supervision necessary thereto, will not have to be materially increased to take care of our needs, so that without question the expense charged up to us will be a fraction of what it would have cost if we had been compelled to equip and run our own plant.

Then, too, there will be no English experience of buying, flooding and keeping clean a water basin, which would have been necessary in case we had chosen a gravity system.

Here we have ideal water. We understand that there is no better in the state and that there is an unlimited amount of it. So evident.

The Celebration

The Fourth of July celebration this year was not what it might have been had the weather been more favorable. The spell of intermittent heavy rains did not let up as was expected, and Monday evening when the carnival was to have been in its glory, the rain descended in almost unprecedented fashion.

So, with the exception of a few chance sales of fireworks, the Legion waited for the morrow in anticipation of something more acceptable. They were disappointed to a considerable extent, however, as the weather was part cloudy and the other part moisture.

Most all the events were pulled off, nevertheless. The ball game between Ludlow and Belchertown at three o'clock was won by the home team and was one of the best attended games of the season. Autos were parked all around the north end of the common.

For the most part the game was favored by the weather, but "dew" in moderate quantities began to fall in the closing innings. While it continued up to the hour of the evening festivities, the music by the Paderewski band of Three Rivers drew out a large proportion of the populace and visitors as well, to the south end of the common where the Legion had erected booths and had them all manned for the occasion.

Here one could make believe a semi-annual cattle show was in progress. The only difference was that the fakirs might be your next-door neighbors and the solicitors would greet you by name.

There was a chance to try your muscle knocking down the slabs. The more you hit them, the better they liked it. At least, that's what the barker said. If you knocked down a few, you got a whip; if more, a teddy bear. Here you could get the privilege of getting something for your money.

But for the most part you had to contribute to someone else's purchase or have them contribute to yours. Chance was staring one at

In this instance the fire district, instead of the town, will meet the expense, the limits of the district to be determined in some measure by the number of water takers.

The special water committee is canvassing the people in the village to secure the names of those who will take water. The solicitors whom we have interviewed report that nearly everyone on their routes has signified a willingness to buy water. Even some of those with pneumatic systems are expecting to discard them in favor of town water.

In order to get the necessary pressure for fire protection a higher standpipe will be necessary, or else the town should purchase an auto fire engine which would give added pressure at the hydrants. This is a matter for the people to decide.

every turn. Candy, dolls, blankets, all changed hands on the spin of the wheel.

Ice cream, soft drinks, etc., were, however, available in the old-fashioned way, and considerable along that line was dispensed. Balloons were also to be had and were "had" by a good many of the youngsters.

Owing to the dampness which was becoming more and more evident, the fireworks were postponed. With this announcement the crowd began to dwindle and the concession men abandoned their efforts, but still those musically inclined hung around under their umbrellas, listening to the selections by the band which seemed to add fervor to its music as the hours advanced.

the point. He emphasized the fact that the impossible appeals to young life and called attention to the motto which represented an effort rather than a goal.

Mrs. Elsie Shattuck, teacher of the school, presented promotion certificates to those who deserved honor for conduct and effort during the past year.

E. C. Witt, Jr., of the school board on behalf of the town, presented diplomas with fitting remarks. He said that the graduates were passing a milestone and reminded them that these landmarks not only indicate the distance travelled, but the miles that lie ahead. He said that the things most highly prized in life are those things for which we strive the hardest. As he presented the diplomas he said, "Let this be an incentive to pass your second milestone—the B. H. S. graduation."

At the close of the exercises the graduates marched to the rear of the room where relatives and friends greeted them.

The musical numbers of the program were well presented and were in charge of Mrs. Clough, music supervisor, who also played the piano.

The Fourth at the State School

Despite the inclemency of the weather, the program of sports arranged by Dr. George E. McPherson, superintendent, was carried out to the letter at the Belchertown State school on July 4th. The morning was devoted to races, etc., and prizes were awarded as follows:

- 100-yard dash 1st, Jacob Glick 2nd, Ralph O'Brian
- Potato race 1st, Ralph O'Brian 2nd Clarence Barker
- Obstacle race 1st, Albert Stokes 2nd, Arthur Averill
- Three-legged race 1st, Charles Reed and Adolph Winters 2nd, William O'Brian and Clarence Barker
- Sack race 1st, Albert Stokes 2nd, Jacob Glick

- Wheelbarrow race 1st, Archie Tower 2nd William O'Brian
- Running broad jump 1st, Albert Stokes 2nd Fred Weeks

The tug 'o war was won by Capt. Ralph O'Brian's men. At the conclusion of these events dinner was served on the lawn, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

At 2.30 the ball game between the teamsters and farm boys was called, which was won by the farm boys' team, the score being 11 to 6. The boys attended the band concert on the common in the evening. Every boy at the school says that the Fourth of 1922 was a grand and glorious one.

Supper and Lawn Party Coming

The United Young People's Societies will give a supper and lawn party on the chapel lawn next Wednesday evening, the supper commencing at 6.30 o'clock. The committee in charge promises an unusually good meal of salads, cold meats, and the inevitable "Boston baked." After the supper there will be an entertainment consisting of dramatics, and vocal and instrumental selections. Pyramus and Thisbe, taken from Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream, will be contrasted with a modern farce, both being acted on a stage erected in front of the church doors, which, by the way, was the official stage back in the time when Gayety Theatres were unknown. Several girls will also give a Rainbow drill.

In addition to the supper and entertainment, there will be the usual booths and counters, at which candy, ice cream, punch and other delicacies will be on sale. The Societies have made a practise of giving such a party for several years now, and the success of those in the past has made the "Lawn Festivals" a settled part of the annual program. Our Turkey Hill wireless experts assure us that Washington promises fair weather for the middle of next week.

Defeats Indian Orchard

The Belchertown Independent baseball team, or whatever it terms itself, defeated the Indian Orchard aggregation at the holiday game played on Tuesday afternoon. There was considerably less argument than on Memorial day, although the game was about as one-sided.

Umpire Allen made a decision at third which caused considerable hot air, but his fumbling with his watch chain sort of edged the players to their places.

Of course this game was far the more interesting, especially by reason of the fact that Belchertown came out on the right end of a 12 to 5 score.

Grayson pitched for the home team and Davis caught. Some contended that Grayson didn't have anything on the ball but he succeeded in warping the vision of some of the visiting aggregation.

In the first half of the opening inning he succeeded in dimming the eyesight of the first three of the visitors up. This was a great heartener for the home team and when Story cracked out a three-base hit, bringing in Lynch and Sutherland, it looked quite strongly as if the old-time luck had returned, and everything was all set for a victory.

Under such circumstances it wouldn't have been a bit surprising if the tables had turned and the game lost, but such was not the case. Three runs were in Belchertown's half of the score column at the end of the inning and nothing seriously broke the spell for the remainder of the game.

In the second inning the visitors scored once and then declared a re-

Story, whose chief desire sometimes is to serve up something spectacular, "got away with" stealing home in the fourth.

Fairchild, in the 8th, got out of a mix-up between 2nd and 3rd, but fate was not with him when he tried to make the plate.

The seventh was, however, the hilarious inning for Belchertown. All the team had a whack at the bat, and two men assumed the privilege twice. The six runs secured in this inning made the score read 11 to 1.

The 9th was the banner inning for Indian Orchard. But it came too late in the game to stage a comeback, and the visitors had to be content with four runs—a good number but not sufficient.

Are We Doomed ?

Our paper is evidently doomed to an untimely death for in the Ware River News of last week we read that "it is sincerely to be regretted that so far there has been no mention of the alligator in either the Belchertown Sentinel or the Boston Transcript."

We were going to say nothing about it, it is true, but when it comes to running Alligator ice cream into town, it is about time something was said.

Does this new concoction contain ground fragments of some new specimen? We understand that some of our enterprising youngsters are buying up all available dishes and are piecing together an animal, which they say is a bit distorted, but without doubt will be something that will be swallowed whole.

At present part of the gang is putting the wiggle into him while the other part is on the still hunt for a wash boiler or a sprinkling pot to transport the tropical beast to the Dismal area.

The Circus

We did not attend the circus ourselves, but one of our subscribers has received a letter from her niece, age ten, who did go, and from her account it was pretty fine. We should think that the management could use this letter, which we print herewith, to good advantage in its publicity department.

Note the workmanship, the correctness of spelling, paragraphs, capital letters, etc. The writer received no help of any kind in her composing.

Dear Aunt —

Saturday we all went down to Manchester to the Ringling Bros. & Barnum & Bailey's circus, June 24, 1922, and it was good, very, very good, too.

After we had left our auto, we went in to see the things before the circus began. There was an Indian man all dressed up and he was playing some thing like a drum. And

Girl Scout Activities

At the request of some of the younger girls in town who want to become Girl Scouts, it is planned to organize a new patrol this summer. The first meeting will be held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the 2nd Primary School room in Community hall. Any girl ten years old or over is eligible. A few of the older Scouts have been asked to help with the work.

Any member of the 3 patrols already formed, who has not passed her tenderfoot test, may complete her work at these meetings if she so desires.

Girl Scout work is too well known to need any recommendation. We believe that vacation time when there is "nothing to do", is the ideal time to get acquainted with Scout work. We hope to give the girls all the good times we can, of the kind that do not cost money, and we hope to help them a bit in becoming more useful women and better prepared citizens.

There's a long, long line agrowing, From north to south, east to west, There's a place a-waiting in it, too, that you'll fill best!

We are sure you'd like to join us if you knew what we can do, And we'd like, O how we'd like, to make a good Girl Scout of you! Do you feel a little lonely? Are your friends too few?

Would you like to join some jolly girls In the things you think and do? Don't you know your Country's waiting? Have you heard her call? See, the Scouts are crowding, crowding in, Where there's room for one and all!

The Reception

The Federated church tendered a reception to Rev. and Mrs. D. L. Hilliard in the chapel last Friday evening. Assisting in the recep-ing were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Witt and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bond.

The chapel was fitted out as a reception parlor with flowers, rugs and other home furnishings. Many parishioners came to greet the newly called pastor and wife. Ice cream, cake and punch were served.

This social event was in charge of the two social organizations of the church.

The Fireworks

There was a large attendance at the fireworks on Monday evening. Shortly after nine o'clock, the upper end of No. Main St., opposite the Hopkins' lot, began to jam with cars which lined the streets on both sides. People came afoot, as well, so that when the sky was illumined by the fireworks, a dense line of people was to be seen all along the east side of the lot.

There was some delay in starting, but when things got going, it was evident that there was to be some display after all. Rockets, Roman candles, bombs, etc., were there in a variety of colors, and the set pieces were especially beautiful.

Nearly everything went off as it was supposed to, so that disappointments were practically nil, something which could not have been said if an attempt had been made to run them off the night of the Fourth.

Considerable work was done previous to the exhibition, getting everything in position for lighting. Members of the Legion had charge of "touching things off" and succeeded in doing so without accident.

Around eleven o'clock people had got their fill and one by one the cars tuned up for home. There was, however, quite a crowd when the good-night star appeared, at about half-past eleven.

The night was ideal, just a bit chilly at the finish, to be sure, and a hot dog would have been about right, but nothing better could be asked. There was a good attendance at the carnival preceding the fireworks.

Thinking as We Do

"Act thus and so, if you would be patriotic," is a phrase we have heard more than once.

Too frequently in every realm have we demanded that men think and act as we think and act or else we have denied them the title we apply to ourselves.

America is known to be a country where there is freedom of speech and thought.

We should be careful not to deny to others names we apply to ourselves lest we find after all that we are mistaken.

Firestone GUM-DIPPED CORDS -and Their High Mileage Records

The high mileage records of Firestone Cords continue to emphasize the fact that Firestone methods are different and better.

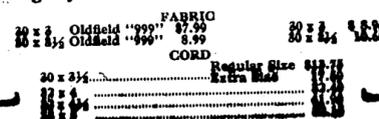

Among the primary sources of Firestone extra mileage is double gum-dipping—the saturation of the cord plies in a vat of liquid gum—thus coating each cord and virtually eliminating internal heat and friction.

Another is Firestone air bag curing, with its 200 pound pressure, which places every cord accurately and equalizes the tension.

By blending the rubbers of different plantations and types, and by tempering it before mixing, Firestone men add still more mileage.

Many cord tires are good—a few are better—Firestone users say one is best.

Those who have already experienced Firestone mileage, have stopped shopping and experimenting—they have made these cords standard equipment.

How High Birds Fly. Astronomical methods have been successfully applied to the solution of a mooted question as to the height of night flights of migrating birds.

When Boston was a little Puritan village, the favorite mode of punishment for small misdemeanors was to place the culprit in the stocks.

They dealt in strange punitive measures in those days. It was the practice, in the case of persons guilty of "exorbitancy of the tongue in railing and scolding," either to gag the offender or set him—more frequently her—in a ducking-stool to be dipped three times in some convenient pond.

then we saw a man that was writing something on a block of paper. He did not have hardly any fingers and hand. One arm was cut off way up to the shoulder and the other arm was all right but the hand and fingers were most gone.

Aunt Alice said there was a snake there and it was 25 feet long. What do you think of that? Ha!

When we got in the big tent, Aunt Alice pointed out some swings to me and they were about at the top of the tent. I forgot to tell you that the tent was higher than our barn and the swings were way up in the very top and men and women would go up in them and do tricks. It was the biggest tent Grandma ever saw. Girls and men would do tricks on them.

In the tent there were 25 elephants. There were Pola bears. They would do all kinds of tricks. There were Lions and Brown & Black Bears & big cats. There was a great, great, great, big Rhinoceros. This one did not have any horn on its nose, but when I looked it up in the Dictionary it said that they have one or two horns on their noses.

One time a man got upon a swing and stood on his head and lit a cigar & drank a glass of orange crush. You know what that is, don't you? And he was way up in one of the swings.

There were 24 or more horses and there were three rings at one time. There were twelve of the brown ones once and they would be all mixed up and then they would get in their places; and one time the 12th one got ahead of the 11th one and then the 11th ran and got ahead of

One of the brown bears would get on a bycle and ride and a woman had a string hitched to him so he could not get away, and the bear would go around on roller skates.

There were two autos and one blew up in half and the other had so much in back it only rode on its hind legs—wheels. Ha! Ha! I saw some women and they looked as if they had hoop skirts on and they danced around the ring.

There is lots, lots and lots more I saw but Grandma says that I will tell you when I write again or when you come home. I think I have writhened a book, don't you?

Big Day July 26

Next Wednesday bids fair to be a memorable day for Belchertown people. The Holyoke business men plan to come here for their annual outing and have invited the townspeople to join them in the celebration. The visitors expect to arrive at about 2.30 p. m. and will bring a band to furnish music for the festivities.

Sports of all kinds will be on the program. Baseball will furnish an opportunity for old timers to limber up a bit, while those who have no experience whatever, will be seen performing. A. T. Gallup of Holyoke has challenged D. D. Hazen, president of the local Board of Trade, to appear on the diamond, and there seems no other way but for the latter to accept the challenge to preserve the honor of the town.

E. C. Witt has just received a letter from the Holyoke people wherein it is definitely stated that there will be six or seven athletic events, in which women and young boys may participate. Two events are scheduled for Belchertown people exclusively. A tug of war between Belchertown and Holyoke is also proposed.

It is also stated on good authority that suitable prizes will be brought to town, and they express the wish that local people will take away their full share.

A feature of the day will be the visitation of the State school, at which time Dr. McPherson will show the party over the institution and explain the work, present and prospective.

Another feature is the possible appearance of actors from Mountain Park to furnish entertainment.

At six o'clock dinner will be served on the lawn of the Park View, by Homer Couture, proprietor. The Holyoke Chamber of Commerce has invited the Belchertown Board of Trade to be their guests at this dinner. The selectmen of this town, as well as those of Granby and Enfield are also invited.

The following committee from the Board of Trade has been elected a committee of arrangements to confer with a committee from the Chamber of Commerce: E. C. Witt, L. S. Parsons, Roland Shaw, Homer Couture, E. W. Beach, D. D. Hazen, Dr. McPherson. A meeting of the two committees has been arranged for this evening in Holyoke.

The occasion should be a happy one for the visitors and the townspeople, too. No doubt another result will be the establishment of even more cordial business relations between the two places.

The stores will close next Wednesday afternoon on account of the celebration.

Y. P. S. Lawn Party

The supper and lawn party conducted by the United Young Peoples' societies Wednesday evening was a worthy successor to similar annual events which have preceded it. The management so advertised it and they kept their word.

Due to the uncertainty of the weather, which has been especially fidgety of late, no attempt was made to serve the supper out of doors. The lawn party, however, was held on the chapel lawn where booths, dressed in a variety of colors, had been erected.

The young people had full charge of the supper and party and their youthful ingenuity was displayed throughout. Some of them did not wait for trade to get slack at their places of business, but immediately took to the road and enticed wayfarers with their wares.

The grab bag special left a trail of laughter in its train. Two young ladies, quaintly bedecked with green sashes, etc., carried a basket laden with surprises, through the crowds and found ready purchasers.

All the luxuries usually found at a lawn party were on sale, ice cream, home-made candy, pop corn and punch.

Shortly before nine the entertainment was given. This was staged in the vestibule of the church and on the walk in front and consisted of the following numbers:

- Plano solo Mr. Hill Rainbow Drill
Reading, "Cremation of Sam McGee" Newell Booth

Play, "Pyramus and Thisbe" Mr. Hill
The Rainbow drill was given by twelve young ladies and was well executed. The participants wore gowns trimmed with vari-colored streamers. Mrs. Aspogren presided at the piano.

The play, "Pyramus and Thisbe," was a very pleasing feature. This was given in costume. Those presenting it were Belding Jackson, Earl Witt, and the Misses Stella, Ruth and Grace Gildemeister.

With the conclusion of the play, games were started, but rain soon descended in considerable quantity, so that there could be no antilimax.

The social committee had the proceedings in charge and is to be thanked for the party's success.

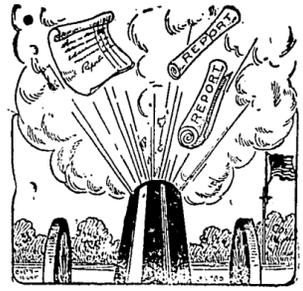

Recently the society elected new officers. They are:
Watson Bardwell President
Earl Witt Vice-president
Charles Scott Secretary
Dorothy Peeso Treasurer C. E. Ruth Aldrich Treasurer E. L.

Dies in West Newbury

Mrs. Susan Haskell, 81, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Otis E. Ray in West Newbury, early Tuesday morning. She went there five weeks ago. She had made her home with Mrs. A. R. Ketchen for the last fifteen years and had spent twenty years in town at an earlier date. She was a member of the Methodist church and loyal to its interests.

She was born in Topsfield, March 15, 1841, the daughter of William and Louisa Ray. She was twice married. Her first husband was Joseph Perkins of Ipswich who died in 1869. Two children of this marriage survive the mother, J. Warren Perkins of Ipswich and Mrs. Arthur Ketchen of this town. Her second husband was T. Sanford Haskell of this town who died in 1893. Three children by the second marriage are now living, Mrs. Arthur Holway of Putney, Vt., Mrs. Otis Ray of West Newbury and William R. Haskell of Salem.

Mrs. Haskell leaves 22 grandchildren and three great grandchildren, also one brother, Harris Ray of Topsfield, and a sister, Mrs. Lois Gould of Salem.

Death of Mrs. A. D. Moore, Sr.

TURKEY HILL NEWS

The funeral of Mrs. A. D. Moore, Sr., who died at her home in Palmer, Monday, was held at the chapel Thursday afternoon, Rev. C. H. Smith of Granby and Rev. D. L. Hilliard, officiating. The ceremony was delayed somewhat as Samuel L. Buckingham of Utica, N. Y., telephoned from Lenox that he would be unable to arrive at the hour specified.

Mrs. Bertram Shaw sang "Some Day We'll Understand." The bearers were the grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. Moore. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Mrs. Moore, who was Catherine Louise Buckingham, was born in Chicopee, Dec. 7, 1847, and married Oct. 17, 1866, Addison Dwight Moore of Marshall, Oneida Co., N. Y., who with their three daughters, Mrs. Edith Sheldon of Palmer, Mrs. Horace Bardwell of Whately and Mrs. Clinton Walker of East Longmeadow and a son, Addison D. Moore of this town survive her. There are also thirteen grandchildren and eighteen great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore came to Turkey Hill from Chicopee in 1885 and remained until 1913, when poor health caused them to give up the work of window decoration which they had conducted for many years. They moved to Palmer and in 1916 celebrated their golden wedding anniversary there.

Mrs. Moore, beloved by all who knew her, will be greatly missed by friends and relatives.

The Outing

Belchertown clasped hands with Holyoke Wednesday afternoon on the occasion of the annual outing of the Holyoke Chamber of Commerce. Shortly after two o'clock cars from the west rolled into town bringing the business men of Holyoke, ready and anxious to play the double role of host and guest. The townspeople turned out in large numbers to give the visitors the glad hand and renew acquaintances that had been in process of formation for some time; for, more and more, Holyoke and Belchertown have found themselves being drawn together in a friendly, business way.

The celebration began officially when the American Legion band of Holyoke circled the park with D. F. Slumway acting as marshal. Following the band were a few cars containing representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the Belchertown Board of Trade. Not much formality, however, was in evidence. The visitors were here for an outing and not for a dress parade.

During all the afternoon, lemonade was dispensed free gratis to all, from a booth provided by the Board of Trade and presided over by Gladys Hazen, Edna Howard and Helen Camp.

The ball game materialized as announced, but the game proved to be between people of the younger generation instead of those older in years who could have put on a more taking performance. These latter were to be found underneath the shade trees trying to frame up a reasonable excuse for not showing up on the diamond.

The younger generation put on a good exhibition game, however, and it finished satisfactory for the home team. Seven innings were played, but it might just as well have stopped at the end of the first, for nothing but a string of ciphers was being added to the 3 to 1 score. The pitching of both Grayson and Keating, however, was well worth witnessing.

After the game the sports were run off in good, snappy style. The list of prizes and winners is to be found elsewhere. An added number on the program was a race for men over 200 pounds. Cleveland, Moore and Menard came in for honors in this heat. Some ran with their coats on and some with them off. What mattered it if there were a few extra pounds to carry, anyway. When one got started, momentum was worth something.

But the rope pull attracted about as much attention as anything. Ten sturdy men from each of the two towns dug their sandals into the sod, lung low and pulled for victory. Here again Belchertown won, slowly but surely.

And then came the distribution of prizes when the Holyokers proved their good faith by acting the part of a mid-summer Santa Claus.

The call was then given to go to inspect the buildings in process of erection at the State school, and a hundred or more availed themselves of the opportunity. Dr. McPherson conducted the party in person and explained the uses of the several buildings.

The inspection proved a revelation, not only to the visitors but to the townspeople as well, of what a big institution is to be established. About ten buildings are under construction and this represents, so Dr. McPherson said, only about twenty per cent. of the entire plant. He also said that the project would cost around three and a half million dollars, would take care of 1800 inmates and make necessary the employment of 400 supervisors.

None of the buildings was in a completed state but the excellence of construction was quite manifest.

After spending about an hour at the grounds, the party repaired to the hotel lawn on Cottage St., where the hungry ones were to be found, hovering around the tables that Homer Couture, the hotel proprietor, had laden with bounties.

Our Public Servants

We are greatly indebted to our public servants. There are many in our village working for the public weal and they are deserving of credit for their efforts. They work for no compensation, but the future will hold them in honorable memory.

This should not deter us from speaking a word of appreciation
while they are yet with us, to say nothing of refraining from pestering them with powder, either directly or indirectly.

Lately from several sources we have heard of insinuations against the motives and abilities of our school building committee and we regret to hear them.

Some have insinuated that they are getting a rake-off, some that they are not seeing to it that specifications are being followed, that the town is having to pay construction insurance which it is not supposed to, that it was fooled as to the cost of the building and that the designing of the buildings was all out of proportion, anyway.

The town is fortunate in that, due to the fluctuation of Liberty bonds, $40,000.00 will be available from the Lawrence estate, it is fortunate that the town's bonds are being floated at 4 1/2 per cent., which for twenty years is a decided offset to the interest that would have had to be paid had they been put on the market at the time the plans were drawn, and it is fortunate that it has a committee of sound business ability and of a moral quality that should keep it out of the mire of round the corner gossip.

The ability and character of the committee should make it unnecessary to answer any of these questions. They are on the job, have been, and are going to be.

They have saved the town many a dollar in recommending the type of construction they did, they gave the townspeople a chance to make any recommendations thought best,
they engaged a reputable architect,
they consulted with competent engineers, they worked with the Memorial trustees with a true community spirit, they let the contracts to builders with a reputation back of them and at prices that were commensurate with the changed labor and market conditions, they have personally seen that specifications have been

Water District Act

Recently enacted by the Legislature

Sec. 6. Any land taken or acquired under this act shall be managed, improved and controlled by the board of water commissioners hereinafter provided for, in such manner as they shall deem for the best interest of the district.

Sec. 7. Any person injured in his property by any action of said water commissioners under this act may recover damages from said district under said chapter seventy-nine;
provided, that the right to damages
for the taking of any water or water right, or any injury thereto, shall not vest until the water is actually withdrawn or diverted by said district under authority of this act.

Sec. 8. Whenever a tax is duly voted by said district for the purpose of this act, the clerk shall send a certified copy of the vote of the assessors of the town of Belchertown who shall assess the same on said district in the same manner in all respects in which town taxes are required by law to be assessed. The assessment shall be committed to the town collector who shall collect the tax in the manner provided for the collector of town taxes, and shall deposit the proceeds with the district treasurer for the use and benefit of the district. The district may collect interest on overdue taxes in the same manner in which interest is authorized to be collected on town taxes.

Sec. 9. A meeting of the voters of the territory included within the boundaries set forth in section one shall be called, on petition of ten or more legal voters therein, by a warrant from the selectmen of the town of Belchertown, or from a justice of the peace, directed to one of the petitioners, requiring him to give notice of the meeting by posting copies of the warrant in two or more public places in the district seven days at least before the time of the meeting. One of the petitioners shall preside at the meeting until a clerk is chosen and sworn, and the clerk shall preside until a moderator is chosen. After the choice of a moderator, the question of the acceptance of this act shall be submitted accepted by a majority of the voters present and voting thereon it shall take full effect, and the meeting may then proceed to act upon the other articles contained in the warrant.

And Now—Profit in Farming
Without the Drudgery

FORDSON power makes more productive seed beds and the tractor does its work so rapidly that farm drudgery is passing. Expenses are reduced. Better crops are grown.

For the job of plowing tough or sticky
soils, Fordson farmers use the OLIVER DISC PLOW and do the work easily and well. The thoroughness of its work has made this plow standard equipment with the Fordson.

Penetration in the toughest soils is assured by the design of the plow which throws its weight to the cutting edge of the discs where they enter the ground. This penetration is easily varied for different soils. By simply turning a crank screw, the penetrating power is increased or decreased.

Improved scrapers give a mouldboard effect. They leave a well pulverized seed bed and cover all trash.

To farm the new way means so small an investment that it is within easy reach of every farmer. Come in and see the Fordson and the OLIVER SPECIAL DISC GANG for the Fordson, and you, too, will decide to be a Ford-son farmer.

Our Public Servants

We are greatly indebted to our public servants. There are many in our village working for the public weal and they are deserving of credit for their efforts.

This should not deter us from speaking a word of appreciation while they are yet with us, to say nothing of refraining from pestering them with powder, either directly or indirectly.

Lately from several sources we have heard of insinuations against the motives and abilities of our school building committee and we regret to hear them.

Some have insinuated that they are getting a rake-off, some that they are not seeing to it that specifications are being followed, that the town is having to pay construction insurance which it is not supposed to, that it was fooled as to the cost of the building and that the designing of the buildings was all out of proportion, anyway.

The ability and character of the committee should make it unnecessary to answer any of these questions. They are on the job, have been, and are going to be.

They have saved the town many a dollar in recommending the type of construction they did, they gave the townspeople a chance to make any recommendations thought best, they engaged a reputable architect, they consulted with competent engineers, they worked with the Memorial trustees with a true community spirit, they let the contracts to builders with a reputation back of them and at prices that were commensurate with the changed labor and market conditions, they have personally seen that specifications have been

The town is fortunate in that, due to the fluctuation of Liberty bonds, $40,000.00 will be available from the Lawrence estate, it is fortunate that the town's bonds are being floated at 4 1/2 per cent., which for twenty years is a decided offset to the interest that would have had to be paid had they been put on the market at the time the plans were drawn, and it is fortunate that it has a committee of sound business ability and of a moral quality that should keep it out of the mire of round the corner gossip.

The Oliver Disc Plow

And Now-Profit in Farming Without the Drudgery

FORDSON power makes more productive seed beds and the tractor does its work so rapidly that farm drudgery is passing. Expenses are reduced. Better crops are grown.

For the job of plowing tough or sticky soils, Fordson farmers use the OLIVER DISC PLOW and do the work easily and well. The thoroughness of its work has made this plow standard equipment with the Fordson.

Penetration in the toughest soils is assured by the design of the plow which throws its weight to the cutting edge of the discs where they enter the ground. This penetration is easily varied for different soils. By simply turning a crank screw, the penetrating power is increased or decreased.

Improved scrapers give a mouldboard effect. They leave a well pulverized seed bed and cover all trash.

To farm the new way means so small an investment that it is within easy reach of every farmer. Come in and see the Fordson and the OLIVER SPECIAL DISC GANG for the Fordson, and you, too, will decide to be a Fordson farmer.

bles were provided, but even so, there were many who had to wait for the more fortunate ones to go over the top. In all, about 350 people were fed, quite a record for Belchertown.

With the conclusion of the first table, there was some after dinner speaking. Ex-Senator Morse mounted a settee and welcomed the assembled company, reminding them of the fact that at every meal of which they partook, they were indebted to Belchertown, Holyoke's perennial source of milk supply. Mr. Morse also besought Holyoke to join Hampshire county where resided the ranks of the best, telling them in his own frank way that they would never amount to anything as long as they clung to old Hampden.

Mr. McLean, president of the Holyoke Merchants' organization, responded in happy vein, and told how extremely grateful they were for the fine hospitality they had received.

Then ex-Senator Sheehan of Holyoke mounted the rostrum and told of the part he played in securing the State school for Belchertown.

Dr. McPherson was then called upon and he gave a brief survey of the work of the school. He cautioned his hearers about calling it anything else but the Belchertown State school, the official name, stating that it was not fair to the inmates to be handicapped by the term "Feeble Minded school."

Dr. McPherson reiterated some of the statements which he made the party that visited the institution and stated in addition that from twenty to thirty families would take their place in the community life here because of supervisory work at the institution.

The clatter of dishes and the friendly visitations, however, made speech making a bit difficult and no further speakers were called upon. The crowd repaired either to the dance hall where a fine orchestra was playing, to the park where the band furnished another concert, or to their homes.

One of the attendants voiced the opinion of almost every one when she said at the conclusion of the festivities that it was a great thing to have such an outing come to Belchertown.

Grange Notes

Next Wednesday, August 9th, is the annual field day and picnic of Hampshire County Pomona, to be held at Williamsburg on the farm of Brother Fred Shumway.

It is planned to make this a great event. A very prominent man, whose home is in Northampton, will be present and address us at 1.30.

There will be a program of sports and an exciting ball game, between Williamsburg and all the other Granges.

Basket lunch at noon with coffee, cold drinks and all the ice cream you can eat furnished free.

This event is for Grangers, their families and friends. All who desire transportation may communicate with the Master, Mrs. H. H. Witt. It will be a great time. Let's go.

Federated S. S. Picnic

"All's well that ends well," so the picnic of the Federated Sunday School on Wednesday at Aldrich lake, Granby, could be termed successful. Threatening skies bid fair to postpone the event. In fact it was officially called off, but the insistence of the more venturesome caused the decision to be withdrawn. Weather developments seemed to justify the course taken, for while the day was not as perfect as some, it answered remarkably well.

This is the second year that the picnic has been held at Aldrich lake. Some say that it is inadvisable to go to the same place twice, but when it takes five trucks and numerous private cars to transport the crowd the second season, perhaps the rule has exceptions.

There was nothing about the picnic that was spectacular enough to arouse the country-side, but a good time does not necessarily mean a lot of noise and lavish expenditure of money.

The water seemed to be the most alluring thing. Almost every one either went in, slid in, or canoed in the enticing waters. Of the three methods of going in, the sliding in was the most exciting. From quite a steep grade the toboggan shot over the rollers, out over the wobbly waves, at last dumping the occupants in about eight feet of water. Not so many from Belchertown included in this pastime but it was well represented on the bleachers.

A tub full of lemonade was made on the grounds by the visiting party, while other satisfiers were to be obtained at the store.

An attractive feature of the occasion was the sports. These were in charge of Theodore Hazen, who saw to it that they were run off in snappy style. He was liberal in his management, realizing it was a Sunday School affair, for let it be known that he was not unmindful of several misdemeanors. Some people claimed to be fat that didn't appear to be; some unseemly force seemed to favor the winning team on the rope pull; but then, all's fair in love and at picnics.

The party was fortunate in being able to witness a swimming and diving exhibition put on by a boys' camp staying at the lake. Some also were privileged to witness a canoe race earlier in the afternoon. This was staged in the lower waters of the lake.

"All's well that ends well." The picnic ended well, but well, nobody knows just when.

Scout Activities

The Girl Scouts have held three meetings this summer with an average attendance of 14, which shows some interest in Scouting, especially since no attempt has been made to do work with the older Scouts. It is planned to hold four more before school opens. By that time it is hoped that some of the girls will be ready to pass their tenderfoot test and begin second class or more advanced work with the other Scouts.

The meetings are not all work. Last week we took a flower walk. Some Scouts found over thirty varieties of flowers just along the roadsides within a mile of the center. We named as many as we could. "I never thought much about the names of flowers before," observed one of the younger members.

This week our good time is to be a surprise. A committee of three girls was elected to have the matter in charge. They are making all arrangements. Next week the plan is to spend a day at Lake Metacomet.

There may be other girls who would like to become Scouts. It is not too late to join. We have had new girls at every meeting so far. Just keep it up.

Electric Storms

In the "good old days" of real thunder storms, a minister who lived in town jokingly remarked one summer that he thought the Lord must have sent him here to be killed by lightning. We do not know what he would think if he had resided here this past summer and especially this past week. Last week Friday afternoon and this week Tuesday afternoon extremely severe showers of long duration visited the town and left their trail of damage. Electricians and telephone men have been exceedingly busy and have had hard work to keep up with the repairs. News of shattered poles and blocked roads has come in from the outlying districts.

After last Friday's storm the lightning's track was to be seen near the ground wires at the base of the oft visited elm on the premises of L. H. Blackmer. Lightning also scored a direct hit on a transformer near the station.

On Tuesday afternoon John Stadler's barn was struck and some damage done. A horse belonging to Mr. Stadler was partially paralyzed by the shock.

All in all, it seems to be good weather for insurance men and lightning rod agents.

Water District Act

Sec. 10. Said district shall, at the same meeting at which this act is accepted and after such acceptance, elect by ballot a district clerk and a district treasurer, who may be the same person, to hold office until one year from the next succeeding annual meeting, and at each annual meeting after the first, their successors shall be elected by ballot for one year; and there shall also be elected by ballot three persons to hold office, one until three years, one until two years and one until one year, from the next succeeding annual meeting, to constitute a board of water commissioners. At each annual meeting after the first, one such commissioner shall be elected by ballot for three years. All officers of the district shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualified. All the authority granted to said district by this act, and not otherwise specifically provided for, shall be vested in the board of water commissioners, who shall be subject, however, to such instructions, rules and regulations as the district may impose by its vote. Any vacancy occurring in said board from any cause may be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by the district at any legal meeting called for the purpose.

Sec. 11. Said commissioners shall fix just and equitable prices and rates for the use of water, and shall prescribe the time and man-

Is Easy the Fordson Way

BECAUSE the Fordson has plenty of power and is fast running, Fordson farms are known as the best tilled farms in the community. Good plowing can be followed promptly by good discing because the man who drives a Fordson is soon through with one job and ready for the other. This thorough tillage, of course, results in bigger crop yields.

Because of its scientific design and easy handling qualities, the RODERICK LEAN AUTOMATIC ENGINE DISC HARROW, specially designed for the Fordson, inspires its owners to pulverize thoroughly both before and after plowing.

THE RODERICK LEAN AUTOMATIC is as necessary to economical tractor farming as the special tractor plow. Operated from the tractor seat, it provides easy, thorough soil preparation with the Fordson. Strong for power requirements, flexible for short turning, and adjustable to meet all soil conditions. This is the proper disc for Fordson tractors—the one disc harrow preferred by Fordson owners.

How The Master Driver
Became Master Tire Builder

IN 1903, driving the "999" racing car, Barney Oldfield started his career of victories that later earned him the title of "Master Driver of The World." To overcome the tire weaknesses that made racing difficult and dangerous, he studied tires—specified materials—supervised construction.

Today, Barney Oldfield is known as the "Master Tire Builder." Starting with the crude tires which carried the "999" one mile in sixty seconds, Oldfield gradually developed his famous Cords—a set of which covered 500 miles at eighty-eight miles an hour without a change.

In three years Oldfield tires have won every important race on American speedways. They are the only American tires that have ever taken first place in the French Grand Prix. They have won for three consecutive years in the 500-mile Indianapolis Sweepstakes. So far in 1922, Oldfields have lowered four World's Records and seven track records.

The Wichita Test Run gave evidence of Oldfield superiority in touring—when a set of four Cords covered 34,525 miles over rutted, frozen, winter roads—a performance attested by the Mayor of Wichita.

See your dealer and get a set of these rugged tires that Barney Oldfield has developed and perfected through a lifetime of practical tire experience. Their performance will convince you that they are "The Most Trustworthy Tires Built."

12,000 Trout

J. W. Jackson, L. S. Parsons, Roy G. Shaw and Howard Spencer of the Metacomet Fox, Rod and Gun club went by truck to the state hatchery on Tuesday and brought home 12,000 fingerling trout which have been distributed in the brooks of the town.

Earlier in the season 40 pheasants were liberated here by the club, and in the spring white trout and pike perch were sent here by the Federal government.

More trout and other fish will be liberated later.

J. W. Jackson offered a year's subscription to the National Sportsman to the local man catching the largest trout this season. Robert Baggs caught one weighing one and a fourth pounds, which entitled him to the prize. Richard Lewis was a close second, getting one weighing only two ounces less.

The sportsman's organization is by these activities endeavoring to keep good sport alive in Belchertown.

Amount received	$6,315.06
-----------------	------------

The fund is now under the town's own guardianship, the interest only being available as heretofore. During the last few years, no interest has been received, as the legal matters had not been straightened out.

Tax Rate $37

The assessors have fixed the tax rate at $37 per thousand. No taxes for school house construction entered into this year's budget.

Scout Activities

At the regular meeting last week Rachel Randall and Frances Sauer, whose tenderfoot work was completed some time ago, were invested.

The advance work was flag making.

After the business meeting the troop adjourned to their beloved quarters at the Thomson homestead, where the committee in charge, excused from the regular work because of special duties—extended a welcome. While this committee was completing their arrangements, they had the rest pack their grandmother's trunk. The articles which went into that trunk must have made a sorry sight for the old lady: a puppy, a cat and a bird would seem like a lively combination which must prove fatal to the false teeth, stockings, shoes, etc.

In the midst of "packing" came the welcome call to supper which included such frills as olives and lemonade, ending with marshmallows toasted at the open fireplace.

Confer About Water

Dr. Kline of the Commission of Mental Diseases was in town this week, the guest of Dr. McPherson, head of the State school. On Wednesday Dr. Kline had a conference with the local committee on a water supply for the town. It developed that the town or water district must submit a tangible proposition, and will need, therefore, to ascertain from competent authorities just what equipment is necessary or desirable.

A Promising Child

When the baby boy is only two years old there is not, of course, much to tell about him but there is always something to tell. He can walk if a healthy child and he has cut a few dear, little, pearly teeth. He is no longer

"An infant crying in the night; And with no language but a cry." He can utter several interesting sounds which fond parents interpret and say, "He is beginning to talk," and they are hopeful as to his future development.

The League of Nations is a promising child. Glory be! it still lives. It can walk, it is expressing itself in intelligible language, it is actually functioning as an international institution. There is something of useful achievement to tell about it. Let us note some of these things it has done.

It was hoped the League would be an agent in preventing international differences from growing into war. This hope has been fulfilled in several instances.

At one time there was high tension between Sweden and Finland over the possession of the Aland Islands. War was averted by the League.

When Jugoslavia and Albania were on the point of starting another blaze of war in the Balkans in their dispute over boundary lines, the trouble was settled by a commission appointed by the League.

A Warless World

A warless world will come. The dead have not died in vain. Men have not labored in the past to no purpose. For a long time it was only alleged idealists and dreamers and poets who portrayed the horrors of war. But the number is increasing of those who are declaring that if we keep on having war we shall soon have no world at all.

Bankers and economists are now saying the same things that these visionaries declared. Financiers are speaking as these dreamers did. College students and educators and hard headed business men are taking their place in increasing numbers among those who advocate a warless world. Protestants and Catholics and Jews, even capital and labor are joining the cohorts of peace. Editors are not nearly as militaristic as before. By and by the voices of so many will be heard that war cannot dwell among us; war will be eliminated as slavery has been eliminated. It is a far cry from the days when men sang songs praising war, and prayed to a war God and called war history their most precious writings to the present. It is also a far cry from the time when men entered war for conquest and the present when some nations entered it simply for humanity. It ought to cause rejoicing to find increasing number fighting to find increasing number fighting the policy of an armed world.

Other games were played and a peanut hunt enjoyed. At an early hour the party broke up, every one saying that the committee in charge, Edna Howard, Margaret McPherson and Barbara Winter, had given us all a jolly good time.

Weather permitting, the Scouts expect to spend today at Lake Metacomet. The older Scouts have been invited to join the merry-making. Camp-fire cooking, bathing, sports with prizes for the winners, have been arranged for by the committee in charge, Marjorie Peeso, Lorraine Tapp and Ruth Curtis.

FORDSON power makes more productive seed beds. The tractor does its work so rapidly and does so much of the heavy work of farming, that farm drudgery is passing. Expenses are reduced. Better crops are grown.

In the bringing about of this new era, the Oliver No. 7 Plow has been the working partner of the Fordson. It is so light running and so scientifically designed that its work has made it a reputation enjoyed by no other tractor plow.

It is extremely easy to handle. Depth is adjusted by moving a lever that operates a jack. So easy is this done that most drivers do not stop or slow down to make a change in the plowing depth.

The power lift is tripped by simply touching a rod which is so conveniently placed that the driver need not turn his head to operate it. There is no side draft because the plow is in perfect alignment with the tractor.

To farm the Fordson way means so small an investment that it is within easy reach of every farmer. Come in and see the Oliver No. 7 gang and you, too, will decide to farm the Fordson way.

Another occasion for the League to act as a peacemaker came when Poland requested its help in adjusting the dispute between her and Lithuania over Vilna.

There were numerous possibilities of serious strife in building the line fences in Upper Silesia between Germany and Poland, and again the League made good as a peacemaker.

Through the influence of the League the nations are getting together to talk over various questions vital to their welfare. They are acquiring the conference habit. In 1920 twenty-two nations met in Paris to facilitate international travel, and the same year thirty-five nations met in Brussels to talk over the financial situation. The next year there were two conferences, one at Geneva, where thirty nations consulted about methods to suppress the infamous international traffic in women and girls, and one, in Warsaw, where twenty-seven nations considered means to check the spread of typhus fever. This two-year-old child is doing good by getting the nations together to consult about business, morals and health. And Uncle Sam, to be in style, tho still shying at the League itself called a conference on his own hook. Well, the conference idea is a good one; let him call another if he sees fit to do so.

In the sad summer of 1914 when the war clouds were rising so dark and threatening over Europe, there was no agency that could act promptly and with some degree of moral authority to call a conference of the nations in the interest of peace. Now such an agency exists and the League is keeping its

Fifty-one countries are now enrolled as supporters of the League, a goodly fellowship, and —make good note of this—not one of them has had to advertise its sovereignty as Lost, Strayed or Stolen. Perhaps their sovereignty is more secure than some of our timorous senators felt ours to be, or perhaps our senators were mistaken in thinking the League would be a superstate.

In company with Germany, Hungary, Abyssinia, Afghanistan, Ecuador, Russia, Turkey, Mexico and Iceland our great nation turns a cold shoulder to the League. O Uncle Samuel, how can you do it? —Belcher Towne.

Girl Scout Trip to Lake Metacomet

Last Friday the Girl Scouts started at ten o'clock for the lake which is two and one-half miles from the village. When the girls first started out, some ran for a little, but the ones using better judgment walked. On the way to the lake we added two girls to our number.

It was nearly eleven when the girls reached the lake. The smaller ones went in wading as soon as possible. Fifteen minutes later we were glad to see Mr. Parsons who had kindly offered to take our lunches and coats to Lake Metacomet. Most of the girls who had bathing suits immediately went swimming.

On a high knoll the camp site was chosen. The girls busied themselves in putting up the tent and gathering firewood. The others were enjoying their swimming very much and the laughter reached the ears of the party on the knoll and made them wish very much that they could join them.

After the swimming was over, two fires were started, and the girls gathered around them, ready to cook their weinies. The dinner consisted of roasted or fried frankfurts and rolls with mustard, homemade biscuits, pickles, olives, lemonade, cookies and bananas.

After dinner most of the girls had eaten so much that they had to rest. After the resting time a Scout meeting took place and the girls discussed the respect due the flag. One of the girls who had been to Camp Bonnie Brae told of the duties and pleasures of camp life. It was decided that the girls should take to Scout meeting three cents for dues.

After the meeting the girls went in swimming again and enjoyed the water very much. After the swimming came the sports. The sports and winners were:

Running for girls 12 and under,
Margaret McPherson
Running for girls over 12,
Dorothy Peeso

Standing broad jump, Edna Howard
Running broad jump for girls over 12, Marjorie Peeso

Running broad jump for girls 12 or under, Barbara Winter Three-legged race,
Ruth Curtis and Edna Howard

After the sports the girls had supper. The supper was very nice. There were sandwiches of ham, jelly, and bread and butter, cake and peaches. Water took the place of lemonade. After supper all the rubbish was burned up. Some of the girls went down to the pavilion to dance. Some got permission to go out in a boat.

At seven Donald Hazen came to take back our belongings. He also gave six girls a ride to the village. Every girl said that she had had a lovely time.

Hot Dog Roast

The local United Young Peoples' society will have their first "hot-dog roast" of the summer Friday evening on the spacious lawns of the Gildemeister home on Federal street, at 7.30 o'clock. The social committee has arranged for a big feed of dogs, rolls, toasted marshmallows, and lemonade for the nominal charge of twenty cents per individual, and ice cream will be on sale if the night is warm. The cooking will be on the usual self-service plan, forked sticks, a good hot fire and the necessary raw rations being allotted each person. Games of all kinds will be enjoyed during the evening.

Growth

"We rise by the things that are under our feet, By what we have mastered of good and gain, By the pride deposed and the passions slain And the vanquished ills that we hourly meet."

So wrote one born in our own midst, J. G. Holland.

Now it is impossible to get every ill under our feet at once. We cannot slay every passion at a single stroke, nor depose all vices in a single hour. But we should be expected to be constantly decreasing the number of things which spoil our lives, and to be gaining in our power of casting out the devils which mar our characters. "Heaven is not reached by a single bound." But we should grow in the graces cultivated and the vices deposed.

We should grow like the tree. An oak is not grown in a day. The growth of the tree is silent and quiet. It makes no demonstration. If the tree does not grow, there is something the matter with it. There may be some disease working at the roots. There may be some pests which are gnawing at the vitals. There may be something the matter with the soil. It may not be fertile enough. It may be too wet or too dry. There may be blight on the leaves. If a tree is to grow it must have enough sunlight. If the other trees over-tower it and overshadow it, growth is retarded and sometimes the tree dies. The tree must have plenty of room in which to grow. The growing tree needs moisture as well as sunlight.

A growing tree has flowers and fruits. The larger the tree, the better is it able to withstand the storms and blasts.

So with our growth. If we do not grow, there is something wrong, and we need to make a careful investigation concerning the soil and environment. Do we get proper nourishment? Are there any malicious little devils at work? If we are not blossoming out in beauty and bringing forth luscious fruit, then we may conclude we have stopped growing and have begun to die. And we may find consolation in the thought that it takes a whole life time to get full maturity.

BANKING REPORTS

ought to be as effective as if shot from a gun; yet they are not always such. The wealth of a community is apparent from the records of the banks.

ARE YOU

a part of this wealth? If so, are you represented in our reports? If not, we should be very glad to discuss our banking system with you.

Address on Good Citizenship

Mrs. E. M. Irving of West Roxbury addressed a meeting in Community hall last Monday evening.
The meeting was held under the auspices of the Woman's Republican Town Committee. The object of the meeting was not the furtherance of the candidacy of any particular person, however, but was in the interest of good citizenship and Republican success at the polls in November.

Mrs. Irving, it seems, is a candidate for representative in the 22nd Suffolk district, and has nine men to compete with her for the office.

Mrs. Irving explained that the Republican state headquarters does not endorse any particular candidate in the primaries. She thought that a large part of Massachusetts and especially western Massachusetts is Republican.

Referring to her candidacy, Mrs.
Irving said that it was an interesting experience, anyway. She said it was very essential that the primaries be attended as that is where the candidates are in the making.

She said that there were two dominant parties and that not all the good people were in one party.
She did think, however, that the states with the better administration are under Republican leadership.

We may disagree, she said, regarding items in the tariff, but we must decide on the fundamental policy of protection or free trade.
She, of course, favored protection.
She argued against partial support to both parties, stating that the national organization needs to be backed up all along the line.

Mrs. Irving spoke strong words for the women. She said that they didn't want advantages or any additional privileges, but simply to take their place. She spoke for women representation on town and city committees and in favor of having the work done openly.

As women doctors and women lawyers found at first that it was a

Receives Headstone

The Chauncey D. Walker Post has received from the government a headstone for the grave of George W. Hannum, who died in France.
This is the second headstone that has been allotted in the New England states. The Post completed the work of erecting the stone yesterday.

Scout Activities

About three o'clock Wednesday afternoon ten of the Girl Scouts gathered at Hazen's house for a picnic. After a bumpy ride, the tent, the Scouts and their lunches arrived at Lake Metacomet. As soon as the tent was put up, everyone prepared for a swim. The water was fine and gave us a dandy appetite for the lunch which followed.

After the eats had disappeared, someone suggested games. Pussin the corner, I spy, Cheese-it and racing and jumping contests were among those chosen. Soon afterward along came Harold Hazen with the truck and took us all to Lake Arcadia. We found a boat that, with balling, proved serviceable and Harold very kindly volunteered to take us all for a row.

As it was growing late we started home soon after. We bumped home, laughing and singing, and everyone agreed that this had been an ideal picnic.

Meeting at Lake

The executive and prayer-meeting committees announce the annual young people's meeting to be held at lake Arcadia, Sunday night, next, August 27. At this first official announcement of the meeting, make plans to be present. It is requested that all society members who can sing be at the chapel this evening at 7.30 to practice some special selections and form a group which will hike to the lake, Sunday, singing as they go. It is desired that a score, at least, be present and if you have not personally been called upon to help in this singing band, volunteer your services and meet us tonight.

Granby Y. P. S., also the Amherst societies have been invited, so that the meeting will be unusual and unique in the various places represented. Several special selections will be rendered and there is a possibility that two or three soloists will favor us with solos.
Echoes from the recent C. E. Institute at Northfield, to which the society sent two delegates, will be heard.

Plans for a great meeting are under foot. Don't say as many said last year, "I wish I had gone." If you have a car and can accommodate a few passengers, be at the chapel at 5.45 Sunday p. m. The meeting will start at 6.30 and last one hour. Follow the crowd to Lake Arcadia Sunday afternoon and attend the meeting of the year.

bit hard to get a foothold in the community life, so at first women voters will find it a bit hard to locate their nich. As the man in the home would not care to make ples or the woman to saw wood, so there is a work each is especially fitted for.

She said that some call politics dirty but begged to submit that the politicians are liable to be dirty. Government will be just as good, she said, as the people make it.

The speaker urged her hearers to be fair to the people whom they elect and judge office holders by their record over a long period of time rather than by single events, and told them they had no right to criticize at all unless they were willing to bear their share of carrying on the country's affairs.

Mrs. Irving alluded to the taking of the small towns for Boston's water supply. She scoffed at the accusation that Boston people were wasteful of the water and that it was not metered.

The Dog Roast

The Y. P. S. had their first dog roast of the summer at the home of Mrs. Alice Gildemeister of Federal St. last Friday evening. About 75 attended, including several of the older members of the congregation.

After a short session of games on the lawn, a large bon fire was lighted in the meadow to the rear of the buildings, and corn, frankfurts and marshmallows were roasted.

After the roast ice cream was served and more games enjoyed until the severe storm brought an end to the festivities about 9 o'clock. Everyone had a good time and the social committee with Miss Eleanor Bardwell, chairman, hopes to be able to hold another roast in the near future.

Town Items

Fifty of the younger members of the Primary S. S. enjoyed the games, the candy and peanut hunt, Miss King's stories and the refreshments at the party on the chapel lawn on Monday afternoon. Miss Stella Cooke has returned from a two weeks' visit with relatives in Athol.

Community Hall FRIDAY Sept. 1

"No God. No sin. No future life. Nothing but the survival of the fittest, and every man for himself." That was the ruthless creed by which two men lived. They thought it had brought them success and riches until one of them was forced to sacrifice his wife upon the altar of that creed. Then he killed Dick Desborough, the man he had looked upon as his best friend, but Dick, even after death, was not free to progress. His spirit was forced to remain earthbound until he was willing to be guided by the higher creed that "love is the great progressive force in this world and what we call the next." That is the theme about which Basil King built the powerful story, "Earthbound," which critics have recognized as the greatest and most impressive screen production

Favored with one of the finest evenings of the summer, the Catholic lawn party was held under the most auspicious circumstances, Wednesday evening. This was quite in contrast with the weather of last year, when a veritable down-pour preceded this annual event.

No attempt was made to serve the supper in the open this year, the town hall being used instead. Here Mrs. Garvey and her assistants did all in their power to outdo their previous hospitality.

The spectacular event of the evening, of course, was the lawn party. This was staged in the middle of the common. In a circle some fifty feet in diameter were the concessions, all lit up with a blaze of electric lights. The blanket stand was one of the most popular places. Here Flaherty and Lapolice held forth in veteran-like form. But persuasion was not necessary. The blankets sold anyway. They were all gone by nine o'clock. The doll stand took second prize and the confections moved fast. Fancy articles were also going good, while ice cream and soft drinks lived up to their reputation. The proprietors at all the places played their part to perfection.

The "band wagon" was there in the shape of a truck. This had a piano mounted on it. There were also a bass drum and a cornet, all of which were used as the spirit moved, by a number of musicians. Exhibitions of dancing were also given. No set program was rendered, however.

The big thing, of course, was the crowd, which was of just the right size. It was not too large, and it was not too small. With the people moving in the midst of the booths, decked with bunting and flags, with the lights overhead and a brilliant half-moon in the heavens, the whole affair presented a brilliant spectacle.

The usual visitors from the surrounding country were on hand for the event, to renew old acquaintances, and to help boom the building fund the mission is trying to raise. Father McGrath of Bondsville was present to do what he could to make the occasion a pleasant one.

Alden-Parks Nuptials

Harry F. Parks of Westfield and Elsie May Alden of this town were married by Rev. C. G. Burnham at his home on Wednesday. Mrs. Parks is the daughter of Frank B. Alden of South Belchertown, an assessor for many years.

Reunion of Classes '88 and '89

The Belchertown High School classes of '88 and '89 held a most successful reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy M. Blackmer on August 25th. The '88 class started in High School with 34 members, of whom 7 are no longer living, and 2 are living we know not where. '89 started with 23, of whom 7 are dead. Of our four principals one is dead, and one we have lost track of. At our reunion we had 10-'88s and 4-'89s present with 8 members of families of the class and 2 guests, making 24 in all. The rooms and dining table were tastily decorated with cut flowers in the class colors: pink and white for '88 and red and white for '89. At six o'clock a bountiful supper was served and every one ate as long as they could see, but we couldn't clear the table. A business meeting was held at which the following officers were chosen: President, Julia B. Smith of Lexington; Sec'y and Treas., Iva Green Pease; Ass. Sec'y, Elizabeth Bartlett Allen; Executive Committee, Leroy Blackmer, Guy Allen, Cora Shaw Newman and Cora Lane Morse. The next reunion will be held in 1925 with Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Gould and Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Allen to entertain. Make a start, you younger classes, and hold your reunions. We have been out of school 33 and 34 years but we still have our affection for the good old school, and we are glad to get together once in three

Effects of Prohibition

W. N. Foregrave, Anti-Saloon League superintendent for Western Massachusetts, spoke at the Federated church last Sunday morning. Speaking "straight from the shoulder", he drove home the facts regarding prohibition, facts which he said could not be disseminated through the daily press because of the wetness of its character.

He told of the constantly enlarging objective of the prohibition forces, who now have for their goal the making of the whole world dry.

The speaker, in no uncertain terms, stated that Massachusetts, by not readjusting her laws to correspond with the Federal laws, was seceding from the Union more than the southern states in the days of slavery. He called upon the old Bay state, that was one of the first states to ratify the 18th amendment, to get into line, and have it no longer true that 5000 men are enforcing every other law in the state, whereas only two federal agents serve as enforcement officers for the five western counties and only 25 or 30 serve in the whole state. He doubted, if under the existing laws, Massachusetts could say that she had tried prohibition.

And yet Mr. Foregrave went on and piled fact on fact showing that marvelous results had been accomplished. He said that in Springfield, the oasis of the state, where it seems as though everything is owned by the wet, drunkenness decreased 62 per cent. since 1917.

The speaker said that prohibition was not foisted on the people. 33 states having passed prohibitory laws previous to the enactment of the amendment, and that since most of the states have laws equal

And Now September

And now September! The Summer months are gone. The evenings tell us that fall is here and that summer has begun its flight. The people are less numerous at the summer cottages, vacationists are returning home and many a summer resort gives indication of coming desolation. While September is more and more a summer month and with an increasing number work does not begin briskly till October, yet for most of us, the early days of this month find us back at our old task, and the wheels of activity begin to turn more briskly. However the summer days have been spent, we hope that all our readers find that they enter upon their work again with new zest and fresh vigor, and with increased optimism and enlarged faith.

If the year's work is to be such as we in our best moments desire, the old things must be done in a new spirit. Joy must take the place of indifference, and heat must take the place of apathy. The things which are only good must give way to the better, and the better must give way to the best. Things which are of small importance must be discarded in order to have time for the things that are excellent.

The year's work will not be satisfactory to us unless we go on. The youth finds this in school life; it is so everywhere. As the musician will not be satisfied with the year's work in music unless he goes on in study, so is it true with the farmer and merchant. New things must be laid hold of, things never undertaken before. Hard and difficult tasks must be done. Even things which last year were considered to be impossible must be put in the list of the possible things.

Let us get a good start in the year's work. Much depends upon the start. A poor beginning handicaps the work of the whole year. But that which counts the most through all the months is faithfulness.

A man cannot desert his work every time some attraction presents itself, and still expect to arrive at the goal of his ambition. Persistence succeeds. He that endureth to the end will not only be saved, but he will have the joy of seeing a finely finished task.

Fewer Delays With Fordson Farming

PROBABLY the most costly part of farming is represented by the time lost in delayed work. Those who have been using the Fordson tractor and the Standard Equipment that goes with it have been remarkably free from delays occasioned by breakage.

Take, for example, the MONEY-MAKER ensilage cutter. It is built on such a firm foundation and is made of such high grade materials that it is seldom the cause of delays at harvest time. The cutter shaft is mounted on three bearings instead of two and it operates so smoothly that a glass filled with water can be placed anywhere on the cutter while it is operating at full speed, without the water being spilled.

The heavy shocks that would otherwise reach the gears as green corn is fed into the cutter are taken up by a patented cushion drive.

Every farmer in this community should look into the possibilities for saving time and money with this remarkable cutter.

A Triumph for Value

IN the past two months Firestone has built and marketed more tires than in any similar period in its history.

This steadily increasing public preference is proof of the recognition by car owners of the greater values offered by Firestone. It is a tribute to Firestone men—all stockholders in the company—all actuated by the operating principle of Most Miles per Dollar.

The high average performance of Firestone Cords is without equal in the annals of tire making and is reflected by the general tendency to specify Firestone for hard service. Taxicab and bus lines, buying tires by the mile, are universally equipping with Firestone Cords.

There are many reasons for the high quality of Firestone tires but chief among the special manufacturing processes are double gum-dipping, thus eliminating internal friction by insulating each cord strand, and air-bag cure, insuring a well-balanced and perfectly shaped product.

Don't speculate in tires—you will find the right combination of price and quality in Firestone. Come in and let us tell you about the service these Cords are giving other car-owners whom you know.

ly as strict as the Volstead law, on their statute books. One-half of the states forbid alcohol for even medicinal purposes.

Speaking of bootlegging and illegal selling, he said that in 1917 there were 1000 open saloons not paying license, that number paying the federal but not the state tax.

Regarding the two and three-fourths per cent., he said that for 100 years the collector of internal revenue had done business on a basis of one-half of one per cent.

As compared with England, Mr. Foregrave stated that drunkenness had decreased 50 per cent. in the United States, as compared with a 60 per cent. increase there.

The speaker also said that of the 11 dry-up institutions in this country, all but two are closed.

He pled for "law and order" and a full attendance at the polls on election day and a "yes" vote on the referendum as to whether the old Bay state will align itself with the federal laws.

Mentions Holland
Glen

It may be of interest to our citizens and especially to those who subscribed to the fund for the purchase and preservation of Holland Glen that this bit of scenery was considered worthy of mention by Frank T. Waugh of M. A. C. in his article on Petticoat Hill in the Outlook for August 23. We quote the paragraph alluded to:

In Belchertown, at the other end of Hampshire County, is another reservation of local scenery equally worthy of mention. This is a deep, rocky, picturesque glen with heavily wooded slopes above and a courageous little stream below. The name commemorates the youth of the author, J. G. Holland, spent in this neighborhood. The land was recently bought by public subscription and is held by the trustees of the Belchertown Historical society.

Warrant for Water District Meeting

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

Hampshire, ss.

To Wilbur F. Nichols, one of the petitioners to the Board of Selectmen requesting the Selectmen to call a meeting to establish the Belchertown Water District, in the Town of Belchertown.

Greeting:—

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are required to notify and warn the inhabitants residing within the territory bounded as follows:—

Beginning at the easterly location line of the Boston and Maine railroad, at a point where said line intersects the southerly line of the land of the estate of P. and E. Butler; thence running easterly and northerly along land of said estate and land of Willis Ballou to the Bay road; thence running easterly on said road to Amherst road; thence running easterly on said road to Allen street; thence running easterly on said street to Pelham road; thence running southerly on said road to the northwesterly corner of land of Mrs. Gildemeister; thence running easterly on the northerly line of said land of Gildemeister to Jabish brook; thence running southerly on said brook to Enfield road; thence running westerly on said road to the intersection of a new road to C. Jensen's mill; thence running southeasterly to Ware road; thence running southerly on said road to the southeast corner of land of J. V. Cook; thence running westerly to the southwest corner of said Cook's land; thence running westerly to the southwest corner of land of E. L. Schmidt; thence running westerly to the Boston and Maine railroad; thence running northerly on said railroad to the point of beginning; qualified to vote in the election of town officers and town officials, to meet at the Town hall in said Belchertown on Tuesday, the twelfth day of September, 1922, at eight o'clock in the evening, at which time the polls will be

Work is progressing on the grain elevator being constructed for Ryther and Warren on the old factory site at the station. This plant being erected by the H. P. Cummings Construction Co. of Ware, will be of modern construction and will be one of the best of its kind in this vicinity.

The building will be of wood and will be 120 by 50. There will be a commodious basement with cement floor where grain will be unloaded from a spur track to be run from the B. and M. line. The first or working floor will be supported by 44 concrete piers, ten feet apart. These piers vary in size, the larger ones being underneath the elevator section. The smallest of these piers are 3½ ft. square at the base and 1 ft. 8 in. square on the top. On these will be placed heavy iron plates which will keep in their proper position the 12 by 12 timbers which will carry the 2 by 12 stringers.

Grain will be unloaded directly from the car into a spiral conveyor which will take it to the main elevator that will carry it aloft where nine bins with a capacity of 12,800 bushels or about 8 cars, will take care of it. By manipulating a special device in the basement the grain can be designated to any given bin. Aside from this main elevator there will be a bag elevator to carry sacked goods from the basement to the main floor.

On the main floor there will be machinery of modern construction, chief among which will be a new Robinson mill driven by two direct drive, 10 horse power electric motors. The plant will be electrically equipped throughout. Besides the motors already mentioned there will be two 5-horse power motors and one 10-horse motor.

In the basement a new mixing machine will be installed, so that balanced rations for stock or poultry can be quickly put together. There will also be an elevator in connection with this machine.

A cracked corn grader has also been purchased so that cracked corn

Redemption of Victory Notes

Postmaster Pratt calls attention to the following notice of interest to holders of Victory notes and others concerned:

1. Call for Partial Redemption of 4% per cent. Victory Notes.— All 4% per cent. Victory notes otherwise known as United States of America gold notes of 1922-1923, which bear the distinguishing letters A, B, C, D, E, or F, prefixed to their serial numbers, having been designated for the purpose by lot in the manner proscribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, are called for redemption on December 15, 1922, pursuant to the provision for redemption contained in the notes and in Treasury Department Circular No. 138, dated April 21, 1919, under which the notes were originally issued. Interest on all the 4% per cent. Victory notes thus called for redemption will cease on said redemption date, December 15, 1922. Victory notes of the 4% per cent. series bearing the distinguishing letters G, H, I, J, K or L, prefixed to their serial numbers, are not in any manner affected by this call for redemption, and will become due and payable as to principal on May 20, 1923, according to their terms.

2. Detailed information as to the presentation and surrender of 4% per cent Victory notes for redemption under this call is given in Treasury Department Circular No. 299, dated July 25, 1922, copies of which may be obtained from the Treasury Department, Division of Loans and Currency, Washington, D. C., or any Federal Reserve Bank.

Secretary of the Treasury

How "Gophers" Are Classified.
The name "gopher," which is applied to quite a variety of creatures in various sections of the American continent, is a corruption of the French
"goufre," meaning a honeycomb. It was applied by the early French settlers to a number of burrowing animals from their habit of honeycomb-ing the earth.

In Canada and Illinois the name is today applied to the gray burrowing squirrel and in Wisconsin to the gray striped squirrel which, in this section, is called a chipmunk. In Missouri a gopher is a brown pouched rat. In Georgia he is a snake, and in Florida he is a turtle. Minnesota is called the Gopher state from the fact that the striped squirrel was formerly found there in great numbers.

How Machine Cuts Mortar.

A special machine, which is intended for cutting out the mortar between bricks, is described with illustration
in a late issue of Popular Mechanics Magazine. It consists of a small wheel which is operated at 3,500 revolutions per minute by a flexible shaft from a one-fourth horsepower electric motor. A case, partly covering the wheel, extends down to form a handle, and a safety guard is provided to protect the operator's hands from flying bits of mortar. Wheels of various thicknesses are supplied so that they may be changed to fit layers of mortar of different width.

How to Solder Aluminum.

To solder aluminum, first make a soldering bit from a piece of 1/8 or 1/4 inches round or square aluminum.
Next, tin the parts to be soldered with a composition of 81 per cent tin, 16 per cent aluminum, and 3 per cent copper.

After the copper has fused, the aluminum should be added little by little, stirring the mixture thoroughly all the time. The tin and a small portion of tallow should be added. Do not overheat the composition.—Popular Science Monthly.

WHY

Minutes and Hours Came to Be Computed at Sixty

"Sixty seconds make a minute, 60 minutes make an hour." You used to say that as often as you did "10 mills make a cent, 10 cents make a dime and 10 dimes make a dollar."

It is believed, in fact, certain learned men have said it has been proved that the scheme of dividing the hour into 60 parts and the minute into 60 parts was invented or devised by the ancient Babylonians long centuries before the Christian era. It is one of the ways of counting time which has gone unchanged during the past 5,000 or 10-000 years.

Along with the decimal system in ancient Babylon there was the sexagesimal system based upon the count by sixties and originating in the discovery that there is no number which has so many divisors as 60, for it can be divided without a remainder by 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 10, 12, 15, 20 and 30.

Babylonians divided the sun's path into 24 parasangs, a parasang being about four and a half miles. The astronomers of that time in Babylon compared the progress of the sun during one hour to the progress that would be made by a good walker in the same length of time, each going about one parasang, or four and one-half miles. Thus the whole course of the sun, so the wise astronomers of Babylon thought, was 24 parasangs or 360 degrees or 24 hours, and each parasang or hour was divided into 60
parts, which we call minutes.

The story is that Hipparchus, the Greek philosopher, who lived a century and a half before Christ, introduced the Babylonian hour into Europe and we have counted the time of day in seconds, minutes and hours ever since.

MATTER OF SELF-PROTECTION

Why Signatures in the Form of a Round "Robin" Were at One Time Advisable.

The most generally accepted belief is that the practice of signing a protest or petition in a circle (now known as a "round robin") originated in France, where, as protests from subordinates were regarded by government officials as little less than mutiny, there was a natural desire to keep the order of signing secret.

The most noted "Round Robin" in the English language is probably one that originated at a dinner in the house of Sir Joshua Reynolds. Among those attending were Edmund Burke, Edward Gibbon and others famous in the world of letters, all of whom were friends or acquaintances of Oliver Goldsmith.

The epitaph written for the poet by Doctor Johnson became a topic of discussion, and various changes were suggested. These, it was agreed, should be submitted for the doctor's consideration. When the question arose as to who should propose them to him it was suggested that a "round robin" was the best means of solving the difficulty. Despite his fiery disposition, Doctor Johnson, it is said, accepted the "robin" in the spirit in which it was intended.

Better Train Connections

ed by Mr. Parsons from J. W. Hanley, General Freight and Passenger Agent, is the best explanation we can give of the expected change. My dear Mr. Parsons,—

Referring to conversation with you yesterday at Belchertown:

I find that Boston and Albany train No. 54, known as the Bostonian, leaving New York 11 a. m., reaches Palmer 2.58 p. m. and the connection is broken with our No. 11 which leaves at 2.50 p. m.

The only connection our No. 11 has to make is at Bellows Falls with the Rutland railroad and I wish to assure you that with the change of time September 24 our No. 11 will be scheduled north of Palmer to connect with the Bostonian which probably will be due there one hour later—the difference between standard and daylight saving time.

I am very grateful to you for bringing this to our notice. Our Travelling Passenger Agent will be instructed to make it known to the Amherst students and also at other points on our line north of Palmer, as, no doubt, there is some New York traffic that would use the service and we might as well have the revenue.

Yours truly, J. W. Hanley

It will also be seen that not only will connections with New York be more convenient, but those who spend the day in Springfield will not have to leave the city as early. Mr. Parsons also points out that the fare from Springfield by way of Palmer is much more reasonable.

of the highest quality can be produced. All the new machinery in the mill is put out by the Munson Mill Machinery Co. of Utica, N. Y., thus assuring most satisfactory equipment.

It will thus be seen that grain will be handled in this new plant in a thoroughly modern way, thus reducing expense in handling, and making for a larger business which has already developed to a considerable extent under the progressive management of the owners, Ryther and Warren.

Probably the construction of the building will take about three months.

Accepts Water Act

The citizens of Belchertown residing within the water district as described in Chap. 505 of the Acts of 1922, met at the town hall Tuesday evening and voted to accept the act recently passed by the legislature providing for the formation of a district, election of officers, etc.

The meeting was called to order by Wilbur F. Nichols, who was chosen moderator of the evening. Wm. E. Shaw was elected clerk.

The motion to accept was not debated and was carried by a vote of 73 to 0. After nominations from the floor, the polls were declared open for the casting of ballots for the various officers. The following were elected:

Table listing elected officers: District Clerk William E. Shaw, District Treasurer Courtland G. Bartlett, Water Commissioner 3 yrs. E. C. Witt, Water Commissioner 2 yrs. Mrs. R. G. Shaw, Water Commissioner 1 yr. H. B. Ketchen

There was no contest on any of the ballots except the last. Here A. F. Bardwell, who was also nominated, received twenty-seven votes to the winner's twenty-eight.

The meeting, however, was marked by a unanimity of desire to set things in motion for the procuring of water. The commissioners were empowered to hire an engineer to estimate the cost of laying pipes and equipping the necessary system. The opinion was expressed at the meeting that plans in the possession of Mr. Tighe, the engineer employed by the town when the Chambray brook proposition was up, would be gladly turned over by him.

When a definite proposition has been laid out, the same will be presented to Dr. Kline of the State school for his approval.

As matters look now, it seems necessary that a standpipe be erected in order to secure the proper pressure at the hydrants and at the houses on the hill, and possibly a pump will have to be installed.

touch with the situation that with revenue for school and fire purposes, which undoubtedly the town will vote, and a goodly number of water takers, the system will soon be on a self-supporting basis.

Use of Soft Coal

The selectmen have received the following memorandum relative to the use of soft coal, which we pass on to our readers. The local dealers hope to carry their customers over with anthracite, but this bulletin indicates that soft coal mixed with a little hard sense would not be so bad.

The main difference between the burning of anthracite or hard coal and the burning of bituminous or soft coal consists in using the proper amount of air, and bituminous coal requires a stronger chimney draft than anthracite.

Last winter several successful household experiments were made with a mixture of bituminous and anthracite coal in the present heating apparatuses. By "successful" is meant that heat and comfort were obtained and money saved without change being made in grate-bars or fire-pots.

There should be no smoke nuisance in burning a mixture of anthracite and bituminous coal. Smoke is caused by the incomplete burning of the volatile or gaseous matter in coal. The "Bunsen Burner Principle", that is, a mixture of the proper amount of air with the gas given off by the coal when heated practically eliminates smoke and soot. The amount of air necessary varies with the kind of coal. The low volatile bituminous contains only two or three times as much gaseous matter as anthracite.

For a trial in the furnace or heater no change is necessary in grate-bars or fire-pots, and the following proportion is suggested:

2 shovelfuls of domestic anthracite to 2 shovelfuls of bituminous, which should be put on the fire after the blue or gas flames are coming up through the anthracite coal. After a week's experiment it will

Making Good

A July issue of the Kissimmee Valley Gazette, Florida, tells of how a Belchertown boy, C. F.
Thrasher, is making good in the sunny south. It records the awarding of a contract for covering the court house roof, 66 squares, with a special preservative material, and closes with the following comment.

"Incidentally it might be said that C. F. Thrasher stands remarkably high in the estimation of the commissioners. The contract was not authorized for this roofing material unless it was endorsed by Thrasher—and every mention of the man was highly eulogistic. Apparently he is one of the few men against whom no one has a complaint."

Better Tillage and Less Work In Fruit Growing

BETTER crops of fruit are now assured because more thorough tillage is possible now that Fordson power is available to orchardists by the use of the special OLIVER ORCHARD GANG. And now that one man can do far more work, the Fordson brings about reduced expenses.

At the same time the OLIVER CHILLED PLOW WORKS perfected the No. 7 Plow it also developed a special orchard plow of similar design.

By reducing the number of parts in this plow and making them of light, heat-treated steel, the weight is greatly reduced and this, together with other improvements, makes it extremely light-running. It has three bottoms, one of which may be removed for work in an open field.

Trees or vines hanging as low as 26 inches from the ground will not be torn because there are no levers to interfere. The bottoms are raised by a simple power-lift operated by a short trip-rope.

Danger of barking trees is removed by placing the land wheel within the cut of the rear bottom. This, together with an adjustable hitch, permits cultivating close to the trees on either side.

Old Home Day at Pelham

There were something like 400
who gathered on top of Pelham Hill for the 5th Old Home celebration on Saturday, the 16th. The sports in the morning consisted of races, etc.

Dinner was served in the new dining hall which has been finished on the first floor of the old town hall. The Columbia band of Thorndike provided music for the people who found themselves obliged to wait while first, second and even the third table were being served.

After dinner there was a short entertainment in the town hall.
The business meeting was held in the church. A constitution was adopted. The same officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. Charles Sauter
of Northampton; 1st. vice-pres., E. P. Bartlett of Pelham; 2nd vice-pres., Mrs. Ernest Cook of Pelham; treasurer, Mrs. Grace Kimball of Amherst; secretary, Miss Alice Collis of Pelham.

Standard Time Again

Lest some forget, it is well to be reminded that Standard time comes to its own early Sunday morning.

The Federated church will resume the winter schedule, with the young people's meeting at 5.45 p. m.
and the evening service at 7 o'clock.
The Thursday evening prayer meeting will be at 7.30 o'clock.

a large farm in Dwight, is having constructed a large cold storage plant, 40 X 100. H. D. Hoag has the contract for the wood work and Baggs the cement foundation.
A large force of men is at work on the job. H. D. Hoag is also constructing Couture's bungalow on Cottage St.

Home Burns

William Belding lost his house by fire early Wednesday morning.
Mr. Belding was at Mr. Hebert's, milking, when a niece, Mrs. S. A.
Collins, and children came down stairs and discovered the kitchen all in flames. The occupants escaped with only what clothing they had on, everything in the house, including a number of valuables, being destroyed.

An alarm was rung in, but the fire was too far advanced for the fire department to render any service. The barn and hen house, fairly near by, were not damaged.
The fire is of unknown origin.

whole day off to walk along some country road, or to climb some mountain, or to follow some rippling stream. Dense forests, the lakes nestled in wooded basins,
the sloping hillsides of waving grain, captivate man. He who does not glow as he walks through a flower garden or thrill as he views Niagara Falls or Yellowstone Park or the Grand Canyon is to be pitied.

Man loves the beauty of woman.
Yes, we are not ashamed to say it, physical beauty. A normal man is attracted to a beautiful woman even as a normal woman is attract-

Scout Activities

The Girl Scouts of the Pine Cone troop are organizing into patrols and have elected the following patrol leaders: Patrol I Dorothy Pee-
so; Patrol II Jean Warren; Patrol III, Edna Howard; Patrol IV Nannie Howard. Georgia Chapman has been elected secretary.

The W. R. C. has loaned the Scouts one of their silk flags. This kindness is greatly appreciated by the Scouts, who use the flag at the opening exercises of every meeting.

Regular meetings are held weekly at the Scout rooms. The day has been changed from Wednesday to Tuesday afternoon directly after school.

Besides the regular weekly meeting for work, it is planned to have some sort of a good time one Saturday a month. The September good time was spent at Lake Metacomet. The hike down included some nature study which was continued on a walk about the lake.

Through the kindness of Mr. Dunbar the Scouts enjoyed a ride home.
Scout activities the past week
have included picking up papers scattered about the common, also gathering flowers and decorating the church for the Sunday services.

Patrols III and IV have their full quota. Some in patrols I and II are undecided about remaining in Scout work. In case any vacancies occur it will make possible the admittance of others who have asked to join the troop.

Dies in Springfield

Miss Florence Johnson, who taught here and later in Enfield, Mass., and Bristol, Conn., died this week in a Springfield hospital.
She will be buried in Nova Scotia.

Beauty

Man loves the beautiful. The ugly has never fascinated him. Man is instinctively drawn to the lovely.
Man loves the beauty of nature.
It is not to be wondered at that men have worshipped nature, and made Nature their God. No one has to explain why he enjoys taking a

ed to a man of strength. God made her beautiful. And it is woman's duty as well as her privilege to be as pretty as possible.

Man loves the beauty of language. We soon tire of the language of the street. Coarse, vulgar speech is repellent to us. Slang has no permanent attraction. Ian MacLaren says: "Splendid words occurring from time to time in our discourses are like embroidery of gold upon the hessian gray." Truth lays deeper hold upon us if it is clothed in a beautiful garb. There is a charm about poetry we do not find in prose. For the poet is more apt to be more careful about the form in which he dresses his thoughts.

Man loves the beauty of music. Harmony and rhythm charm his soul. Yelling and straining and bawling have nothing in them to attract.

Man loves beauty everywhere, beauty of architecture beauty of painting, beauty of workmanship, beauty of worship. Man loves most of all beauty of character. A beautiful character will win out in business, in politics, in school, anywhere. There is an irresistible drawing power in a life of inward beauty.

Making 20 Years of Racing Serve Car Owners Today

IN the early days of automobile contests, Barney Oldfield—out to win every race—studied tires. His consistent success led other drivers to ask for tires constructed to his specifications.

Twenty years of road and track victories—with a steady and increasing demand for tires as he built them—convinced Barney Oldfield that these speed tests pointed the way to a better tire for everyday use.

The enthusiastic reception of Oldfield Cords by the public proved he was right. Scores of the most prominent dealers in the country—and many thousands of car owners, experienced in the use of tires—bear witness by their decided preference that Oldfield is doing a bigger and better job of tire making.

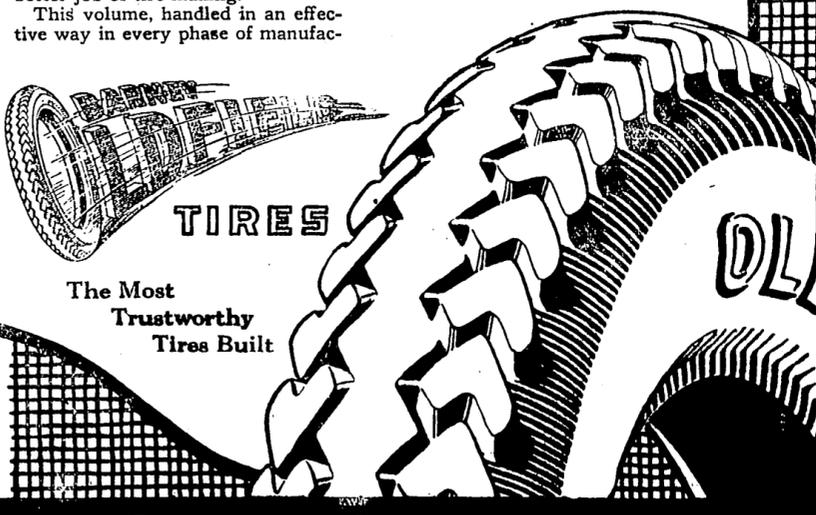

This volume, handled in an effective way in every phase of manufacture and distribution, has resulted in price quotations far below what you'd expect on tires known to be better built and more enduring.

Practically every important race event for three years has been won on Oldfields. The Wichita Test Run in which an entire set of Oldfield Cords covered 34,525 miles on rough roads proves the mettle of the Most Trustworthy Tires Built in everyday driving.

The Master Driver and Tire Builder has given the public a new standard of tire wear and tire cost—a true economy that every car owner should know about.

Your Oldfield dealer has these facts—talk to him.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

Hampshire, ss.

September 20, A. D. 1922.

By virtue of an execution which issued upon a judgment in favor of Peter Chaquette of Northampton in the County of Hampshire recovered against Frank E. Austin and Charles F. Austin, both of Belchertown, at the Superior Court of Hampshire on the first Monday of August A. D. to wit: on the seventh day of said month. I have taken all the right in equity which the said Frank E. Austin had on the 11th day of January A. D. 1922 when the same was attached on mesne process of redeeming the following described mortgaged real estate lying in said Belchertown and Enfield, Massachusetts, bounded and described in mortgage deeds of said Frank E. Austin to Holyoke National Bank and recorded in Hampshire County Registry of Deeds Book 774 Pages 123 and 137, as follows:

1. A certain parcel of land situated in the easterly part of said Belchertown, bounded and described as follows: Being the same premises conveyed to Addison Burnett from Harrison Root in a deed dated April 28, 1864 and recorded in Hampshire County Registry of Deeds, book 220, page 171; and from Alanson L. Blackmer in a deed dated December —, 1880, and recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 359, page 388; meaning to convey all the land left Bathie S. Stebbins by will from said Addison Burnett at the corner of Enfield and Dwight road, so called, containing sixty-one —61— acres, more or less; being the same premises conveyed to me by deed of said Bathie S. Stebbins dated September 9, 1912, and recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 683 page 244. 2. Certain parcels of land situated in said Belchertown, with buildings thereon. For a more definite description of said parcels reference is hereby made to a deed from Wyatt Barlow to Ira F. Barlow, recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 130, page 181; also to deed from Henry W. Barlow to Ira F. Barlow, recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 130, page 183; also one and one-fourth (1 1/4) acres lying contingent to home lot of Charles Austin and described in deed recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 146, page 219.

3. A parcel of land situated in said Enfield, containing fifteen acres, more or less, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a white oak tree marked on the line of J. J. Howe land; thence North 21 rods and 5 links to a stake and stones; thence North 9 degrees 30 minutes East twenty-one —21— rods and seven —7— links to a stone wall on line of J. J. Howe land; thence westerly on the line of said Howe's land to the line dividing the towns of Enfield and Belchertown; thence South on said town line fifty-four —54— rods to a stake and stones at the northwest corner of land formerly owned by Henry M. Woods; thence Easterly to the first mentioned corner. Parcels 2 and 3 above described are the same premises conveyed to me by Charles Austin by deed dated March 1, 1907 and recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 616, page 161. 4. A certain tract of land situated in said Enfield, described as follows:

Beginning at the corner of land formerly owned by Daniel Trask on upper side of highway leading from Belchertown to Enfield; thence running Northerly on the line of said

Trask's land about eighty (80) rods to a stake and stones; thence Westerly on land formerly owned by the Minot Company (Enfield) to William Gilbert's land about fifty (50) rods to a stake and stones; thence Southerly on said Gilbert's land about sixty-five (65) rods to highway leading to Amherst; thence on said road easterly to the first mentioned bound. For a more definite description, see book 87, page 224. 5. A certain tract of land situated in said Enfield, described as follows: Beginning at a stake and stones in the southeast corner of the lot in the westerly line of land formerly owned by Daniel T. Trask; running thence Northerly thirty (30) rods and four (4) links bounding on said Trask's land; thence West 4 1/2 degrees south fifty (50) rods to stake and stones on William S. Gilbert's east line; thence South on said Gilbert's land thirty-four (34) rods and one and one-half (1 1/2) links to a stake and stones; thence East 9 degrees north to the first mentioned bound; containing seventy (70) acres, more or less. For more definite description see book 87, page 195, in said Registry of Deeds. Parcels 4 and 5 above described are the same premises conveyed to me by Rebecca Crosby Davis et al. by deed dated January 27, 1908 and recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 626, page 341. 6. A certain tract of land situated in said Belchertown, bounded and described as follows: Beginning near a corner of James Hanks' land; on the west side of Great Hill road, so called; thence Southerly across said road to lands of Josiah B. Woods and on said Woods' land to a stake and stones; thence Easterly on lands of Zenas Woods to a stake and stones, near a large chestnut tree; thence Northerly to a stake and stones near the corner of James Hanks' pasture; thence Westerly on lands of said James Hanks to the first mentioned bounds; containing forty-five acres, more or less; being the same premises described in deed-Barlow-Wyatt to Henry W. Barlow dated November 22, 1847, and recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 121, page 204. Above described tracts are subject to mortgage to Holyoke National Bank, recorded in Book 774, page 123, Hampshire County Registry of Deeds.

Also a certain tract of land with the buildings thereon, situated in the village of Enfield, in said County of Hampshire and bounded as follows, to wit: Northerly on land owned by Amos Hunter Estate; Easterly on land now or formerly of John E. Rohan known as the Powers Place; Southerly on the Highway leading from Enfield to Greenwich; and Westerly by the church Burying Ground, being the same premises conveyed to me by deed of John E. Rohan dated May 4, 1911 and recorded with the Hampshire County Registry of Deeds, Book 667, Page 251. Said tract subject to mortgage to Holyoke National Bank recorded in Book 774, Page 137, Hampshire County Registry of Deeds. Together with all the right, title and interest, which the said Frank E. Austin and Charles F. Austin or either of them had on the 11th day of January 1922, in and to any real estate, located in said Hampshire County. Said premises will be sold subject to said mortgages above described and any other valid incumbrances prior to the attachment aforesaid.

And on the twenty first day of October A. D. 1922 at eleven o'clock in the forenoon at the front steps of the Court House in said Northampton, I shall offer for sale to the highest bidder at public auction the aforesaid rights in said real estate aforesaid to satisfy said execution and all fees and charges of sale.

BIRD'S ROOFS

For the Man Who Pays
the Bill

THERE'S one real showdown in roofing, and that is—cost-per-year-of-service.

You don't have to buy roofing on gamble or guess. There are many examples of Paroid Roofs in this neighborhood that have stood the test of weather for more than 20 years without a single repair. What Paroid has done for others, it will do for you.

Measured by the yardstick of Years-of-Service, the true test, Paroid is the cheapest roofing you can buy.

We know whereof we speak. Take the guess out of buying roofing. Come in and get the proof

Ladies Social Union Notes

A pleasant time was enjoyed at the thimble party at the home of Mrs. E. C. Witt on Wednesday afternoon. Eleven members and nine guests were present.

We will hold a business meeting at the home of Mrs. M. A. Morse next Wednesday afternoon. A large attendance is desired as this is the last meeting of the society before the sale on Cattle Show day.

The work committee request that all work given out by them for the sale, and everything that has been promised in the line of jelly, jam, etc., be brought in at that time.

To Have Sale Fair Day

The Ladies' Social Union will hold a sale of aprons and domestic articles, jellies, jams and preserves, in the vestibule of the Methodist church on Cattle Show day. Sale opens at nine o'clock. The ladies have been working all the year on articles for this sale and hope to realize a goodly sum for their treasury.

"Come to Church" Sunday

Next Sunday will be observed as "Come to Church" Sunday at the Federated church.

Not that things have reached such a pass that all effort is concentrated on getting people out to church one Sunday in a year, but to intensify a normal desire is the reason for the occurrence. In fact, those looking for anything spectacular about the service may be disappointed.

It is hoped that the genuine worth of the service as usually held will be so attractive that any who have forgotten the real helpfulness of a church service will resolve to come more of the other 51 Sundays.

But to be present next Sunday when everyone is making more or less of an effort to be out, should make the day one to be remembered.

Leaflets have been distributed giving nine reasons by Theodore Roosevelt for attending church.

Fair Premium List Changes

The Belchertown Farmers' and Mechanics' Club are making out their premium lists for the Fair, Oct. 12. While most of the premiums remain the same, radical changes have been made in a few departments.

The prizes for draft horses have been more than doubled. The two classes, 2800 lbs. and over, and under 2800 lbs., are both subject to awards of $10, 8, 6, 4, 2, instead of $4, 3, 2, as last year. This new offering should awaken a little more interest in this department.

In the parade, automobile prizes will be $10, 8, 6, 4, 2. Auto trucks come in for $10, 6, 4.

For the "best appointed double team (horses to count 60 per cent.; wagon, 25 per cent.; harness and equipment, 15 per cent.) prizes are offered of $8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2."

Another new feature is the offering of $5, 3, 2, 1, for the most comic make-up."

The parade judges are Dr. McPherson, Perry Dunham of Ware and Thornton Clark of Granby.

SOME OLD FAIR RECORDS

Belchertown, Sept. 1st, 1857 The meeting was called to order by the secretary, E. Bridgman was chosen chairman. On motion of C. L. Washburn a committee of three was appointed by the chair to confer with Maj. Longley and prevail upon him not to withdraw from the presidency. Committee, W. Bridgman, Dr. H. Thomson, C. L. Washburn. By motion of Dr. H. Thomson it was voted that we have a cattle show and fair this fall. On motion of W. Bridgman the following committee were appointed to solicit funds for the association, Wm. C. Bennett, L. W. Hannum, H. M. French, Mar'in Sedgwick. It was voted to amend Art. 1 of the by-laws so that it read six instead of five directors. On motion of Wm. Burnett, Martin Sedgwick was added to the board of directors. It was voted to adjourn two weeks to Sept. 15, 7 o'clock p. m. S. W. Goddard, Sec'y

The above, appears from records, to be of the 2nd cattle show and fair of the B. F. & M. Club. The first was held in 1856, some time in Oct. —record not very clear—a rallying committee was appointed Oct. 17, 1856, as follows, John Thurston, Dr. Geo. Thomson, Enoch Burnett, Wm. W. Cowles. E. R. Bridgman resigned the chief marshmanship and —continued on page 4—

To Award Certificates

The Massachusetts Board of Free Public Library Commissioners offer a certificate to any child in grade 3 to 8-inclusive who reads and reports on five books from a list selected by the Commission. This list can be found at the library.

A child who has read five books before Thanksgiving must be able to write the titles of the books and their authors, also the important characters and to tell what he likes best in each book. This writing must be done at the library.

Northampton Fair
Attractions

The Three County Fair will be held at Northampton on next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 3, 4 and 5. This year's fair will from all present indications be one of the best in recent years. The last two days will be the biggest days with racing on both afternoons. Charlie Rex, the horse holding the race record on a half-mile track, will race against time on Wednesday to try to lower the record of the Northampton track, which is 2:11. On Thursday he will start with the fast class pacers. Many other well known and fast horses have been entered. An exhibition of saddle horses from the stables of Judge C. W.

Bosworth of Springfield will be shown in front of the stand each afternoon as will a number of jumpers from the barns of Henry M. Clark, Jr., also of Springfield. On Thursday morning a Firemen's muster hose race will be held in front of the stand. Many local companies are planning to compete. At night the vaudeville will perform, the band will play and arrangements have been made at the stand for a Radio Concert. Everything is free at the evening fair. The cattle, poultry, fruit and vegetables and other agricultural exhibits will be as good as they have been in past seasons. This is assured by the number of entry blanks that have been received.

Town Items

Beginning October first the library will be open on winter schedule, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons from 2.15 to 4.45 and Saturday evening from 6.30 to 8.30.

C. E. Snow and family of Holden were guests in the home of E. A. Randall over the week-end.

Mrs. Thrasher of Amherst was in town last Sunday in the interest of the referendum in regard to making the state laws about prohibition coincide with the federal laws.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Congregational church will meet with Mrs. M. D. S. Longley next Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The silver cup won by the boys' and girls' clubs at the Northampton fair last year, is on display at Hazen's store. In order to be kept permanently it has to be won two successive years.

How Much for Libraries?

A dollar per capita is the American Library association's estimate of a reasonable annual minimum revenue for a modern public library, according to the survey. This sum, in the average community, would cover the salaries of trained librarians, a main library with reading room and branch libraries and reading rooms within easy reach of all the people, assuming a registration of at least 30 per cent of the population as card holders and allowing for home use about five volumes each. In most large cities other endowed or private specialized libraries are available for students; where this is not the case the budget allowance of the public library for expensive books must be much higher than is included in the estimate given. Nor does this include extension work for children, or for foreign speaking, official business or other social groups within the population.

How Day Came to Be Divided.

The division of the day into hours appears to have originated with the Babylonian magician-priests thousands of years before the Christian era. They devised the zodiac or belt encircling the heavens and divided it into 12 parts corresponding to the 12 constellations. They divided the year into months, the day and the night into 12 hours each, the hour into 60 minutes and the minute into 60 seconds. These priests were the world's greatest astronomers as well as astrologers, and their calendar was unchanged until the time of Julius Caesar. All civilized nations use this system of dividing the day.

Austin, both of Belchertown, at the Superior Court of Hampshire on the first Monday of August A. D. to wit: on the seventh day of said month. I have taken all the right in equity which the said Frank E. Austin had on the 11th day of January A. D. 1922 when the same was attached on mesne process of redeeming the following described mortgaged real estate lying in said Belchertown and Enfield, Massachusetts, bounded and described in mortgage deeds of said Frank E. Austin to Holyoke National Bank and recorded in Hampshire County Registry of Deeds Book 774 Pages 123 and 137, as follows:

1. A certain parcel of land situated in the easterly part of said Belchertown, bounded and described as follows: Being the same premises conveyed to Addison Burnett from Harrison Root in a deed dated April 28, 1864 and recorded in Hampshire County Registry of Deeds, book 220, page 171; and from Alanson L. Blackmer in a deed dated December —, 1880, and recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 359, page 388; meaning to convey all the land left Bathie S. Stebbins by will from said Addison Burnett at the corner of Enfield and Dwight road, so called, containing sixty-one —61— acres, more or less; being the same premises conveyed to me by deed of said Bathie S. Stebbins dated September 9, 1912, and recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 683 page 244. 2. Certain parcels of land situated in said Belchertown, with buildings thereon. For a more definite description of said parcels reference is hereby made to a deed from Wyatt Barlow to Ira F. Sportsmen

The Metacomet Fox, Rod and Gun club, now rounding out its first year of existence, has to its credit the placing of upwards 20,000 trout fry and fingerlings in our local streams, 5,000 pike perch in our ponds, nearly 60 pheasant liberated in our covers, and the promise of white hares to stock our forests. This immense output has been possible because, banded as a club, recognition has been given where individual effort would have failed.

We are pleased to receive new members. We cannot be a live club and have many dead members, we are too small a club for that. It is your club, fellow sportsmen, yours to promote and foster, yours to support by attending its regular meetings. While these have been lightly attended lately, it is hoped that fall hunting will stimulate interest and that the annual meeting next Monday night will find many members present. We have a good start; we ought not to let the club fall for lack of personal support. Fall and winter sport is coming on. Start right. Get in line! Attend the annual meeting.

The Referendums

A number of referendums will appear on the ballot at the coming election. Generally speaking the public does not take any too much interest in these questions, although they are usually of considerable importance. Many do not vote at all. And those who do are apt to vote in the affirmative, thinking that something is in sight whereby the ills of humanity will be rectified.

A little more discussion, therefore, of some of the issues, might be beneficial. To that end we would be glad if some of our citizens would indulge themselves in expressing their opinions, so that the situation might be clarified for any who may have little knowledge of the facts. As the spirit moves, we may set down some of our own opinions.

America's Moral Duty

We believe that America entered the World War with no selfish end in view, although there are a few who still contend that she did not enter till her own safety began to be in danger. If we wish to prove to the world that our chief interest is in humanity and that we have no selfish ends to serve, now is the time for us to act in the Near East Crisis. It is the hour we should act as one man in resisting the Turk to the limit of our ability.

However we may have felt toward the Turk in the past, his true character is now clearly evident to all. It is impossible to paint his gull black enough and dark enough. It is painfully clear that he has designs for power and territory, and is unscrupulous in the attainment of the same. No pledges are considered binding, no methods are considered too treacherous to secure the ends. After what the Turk has done in the murder and destruction in Smyrna, he who has been in the habit of apologizing for him is compelled to be silent. The ravages of the Turk are astounding and unbelievable. The last vestige of decency has been torn into shreds.

Dr. James L. Barton and Dr. Cornelius H. Patton, two men who are better qualified to speak on the present situation in the Near East than almost any other men one could name, are agreed in saying that the only nation which came out of the World War victorious was the Turk. She is regaining gradually the territory she lost and has been growing to such power that she seems in a position to defy the mandates of Europe.

Dr. Barton believes that if "the United States would join with England, France and Italy in an ultimatum to Mustapha Kemal, that any attempt upon his part to cross the international boundary set for Constantinople and the straits would be met by the swift and united resistance of the four powers, the crisis would end at once."

If America should do this, not even a Turk could rightly charge America with any territorial or political designs. The whole world would realize that this step was purely for humanitarian reasons. America failed to be a mandate for Armenia; let her now not fail to resist the Turk who is threatening the civilization of the world.

Where Extra Service is Demanded Firestone Cords Predominate

WHEREVER the excursions and tests of tires are most severe—there you will find Firestone Cords in universal use.

The hard jobs seek Firestone. And so well has Firestone responded under difficult conditions—so consistently has mileage mounted to totals impossible to obtain from ordinary tires that today Most Miles per Dollar is the buying slogan of thinking motorists everywhere.

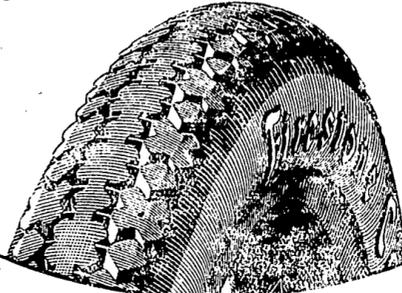

The blending and tempering of rubber, gum-dipped cord construction, air-bag cure—all these mileage methods have been developed by men whose life work is the production of constantly increasing tire values for the public.

Users in this vicinity verify Firestone reputation, and report almost daily some new Firestone record of extra distance travelled.

Don't be satisfied to buy tires—buy values—the longest mileage at the lowest price consistent with such reliable performance.

Make Most Miles per Dollar your principle of tire economy—choose your next tire on that basis.

Barlow, recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 130, page 181; also to deed from Henry W. Barlow to Ira F. Barlow, recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 130, page 183; also one and one-fourth (1 1/4) acres lying contiguous to home lot of Charles Austin and described in deed recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 146, page 219.

3. A parcel of land situated in said Enfield, containing fifteen acres, more or less, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a white oak tree marked on the line of J. J. Howe land; thence North 21 rods and 5 links to a stake and stones; thence North 9 degrees 30 minutes East twenty-one —21— rods and seven —7— links to a stone wall on line of J. J. Howe land; thence westerly on the line of said Howe's land to the line dividing the towns of Enfield and Belchertown; thence South on said town line fifty-four —54— rods to a stake and stones at the northwest corner of land formerly owned by Henry M. Woods; thence Easterly to the first mentioned corner. Parcels 2 and 3 above described are the same premises conveyed to me by Charles Austin by deed dated March 1, 1907 and recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 613, page 161. 4. A certain tract of land situated in said Enfield, described as follows: Beginning at the corner of land formerly owned by Daniel Trask on upper side of highway leading from Belchertown to Enfield; thence running Northerly on the line of said

Trask's land about eighty (80) rods to a stake and stones; thence Westerly on land formerly owned by the Minot Company (Enfield) to William Gilbert's land about fifty (50) rods to a stake and stones; thence Southerly on said Gilbert's land about sixty-five (65) rods to highway leading to Amherst; thence on said road easterly to the first mentioned bound. For a more definite description, see book 87, page 224. 5. A certain tract of land situated in said Enfield, described as follows: Beginning at a stake and stones in the southeast corner of the lot in the westerly line of land formerly owned by Daniel T. Trask; running thence Northerly thirty (30) rods and four (4) links bounding on said Trask's land; thence West 4 1/2 degrees south fifty (50) rods to stake and stones on William S. Gilbert's east line; thence South on said Gilbert's land thirty-four (34) rods and one and one-half (1 1/2) links to a stake and stones; thence East 9 degrees north to the first mentioned bound; containing seventy (70) acres, more or less. For more definite description see book 87, page 195, in said Registry of Deeds. Parcels 4 and 5 above described are the same premises conveyed to me by Rebecca Crosby Davis et al. by deed dated January 27, 1908 and recorded in said Registry of Deeds' book 626, page 341. 6. A certain tract of land situated in said Belchertown, bounded and described as follows: Beginning near a corner of James Hanks' land; on the west side of Great Hill road, so called; thence Southerly across said road to lands of Josiah B. Woods and on said Woods' land to a stake and stones; thence Easterly on lands of Zenas Woods to a stake and stones, near a large chestnut tree; thence Northerly to a stake and stones near the corner of James Hanks' pasture; thence Westerly on lands of said James Hanks to the first mentioned bounds; containing forty-five acres, more or less; being the same premises described in deed-Barlow-Wyatt to Henry W. Barlow dated November 22, 1847, and recorded in said Registry of Deeds, book 121, page 204. Above described tracts are subject to mortgage to Holyoke National Bank, recorded in Book 774, page 123, Hampshire County Registry of Deeds. Also a certain tract of land with the buildings thereon, situated in the village of Enfield, in said County of Hampshire and bounded as follows, to wit: Northerly on land owned by Amos Hunter Estate; Easterly on land now or formerly of John E. Rohan known as the Powers Place; Southerly on the Highway leading from Enfield to Greenwich; and Westerly by the church Burying Ground, being the same premises conveyed to me by deed of John E. Rohan dated May 4, 1911 and recorded with the Hampshire County Registry of Deeds, Book 667, Page 251. Said tract subject to mortgage to Holyoke National Bank recorded in Book 774, Page 137, Hampshire County Registry of Deeds. Together with all the right, title and interest which the said Frank E. Austin and Charles F. Austin or either of them had on the 11th day of January 1922, in and to any real estate located in said Hampshire County. Said premises will be sold subject to said mortgages above described and any other valid incumbrances prior to the attachment aforesaid. And on the twenty-first day of October A. D. 1922 at eleven o'clock in the forenoon at the front steps of the Court House in said Northampton, I shall offer for sale to the highest bidder at public auction the aforesaid rights in said real estate aforesaid to satisfy said execution and all fees and charges of sale.

Notice to Property Owners

You are hereby required on or before December 1, 1922, to destroy the gypsy and brown-tail moths on your property in this town.

This notification is in accordance with Chapter 381, Acts of 1905, as amended by Chapter 268, Acts of 1906, which requires cities and towns to destroy the eggs, caterpillars, pupae and nests of the gypsy and brown-tail moths, under heavy penalty for failure to comply with the provisions of the law.

If a property owner fails to destroy such eggs, caterpillars, pupae and nests, then the city or town is required to destroy the same, and the cost of the work, in whole or in part, according to the value of the land, is assessed upon and becomes a lien on the land.

The Selectmen ask owners and tenants to co-operate with the town in its work on highways and other public grounds by doing effective work on their premises. Citizens who have cleaned their premises of the moths but find their trees endangered by the neglect of owners of adjoining estates, should make complaint to the Selectmen. The infestation of a residential neighborhood by the neglect of a few will not be tolerated.

The eggs of the gypsy moths should be destroyed at once with creosote. They should never be scraped off the object on which they are laid. Careful search should be made for gypsy moth egg clusters, not only on trees, but also on house walls, stone walls, fences and in rubbish heaps, etc. (Trees in which cavities occur and which it is not desirable to cut should have the cavities tinned or cemented. This is important.) The present and future cost of combating this insect can be greatly reduced by cutting and burning worthless brush, hollow trees, etc. A few trees well cared for are more valuable to the property owner and the community than a large number of neglected trees.

The nests of the brown-tail moths should be cut off the trees, carefully collected and burned in a stove or furnace.

Full instructions as to the best methods of work against the moths may be obtained from the local Superintendent, or from the State Forester, Room 1009, 6 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.

Work done by contractors should be inspected and approved by the local Superintendent before payment for the same is made.

Per order Selectmen
October 1, 1922.

B. H. S. Field Day a Great Success

When Berkley Wood '26, consumed the last bit of lower crust in one gulp and triumphantly raised a face besmeared with lemon filling and meringue dressing to the applauding crowd, the first High School Field Day in many years, held on the Common October 6th, was decided a 61-61 draw, with the Seniors and Freshmen sharing the honors. The Pie Eat was the last event on the long program, and when it started, the Seniors led by five points. Four soft pies were placed on a settee, and the contestants forced to kneel with hands tied behind them, and eat the pastry as best, and as fast, as they could. Wood's ability to hold his breath longest was the big factor in his success.

The Field Day proved a welcome diversion to the High School, and was the first thing of the kind held here since 1913. The transportation trucks were delayed until the affair was over, and the entire afternoon given over to nineteen events, of jumping, running, strength and skill. Both boys and girls had their own events.

The Seniors and Freshmen saw-sawed the lead all the afternoon. The yearling girls were a very strong factor in the class showing, gathering more than half the points. The spirit of this class, encouraged by Miss Richardson, their advisor, was very commendable. The Seniors were forced to depend chiefly on male skill. Third place in the meet went to the Juniors, with 37 points.

Allen '23 was the individual star, gaining twenty-five points in first places, in addition to one third. Charlotte Snow and Irene Howard were foremost among the girls. All classes showed intense interest in the events, and the field day

The Fair

The 65th annual cattle show and fair on Thursday was much the same as those that have preceded it in recent years. Thousands of people, who come to Belchertown on other day, were present as usual. The midway with its record breaking number of attractions was where the jam was thickest.

As far as the fair out of doors was concerned, the most interest was in draft horses. Here there was a battle royal. In the class over 2600 lbs., five teams were entered, all receiving prizes as follows: E. F. Shumway, 1st; W. A. Sauer, 2nd; Frank Lemon, 3rd; Clinton Hamilton, 4th; Frank Lemon, 5th. In the class under 2600 lbs. Lincoln Cook was the only entry and was awarded 1st prize.

The parade did not bring forth the expected competition. The management thought that placing the emphasis on automobiles, trucks and horses would awaken interest in a new quarter, but it failed to materialize, so the parade was not quite up to its predecessors. No prizes were offered for floats, so that this original part of the program was missing. The auto truck which carried the Blue Meadow canning club, was the nearest approach to what is usually put on.

The parade was in the following order: Marshal Flaherty; Nannie Howard and Margaret McPherson on ponies; Walter Dodge, Frances Sauer and Ruth Gildemeister, mounted; Columbia band of Thorndike; pair of oxen driven by Fred Underwood; another pair by E. R. Peeso; pair of steers by Peter Adzima; comical make-up of one-horse turnout of the olden days—Spencer and Peeso inside and B. Shaw on top; Blue Meadow canning club truck; Lincoln Cook with two-horse hitch on dump cart; W. A. Sauer with two-horse hitch on decorated wagon; decorated auto driven by John Pranzitis; another driven by William Bardwell of Grandy. The canning club turn-out and the Bardwell auto were the most attractive features of the parade.

There was a larger exhibit of poultry and ducks than is sometimes the case. The tables pro-

Social Union Fair

The Ladies' Social Union held a successful sale in the vestibule of the Methodist church on Thursday. They cleared $73.85. The committee are very much encouraged by their success and are going to work at once to make articles for the Christmas trade, which will be on sale at Mrs. Elmer Peeso's.

63 aprons which were displayed in the morning dwindled down to a very small number early in the day, and practically everything was sold before night.

Besides aprons and fancy articles, candy, fruit and jelly, dolls and dolls' aprons, laundry bags and stuffed cats were among the collection.

Mrs. George Davis, the publicity agent, had a fine display of posters which attracted much attention and evidently sold the goods.

Auto Accident

Herbert Blackmer had the misfortune to break one of his legs Thursday evening when returning from Amherst with a car driven by Walter Dodge. Hearing no whistle, they started to cross the track at Dwight, but with the sudden appearance of a train, they veered the car sharply to one side to avoid collision. By so doing they overturned the machine. Dodge landed on a rail with considerable force while Blackmer was pinned beneath the car. It was found that his leg was broken above the ankle. Dr. Segur was called and is having charge of the case.

Scout Activities

The Girl Scouts of Troop One went to Lake Metacomet last week Friday, spending the night at one of the Fuller cottages. Saturday they hiked to Holland Glen, cooking a "kabob" dinner near the entrance and afterward exploring the glen to the falls. Miss Perry of Weston, former Captain, and Miss Galbraith of Northampton were members of the party.

On Fair day the Girl Scouts had charge of a Lost and Found room at the town hall.

Nature's Kaleidoscope

The cunning workman takes a tube of the right dimensions, some reflecting mirrors and numerous bits of colored glass or beads and makes a pleasing toy that shows a variety of beautiful colors and symmetrical forms which change with every turn of the instrument. A child's little hand can operate it.
But what a puny, though pleasing, affair a man's kaleidoscope is when we have found nature's kaleidoscope.

I stood one day on the crest of a hill that rises behind my house, to look over the pastures and fields to the distant and higher hills. This view always pleases me. I noticed as I stood there that the autumnal colors were beginning to appear.
They showed on the huckleberry and hazel bushes. Maples along the highway at the foot of the pasture and along a distant brook and other wet places were colored as only maples can be.

Another day I stood on the same spot. The same bushes were in the pasture, the same trees, by the highway and by the brook, but their colors had changed in some strange way, and I made a wonderful discovery. The season had come when nature operates its kaleidoscope and calls us to see its brilliant exhibit. We may have no man-made kaleidoscope but what a wonderful one nature has made for us. If you look for one like the household toy, you will be disappointed, for nature's kaleidoscope has little resemblance to man's. It is not a tiny cylinder. It is the dome of the sky bending over the pastures and fields. It takes in the grasses and bushes and trees of the country-side to show us their beautiful autumnal hues, and changes them with the daily rising and setting of the sun. The field of vision of the toy is small, while nature's kaleidoscope takes in the whole circle of the horizon.

I turn myself and a new segment of the wonderful exhibit appears.
I come another day and there are new changes in the coloring. The time for display is not soon over.
There is a wealth of beauty to be seen today. There is something rich in reserve. I look where the oaks are. Their high colors will appear later. I look in another direction. In the new field of vision above the roofs of farm houses and higher through the tallest trees,
the white spire of our meetinghouse shows and I think of the map-ples about the common and of their glorious beauty as nature will re-tint their foliage before the leaves fall to give the common its October carpet. I turn to view a hill covered with young birches. It is still green but I know that, as nature turns her instrument with the passing days, that hill will become a field of gold.

I hope others have discovered nature's wonderful kaleidoscope—for it is not a mere fancy—and enjoy its spectacles. I hope you, O busy husbandman, see it and will pause on your way to the harvest field for a look, if only a brief one, at its display of colors. I am sure you will go to your work with new zest from the vision of beauty and grandeur it reveals.

—C. G. B.

The Federated Church

Rev. D. L. Hilliard, Pastor

Under this heading there will appear each week items regarding the Federated church, and also, as occasion suggests, interesting paragraphs concerning vital themes and events, which the pastor deems worth while.

Next Sunday evening the pastor will preach the first in a series of four sermons on "Christianity."

The fall meeting of the Hampshire East Association of Congregational churches will be held Thursday in the local church with sessions both morning and afternoon, the former beginning at 10 a.
m. and the latter at 1:30 p. m.

Three men of national reputation will come here in the interest of the missionary work of the church and will fill the program with their messages. The four principal addresses are as follows: "The Kind of Evangelism our Congregational Churches Stand For," Rev. Frederick L. Fagley, D. D.; "The Soul's Driving Power," Rev. Robert E.
Brown, D. D.; "Salvation through Service," Rev. Frank W. Hodgdon,
D. D.; "Paths to Power" Rev.
Charles E. Burton, D. D., Secretary of the National Council.

Although this is a denominational gathering, everyone is cordially invited to be present. The price of the dinner is 35 cents per plate.

vided were well filled.

The hall contained many worthwhile exhibits. C. H. Eggleston had a good showing of apples, but aside from that, the fruit industry, for which this town is famous for miles around, was not evident.

As previously stated, however,
the people are the chief attraction at the fair and they were there in abundance.

Awards not specified above were
as follows:

Decorated autos: Wm. Bardwell, 1st; John Pranattis, 2nd.

Auto trucks: Mrs. D. C. Randall, 1st.

Best teams: W. A. Sauer, 1st; Lincoln Cook, 2nd.

and Peeso, 1st.

Oxen, 4 yrs. and over: Fred Underwood, 1st; E. R. Peeso, 2nd.

Notice to Property Owners

You are hereby required on or before December 1, 1922, to destroy the gypsy and brown-tail moths on your property in this town.

This notification is in accordance with Chapter 381, Acts of 1905, as amended by Chapter 268, Acts of 1906, which requires cities and towns to destroy the eggs, caterpil-lars, pupae and nests of the gypsy and brown-tail moths, under heavy penalty for failure to comply with the provisions of the law.

If a property owner fails to destroy such eggs, caterpillars, pupae and nests, then the city or town is required to destroy the same, and the cost of the work, in whole or in part, according to the value of the land, is assessed upon and becomes a lien on the land.

The Selectmen ask owners and tenants to co-operate with the town in its work on highways and other public grounds by doing effective work on their premises. Citizens who have cleaned their premises of the moths but find their trees endangered by the neglect of owners of adjoining estates, should make complaint to the Selectmen. The infestation of a residential neighborhood by the neglect of a few will not be tolerated.

The eggs of the gypsy moths should be destroyed at once with creosote. They should never be scraped off the object on which they are laid. Careful search should be made for gypsy moth egg clusters, not only on trees, but also on house walls, stone walls, fences and in rubbish heaps, etc. (Trees in which cavities occur and which it is not desirable to cut should have the cavities tinned or cemented.
This is important.) The present and future cost of combating this insect can be greatly reduced by cutting and burning worthless brush, hollow trees, etc. A few trees well cared for are more valuable to the property owner and the community than a large number of neglected trees.

The nests of the brown-tail
moths should be cut off the trees, carefully collected and burned in a stove or furnace.

Full instructions as to the best methods of work against the moths
may be obtained from the local Superintendent, or from the State Forester, Room 1009, 6 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.

Work done by contractors should be inspected and approved by the local Superintendent before payment for the same is made.

Per order Selectmen
October 1, 1922.

To Be Opened to the Public

Next Tuesday and Wednesday from two to four p. m., the Stone House, which contains the collection of the Belchertown Historical Association, will be open to the public.
 The semi-annual meeting of the association is held there tomorrow night, but the formal opening does not come till next week.

We wonder if our townspeople realize what is in store for them, both as regards the collection and the manner of its exhibit. A number of discriminating people from out of town have been at the house as things were being put in shape and have expressed admiration and surprise at what Belchertown possesses.
 There is no gainsaying the fact that the presentation equals, if not surpasses anything hereabouts.

This did not come to pass in a day, however. For a long time the society has been gathering articles of historic interest and has been looking forward to the time when they could be displayed advantageously.
 That hour has struck, as those who visit the house next week will abundantly testify. In all the rooms there breathes the spirit of the past, that makes the reverent ponder the qualities the men and women of other days possessed, and as one leaves, he asks himself if the dignity of his own life is a worthy successor to that which still seems to radiate from the very things the fathers and mothers touched.

This is the underlying motive of any such exhibit, and the fact that one receives such a reaction along this line is conclusive proof that the exhibit is of value.

TOMORROW

Dates Spoken For

Oct. 31
 Grange Supper

That such a result has been achieved is due first to Harriette Dwight Longley who, looking down the years, bequeathed to those who were to come after her, that which has made the Stone House a place of permanency for many historic articles, some of them of considerable worth.

Invaluable in putting this idea into concrete form has been the work of Miss Lucy Thomson of Pittsfield, one of the trustees of the Longley estate, but much more than a trustee. In her task of remodelling the Stone House, her skill as an architect, her artistic ability, her knowledge of historic values, her untiring patience and keen interest in every detail of the work has accomplished more than ordinary results.

Not least on the roll of honor are the names of Mrs. Curtis and Mrs. Spencer, the committee in charge of arranging the collection in its new quarters. A whole article might be written about their work alone, the time, the thought, the ability, the care, which has been given unstintedly for many months, the cleaning, and polishing and repairing they have done, the marvelous bleaching and pressing of old embroideries, the thoroughness of the work, originality of display and artistic ability they have shown.

But perhaps no other person has written his name into the success of the enterprise larger than has Willard A. Stebbins, president of the association, who has rendered a

Death of #### Mrs. Ida L. Power

Mrs. Ida L. (Whalen) Power, wife of James F. Power of Worcester, died October twelfth, after a long illness. She was born in Belchertown, daughter of Peter F. and Lillian Shaw Whalen. Besides her husband, she leaves three daughters, Mary Lillian, Margaret, and Kathrine; and five brothers, W. Raymond, John W., James A., Henry F., and Thomas Whalen.

She was a graduate of Worcester State Normal School, class of 1904, and taught in Worcester and Newark, N. J. The funeral was held from her home, 68 Windsor Street, Sunday afternoon.

The Stone House

Notes regarding the Stone House and its past, compiled by Miss Thomson and placed on file at the building.

This house and its maintenance fund are the gift of Harriette Bartlett Dwight Longley in memory of her parents: Nathaniel Dwight (referred to in these notes as Nathaniel, Jr., to distinguish him from his father) first president of this association and descendant of Capt. Nathaniel Dwight, one of the first settlers in the town; and Harriette Bartlett Dwight, from the estate of whose sister, Charlotte Bartlett Dickinson, much of the money invested was inherited.

It was Mrs. Longley's wish that it should be called either The Stone House, as it has always been called, or the Dwight-Bartlett Memorial, preferably the former, if her trustees to whom she left the preparing of some home for the association, decided to fit up this house. Its location, long association with the family and possibilities for the safe and attractive housing of the collection led them to follow her expressed approval of the suggestion to buy this place.

This house was built by Jonathan Dwight as a wedding present for his daughter, Julia Diantha, born June 26th, 1809. She married Oct. 11, 1827, Theodore Dwight Lyman, son of Elihu and Sarah (Stebbins) Lyman of Greenfield who was the cashier of the Farmers' Bank of Belchertown. This bank failed in 1829. Two of their children were born in this house: Jonathon Dwight Lyman, born Aug. 15th, 1828, died Aug., 1832; Abbie Eliza, born Aug. 30, 1830, who died at school in Cambridge, 1845. After Mr. Lyman's death his wife made her home in Philadelphia but was for many years a summer visitor in Belchertown where she is still remembered as an erect, alert old lady, quick-witted and pungent.

Theodore Dwight Lyman was a grandson of Aaron and Eunice (Dwight) Lyman who were among the earliest settlers of the town. Eunice Dwight was a niece of Capt.

Rev. D. L. Hilliard, Pastor

GET-TOGETHER SOCIABLE
Next Monday evening at 7.30 in the chapel will come another of those unique get-together sociables. The committee, while not willing to give away any of its secrets, vouches for an evening worth while and an occasion worthy of its predecessors. Few will care to miss, either because of curiosity or experience, anything that may be in store.

The pastor has received from Gertrude H. Bridgman of Keene, N. H., a pamphlet, "The Articles of Faith and Covenant, adopted by the Congregational Church in Belchertown." It also gives the names of the members of the church in April, 1827, the date when the pamphlet was printed. There were at that time 412 members with only 31 absent.

MONEY RAISED BY THE CHURCHES

Reports gathered by the Federal Council of Churches indicate that a total of $499,424,984 was raised by the Churches of America during the last year. The Methodists (North) led with $85,934,000, Southern Methodists, $23,859,832; Northern Presbyterians, $47,036,442; Southern Baptists, $34,831,032; Northern Baptists, $21,926,143; Protestant Episcopal, $34,873,221; Congregationalists, $21,233,412; Roman Catholics, $75,368,294.

The funeral of Mrs. Charles Walker was held in Springfield Oct. 12. Mrs. Walker was formerly Miss Nellie Morse, a sister of the late Ransom and Alvertus W. Morse, of this town. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gay attended the funeral.

Mrs. Harriet Dickinson, Mrs. J. R. Newman, Jr., and Mrs. Roy Shaw returned last Saturday from East Bridgewater, where they have been during the last illness of Henry Whidden. Mrs. Whidden and daughter, Viola, and son, Roy, returned with them and will make their home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Shaw. The burial of Mr. Whidden was in Whitman, his former home, on Thursday, Oct. 12.

Mrs. A. J. Sears has returned from a visit with relatives in Malden.

Raymond Gay of Three Rivers and Merle Gay of Springfield attended the wedding of their cousin, Ruthie Burton and Percy Woodland on Monday in New Bedford.

Mr. and Mrs. James Isaac and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Isaac of Fitchburg are on an auto trip through Vermont. They will visit Jeffersonville, Middleboro and Peru, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hubbard entertained on Sunday a party of 22 friends and relatives.

G. I. Mead spent the holiday and week-end with his brother, J. R. Newman, Jr.

Turkey Hill is still on the map and prospering as the following new purchases and possessions will testify, some of which have been mentioned in this paper in former issues. There are three new infants in the neighborhood and Jason Hurlburt has a new grandson, also a new stone boat, Mrs. C. R. Green an electric washer, Mrs. Archambault a new buggy and harness, E. F. Shumway and F. A. Upham, milking machines, one of our modest neighbors a brand new touring car, H. F. Putnam is digging a well, there is a new piano in one of our homes, Frank Lincoln has a silo, C. E. Booth a henhouse, and our new road we all hope to travel soon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hubbard entertained on Sunday a party of 22 friends and relatives.

With the reputation Firestone Cords hold, it is not surprising that so many motorists in this community have made them standard equipment. The demand for Firestone Cords in the last few months has broken all records.

Nathaniel Dwight. Sarah Stebbins, mother of Mr. T. D. Lyman, was from Deerfield and a relative of Benjamin Stebbins.

The house was then bought by Nathaniel Dwight, Sr., of Dwight Station, brother of Jonathon, who wished to give his children the advantages of the schools at the center, leaving his older son, Harrison, at Dwight Station through the school year and returning there in summer until, broken in health and mind, he made his permanent home here, dying on Nov. 16, 1860. His wife, Elizabeth (Dunbar) died here, broken hearted over her husband's mental condition, Mar. 8, 1860.

The house remained in the possession of this branch of the Dwight family until it was bought from Nathaniel Dwight, Senior's, great grandchildren, Robert and Mary Blake, by the trustees of the Harriette Dwight Longley estate for the use of the Historical Association, in September, 1912.

Mr. Dwight's daughter, Eliza, born in 1812, was married here in 1841 to Elihu Root, brother of Dea. Harrison Root, and a merchant of the town. He died here in 1844. They were married in the west end of the southwest parlor, the wide, folding doors into the front room being opened wide to make the rooms one. The bride wore a dress, still preserved, of greenish grey silk with a little self-colored brocade figure, made with a low-necked, pointed basque, mutton leg sleeves and a full skirt, and worn with a large embroidered muslin collar of her own exquisite needlework.

She was fine looking, erect to her last days, tall and of good figure, bright hazel eyes and a keen mind;

at four she could read the Bible, owing to the persistent efforts of her grandmother Dwight who was a diligent teacher though blind. She was always an eager reader and an expert needlewoman, doing fine embroidery even in her old age, and very much interested in flowers and gardening.

She made her home in this house after her marriage, sharing the kitchen with her parents in winter and having the southwest parlor, the library and the room over it. The old secretary in the collection was part of her wedding outfit, having green silk curtains behind the glass then. After her husband's death during the scarlet fever epidemic in 1844, she made her home with her sister, Mary Dwight Mellen, until Mrs. Mellen's death in 1847 when she returned here with her sister's baby, Elizabeth Mellen, and this was her home as long as she lived, a long life of service for others, her insane father, her frail mother, a pretty pink-cheeked old lady of great dignity of manner, who married at eighteen and after the birth of her first child put on the caps shown in her picture;—of little Josiah Smith, of Elizabeth Mellen and her children, Walter, Robert and Mary Blake who were the chief interest of her old age.

In Mr. Dwight's last years, Mrs. Justus Dwight's daughter, Betsy, and her son-in-law, Simeon Rich Dwight, occupied the rooms that were Mrs. Root's as it was considered unsafe for Mrs. Root to be alone with her father who at times had violent attacks of insanity, although usually it only showed in child-like mischief.

Sophie Dwight was born here and made an early appearance in the Congregational choir where her mother sang and her father played the flute (to be given the association) and she sang, too, at a surprisingly early age.

Notice to Property Owners

You are hereby required on or before December 1, 1922, to destroy the gypsy and brown-tail moths on your property in this town.

This notification is in accordance with Chapter 381, Acts of 1905, as amended by Chapter 268, Acts of 1906, which requires cities and towns to destroy the eggs, caterpillars, pupae and nests of the gypsy and brown-tail moths, under heavy penalty for failure to comply with the provisions of the law.

If a property owner fails to destroy such eggs, caterpillars, pupae and nests, then the city or town is required to destroy the same, and the cost of the work, in whole or in part, according to the value of the land, is assessed upon and becomes a lien on the land.

The Selectmen ask owners and tenants to co-operate with the town in its work on highways and other public grounds by doing effective work on their premises. Citizens who have cleaned their premises of the moths but find their trees endangered by the neglect of owners of adjoining estates, should make complaint to the Selectmen. The infestation of a residential neighborhood by the neglect of a few will not be tolerated.

The eggs of the gypsy moths should be destroyed at once with creosote. They should never be scraped off the object on which they are laid. Careful search should be made for gypsy moth egg clusters, not only on trees, but also on house walls, stone walls, fences and in rubbish heaps, etc. (Trees in which cavities occur and which it is not desirable to cut should have the cavities tinned or cemented. This is important.) The present and future cost of combating this insect can be greatly reduced by cutting and burning worthless brush, hollow trees, etc. A few trees well cared for are more valuable to the property owner and the community than a large number of neglected trees.

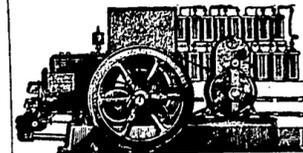

The nests of the brown-tail moths should be cut off the trees, carefully collected and burned in a stove or furnace.

Full instructions as to the best methods of work against the moths may be obtained from the local Superintendent, or from the State Forester, Room 1009, 6 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.

Work done by contractors should be inspected and approved by the local Superintendent before payment for the same is made.

Per order Selectmen
October 1, 1922.

Coal is a necessity. So is Life Insurance. But isn't it strange that the man who never fails to place his order in April for his winter supply of coal because of the monthly increase in price will put off taking Life Insurance year after year notwithstanding the fact that he knows he must pay more for it as he grows older. The family of the man who neglects Life Insurance too long may not have any money with which to buy coal if anything should happen to him.

signal service to the people of Belchertown, by the interest he has manifested and the work he has done in bringing the Stone House exhibit to its consummation. Apart from the great value of his collections—the very valuable American china, the even more valuable (locally) exhibit in the Stebbins room which is quite unique for an association's collection in carrying down the history of the town from its first permanent settler to the present, unbroken—the large case he has filled with a varied and valuable collection, his Shaker collection, his pewter, his additions to the war collection in helmets, war relics, and war posters, foreign and our own, apart from all this, he has given an immense amount of time, advice and material, ranging from the knocker on the front door to the door of the vault; in fact you can hardly look in any direction in the Stone House without seeing some gift of his to the association, and everything put in good condition and arranged with great care and understanding.

Others have contributed to the success of the undertaking, but to these who took upon themselves the heavy end of the burden, especial gratitude is due.

Protect the Forests

The State Forester, in a letter to the local sportsman's club, calls attention to the following card which the North Shore Rod and Gun Club sent out to its members:

"Help to prevent, and assist in extinguishing forest fires during the hunting season. Carelessness will cause great damage to the woodland trees and covers, besides causing a shorter hunting season. Proper care used in regard to lighting matches, cigars or cigarettes will prevent many woodland fires. Summons aid promptly in event of woods' fires.

Issued by Board of Directors,
F. E. Wilson, Sec."

This caution is timely and worthy of the attention of all. We have suffered greatly from fires locally the past year. Our forests and woodland must be preserved. Care and caution will prevent nearly all our forest fires. Save the forests and you save the furry and feathered inhabitants also. Club members, do your part to protect and preserve.

The Get-together Sociable

While the water was chasing down the chapel spout last Monday evening at the rate of about a mile a minute, and while many were at home saying what the not over ambitious young man said on his wedding night, which was so stormy he didn't venture out because he "thought there wouldn't be anything doing," the first get-together social of the season steamed ahead all unmindful of circumstances.

"George Washington" Aspengren was there with the other minstrels, R. Shaw, H. Peck and L. Ayers, who had equally long prefixes. Marza R. Ketchen was also there with his fiddle and face as black as the rest. These kept the company amused, by their singing and hilarity, from start to finish.

It was a typical "get-together" crowd. It was willing to write poetry at a moment's notice. It was good at guessing rhymes, proverbs, and putting cars together—that is, the names. It guessed with considerable accuracy silhouettes that were drawn by artist, M. A. Shaw, who had lured to his abode in his secluded chapel studio, those of the company whom he thought would "take." The men were good at acting various occupations to get their partners for "cats," but the darkeys were weak on guessing the contents of various small bottles. They had smells of sweetened water, gin and bay rum all emanating from the same receptacle.

The ladies' quartet, consisting of Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Gildemeister, Mrs. Warren and Miss Richardson, sang pleasing selections. Mrs. Gildemeister also entertained with violin solos. So dignity and hilarity blended in making the evening a success.

Democratic Rally

The Democratic constituency turned out to a rally in front of the Park View on Wednesday evening, when Joseph Kerrigan, the candidate opposing Frederick H. Gillett for congressman, spoke a few words to those assembled. He accused his opponent of belonging to a clique in the Republican party, of not having done a single thing for the rank and file of the district in all his 30 years of office, and siding with the railroad interests in defeating the Connecticut river navigation project, which he deemed of vital importance, not only to the people of the valley, but to all in this section, on account of the lower rates it would provide on shipping.

H. E. Association Meeting

The Hampshire East Association meeting last week Thursday brought together at the local Congregational church representatives of the churches of this denomination from many towns around here. People who had not seen one another for a long time exchanged cordial greetings, between services and during the dinner hour. Probably 125 sat down to the excellent dinner served by the Social Guild.

Besides the routine business transacted at the opening of the morning session, it was voted to invite the members of the local Methodist church, federated with the Congregational church, to become corresponding members of the Association.

The main addresses of the day were presented by four men of national reputation, members of a group who are touring the state and

The Semi-Annual Meeting

"The Stone House looked so cheerful tonight as I came past! It was all lighted up," was the remark of a fellow townsman on Saturday evening. The lighting up was in preparation for the semi-annual business meeting of the Belchertown Historical Association, the first meeting to be held in the new home.

President Willard Stebbins, in his opening remarks, referred to the advantages of the new quarters and to the value of the association's collection which its members have been accumulating since March, 1908.

D. D. Hazen, one of the trustees of the Harriette Dwight Longley fund, which made possible the home of the Association, gave a detailed account of the expenditures on the alterations, including the interior and exterior improvements and furnishings. Mr. Hazen, in behalf of the trustees, gave the association the deed of the Stone house.

Three new members were received. After the business meeting many of the members lingered to inspect the attractively arranged, home-like rooms of the association.

The house was open for public inspection Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. Many people took advantage of this opportunity to go over the building.

Until further notice the Stone House will be open to the public on Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. Arrangements can be made with the custodian, Mrs. H. F. Curtis, for visitations at other times.

The Association Meeting

speaking before the different association gatherings which were arranged to be held successively in contiguous territory.

The first address of the day was given by Rev. Frederick L. Fagley, D. D., Secretary of the Commission on Evangelism. His subject was, "The Kind of Evangelism our Congregational Churches Stand For." He assured his audience that Congregationalism stood for evangelism and went on to define the kind of evangelism which, to the leaders of today seemed sane and worth while in its lasting results.

First he mentioned instances of so-called evangelism which had made use of questionable means and had actually left false impressions of what had been accomplished.

Dr. Fagley went on to speak of the old type of evangelism illustrated in Finney who said as he saw his daughter coming forward among the penitents, "There comes my daughter who is going straight to hell because she thinks so much of clothes and hats." Dr. Fagley characterized this type of evangelism as perhaps acceptable in its day but not meeting the approval of the present day leaders.

The highest type of evangelism according to present day ideals is that which deals with the youth in a normal manner and by a far-reaching program of religious education and through social welfare activities builds up a structure which will stand the test of years.

By putting the emphasis on religious education and social welfare, Dr. Fagley did not wish to belittle the part which emotion played in the spiritual life. The heart is the source of compelling power and the imagination of the youth should always be appealed to, but the thought of the address was that of building normally, surely and permanently.

The second address of the morning was given by Rev. Robert D. Brown, D. D., member of the Commission on Evangelism, his subject being, "The Soul's Driving Power."

Dr. Brown introduced his subject by speaking of the great engines which haul long freight trains over the mountains. He spoke of their own weight, hundreds of tons, and the necessity of producing a certain amount of steam to propel that weight alone. But an engine, to be any good, must produce an excess of steam to haul its load of freight.

The illustration was then applied to the churches. That which keeps a church going is its love and faith. Some churches have a small supply, just enough to keep them going but no surplus to help move the burden of the world outside. Such churches have no additions to their membership on confession of faith. There is only enough love for their own consumption. People say of such a church, "It is dead." It is not dead but alive and functioning, but produces no surplus energy.

Are there any such churches in our denomination? From east to west we have about 6,000 Congregational churches. Of these more than a third, 2,300, belong in this class. Examining the records for a period covering 27 years, we find no year but what a third of our Congregational churches are without a single addition to their membership on confession of faith. Not all the churches on this list are the small ones; some are the larger, more prosperous ones.

Dr. Brown gave statistics comparing the gain in population in different years with the increase in church membership in those same years, a gain far too small proportionately, with even a loss in some years. These statistics showed the need of greater driving power, more love and faith, overflowing to meet the world's need.

In the afternoon W. M. Forgrave of the Anti-Saloon League spoke on "The Referendum Issue," giving facts and figures in his own decisive fashion.

"Salvation Through Service," was the theme of Rev. Frank W. Hodgdon of the Commission on Missions. He centered his remarks around the parable of the Good Samaritan who, he said, not only helped the victim out of his immediate necessity, but in present day terms, "accepted his apportionment, agreeing to bear the expense of taking care of him. Mr. Hodgdon expressed very strong convictions that only by doing the Master's work in the world can we attain true salvation. He told of church after church that had been staggered by its apportionment, but had finally raised it, and his final comment on them all was that they were happy over it. Mr. Hodgdon said he was the "stuffing" on the program, but he gave some real meat as well.

Rev. Charles E. Burton, D. D., secretary of the National Council, gave a very compelling discourse on "Paths to Power." He said that great forces, both physical and spiritual, are in the world, and it is necessary to ascertain what they are and harness them to our tasks. His remarks were addressed primarily to ministers, but the message could be taken by all.

Dr. Burton emphasized the fact that one should discover himself, and should turn in proper channels of service, characteristics and habits that are commonly thought of as things to get rid of. He would have those possessed of a quick temper engage in a real fight for righteousness. He said that there were many avenues of usefulness in the world so that one could turn his energy, which some might term weakness, to good account. And so he went on with the subject of fear, of self preservation and other of the instincts, showing how a right attitude to them and their proper use would lead on to power. Instead of having units of energy fighting one another in our lives, he would turn them all to account, so that we might get the full force of our being. He besought his audience to face themselves frankly that any inner conflict might cease and the mind and body be released for greater activity. Dr. Burton handled this very technical, yet very practical subject, in a very convincing way.

Dr. F. E. Emrich of the Massachusetts Home Missionary Society occupied the last five minutes with a word concerning the small churches of the state over which he has special care. A hymn was sung in closing but the presence of this most lovable of Christian leaders was the true benediction of the day's conference.

Lightning Protection

Beware of the so-called new "Fad" systems being offered as good lightning rods. Demand the trade mark of reliable rods that have stood the test of time. "KRETZER BRAND" has stood the acid test of more than 50 years actual field service, is approved by fire prevention bureaus, State Insurance Commissioners, and combines all of the good features invented by Benjamin Franklin, and endorsed by the Wizard of Electricity, Thomas A. Edison. These men are proven disinterested authorities. Ask the "Kretzer Brand" dealer to show you Mr. Edison's letter, approving the insulation system.

Millions of dollars worth of farm property is destroyed each year, and hundreds of people are killed or injured by LIGHTNING where the Kretzer Brand rods are not installed. ### Grange Supper

There was a good attendance at the Grange supper, entertainment and dance on Tuesday evening. The tables were well filled and most of the patrons stayed for the entertainment.

While the expected musical features were missing on the evening's program, there was music in abundance when Mrs. H. H. Witt and Mrs. A. D. Moore, Jr., staged "Hanging Out the Wash." Dressed in true negress fashion, they captivated their audience who were sorry when the wash was out, or rather, when Miss White and her neighbor had disclosed all the neighborhood gossip.

It was Halloween night, and while there were no spooks present, there were appropriate decorations of orange and black scattered around the room, to say nothing of aprons tinged with the tell-tale colors.

A feature of the evening was the selling of chances on a Halloween cake made by Mrs. A. E. Dodge. Mrs. Roland Shaw, the lucky "forty-niner," secured the golden prize. Dancing completed the evening's entertainment.

November 14th the Grange plans to give another dance.

Former students and teachers of Northfield Seminary, now living in Hampshire county, were entertained at the home of Mrs. Horace Wolcott of Amherst on Friday evening. Nineteen were present and a Northfield club was organized with the following officers: President, Miss Alice Collis of Pelham; vice-pres., Miss Ella Stebbins of Belchertown; sec'y and treas., Mrs. Charles Sharpe of Amherst; assistant to the sec'y, Miss Nan Cummins of Amherst. Mrs. B. E. Shaw, as a representative of the county at large, was appointed to the membership committee. Others attending from Belchertown and Dwight were Mrs. D. D. Hazen, Mrs. Etta Randolph and Miss Mabel Randolph.

What Our Subscribers Say

Referendum No. 4

A "DRY" ARGUMENT

The 4th referendum on the ballot for Nov. 7 deals with the enforcement of the Volstead Act in this state. A law was passed by the legislature giving to officials of the state the power to enforce the prohibition law in concurrence with the national government. This law adds nothing to the Federal prohibition law; it merely insures the cooperation of the state with the Federal officials. The 4th referendum asks whether that law shall be upheld, and the answer on the ballot should be Yes.

At present in Massachusetts only Federal agents can make arrests for violation of the 18th amendment on the grounds of having liquor, mash or stills in one's possession. State officials have to prove a sale. We have all heard of the sheriff who had to return four barrels of whiskey to the Polish man from whom he had seized it because the court could find no proof of illegal sale. A Federal officer could have held him for the manufacture of the stuff, but there are scarcely more than a dozen Federal officers in Massachusetts, and the number of stills is rather large, judging by appearances.

For the sake of efficiency, then, the people at this election should put the power of enforcing the constitutional amendment for prohibition into the hands of the state and local constabulary. Why say that prohibition is a failure when the state has not yet given it a fair show. The Federal law cannot become effective until the states pass concurrent laws of enforcement. Massachusetts is one of three states which have not yet done this.

Even though one might not believe in prohibition, it is here; and surely few of us believe in the "moonshine" it is producing. Put all the sheriffs, deputies, and constables on the trail of that moonshine instead of the aforementioned dozen Federal agents. To do this, VOTE YES ON REFERENDUM NO. 4.

A "WET" ARGUMENT

An enormous increase in crime in the United States during the second year of prohibition enforcement legislation, as compared with the first year's record, is reported by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

The increase has been most marked in crimes arising directly or indirectly from the illegal liquor traffic, according to Capt. W. H. Stayton, founder and executive head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. Capt. Stayton backed the assertions with an array of figures gathered from records of fifty-six cities in every part of the country, representing an aggregate population of 22,000,000.

Outstanding Issues

By far the greatest amount of interest in the referenda this fall centers on prohibition enforcement and moving picture censorship. As far as the former is concerned we see no other alternative and be decent, than to vote in favor of law enforcement, especially as it concerns a traffic that leaves nothing but evil in its train. It will be a sad day for Massachusetts and America if they have to call themselves beaten when it comes to putting over a good thing.

We say "a good thing." When one considers that in the last 135 years about 3000 amendments to the Constitution have been proposed, and only 19 have been enacted into law, we have an idea that one that does get adopted is at least worth trying.

As far as statistics are concerned, comparison between dry years and dry years may yield some solace to the wets, but as between wet years and dry years the picking is not so good.

Some, yes a good many of our newspapers, have seen fit, and seem to take pleasure in parading the fact that the nation's laws are not being enforced to the full. The tremendous power of the press could have brought law enforcement nearer 100 per cent if it had seen fit to help.

The same thing is true of the movies. They have tried to joke the 18th amendment out of existence, but have come to the conclusion that it can't be thus done away with.

If this great institution had shown a little more assistance in the matter of law enforcement, we might be a little more considerate when it comes to passing judgment on moving picture censorship.

As we see it the whole matter resolves itself into the question as to how much Massachusetts wants to safeguard its youth. Year by year it is safeguarding its youths from disease of the body. Does it care as much about keeping them from disease of the mind, and if so, does it care to attack the trouble at the source.

Under the present system, pictures can be run into town (as happened last week) that are unfit for people to see, children especially. All that can be done is to lock the door after the horse is stolen; and after the horse is gone, who is going to hunt him up? If the state had put up a safeguard, this would never have happened.

But we are told that censorship is un-American. Do the patrons of Clapp Memorial Library, or any library of reputation, think that the books going into them are not censored?

We are told that a censor is an autocrat. Read the referendum and you will see that any case can be appealed to the Supreme court of the state for final decision. Is that autocracy?

We are not saying that the moving picture business will not improve under the present arrangement, we are not saying that we have no confidence in Will Hays, we are not saying that a state censorship is better than a federal, we are not saying that prices will not be higher, but we are saying that all these fireworks about people's liberties being taken away, and its being un-American for Massachusetts to safeguard its youth from disease of mind as well as body is a little too much.

And if it is true that in states now having censorship, only goody-goody, lifeless stuff is being shown on the screen, why don't the people rise up and repeal the law? This is democratic America yet.

The Federated Church

Rev. D. L. Hilliard, Pastor

If the people who are opposed to the prohibition law are honest in their contention, or have any faith in what they profess to believe, let them put their faith to a test. Vote to confirm the enforcement act and if it is such a bad law as the Wets claim it to be, in five years it will be repealed and they will have won their claim.

Put your faith to this test and settle this question which has been in active discussion ever since Benjamin Rush, M. D., wrote his famous pamphlet, "The Effect of Alcohol on the Mind and Body of Man," one hundred thirty years ago.

Vote Yes.

MORE GORDON STATISTICS

DEATHS FROM ALCOHOLISM

Years	Alcoholism
1916	687
1921	119

The statistics in other cities tell the same story. Dr. Doane, Medical Director of the Philadelphia General Hospital, informed me that admissions into alcoholic wards in that institution have decreased from 2,326 in 1918 to 702 in 1921.

To learn what effect the new amendment has had on the prevalence of alcoholism I went direct to the men who operate these institutions. The first I interviewed was Dr. Wallace, of the San Francisco Neal Institute. "Mr. Gordon," he said to me: "There were sixty-eight Neal Institutes throughout the United States. Twelve years prior to Prohibition these institutes treated more than 125,000 patients. After two years of Prohibition they are all out of commission."

Dr. Neal, whom I interviewed in Los Angeles, confirmed Dr. Wallace's statement.

The family of the man who neglects Life Insurance too long may not have any money with which to buy coal if anything should happen to him.

there can be no question," said Capt. Stayton. "They were obtained from the official records of the several municipalities. They show, beyond possible contradiction, that crime of all kinds has increased at an unexampled rate in 1920 and 1921, and that the expense of public administration has progressed at a like rate during the same period.

"In 1920, or the first year of national prohibition legislation, these 56 cities showed a total of 252,310 arrests for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. In 1921 the number increased to 343,665, or 36.21 per cent more than in 1920. Arrests for all causes in these cities in the same years aggregated 1,233,904 in 1920 and 1,464,296 in 1921, representing an increase in the latter year over the former of 18.67 per cent.

DISCUSS DRY ARGUMENTS "In other words, arrests for all crimes in these cities increased about 19 per cent last year over the previous year, while arrests for causes directly connected with the use of intoxicants showed an increase of more than 36 per cent. This certainly tells its own story of the progressive development of the bootlegging industry and answers the fatuous claims of the prohibition enforcement officials that headway is being made by them in checking the illegal use of intoxicants as time goes on."

Open Grange Meeting

The open Grange meeting of Tuesday evening was rich in talent and was worth while, both from an entertaining and ethical viewpoint. The vocal solos by Miss Richardson, the readings by Mrs. H. H. Witt, the piano solos by Mrs. C. H. Foss, and the remarks by the Master, Mrs. Witt, were a pleasing introductory to the very profitable address on "The Spirit of the Home," by Mrs. Clifton Johnson, chairman of the state Grange home economics committee.

When first asked to speak on this topic, Mrs. Johnson refused, saying that it was beyond her. But she kept thinking about it, even searching public libraries for some book on the subject. The librarian in Springfield said, "Don't you think that The Spirit of the Home would be rather difficult to put into a book? Isn't that something to be lived rather than to be written about?"

But the idea of a book with this title seemed to appeal to Mrs. Johnson and she outlined for her audience some of the chapters which she would put into such a book.

Chapter One would be The Mother, for the mother, more than any other one person, makes the home and puts the spirit into it. Anyone could write this chapter for we all have in mind the ideal mother. However, there are 57 varieties of mothers, some sweet, some sour, and some with mustard on them much of the time.

Chapter Two would be The Father. It would be a little harder to write about the ideal father. Sometimes it seems as if his part was to bring in the cash, and that is truly a man-sized job these days. But that is only a small part of his duty, to a's family. Mrs. Johnson wished for the father more of the mother-spirit of sympathy and understanding, and quoted the admonition given a young man, "Be the kind of a father that puts the children to bed and kisses their bumps."

The next chapter concerned The

First Baby. Anyone could write this chapter, according to Mrs.
Johnson. And yet she would put in a warning to the young mother not to become so absorbed in the baby as to forget that she had a husband. Some men live with their families but outside of them, always in the background. Somehow they got shoved outside the family circle when the children were small.

In this connection Mrs. Johnson, spoke of the discipline of children,
which, she said, should aim not so much to punish them as to make them better.

A very interesting chapter in this book would be the one on Young People. We hear it said so often,
"Things aren't what they used to be." Our young people are criticized for their clothing and their manners. "What are they coming to!" Mrs. Johnson said that she would not censure the girls for their freedom more than the boys for meeting them half way, and illustrated her point by stories from her own experience and observation.

As to girls' dress, fashion seems to be taking care of that satisfactorily. Moreover, as the speaker described the girls' dress when she was in high school, long, sweeping the floor, 4 yards around, lined, brush braid on the bottom; although something might be said on both sides, the odds were all in favor of the present day style. In fact the clothes of the former period received the characterization, "perfectly frightful."

Mrs. Johnson went on to compare the baby dresses of then and now, the bathing suits also, with the result that the fashions of today seemed to have much common sense in them. She summed it all up by saying, "I consider a girl modestly dressed when suitably dressed, whether for dancing or swimming or a picnic or what not, and" (with the emphasis here) "when worn in a modest fashion."

The Boy in his Teens. Writing a chapter on that would be very difficult. At that age a boy is sometimes a boy, sometimes a man, and you never know which is which. In fact some men never outgrow this period. We seem to see the girl develop but not the boy. Incidents in the development of her own boys were used to illustrate her point that "little things mean so much to a boy of sixteen, much more than we realize."

Grandparents and Other Relatives in the Home. Relatives, and especially grandparents, mean a great deal to the spirit of the home. Even "in-laws" add to the spirit of the home if we have the right attitude towards them.

Guests in the Home. Mrs. Johnson discovered early in her married life that with a number of little children in the home, one could not often entertain in the prescribed fashion and she learned to put on a clean plate, and sometimes a clean tray cloth, and invite guests informally. "Open your house and be hospitable. Enjoy your guests," was her advice.

The next chapter was on Home Work. The burden of the work in the home comes on the mother, of course, but it is good for the children to take a fair share of the home work, for working together helps to bring the family closer together.
Home work may be made as interesting as possible. Let the daughter frost the cake or set the table for company or put the salad together instead of always washing dishes, making beds and sweeping floors.

In the chapter on Recreation Mrs.
Johnson cited the auto as an effective means of keeping the family together. She argued that the mother should enter into the recreation of the son as well as that of the daughter, but gave this warning,
"get your mind into the modern spirit if they are going to be glad you are along."

A short chapter on Sickness in the Home with the comment, "Some are perfect angels when they are sick and some are perfect—," was followed by a chapter on Money in the Home. The speaker thought the ideal situation was the partnership plan, the funds held in common,
each one having access to it and spending it as wisely as possible.
She also brought out the fact that in a firm each partner draws a salary while all too often in the home the wife has no salary. This state of affairs should be remedied and could in some way, the wife having a certain amount of pin money from eggs or butter or vegetables.

At the end of the book Mrs.
Johnson would put a list of family virtues that add to the spirit of the home, unselfishness, patience, everlasting patience, forgiveness, everlasting forgiveness, affection, silence. The last named virtue was emphasized as one of the greatest of family virtues. Keeping silently and pleasantly on the way was almost warranted to wear out any attack of crossness.

At the suggestion of her friends
a final chapter in this book had been added on Table Talk. Mrs. Johnson quoted some one as saying, "If I had my choice between a college education for my children and a great right kind of conversation in the home, I'd choose the latter as making for broader culture." She scored the families where food only is talked about three times a day, and left her audience smiling over the story of the woman whose prayer was, "O Lord, cuss anybody that criticizes the food."

American Legion
Notes

It has been brought to the Post's attention that the American Legion has been put up at auction and sold to the highest bidder. We, the Armerican Legion, think it would be far better, if the American Legion is to be sold, that it be sold at private sale, or if the Flag is badly faded, to burn it.

Town Items

Between twenty-five and thirty young people enjoyed the Y. P. S.
social in the chapel last Friday night. Games and refreshments were the big features of the program.

There will be a meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary Friday evening.
After the meeting, members of the American Legion are invited for a social hour. Light refreshments will be served.

The annual business meeting of the Community club will be held with Mrs. George Kelley, next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Robbins of Waltham are at the home of their mother, Mrs. Mary Plantiff, who will return with them tomorrow.

Misses Stella and Dorothy Cook spent Friday as guests of their sister, Miss Bertha Cook of Enfield.

Mrs. A. W. Thayer of Springfield was the guest of Mrs. Guy C. Allen

Sunday.

A good number attended the very enjoyable musical at the library Tuesday afternoon. Miss Richardson was generous in her numbers and her selections were pleasing to her audience. Mrs. Foss, the pianist, also sang in the duets and rendered a piano duet with Mrs.
Squires.

The Federated Church

Rev. D. L. Hilliard, Pastor

J. G. Heldner and Son, Inc., piano dealers of Springfield, will give a concert in the Congregational church next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The firm mentioned is taking the method of giving high grade concerts in this vicinity to bring before the public their pianos, one of which they will use in their entertainment. They will also make use of the pipe organ.
The quality of the program is attested by those in nearby towns who have heard these musicians.

The price of admission has been fixed at 35 cents for adults and 25 cents for school children. These prices are hardly commensurate with what is to be given, but every inducement is being made to get all to come. The proceeds are for the benefit of the Federated church.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S INSTITUTE

Of interest to our young people will be the institute to be held at the Edwards church, Northampton,
Nov. 10, 11 and 12.

The program includes such speakers as Dr. Hubart W. Gates, Rev.
George Reed Andrews, Miss Ruth Seabury and Miss Catherine Colby.
There will be a banquet Friday evening.

Over-night entertainment will be provided, if advance notice is sent.

Get-together Social

The next Get-together sociable of the Federated church will be held November 20. The committee in charge are arranging for a novel entertainment. This coming event is to be a "children's party," and all are requested to attire in the garb of childhood. Fancy only can predict what the outcome of this latest invitation will be. Prizes will be awarded in keeping with the occasion. While the party is yet ten days away, it behoves the ladies and gents over sixteen to look through their wardrobe and devise plans as to how it can best be made over to be appropriate and still be comfortable enough to "limber up" in.

DWIGHTS WHO HAVE LIVED IN THE HOUSE

In addition to Julia Dwight Lyman, already mentioned

Nathaniel Dwight, Sr., with his wife, Elizabeth Dunbar, and his children with the exception of Harrison who went to Hadley to school and was carrying on the farm while his father lived here.

Four children of Nathaniel Dwight Nathaniel Dwight, (who also lived here awhile in his later years after his house was burned and while the Jonathon Dwight house was being altered).

Eliza Dwight Root and her husband.

Clara Dwight Adams Duncan.
Della Dwight Sanford, who also spent two winters here with her husband and little son, Edmund,
and returned again in her last years until the death of her husband and sisters. Mrs. Duncan and Mr. Sanford died here.

Josiah Dwight Smith
Elizabeth Mellen Blake and her children, Walter Dwight (born here), Robert Whitcomb and Mary Elizabeth.

Harriette Dwight Longley (while the Jonathon Dwight house was altered).

Betsey Bissell Dwight, daughter of Justus Dwight, Jr., and Eliza Marshall Dwight; married Simeon Rich Dwight, grandson of Col.
Henry Dwight, and began their housekeeping in part of this house in 1840 and their daughter Sophie was born here. About 1845 they moved from here, after the death of Mr. and Mrs. Root, probably going first to the grandfather's house on Federal St., then to Henry Mellen's where he was living in 1847. Later, about 1855, he bought the house on the North Granby road (Walnut St.) later owned by Loman Smith; this was in an unfinished state at the time. On or before 1860 he very generously gave up this home and returned to the Stone House that they might help Mrs. Root in the care of Mr. Dwight. Their daughter, Sophie, was at South Hadley Seminary at this time but their two small sons, Elihu and Justus were here. They remained here until after the Civil war began when Mr.
Simeon Rich Dwight removed to Chicopee to do government war work. In the mean time Mrs.
Justus Dwight's youngest daughter, Anna, had graduated from South Hadley in 1849 and begun her many years of teaching, and Mrs.
Dwight returned from South Hadley where she had lived since 1838 to educate her children, to the Stone

the man who never fails to place his

Elihu and Everett, young sons of John Dwight of New York and Mount Holyoke, spent one or two years here about 1851 as pupils of a skating rink. A temporary dam built by the boys themselves in what is known as the "King lot", has given the young people a place to skate quite centrally located. The present proposition includes lighting as well as the building of a coffer dam.

Mrs. Kate Reamer of Monessen, Pa., who has been spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. M. D.
S. Longley, returned home Wednes-

The Red Cross

The annual Red Cross membership drive is on. This organization has done much for the world in the way of relief, so that its work speaks for itself. The field of activity during the war was spectacular and real, but the suffering of the world in normal times outbalances the staggering figures of war. Disease, famine, pestilence, earthquake, still take their toll, and as long as they do, the Red Cross is a necessity. It is hoped that our people will respond to the call of Mrs. Aspengren, who again has the canvass in charge.

Community Hall Sold

Papers conveying Community League hall to the Roman Catholics were passed Monday. With the approaching completion of the Lawrence Memorial hall, the need of the hall is not what it was and the directors thought it wise to dispose of the same at this time. The sale was made subject to the lease of the town of the lower rooms of the hall now being used for school purposes.

For the last six years the hall has been in control of the Belchertown Community League Inc., an organization formed in 1916 to buy and care for the property, which had been used as a Baptist church.

It was early in December, 1915, that the Board of Trade appointed a committee to go ahead with the project of securing stockholders for the new enterprise. The response to the appeal for subscriptions was quite generous, but due to some dissention, and a desire for an excuse on the part of some, many of the pledges went unredeemed, so that the enterprise was financially hampered from the start.

Moving picture equipment was installed and during most of the time since, pictures have been shown. And on many occasions the hall has been used for community entertainments, providing a very home-like meeting place. The hall was used a number of times during the war, when the government loans

State School Plant Developing

With the transfer Wednesday of seventy-five boys from the Wrentham State school to Belchertown State school, the local institution begins to take on considerable activity. This will be increasingly manifest as the days pass. Next week a consignment comes from both Wrentham and Waverly, and about January first probably about 250 girls will also be transferred.

All summer long work has been going on at the school grounds, and while only one building is actually in its finished state (the K building) others are nearing completion, so that considerable progress has been made.

The K and L buildings are boys' dormitories and are of brick construction. These are on the westerly section of the grounds and are of similar interior arrangement. On the easterly side of the property are two girls' dormitories approaching completion, also of brick, while in between are employees' cottages, one of which is now being used.

The laundry is a very large building, and while all the space will eventually be needed for that purpose, extra room will be used temporarily for school rooms and an assembly hall.

The one-story building on the spur track of the railroad is now being used for offices, commissary department and storage, but when the institution gets into full swing, it will be used only for the latter. By that time other buildings will have been erected to take care of these various departments.

The power house is located to the north of the K building and is functioning. This will supply heat to all the buildings on the grounds.

To enumerate the various buildings now comprising the group, one might get the idea that the whole project was simply a matter of bricks and mortar and that its chief purpose was to provide for the expenditure of the state's money, of which Belchertown people seem to be getting a fair share. But when one has talked with those who are in charge of the institution and has

Armistice Day Observance

Armistice day was appropriately observed last Friday. While the attendance was not what it was on the first armistice day, the ideals expressed were equally as ennobling. An orchestra had been engaged to furnish music for the occasion, but it failed to keep the appointment.

The American Legion and Woman's Auxiliary marched to the Honor board where the following program was rendered: Prayer, Stanley Blackmer; placing of wreath to soldier dead, Edward Parent; reading, "In Flander's Fields", Mrs. A. D. Moore, Jr.

The line then marched into the church, which was trimmed with flags and bunting, Miss M. Louise Allen presiding at the organ. Prayer was offered by Rev. D. L. Hilliard, followed by a solo by Mrs. Gildemeister. H. H. Ward, chairman of the selectmen, then made brief remarks, making mention of Chauncey Walker for whom the post was named.

Prof. Allen of the B. H. S. was the next speaker. He showed how no nation at the present time can be independent. He rehearsed the story of German efficiency and aggression and the part the allies played in meeting it. He said that Germany shook the world but she failed in her purpose. In closing he said, "Would that the fear of and possibility of war might be removed," and regretted the fact that no pact had been drawn up satisfactory to all peoples so that this hope might be realized.

After another selection by Mrs. Gildemeister, Supt. A. R. Lewis spoke of the gathering war clouds and of America's stupendous accomplishments. In referring to the flag he said we should doff our hats as it passes and display it from our buildings, but we must remember that the flag is an emblem of our country and that there are other ways we can dishonor it besides failing to honor it by observing forms. He who breaks the law dishonors it, he who fails to lead a clean life dishonors it, he who cheats dishonors it. He gave a call gone into the rooms which the boys and girls will occupy, the human element displaces any commercial attitude, and one is glad that he lives in a state that faces the facts of life and does what it can to meet the need of those who have been side-tracked in our public school system.

Here boys and girls, old in years yet young in intellect, find sympathetic surroundings that tend to give them every possible opportunity to become useful in the world and to become more efficient than would otherwise be the case.

The K building, now occupied by the boys just transferred, is really alluring. Here one of more normal propensities might find suggestions to greater health and happiness. The pictures in the large and sunny day room are inescapable voices calling one to noble living; the play yard, entered from this room, beckons one to a wonderful view of the Holyoke range and gorgeous sunsets, while the sleeping rooms with their immaculate cleanliness and wealth of sun and fresh air leave nothing to be desired to bring refreshing sleep. Appropriate reading matter is also on hand, an industrial department is being established and special rooms are provided for those who are sick. In this building 145 children can be provided for. In one room alone there are 35 beds. Sanitary equipment of the best type has been installed in the buildings with an abundance of fresh water pumped from artesian wells near Jabish brook to a mammoth storage tank on the top of Belchertown hill.

As time goes by, the needs of the children of the institution will be more fully met. Schools will be opened as soon as possible, entertainments will be provided, and religious services for children of all faiths will be held.

When one considers that only thirty per cent. of the construction is under way, that eventually the institute will care for 1,800 children, making necessary 400 employees, that for every two dormitories an employees' cottage is necessary, one gets a bit of an idea of what the coming of the State school means.

That the work will be carried on as fast as possible is judged by the fact that the other schools of the state have "overflow" pupils and enough on their waiting lists to maintain the school here at its maximum capacity.

Massachusetts has more of these institutions, we are told, than many other states, not because she has more people of this class but because she is taking care of them. The number is not increasing as the years go by, but the unfortunate are being recognized and helped in the early stages. Cases of children three years behind in school work in this state are investigated to see if they could be helped in schools of this kind.

Here then in our midst is an institution whose very existence is made possible by an advanced civilization. Here will be gathered through the years those who by their very circumstances ask for special opportunities and privileges. And here also will come those who have a sympathetic understanding of the needs of the unfortunate and will give their years in an effort to help them.

Because of these conditions there should be, and we feel that there is, a growing dignity in the words, "Belchertown State School," and a growing friendship between the supervisors of the institution and the townspeople.

Dr. McPherson, head of the school, has on several occasions voiced this dignity and this friendship and his senior associate physician, Dr. Wadkins, who has had several years' experience in the Meason State Hospital, is no less anxious that this growing group of buildings that face the hill top shall indicate a friendliness that will develop through the years.

THE CONCERT

It was a very friendly audience that greeted the artists presented by Heldner & Son, Inc., of Holyoke and Springfield, Wednesday evening. A varied program was given of organ, piano, violin, bass solos, etc. Seven musicians contributed to the evening's enjoyment, all being cordially received. Intended to advertise the Heldner concern, one was, however, not conscious of any motive but to furnish a program of excellence.

Mr. Campbell, the soloist, has the reputation of being the best baritone in western Massachusetts and all on the program were artists of merit. The proceeds go to the Federated church.

To acquire an education is not simply to possess a certain amount of information called facts. Neither is it to train the intellect to reason, and decide questions of judgment. These are important elements and cannot be neglected, but are only a part, and a small part of education. To be educated is to have the whole life trained and developed so that every part shall supply its quota in making the perfect life. This can not be done if we neglect the element of religion in our education. "To produce character, education must call to her assistance religion," Roosevelt said, "To educate a man in mind and not in morals is to educate a menace to society."

"The need of the hour is not more factories, or materials, nor more railroads or steamships, nor more armies, or navies, but rather more education based on the plain teachings of Jesus. We are willing to give our property and even our lives when our country calls in time of war. Yet the call of Christian education is today of even greater importance than was ever the call of the army or navy. I say this because we shall probably never live to see America attacked from without, but we may at any time see our best institutions attacked from within.

Coal is a necessity. So is Life Insurance. But isn't it strange that the man who never fails to place his order in April for his winter supply of coal because of the monthly increase in price will put off taking Life Insurance year after year notwithstanding the fact that he knows he must pay more for it as he grows older. The family of the man who neglects Life Insurance too long may not have any money with which to buy coal if anything should happen to him.

"I am not offering Christian education as a protector of property, because nearly all the great progressive and liberal movements of history have been born in the hearts of Christian educators. I do, however, insist that the safety of our sons and daughters as they go out on the streets this very night is due to the influence of the preachers rather than to the influence of the policemen and lawmakers. Yes, the safety of our nation, including all groups, depends on Christian education."—Roger Babson.

The Coming Sociable

To renew one's youth is more or less a perennial problem, but it is especially so at this particular time. The "children's party" next Monday evening in the chapel, of all who have passed the age of sixteen, is appealing to people's imagination, and it is simply a problem of whether one dares to carry out what he has in mind. He wants to but he is wondering what the other fellow will do. But to all reports, courage is fast rising.

The management will give prizes to the most appropriately attired "boy" and "girl" as well as to one of each sex who will speak the best "piece." So hunt up your "choice selections." All are requested to bring pencils.

Grange Notes

The Grange Annual Supper, which is somewhat of a family affair, will be held at Grange hall, Tuesday, Nov. 21st, at 6.30 p. m., previous to the election of officers at 8. Every Granger come and bring something nice for supper.

Vernon Lodge Inspection

Masonic hall was filled to overflowing last Friday evening on the occasion of the annual inspection by District Deputy Alvan R. Lewis and suite. This was the first meeting after the remodeling of the hall, which has just been completed. The ceiling has been raised three feet, new lights have been installed and a number of improvements made.

About three hundred people were present, including many from out of town. Wor. Bro. E. E. Hobson of Palmer presented Vernon Lodge with a gavel made from a piece of the Washington elm in Palmer. Under this tree it is said that George Washington rested while on his way from Delaware to Cambridge. Mr. Hobson happily remarked in his presentation that Washington was a Mason, that his home was in Mt. Vernon and that it was a mecca for Masons, as in like manner, the local Lodge, similarly named, is a mecca for those in the 19th Masonic district.

The ladies of the O. E. S. furnished supper. With this inspection, A. R. Lewis and suite completed the rounds of the seven lodges in this district.

ELECTION TUESDAY

Vernon Lodge, at the meeting Tuesday evening, elected the following officers for 1923: F. Dudley Walker, —continued from page 1— were being put over and when the war spirit was being promoted.

Perhaps the hall came the nearest to meeting the desires of its promoters when the Community club fitted up rooms in the basement for its meetings and planned to render a real community service in the matter of rest rooms, the dispensing of school lunches, etc. But the burning of the High school building made it imperative to abandon this project as the space was needed for temporary school purposes, and three rooms were fitted up for the town's use.

While the hall will not be needed for school quarters much longer, it has appeared doubtful whether the town could support as many public buildings as it would shortly have.

Furthermore, the Catholics, to whom the property was sold, were in urgent need of a church building, not only by reason of their growing constituency locally, but in some measure by the coming of the State school. The new owners are setting to work at once to put the building in condition for use and will, no doubt, make it an attractive property.

The Catholic Church

Much interest is manifest in the remodeling of what was Community hall into a Catholic church. A cross has been erected on the top of the building and the inside is being painted and put in good condition. The platform has been taken down and necessary alterations made.

The gift of a handsome altar, by a former resident, is announced. It is expected that this will be in position by Christmas. Although the alterations now under way will not all be completed by that time, the first service in the church will be on Sunday morning.

The proceeds of the minstrel show, which the Catholics will hold Dec. 7, will go towards the remodeling fund.

The Grange will hold another dance next Tuesday night.

American Legion Notes

A dance will be held in the Park View hotel Thursday night, Nov. 30, under the auspices of the American Legion and Woman's Auxiliary. We can give you the security of good music, a good time and a clean dance.

So come Thursday night. Dancing from 8-12. Tickets, per couple $1.00; gentlemen 75 cents; extra ladies 50 cents.

The Fox Hunt

The local sportsman's club held its first hunt of the season last Saturday. Members of the Quabog club of Palmer bagged a fox in Barrett's section. The locals started two; one "holed up" soon and the other evidently decided there were too many out looking for his pelt, since he led off across from Billing's pasture section to Swift river below Baggs'.

Some twenty hunters were put.

—A The next meeting of the club will be held the second Monday in December, when it is hoped a venison supper will be forthcoming. The club is increasing its list of members and is in a prosperous condition.

The Children's Party

No entertainment was needed at the Get-together sociable Monday evening. Each one coming in the door was a new number and a candidate for a grand march up the center aisle. Never was a program more varied, never were styles more fetching. Curly hair and braided hair and flowing hair and bobbed hair were all there, flowing down the backs of the feminine who have yet something up their sleeve when it comes to retaining youthful appearance. Graduation dresses and other dresses that have been graduated from, were the order of the evening.

The men were not far behind, or below either, for that matter. Most of them had their trousers Dutch cut so as to clear the bending line, while socks, gorgeous neckties, caps and collars completed the passing show.

But dress was not all that was affected. One miss brought her hoop, one little man his school book and dinner pail, while all brought a playfulness appropriate to the occasion. Some played quietly, some played hard, some played boisterously. It took a while to get the orchestra tuned up to concert pitch, but when it did there was some real fun.

Buildings Progressing

Just a year ago the 8th of this month, the High school building burned to the ground. Many who watched it burn, could with difficulty refrain from being a bit sentimental by reason of the fact that the rooms in which they toiled and played were going up in smoke.

But today on the same spot a building is nearing completion, and opposite the Post-office another is under way, all of which makes one wonder whether, after all, the kind hand of Providence was not in it all.

Let one travel up the old school lane now and he will be greeted by a one-story modern school building of brick construction, that is not only slightly in appearance, but on investigation of its interior, proves to be convenient, well lighted, well ventilated and most sanitary.

Going in at the front door, one enters a long hall leading into the assembly room which runs a good portion of the length of the building on the north side. This is a room in which children coming in from the districts on cold busses, and others as well, can get warm, and where they can play on stormy days without being compelled to use the regular class rooms which are located on the south side of the building, two on each side of the main entrance. The two center ones can also be reached by passing through the cloak rooms flanking either side of the entrance hall. Cloak rooms for the two end rooms, and toilets are located to the rear of these respective rooms.

A teachers' room is at the western end of the assembly hall, while beside that is a door leading to the basement where is installed a large steam boiler from which uncovered pipes lead through the air space beneath the floor to the various radiators. This gives warm floors without excavating a basement the whole length of the building.

Both direct and indirect heating has been installed. The indirect heating accomplished by the forced circulation of hot air in the ventilator shafts wherein are located a special type of radiators. This method has worked out successfully in other

school buildings and so was put in here.

In fact the building is thoroughly modern in every respect, and, as before stated, when one goes through it, the old building fades in comparison. The rooms are 11 feet high and have a wealth of light by means of large windows. The class rooms are of a capacity sufficient to accommodate 40 pupils and the assembly hall is about as large as two of the class rooms combined.
At the eastern end of the assembly hall is a platform which can be used for a stage in case an entertainment is given.

We said that this building is nearing completion. The plastering is done, the blackboards are up, a good portion of the radiators are in place, although not connected, most of the toilet facilities are in shape,
etc., etc.

The woodwork, walls and ceiling are yet to receive their finishing coats. Electrical and water connections are getting into shape but are not fully completed. Because the town has not yet secured a water supply, a pressure tank system is being installed. An arrangement has been made with F. D. Walker to obtain water from his deep well.
Pipes from the well to the building
were laid Wednesday.

It is hoped that with the opening of school after the Christmas vacation this new building will be ready for use and will be appropriately christened for a long period of usefulness.

Although the Lawrence Memorial hall and High school will not be ready for use for a long time yet, still the progress made since work
was begun is quite remarkable.
Were it not for the fact that a wrongly lettered stone was placed over the door-way (through no fault of the committee) the building would have been enclosed, as far as the walls and roof are concerned.
As it is, all but the front is at this stage of completion, and with the arrival of the right stone yesterday, it is possible to complete this part of the work at once.

No great amount of work has been done on the interior, the idea being to get the building in shape for approaching winter. But as one goes through the building at its present stage he is struck with the abundance of room which the structure will afford and all the conveniences which will be available. This will be greatly appreciated because for a long time the High school has been cramped. In fact all the schools have been limited, especially since the fire.

Comparing the two new buildings
with the old center school building, half as many more rooms again will be available. But space alone is not all. The promise of the best in school equipment as far as the town is concerned, is an advertisement that will be more and more widely read as the days pass.

And the town is fortunate, as we have said before, that it has men of business ability, who are freely giving their time to the overseeing of this important building program. If they can help it, Belchertown people will have no bitter pangs of regret when the work is completed and the bills paid.

During the absence in the west of W. F. Nichols, the former efficient chairman of the board and still a member, G. E. Scott is filling the position and is guiding the project with a thoroughness that time only will vindicate.

Ladies Social Union
Notes

All are asked to bear in mind the Social Union supper and sale this evening. Oysters (stew or scolloped) are on the menu and probably something equally as good is on the program for the entertainment which follows. An opportunity is also afforded to buy aprons, holders, etc., from the ladies' society which has been busy of late, making these and similar gift articles.

This event will take place in the chapel, supper being served from 6.30 to 8 o'clock.

The ice seemed to crack when the peanut bag busted. Several attempts were made by blindfolded children to slash it with a stick to no avail, but finally it was torn from its moorings by main force by one of the more venturesome girls.

Speaking of girls, the "little Ketchen girls" certainly "took". Their rendering of "Billy Boy" and other kindred selections captivated all ages. The recitations, too, were great. The nervous bows, the self-conscious manner, the simple themes, were all manifest and were rendered by those who have learned to do better. Ruthie Baggs carried off first honors for the girls while Bertie Shaw secured a rubber ball for his production.

The picture gallery of some of the "old timers" in the days of real youth, were carefully inspected and the tell-tale lines of recognition discovered. Here the women folks shone. Mrs. Curtis and Miss Irene Jackson carried off the honors—and the monkey. The contest of "states" also attracted the studios as did the "advertising" scheme. "What's on a penny" aroused curiosity, while the musical drawings drew ready guessers.

The committee put on a number or two themselves. Miss Richardson favored the audience with some vocal solos, while the village editor had the children fill in promiscuously deleted words in an original story of preceding sociables.

The evening was far too short for all that was scheduled, but refreshments were not omitted. Partners found the other half of their picture and lined up for doughnuts, cheese and coffee, also a "jolly"

The crowd had begun to dwindle before the judges were able to pick out the nicest boy and the best girl, they were all such a prize-winning lot. But Harold Peck and Emma Green seemed best to meet the requirements, so the whistle and what not went to them.

Thus ended another sociable, perhaps not the best, perhaps not the poorest, but one pretty nice, anyway.

The annual meeting and roll call of the Congregational church will be held in the chapel Friday evening, Dec. 1. The Social Guild will serve supper at 6 o'clock and the business meeting and roll call will follow. All those in town identified with the Congregational church are invited to be present.

The trustees in a letter sent out to their constituency are seeking to raise an amount of money to cover the cost of repairs recently completed on the parsonage. It is hoped that with the annual business meeting the campaign will come to a successful conclusion.

Supper and Sale

It was an ideal night for oysters if not for a crowd last Friday night, but quite a number came out as it was, to the Ladies' Social Union supper and sale. The sale was quite successful. Only a little over a month ago the ladies held a sale of considerable proportions, but the market seems to be good for such articles, as was evidenced by the quite general clearing out of all the material they have made since that date.

The "mystery corner" found plenty of the curious willing to pay ten cents for a red package or five cents for a green package and ask no questions.

The entertainment was quite mirth-provoking, especially the parts taken by the young people. Solos, duets, monologues, recitations, etc., formed a varied program which was rendered as follows:

Piano solo, Mrs. Wm. Shaw
Recitation, Ellen Jepson
Making Dolly's Dresses.

Song, Barbara Elliott
7 children

Monologue, Harlan Davis
Recitation, Alice Hussey

Solo, Miss Richardson
Harry's Mistake, May Button

Recitation, Louis Fuller
Washing Day, Ola Campbell

Solo, Miss Richardson
Recitation, Ellen Jepson

Duet, Louis Fuller, Ola Campbell

The Center Grammar school also had a booth where orders were taken for mottoes, cards and other articles.

Thanksgiving Home Comings

Thanksgiving was not what it was a year ago. Then the town was in the grip of an ice storm of almost unprecedented proportions, while this year the most moderate climate imaginable prevailed. But physical conditions do not make Thanksgiving. The day brings home the "children" no matter what the weather.

Belchertown, like thousands of other towns, was the scene of reunions galore. We had begun to enumerate the various get-togethers of people in the center, but their names are legion.

The Bartletts, the Greens, the Shumways, the Hazens, the Shaws, etc., etc., have had reunions, until Thanksgiving would hardly be Thanksgiving without them, but as the years have passed, new families have come and while they have not always been of what has been termed the old New England stock, still the family ties hold and Thanksgiving calls back those who have wandered from the old firesides.

The greetings of those home from school and college have brightened many a conversation on the street during this Thanksgiving season, adding new emphasis to the idea that there is a larger family—the community family—to which we all belong, the members of which as in the smaller groups, desire to be here, to be together and to think well of one another.

The Church and the Community

Rev. D. L. Hilliard spoke on "The Church and the Community" last Sunday morning, and while some of his remarks were general in their application, he offered some specific suggestions relative to the situation here. He said that the old-time New England community had passed, never to return. That was a community of families with similar aspirations, whereas today we have communities of people with

Farmers Win

"Usually I get up early enough to get my milk up here in time for the truck but this morning they had to telephone me to bring it up." The speaker did not explain that he had already brought his milk up at the regular hour, only to take it all home again. Why? A strike! Yes, and by the farmers. The worm is slowly turning.

The regular truckman announced this morning a rise of two cents a can for transportation of milk to Holyoke, which would mean $5.00 per load more, an increase which seemed uncalled for even though they had been promised a cent a quart more for their milk. The milk men stood out; the truck went back to Holyoke with no milk.

A couple of hours later the same truck, steaming hot, surrounded by the usual number of teams and cars at the south end of the common, was loading on milk by the canful.

Was it fancy, or did the milk men step a bit livelier and hold their heads a little higher? Did we imagine it or was there really a lurking smile of satisfaction among the onlookers that at last the farmer was coming into his own?

Minstrel Show

Dec. 6

The minstrel show for the benefit of the Catholic church, previously scheduled for next Thursday, will be given in the town hall next Wednesday evening. The show will be put on by members of the Holy Rosary school of Holyoke, who gave it in that city Thursday and Friday evenings of this week. Friday morning's papers said that at Thursday evening's show, standing room was at a premium.

The entertainment is varied. The proceeds go to swell the fund being raised for repairs on the Catholic church, now being put into condition.

The Good of All

We have been accustomed to think that it is good to fight for one's rights. The time has come for us to have a new philosophy, namely, to fight together for the good of all.

By saying this we are not inferring that we should do away with all class distinctions. The tendency is all in the other direction. New class distinctions are arising every day. There are new cleavages in society. Society is more and more broken up.

But we do contend that any class, whether the capital class or the labor class, is greatly in error when it has no program other than to secure its own rights. Its program should be large enough to include the welfare of all classes. No class should set up a dictatorship.
Capital should not set up a dictatorship over labor, nor labor over capital. That day ought to have passed. Did not the World war teach us the folly of any nation assuming the dictatorship?

The world has become very small. We are now just one neighborhood. And just as there can be no peace on a street when one family sets itself up as a dictator, so there can be no world peace
when one nation or one class lords it over others. This world is an interdependent world and we must now fight for our neighbor's good as well as our own.

This means that among the varied classes of people there must not be hatred and jealousy, but brotherliness and good will. And if we are to build up good will among the divisions of society we must invest in good will ourselves.

Let none of us wait till some other class invests in good will. Why wait for others? Why not take the initiative? Why not lead in the matter? Others will see the value of our good will and will begin to exercise good will themselves. We can build a stable world on good will.

The Federated Church

Rev. D. L. Hilliard, Pastor

Some one has said that the three pillars which uphold civilization are the home, the church and the school. These institutions are so related and dependent one upon the other that none would long endure without the others. They have become such a matter of course with us that we do not consider it possible for danger to threaten any of them. Yet the most dangerous time is when we are least conscious of the danger.

The best way to guard against a possible danger is to keep in vital and sympathetic touch with such an institution as our schools.

The coming week has been designated as School Week, that the people might take a deeper interest in what the school is and what its real meaning is to the country. In furthering this idea, arrangements have been made to have a platform meeting Sunday evening in the church, when the following subjects will be discussed:

The School and the Home

The School and the Church

The School and the Community.

The School and the State

The singing for the meeting will be by the scholars of the schools.

Show your interest in the schools
by attending the meeting.

Girl Scout Party

The Girl Scouts of Troop II gave, their captain, Miss Ella A. Stebbins, a very pleasant birthday surprise Wednesday evening. Invited to come to the Scout rooms at six o'clock, she found before the blazing fireplace a long table laden with good things and the regulation birthday cake in the center. Appetizing odors of hot soup and cocoa filled the air while the walls resounded to a chorus of "Many happy birthdays."

After supper games old and new made the time pass quickly until nine o'clock when one of the very nicest of birthday parties came to an end.

The Stone House

Notes by Miss Lucy D. Thomson

OTHERS WHO HAVE LIVED IN THIS HOUSE

Dr. Horatio Thomson, for a while when his house was being repaired and altered; his son, Dr. George F.
Thomson, was born here Jan. 9, 1833.

Rev. Mr. Clancy 1845-1849.

Mr. Worcester Longley who moved when Mrs. Justus Dwight returned about 1851.

Mr. Joshua Longley.

Mrs. Mark Doolittle after her husband's death.

Mr. Humphrey Filer.

Mrs. M. D. S. Longley.

Mr. Earl Baldwin, principal of the High school. His oldest child,
William, was born here.

Mr. F. J. Demond, principal of the High school.

Rev. Mr. Oviatt boarded here awhile, probably in 1838.

Mr. William Sanford and Carrie (Hawkes) Sanford.

Mrs. Harriet Holland and her daughter, Dorothy Holland.

Sophie Brown Thomson spent two winters here with Mr. Estes Sanford's family, 1851 and 1852.
Mr. Sanford had, with his brother-in-law, Mr. Thomas Clark, signed notes backing a company that believed stockings could be made by machine instead of by hand. Of course such a preposterous scheme failed and people continued to knit stockings, but the settling the affairs of the company was a slow affair and until the creditors were satisfied Mr. Sanford could not go on with business in his own name.

The Rev. Calvin Foote, first principal of the Classical School, 1835, is said to have boarded here with the Dwigths. Later he had a school at Newburgh, N. Y., and Clara Dwight, who was considered the beauty of the family, as well as being one of Mary Lyons' students at South Hadley Seminary (Mount Holyoke College) went there as a teacher, and Delia Dwight as a scholar.

DESCRIPTION

At the time it was built the house looked very much as it does in the small photograph in our collection, having a small porch in the Greek colonial style then popular, a picket fence surrounding the grounds. The two south rooms were connected by wide folding doors so that they could be used as one; later a partition was built which was removed when the house was altered for the Historical Association. In the latter part of Mrs. Root's life the old porch was removed and a piazza with turned posts built; this also was removed and a porch of the type of the original one built with trellises as before with new transom sash. Later the old small paned windows were changed for twelve paned sash; these have also been restored; two windows in the rear fortunately were not changed, so the original muntins etc could be seen. Other slight changes were made in the house from time to time to adapt it to the use of two families; a second pair of cellar stairs, which were removed, together with the back stairs which were probably not in the original plan.

In altering the house for the use of the Association the west windows in the southwest rooms, 1st and 2nd floors, were closed and fireplaces and cupboards built. At the time the house was built, Franklin stoves were considered much more desirable and the south rooms had one at each end of the house (east and west walls.) In the library and dining room, cupboards given by Mr. Stebbins were put in and the mantels in the Stebbins Room and over the dining room were old ones given by him.

The dining room was chosen as the Dwight Room, as several good pieces of old dining room furniture, china, pewter, etc were bequeathed
by the Dwight estate; unless otherwise marked or recorded the exhibits in that room belonged in the Dwight family. The mantel was from the old Noble Hannum house, torn down when Mrs. M. D. S. Longley built her house on the site; the tile are similar to those once in the Dunbar house on Federal St., the home of Charles Dunbar, brother of Mrs. Elizabeth Dunbar Dwight (Mrs.
Nathaniel Dwight Sr.) These and the Franklin stove were bought at the time of the alterations.

The floor is painted in a style varying objectives. This has a tendency to form cliques and groups with diverse interests.

Rev. Mr. Hilliard said that what is needed is a program large enough to enlist the support of all, rather than something that will meet the approval of a particular group. He advocated using one church for special community service, something that the average man would recognize and appreciate, especially new-comers. Here was an opportunity, he thought, for the church to reach out its hand to help.

Mr. Hilliard was not unmindful of the main mission of the church to preach salvation from sin and the gospel of good news, but he would not have lost sight of this added responsibility of ministering in a social way. He maintained that the church should help shape the ideals of a community and called to attention some instances where civic pride would be good. He said that people usually had pride in the past but were rather weak on pride in the present. He hoped that the new school building and memorial hall with their fine architecture would awaken so much pride in the townspeople that they would clean and beautify their own buildings and surroundings. He would also have the churches and sheds in such condition that they could be pointed to with pride.

Constructive in his attitude to all community projects, he declared himself against those whose habit it is to tear down with no thought of rebuilding.

Choir Organizer Surprised

Marcenus Alden of Ludlow was given a surprise party Tuesday evening by the members of the choir, the occasion being Mr. Alden's birthday. 29 years ago Mr. Alden started the Methodist choir with E. E. Gay, C. W. Morse and Harry Conkey. Tuesday evening the same quartet rendered several songs. Mr. Alden was presented a gold piece and a bunch of carnations. Refreshments were served.

Another Surprise

About fifteen young people gathered at the home of Miss Emma Dodge of Federal St. at 7.30 o'clock on Saturday evening. Miss Dodge, who was away at the time, came home to find as she turned on the lights, a room filled with people, a complete surprise.

The young people enjoyed a very pleasant evening, leaving behind them as birthday remembrances, many useful gifts.

Miss Dodge, who has been employed in Springfield, now has a position in the office at the State school.

Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin G. Ayres of Ludlow celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Arthur W. Thayer. Dinner was served to the immediate family. Mr. Ayres's brother, Charles, and family of this town, were guests. The china used at the dinner was 110 years old, having been in the possession of Mrs. Ayres's family since her mother was a child.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ayres came from old New England stock. Mrs. Ayres was born in town, the daughter of Porter and Amanda King Bridgman, whose families settled early in this place. She was born March 23, 1846, and, until her marriage to Mr. Ayres, always lived here.

Mr. Ayres was born in Ware, November 29, 1846. He was the son

The Schools

The schools and their relation to other institutions was the subject considered at the platform meeting last Sunday evening, when A. R. Lewis, Superintendent of schools, Thomas Allen, Principal of the High school, Rev. D. L. Hilliard and L. H. Blackmer spoke on the different relationships. The school children rendered several selections under the direction of Mrs. A. C. Gildemeister, teacher or music in the center schools.

A. R. Lewis spoke on "The School and the State." He said in part: State officials are very seldom seen, but they are a force always to be reckoned with.

First there is the State Board of Education consisting of six members appointed by the Governor, with the Commissioner of Education, at present Payson Smith, at the head. These six members are called the advisory committee under Dr. Smith.

Then there is a director of elementary, high and normal schools with six agents under him, a director of rural teaching with four agents and eleven assistants, a director of University Extension with three agents under him, and 46 others employed in different lines of school work and directly connected with the schools, in all 90 state officials, not to mention those indirectly connected with the schools.

It is the policy of the state to make rural education equal to that in the larger towns and cities. The power of the directors and agents is regulated by law, so that the work of the Board of Education is largely legislative, introducing bills to promote education.

Some of the laws already in force relate to: inspection of all new school buildings. No new school building can be erected until the plans are approved by the state. The Bible must be read without comment at the opening of school. Certain subjects must be taught; such are Civics and United States History. There must be a school physician and a school nurse. Another law relates to the

The Minstrel Show

The minstrel show Wednesday evening, given for the benefit of the new Catholic church, was a decided success, by reason of the excellence of the program and of the patronage it secured. The town hall was packed with an audience most enthusiastic in its reception of all the numbers. The six end-men, with their local hits, kept the crowd on edge with their wit.

The soloists were all singers of ability and their selections appropriate. Walter C. Moynihan was interlocutor and Miss Catherine Smiddy, pianist.

The entertainment was in two parts. The first was by the entire company, while the second part consisted of quartets, solos and comedy acts, equally appreciated.

The show was given by the St. Aloysius sodality of the Holy Rosary school of Holyoke, where it was given twice last week to big audiences.

Grange Notes

The next meeting of Union Grange will be held Dec. 19. It is the annual Christmas entertainment in charge of the new members and officers. The members attending are asked to bring a present of no great cost, securely wrapped and tied, which will be hung on the tree or distributed in some unique manner as Santa Claus may direct. Other pleasures designed to promote sociability will be the order of the evening.

George H. B. Green, M. A. Morse and E. C. Howard led in discussion of the question, "What are the most important questions before the New England farmer today?" at the meeting Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Witt, A. R. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Green and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Putnam, who take part in the pageant given by Hampshire County Pomona, are among those who expect to go to Boston Tuesday for that event. The pageant will also be given at Stockbridge hall Amherst, Dec. 30.

transportation of pupils living two or more miles from school. The minimum salary of teachers is also regulated by law. Teachers used to receive as little as $5 per week.
Now the minimum salary is $750 per year. The state has also arranged it so that any teacher may take a Normal school course by correspondence and receive her diploma without giving up her teaching. Two in this town are taking such a course.

Naturally all this means increased expenditures, so the state has passed laws to help the towns meet this increase. For every elementary school teacher, the state pays from $350 to $450 of her salary.
For every high school teacher we receive from the state from $550 to $650. Two-thirds of the superintendent's salary and expenses is paid by the state, $1350 being received here for this item. The state also pays for the tuition and transportation of state wards. In addition to all this the town receives a certain portion of the Income Tax fund, which amounts to about $6,600 for this town.

We complain of the cost of our schools. They really cost us very much less than ever before, considering the increased cost of everything. We ought to be thankful that the state is helping us out and making it possible for those in small towns and rural districts to enjoy the same privileges that are accorded those in larger communities.

Prof. Allen spoke on "The School and the Community." He said that in spite of the shortcomings of teacher, superintendent and committee, the school is progressing,

yet he enumerated other shortcomings such as absence, lack of home study, no home help such as a quiet room, discussion of school and teacher in the presence of scholars.

Mr. Allen branded as "twaddle" the idea that our scholars are not as good as those of thirty or forty years ago. He said eminent men of the olden days would be lost in a sea of men today; their equals or superiors.

Mr. Allen bespoke for an interest in the school that would last longer than while your children were attending, and as to visiting school, he said, "I have been here going on ten years and I venture to say that not twice ten parents have visited school during that time, omitting special occasions." He advocated these visits, especially from the student's standpoint.

Regarding playground apparatus and physical training, he spoke many words in their favor, believing that a scholar would do much better work because of them.

Mr. Allen showed how educational advantages contributed to a better and more orderly citizenship, telling how disorders in Mexico were due to lack of intelligence on the part of the populace.

In closing, Mr. Allen spoke a word to the boys and girls. He said, "Some, I fear, are merely drifting, hoping to get through grade or high school along the line of least resistance. A few years more and some of such pupils will be merely holding down a job. Doing just enough to get by, watching for five o'clock, doing just as little as the day demands will not put them in line for promotion. You know what will be required, you know that you will put all your energy and zeal into the task, that you want to make good when you get out, then begin by making good now. Get the habit and appreciate what it will bring."

In the absence of E. Clifton Witt, who was scheduled to speak on The School and the Home, Rev.
D. L. Hilliard offered a few remarks on this topic. From his experience as town superintendent for four years, he ventured the observation that the best schools to be found were those most closely related to the home. He had found that visits to the home were necessary to bring a consciousness of the value of the home to the school. He said, "The interest of parents in the school makes the teacher."

He felt that the home should have a better appreciation of the teacher. "In our table talk, do we bring out the value of the school and the teacher? Is the child taught to respect the teacher or do we criticize? Your interest in the school should center in the teacher and she should be appreciated by the home."

Rev. Mr. Hilliard also stated that the home would not exist without the school. He told of visiting homes in the mountains of Kentucky. The children were as bright as any children but they had had no schooling. The homes degraded, one-room cabins, a slab-shelf with a few dishes, beds hardly worthy of the name, a fireplace for cooking and heat, all the family in one room together. After the children had been away at school, they came home to build additions to the cabin and get beds and curtain off rooms. The training of the schools had created different ideals.

Mr. Hilliard closed with again emphasizing the home influence in supporting the teacher and helping her carry out her program. "Don't criticize your teachers. Go to them like a man if necessary. They may not be your ideal of a teacher, but hold them up as one to be respected."

They were married in Ware December 3, 1872, by Rev. Mr. Tuttle of the Congregational church. After the wedding they lived in Belchertown several years. While here Mr. Ayres conducted a business as a building contractor, a calling he followed many years, having been employed in the construction of many of the buildings in Hampshire county.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayres moved to Ludlow Center about nine years ago. They lived there until 1916, when they moved to the village and took up their residence at the home of their son-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayres were the recipients of many gifts of flowers, china and gold coins. The couple was also tendered a post card shower. Many called during the day to offer congratulations.

Annual Church Meeting

The annual business meeting and roll call of the Congregational church was held in the chapel last week Friday evening. While sickness prevented the attendance usual at such gatherings, there were many who availed themselves of the privilege of meeting around the home church circle.

The Social Guild served a bounteous supper which was followed soon after by a business meeting over which A. R. Lewis presided.

The various officers and chairmen of committees reported on the work of the past year. H. F. Peck, for the trustees, told of the work done at the parsonage this past season and of the effort being made to meet all obligations in connection therewith. The treasurer gave an itemized account of all the expenditures. The ladies' organizations reported their activities.

The roll call brought forth responses from three former pastors, Rev. W. S. Woolworth, Rev. E. P. Kelly and Rev. H. P. Rankin, besides a dozen or more letters from laymen from out of town.

Rev. D. L. Hilliard spoke a word about the missionary apportionment and, on his recommendation, the church voted to fix the same at $600, instead of $1,250, as hitherto.

In Memoriam, compiled by Mrs. M. D. S. Longley, and read by Miss Marion Bartlett, told of the loss of two members this year, Mrs. Underwood who died in Northampton, and Mrs. Stacy who died in Albany, N. Y.

The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:

Deacon for 8 years, A. H. Bartlett, Clerk,
Mrs. H. F. Peck
Treasurer, Miss Ella A. Stebbins

Trustees,
Edward A. Randall

Time Limit Extended

The special school building committee that is attending to the erection of the new High school and Lawrence Memorial hall, met Wednesday evening and voted to grant the request of the H. P. Cummings Construction Co. of Ware to extend the time of the completion of the building from April 1 to June 1.

As no plumbing has been installed, it would not be advantageous to try to continue work, and even if such were the case, the extreme high cost of fuel would make it a very expensive proposition for the town which would have to settle all such heating bills and pay for the services of a fireman.

The committee has requested that the building be properly enclosed for the winter, the roof completed, the windows in and stagings down. It is thought that all this can be done in a comparatively short time, so that by the last of the month, the work can be definitely closed up for the winter.

The H. P. Cummings Co. have gotten along remarkably well with the building, and their work has given eminent satisfaction.

Work is progressing at the grade building. Water connections have been made with Walker's well and a pressure tank installed. This has made it possible to start the steam boiler to allow the workmen to finish their tasks. It is thought that ten days more will put the building in shape to use. Work has begun on the grading around the building.

O. W. S. Officers

Mt. Vernon Chapter, O. W. S., has elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

Worthy Matron, Mrs. Geraldine Howard
Worthy Patron, Carl Aspengren
Associate Matron, Mrs. Ninfa Collard
Secretary, Mrs. Louise Sherman

Idealism and Reality

The inference seems to be that idealism and reality cannot live together. The idealist is accused of not having his feet planted on the earth. He is oftentimes scorned on the ground that he deals with fantasies rather than with facts.

Ideals and fantasies should not be confused. A fantasy exists solely for self to be enjoyed and admired. An ideal exists not simply to be enjoyed but to be put into action. For ideals come up out of reality and return to reality. Ideals are born when men are wrestling with reality and even though the ideals may dwell in the sky, yet
the only reason why the ideal exists is in order that it may be taken down from the sky and be put into operation as soon as there is a possibility of application. An ideal does not have any existence, save as it relates itself to some definite action.

A true idealist is not impractical, as so many have imagined.
If he dreams, he dreams those kinds of dreams which are destined to become realities. The aim of the idealist is not to paint glorious pictures for their own beauty, but to set forth principles which are increasingly capable of realization.

Ideals cannot be attained in a day or a year. The ideal is always ahead of the attainment. The man is dead who attains his ideal. But ideals increasingly become real-ties. Slavery was once an ideal, now it is a reality, even though some slavery exists in the world.

Let us not pooh-pooh the ideal-ist, claiming he is a dreamer of dreams, with his eyes closed to the cold, hard facts of life. This is not true. On the contrary the ideals are those who are the world's greatest benefactors, for it is their constant endeavor to make a society in which their ideals may be put into reality. R.

The Stone House

Notes by Miss Lucy D. Thomson

The wall paper is a genuine old paper found in Connecticut.
The other wall papers are reproductions of old papers, that in the kitchen being the "Hancock Square" paper, copied from old Boston house paper, and in the room over the dining room a copy of a paper used in the Stanwood
Mansfield house in Gloucester.
The braided rug was made in accordance with the old methods by the Tide-Over League in Boston which provides work for convalescents and invalids.

One of the sideboards, the Empire style, was in the Nathaniel Dwight family; the other belonged to Myron Lawrence and Clarissa Dwight Lawrence (daughter of Col.
Henry and Ruby Rich Dwight, and aunt of the Simeon Rich Dwight who at one time lived here). This came into possession of the Longley family and from George W.
Longley to Harriette Dwight Longley.

The wooden and pewter ware belonged to the early days of the Dwight family in Belchertown.

In the kitchen, the old fireplace was re-opened and an old shelf found in the wood shed, which probably was originally used here, was re-set. The door into the library was closed.

Closets were removed from the north ends of the library and north east bedroom, and new shelving put in the old pantry (now book room).

The north east bed room now includes what was a space for storing feather beds. The old frame wood shed was removed and the end of the stone ell made into a fireproof room, a broom closet and tollet added in the rear entry, and two new windows.

The spatter work floor in the children's room was another popular style of floor painting at the period this house was built. The dolls' house was made by Estes Howe
Sanford for his daughter, Mary E.
Sanford, in 1863. Mrs. Mark Doolittle, a guest in the family at the time, made one of the cross stitton carpets (the red one) and the others were made by Mrs. Della Dwight Sanford and Sophie Brown Thomson. The silver service was brought from Paris by Mrs. Stephen Salisbury of Worcester, and the piano, clock and black and gilt furniture was also brought from Paris for this house. The doll in black belonged to the original family; the others were given by Mrs.

Arthur Hill of New Haven and redesigned in old materials.

The Stebbins room is the gift of Mr. Willard A. Stebbins, second president of the association and a descendant of Benjamin Stebbins, the first permanent settler in the town. Mr. Stebbins also gave the large cases in the parlors, in addition to his collections.

Mrs. Eliza Root was a great lover of flowers, she and Mrs. Horatio Thomson and Mrs. Henry Mellen sharing all the new seeds and shrubs they brought back from visits and introducing the first specimens of many in town. Her sister, Clara Dwight, taught in Mr.
Foote's school at Newburgh, N. Y., where Della Dwight was a pupil and they became friends of the family of A. J. Downing, the pioneer landscape gardener in America.
He sent to the Stone House a good many choice plants, among them a "black rose." White day lilies and portulacae were among the plants first seen in town in the Stone House garden, the seeds of the latter coming from Dr. Thomson's brother's home in New Haven.

The eastern border was filled with shrubs and perennials, French honeysuckle, strawberry bush,

Dutchman's Breeches, Wigollas, Bridal Wreath, Snow berries, narcissus, etc. Roses were along the west wall of the house and along the garden path that led from opposite the west door from the kitchen to the west lot line, with a grape arbor on the north side. Scotch, blush, cinnamon, York and Lancaster, and other roses, yuccas, flowering quince were also here, a trumpet vine over the west door, roses on the old trellises, a big apricot tree at the south-west corner of the house, so near that fruit could be picked from the chamber window. In the new planting about the house and along the southern part of the east border, we have preserved what remained of the old shrubs and added new shrubs of the old varieties. A number of the old fashioned roses have been given by townspeople. At the north end of the border a variety of native shrubs have been planted, sumac, elder, hobble bush, black alder, arrowwood, buckthorn wild rose, shad bush, wild pink asala, high bush cranberry, flowering dogwood, hop tree, etc., with the hope that the collection will grow there and along the west lot line until it becomes a valuable part of our New England exhibit.

Town Items

A third patrol has been formed in Girl Scout troop No. 2 with Margaret McPherson patrol leader.

The Federated Sunday School elected the following officers last Sunday: Superintendent, E. C.
Witt; 1st asst., L. H. Blackmer;
2nd asst., E. C. Howard; secretary,
Miss Alice Howard; asst. sec'y,
Andrew Ketchen; treasurer, Miss Edith Towne; asst. treasurer,
Miss Gladys Terwilliger.

E. C. Witt, who has been in Middlefield for a number of weeks superintending the building of a piece of state road, has returned to his home in town.

The Red Cross Christmas seals are on sale and can be procured from Mrs. Aspengren or from the school children of the center schools who have been provided with them. It is hoped that there will be a generous patronage.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Shaw were very pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening by their children and grandchildren who gathered in the old home to celebrate Mr. Shaw's 51st birthday.

Harold F. Davis was called to Lynn this past week by the death of his great uncle, John B. Osborne. Mr. Osborne was for years employed by the Boston and Maine railroad. He was also a G. A. R.

veteran. He leaves two sons, Fred D. of Lynn and Warren of Middleton, also a sister, Mrs. Sarah B.
Sanborn, who makes her home with Mrs. O. B. Davis.

The next Get-together sociable will be held January first.

Mrs. Myron Barton, who has been ill for some time, was taken to the Greenfield hospital last Friday for treatment.

The American Legion Auxiliary
met last evening at the home of Mrs. Aubrey Lapolice.

Capt. Cyril W. Van Cortlandt is now stationed at Headquarters, Manilla, Philippine Islands.

Miss Katherine Landers spent the week-end as the guest of her sister, Margaret, a student at Westfield Normal School.

The Woman's Relief Corps will meet next Monday at 2.30 p. m. with Mrs. Ellen Dewey. A large attendance is desired as new officers must be elected.

Tax Collector D. F. Shumway wants to notify all delinquent tax payers that their taxes are two months past due and must be paid at once.

Work on the dam which will provide a pond for skating in the center of the town, has been completed, and while the land had to be drained to do the work, up to the time of the last storm, water had begun to fill in again to quite an extent. Some of the work on the rink was done by local people, but the H. P. Cummings Co. was hired to complete the job. Subscriptions have been solicited to pay the bills, but probably more funds will be needed.

Mary Bevins was taken to the Holyoke hospital this week for an operation for appendicitis.

Dies in Warren

Mrs. Geo. I. Davis, 67, died at her home in Warren last week after an illness of four months. She was born in Belchertown May 15, 1855,
and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Frellove Jackson. In 1879 she was married to George I.
Davis in Ludlow. They made their home on Federal street in Belchertown until several years ago when they moved to Northampton and later to Warren.

Mrs. Davis leaves besides her husband four daughters, Mrs. A. J.
Morse of Northampton, Mrs. Chas.
Marshall of Manchester, Conn., Mrs. Elmer Blodgett of Springfield and Mrs. Raymond Frary of Greenfield; also two sons, George Davis, Jr., and Ernest Davis, both of Warren.

The funeral was held at the home, Rev. Walter O. Terry offic-

A Christmas Song

Copied from "The Friend", Honolulu

There was a morning long ago,
When in a manger lying,
A little baby boy was seen,
The shepherds him espying.
And as his mother watched him there
With love and care so tender,
Came wise men from the east afar,
Their gifts and praise to render.
O never was there such a babe
In manger or in cradle,
As shepherds and the wise men saw
With Mary in the stable.

For God did send him unto men,
A gift to show his favor;
And he by way of love and cross
Became our mighty Saviour.

O Heavenly Father for this gift
Our songs of praise we render,
And to the Saviour Thou hast sent
Our hearts in love surrender.

—Collins G. Burnham

Creed for a Warless World

This creed, which is based on the creed issued by the Federal Council of Churches last year, is to be read in the St. Louis churches on Christmas Sunday:

WE BELIEVE that nations, no less than persons, are subject to God's immutable moral laws.

WE BELIEVE that nations regarding themselves as Christian have special international obligations.

WE BELIEVE that nations achieve lasting welfare, greatness and honor only through just dealing and unselfish service.

WE BELIEVE that the Christian spirit can conquer every barrier of trade, creed or race.

WE BELIEVE that Christian patriotism demands the practice of good will among nations.

WE BELIEVE in International Law, Courts of Justice and Boards of Arbitration.

WE BELIEVE in a world-wide organization of nations for world-wide peace.

WE BELIEVE in a warless world and we dedicate ourselves to its achievement.

A Christmas Prayer for Peace

BY BISHOP BRENT

"O God of Nations, who through the prophets of old hast foretold the day when the armaments of war shall be beaten into the implements of peace; hasten, we beseech Thee, the fulfillment of this Thy most sure promise. Quell the haughty cries of the nations; scatter the peoples that delight in war; clothe our nation with wisdom to counsel and courage to lead in paths of unity and peace; and speedily bring us out of our present confusion into the order and righteousness of Thy Kingdom; through Jesus Christ, the Prince of Peace, our Saviour Amen."

Opening of New Grade Building

There will be an informal opening of the new grade school building next Wednesday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock, when the people of Belchertown are invited to look the building over and pass upon its merits.

While plans are not definitely shaped, it is expected that there will be a program and light refreshments. The school authorities and others will be on hand to receive the guests.

The finishing touches are being put on the building. Yesterday the floors and blackboards were being cleaned and the walls of the boiler room whitewashed.

The work of putting in the desks will be one of the next things. New ones now in use in other rooms will be transferred to the new building, and about a hundred old ones which have been thoroughly renovated, will be put in the new rooms.

Although eventually the Center Grammar pupils will occupy the new high school building, for the present the plan is to use the assembly hall in the structure now completed. This will mean that the schools now housed in the basement of Community hall and in Engine house hall and the Pease building can dispense with the quarters which they have occupied since the fire of a little more than a year ago.

The work of putting in new side-walks in front of the structure will have to go over till next spring as will a few other matters, but the bulk of the proposition is completed.

As we have said before, the building is one to be proud of. With running water, toilets, cloak rooms, assembly room, a fine system of heating, ventilation and electric lighting, Belchertown's new school house leaves little to be desired. Even a modern song has been installed. This is rung electrically from the highest grade room which is the room at the right as one enters the building. The lower grades will probably occupy the two end rooms.

The building committee has labored strenuously to procure a really fine building for the town and it is hoped that the townspeople will show their appreciation by coming out to the opening.

True, there have been instructions fitting to and fro regarding the committee's work, but he who goes to headquarters can get a satisfactory answer to every question.

It must be remembered that at the town meeting that took action on plans presented, it was definitely stated by the chairman that a "type" of building only was submitted. When one looks the building over, sees slight variations from the "type", finds out the reason therefor, realizes the changing conditions that have taken place in the labor market, understands how every contract has been let and followed up, one is well satisfied that the interests of the people of the town have been considered, and that a structure sensible in convenience and in price has been the outcome.

GREETINGS TO ALL!

FIRST we extend to all our appreciation for past business with this concern, with heartiest wishes that past relations may be continued in the year to come. At this time we employ this method of extending our most hearty Christmas and New Year's greetings to one and all.

A. H. PHILLIPS
H. F. PECK, Manager

TOMORROW

Grade School Opening

The brilliantly lighted, well appointed rooms of the new grade school building were the scene of a gay christening party Wednesday evening. Bad travelling and rather unfavorable weather undoubtedly kept many away, but the lure of the new school house attracted about 250 of our townspeople, and their praise of what the committee had done was unstinted.

No formal notice was given to the committee of this judgment, but in private conversation everywhere the fact was spoken of. More than one wished, for the moment, that he was younger so that he might enjoy the privileges he himself had missed.

In fact the gathering was not one of critical inspection. Rather was it a coming together of the larger community family with the idea of appropriately christening the new structure.

An entertaining program was presented as follows:
Piano solo, Mrs. Wm. Shaw
Violin and piano.

Mrs. Gildemeister, Miss Allen Ladies' Trio, Mrs. H. A. Hopkins, Mrs. Gildemeister, Mrs. Wm. E. Shaw, Mrs. Aspengren, accompanist.

Vocal solo, Mrs. Clinton Rhodes, Mrs. H. F. Peck accompanist.

Violin and piano, Mrs. Gildemeister, Miss Allen
After the entertainment came refreshments, consisting of sandwiches and coffee, which were served in the assembly hall. Then came dancing and a general good time participated in by the young folks of all ages.

It was a late hour before this gathering of a more or less spontaneous nature started homeward. We say spontaneous, for, whereas the committee had had it in mind and had begun to make plans for an opening, volunteers representing a grateful townspeople, enlisted their services and helped to carry the affair, refreshments, entertainment and otherwise, to a successful conclusion.

One of the most illuminating features of the evening was a presentation of the new building.

More Gifts for Church

The interest manifested in the fitting up of the new Catholic church is most commendable. The gift of a new altar was announced last month and now the church is to have eight stained glass windows, three on each side and two fronting the street. These have been given by members of the parish.

There was a large attendance at mass on Christmas morning and enthusiasm is high to have a fine house of worship. Carpenters and painters have been at work on the building for several weeks. The old platform has been replaced by a new and larger one. On each end have been constructed two fine vestry rooms and in between, things are being put in readiness for the new altar, expected soon. The altar rail has already been installed.

The side walls have been not only painted, but decorated, while the seats have also been freshened and the ends of the pews nicely grained as have also the two doors at the front of the building.

With this fine interior and the new stained glass windows, the edifice will be a source of pride to the Catholics and a worthy addition to the group of public buildings in the town.

Work is yet to be done in the vestibule of the church, but the progress already made gives one some idea of what the building will be like.

New Grain Elevator

One coming into town by railroad or over the state road from Holyoke is greeted by the sight of a huge grain elevator erected on the plot of ground where once stood the shoe shop, belt factory and auto body building. This elevator, put up by the H. P. Cummings Co. of Ware for Ryther and Warren of this town, is nearing completion, only interior work remaining to be done. The spur track from the B. and M. line has been laid and the mammoth bins, which reach a height of 90 feet, are in readiness for carload upon carload of grain.

The machinery, most of it new, is now being installed, all of it to be run by direct electric motors, making for economy and convenience. Every sort of a machine which makes for clean and well sorted grain has been bought by this enterprising firm, which expects to have one of the most modern plants in this vicinity, and thereby be in a position to serve most acceptably the farmers of a large radius.

Not only is the firm providing every convenience, but its large buildings provide huge storage capacity aside from the large bins. The ground floor and working floor alone will house tremendous stocks. Probably a month more will see the building fully equipped and ready for business.

Dies in Enfield

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Allen, 84, died in Enfield last Saturday at the home of her niece, Nellie E. Brown, where she has been cared for during the last three years. While she had been falling for the last five months, she was confined to her room for only two weeks and to her bed for only one week.

Mrs. Allen, up to the time of her going to Enfield, had always lived in Belchertown. Although during her stay in the neighboring town, she seldom expressed a longing for her old home, she was happy when a return for even an hour was possible and read with deep interest about events in Belchertown, where she had made many friends. She was a member of the Congregational church, was greatly interested in the schools and loved to read.

Mrs. Allen was born in town Aug. 23, 1838, being the daughter of Lyman and Nancy Eugbee Rice. She was twice married, the first union being with Henry L. Walker, who lived only about two years. Upon his death she returned to her father's house and after about 15 years of widowhood, married Samuel Allen, one of Belchertown's conspicuous citizens, who died in 1919, after an illness which taxed Mrs. Allen's strength from which she never fully recovered.

Mrs. Allen leaves a sister, Mrs. Henry E. Brown of Enfield, two nieces, Nellie E. Brown of Enfield

Respect for the Law

Some may argue that President Harding has long evaded his responsibility as president with reference to the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment. But at last he has spoken and in such a fashion that no one can mistake his meaning. In his message to Congress he talks in no uncertain terms. When he speaks of the scandalous condition that has been allowed to develop in certain sections of our country, he brings relief and assurance to all citizens who have respect for the law of the land. Listen to his words: "Let men who are rending the moral fibre of the Republic through easy contempt for the prohibition law because they think it restricts their personal liberty, remember that they set the example and breed a contempt for law which will ultimately destroy the Republic. Constitutional prohibition has been adopted by the nation. It is the supreme law of the land. In plain speaking there are conditions relating to the enforcement which savor of nation wide scandal. It is the most demoralizing factor in our public life. . . . The day is unlikely to come when the Eighteenth Amendment will be repealed. The fact may as well be recognized and our course adapted accordingly." This puts iron into the pussy-footed man who is not bold enough to stand up for what he knows is right. There is altogether too much timidity on the part of decent folks on the subject of prohibition. Many dare not stand up in defense of obedience to the law and by their silence take sides with those who aim to bring the law into contempt. Let there be more plain talking like the President's.

The liquor people may be counted upon to move heaven and earth to bring the law into disgrace. Not one of them intends to die peacefully, or give up his business gracefully.

The dangerous man in America is always the one who counts it a clever thing to flout the law of the land. If we are going to have any nation at all, no one individual can set up a law for himself. The only sensible thing for any American who can claim any real patriotism is to have respect for the laws of the land.

Santa Claus' stay in Belchertown was a long and happy one this year. Starting with the festivities of the grade schools Friday morning, being present at the B. H. S. entertainment in the evening, at the Federated church Sunday School tree Saturday evening and at numerous family gatherings on Sunday and Monday, he left a trail of happiness all along the way.

The Social Guild will serve a supper in the chapel next Wednesday evening. Baked beans, scalloped potatoes, frankfurters, hot Johnny cake, pies, coffee, etc., will be the order of the evening, and all for 35 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Peck entertained Mr. and Mrs. James S. Peck, Miss Martha Peck and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Jackson and family of Springfield on Christmas day. Stanley Peck, the only absent member of the family, was stationed off the coast of Florida and sent a radio message which was relayed to the family gathering as they were at dinner.

One of the very pleasant occasions of Christmas—there were doubtless many more—was the giving of a bountiful Christmas dinner by the girls in Mrs. Mabel Stebbins' class in Sunday School to Mr. Gene Dick who, though unable to see those who presented it, greatly appreciated the gift as well as the spirit that prompted it. "It's the best Christmas present I ever received," was one of the many statements he made in telling about it. "A dinner that will last a whole week!" Roast chicken, potatoes and gravy, vegetables, pies, cake, oranges, bananas, grapes, apples, candy and jelly. The food was carried by the girls to Mrs. Stebbins' who arranged the basket and after Sunday School it was carried to Mr. Dick's camp by Dr. McPherson and his daughter, Margaret. Altogether it was a gift unlike some Christmas gifts, enjoyed by both the givers and receiver. The following are heartily thanked by Mr. Dick: Mrs. Mabel Stebbins, Esther Squires, Maxine Fuller, Alice Hazen, Nannie Howard, Eleanor Anderson, Mary Bevins, Margaret McPherson, Ruth Shuttleworth, Anna Shuttleworth, Althea Dodge, Martha Weston.

A party of local fishermen, of whom Walter Cook of Athol was one, caught 38 pickerel in Forge Pond Wednesday, one of which measured 28 inches and weighed three and a quarter pounds.

Walter and Chester Cook of Athol, Bertha of Enfield and Hattie of Amherst were among those at a Christmas dinner party at Chas. Cook's Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hurlburt and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Giles called Monday on Mrs. Ambrose Munsell of Enfield and Mrs. Clara Dwight Aldrich of West Ware and found them both in the best of health and enjoying their Christmas dinner alone. They are sisters, both of whom have passed their 80th birthday.

There were very pleasant exercises at the Rockrimmon school Friday. One of the pupils, Joseph Smola, was appropriately dressed as Santa Claus and distributed the presents from the tree. The room was prettily decorated. The little Lodge girls sang, and recitations were given by the children.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lodge entertained a party of twelve at Christmas dinner. Irene and Eleanor Lodge are at Willmansett, their former home, for the Christmas vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Newman, Jr., went to Winchester Sunday and returned Tuesday, spending the holiday with Mr. Newman's parents.

Viola Whidden is spending the Christmas vacation at J. R. Newman's.

Mrs. Sampson has returned from the hospital at Northampton where she has been for medical treatment.

Miss Nora Connors is visiting friends on Turkey Hill.

Herbert Thompson of Suffield, Conn., spent Sunday and Monday with his sister, Mrs. Isaac.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Isaac visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boomhower, of Three Rivers on Sunday.

Miss Alice and Newell Booth are home for the Christmas vacation.

Mrs. H. F. Putnam has returned from a ten days' stay at Three Rivers.

There were ten at the Sunday School which met at Mrs. Newman's December 17. They are invited to meet again December 31.

Mrs. Geo. Williams, who has had a second attack of influenza this winter, is able to be about.

One of the recent graduates of the B. H. S. has lately received offers of teaching positions in Stockbridge, Russell and Pittsfield, which would seem to indicate that the supply is not yet equal to the demand.

It is very easy with Newman's hen yard handy and C. L. Hubbard as chef and French fry expert, and R. L. Blackmer as candy manufacturer, for C. R. Green and wife to entertain a Christmas party of twelve. It was held Saturday night, that being Mrs. Blackmer's birthday. A bountiful supper was served at seven, presents were exchanged during the evening, and music and cards enjoyed until a late hour. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Newman, Jr., A. E. Pease of Holyoke, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Blackmer, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hubbard, Mrs. M. S. Humway, Geo. Clifford and C. R. Green and family

Declares Dividend

The directors of the Belchertown Community League Inc. have declared dividends on the League stock, according to the date of issue of the several blocks. This allows those who subscribed to the Community League project, which started over six years ago, to realize interest on their investment, so that the faith of the promoters has been vindicated. They have always insisted that whereas the object of the organization was to promote the public weal, the organization could at any time dissolve and settle up on a solid financial basis.

The burden of carrying on the organization has fallen almost wholly on the board of directors. They have contributed a great amount of time and have had the privilege of backing numerous notes, thereby making themselves individually responsible.

A meeting of the stockholders will be held at an early date to determine whether the stock shall be returned and the organization dissolved.

Everywhere the Standard

ABOUT three-quarters of a century ago The Barrett Company began building its reputation for unequalled quality in roofings and roofing materials. Today, this reputation is world-wide. Barrett Roofings are everywhere recognized as standard.

One of the most popular styles of the famous Barrett Roofings is Barrett Single Shingles—with their dark red or green mineral surface.

They are far superior to wooden shingles—more staunch and durable, more fire resistant, and more beautiful. They are also more economical, for they are moderate in cost, are laid without waste and require no painting or staining.

Ask us about this famous line.

Other popular Barrett products include metal protective paints, roofing cements, shingle stain oil, fly spray and a wood preservative.

The Weather Boss

The Weather Man came near having his own way this past week. He succeeded in postponing the Masonic and O. E. S. installations scheduled for last Friday, the Get-together sociable of Monday, and only by sheer defiance were the events of this week Wednesday evening run off.

Yesterday morning found a considerable depth of snow, sufficient to keep the High school from holding its sessions.

The town had plows and scrapers on the streets at an early hour, and the State school plowed out not only their own grounds but also helped the town out in neighborly fashion.

The H. G. Sears Co. of Holyoke came out from that city with a scraper attached to their truck, thereby rendering, as on other occasions, a very real service in opening the Holyoke road for traffic.

O. E. S. Installation

The installation of officers of Mt. Vernon Chapter, O. E. S., took place Wednesday evening, having been postponed from last Friday. There was a good attendance, considering the inclemency of the weather.

Past Matron, Mrs. Ella Ward, was the installing officer, assisted by Past Patron M. G. Ward. Past Matron Mrs. Evelyn Ward was marshal and Past Matron Miss Irene M. Jackson, chaplain.

Social Guild Supper

Past falling snow and rapidly filling sidewalks did not keep the Social Guild supper of Wednesday evening from being a success.

Patrons came stamping in, bedecked in white, to enjoy the feast, which was up to all that was advertised. About 80 were served, including a party of 17 from the church in West Warren of which Rev. H. P. Rankin is minister.

The following entertainment was provided:

Piano Solo Mrs. Wm. Shaw
Reading Charles Scott
Young Men's Trio
Reading Alice Howard
Young Men's Trio

Selection Mr. Rankin's choir
"Brighten the Corner"

The "Entire Company"

The presence of the out-of-town party and the cosiness of the night conspired to make the evening a very enjoyable one.

Game Supper of Metacomet Fox, Rod and Gun Club

The game supper of the club was well attended in spite of the storm, some 31 members being present. The executive committee, Messrs. Baggs, Stebbins and G. C. Allen had charge of its preparation and the amount and quality of game, potato, turnip, rolls and pies would have done credit to the Ritz-Carlton. After all had regaled themselves to the utmost, the regular monthly meeting was held in Grange Hall, after which games, speeches and singing helped to pass an enjoyable evening.

While this is the first game supper the club has enjoyed, other suppers have induced the members to attend, but none more fully than this one. It had been voted to have a light lunch at each regular meeting, expense of which is to be borne by those participating. It is hoped that the members will be present as often as possible and thus continue to foster the spirit of good comradeship that was manifested Wednesday night.

"THERE IS endless fascination in forest and field for one who knows the magic of Nature's glorious pageant. Are you missing this absorbing enjoyment of the out-of-doors? What is more absorbing, more fascinating than intimate knowledge of nature? For those who understand the wonders, the secrets of Nature, the field and forest hold a host of friends—the birds, the trees, the flowers, the butterflies—each with its own fascinating story, its personal charm. Hundreds upon hundreds of our greatest men have found their keenest enjoyment in this understanding and appreciation of Nature."

Help protect and not kill everything you can that wears feather, fur and fin.

Meets Tragic Death

Mrs. Josephine A. Jenner, 74, died Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. P. V. Snow, as the result of burns sustained the day previous, when her clothing caught fire as she was bending over a small oil stove that she had in her room.

Mrs. Jenner was born in Hubbardston and for the last four or five years has made her home with her two daughters, Mrs. A. S. Woodle of Philadelphia and Mrs. P. V. Snow of this town. She has been with Mrs. Snow since the family moved here last August.

Besides these two daughters, she leaves a son, Geo. C. Jenner, Jr., of Mansfield Center, Ct., a brother, John B. Williams of Philadelphia, and a sister, Mrs. Janie Bacon of Worcester.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the Washburn parlors, Springfield, Rev. Dr. McGann of Christ church officiating. Burial was in Central cemetery, Orange.

Trustees Named

Governor Cox has appointed the following as trustees of the Belchertown State school: J. A. Skinner of Holyoke, Henry Dean of Worcester, Mrs. Winthrop Murray Crane of Dalton, Miss Frances E. Cheney of Springfield, John R. Callahan of Holyoke, F. A. Farrar of Northampton and Dr. Theodore S. Bacon of Springfield.

Federal Road Meeting

A meeting was held last Saturday at Northampton at which representatives of the towns on the route of the proposed Federal highway were present. The full board of selectmen of this town were present.

Commissioner Frank E. Lyman spoke informally on the Highway department in western Massachusetts. He touched upon the proposed road from Amherst to Belchertown, a distance of seven miles which he said the commission favored building three miles at a time not all in one contract. He felt that the county should not be overambitious.

Doing or Being

Emerson once declared: "Little souls pay the world with what they do, great souls with what they are." These words need to be meditated on in a time when so many think that they are not useful unless they are "up and doing" at something. This is an age of Practicality. The War stressed that word. Nay, more, the War made a man feel uncomfortable who was not serving somewhere. Technical schools abounded. Young people flocked to those institutions which laid the emphasis upon learning to do some practical thing which might aid in winning the War. Everywhere the main idea in education was to make the students efficient. A liberal education was not thought adequate to the grave situation.

Service is the great word everywhere. Even religion is quite frequently expressed in service. "Giving a cup of cold water" is often stated as an illustration of real religion. And the advocates of Practicality defend their belief by quoting that famous sentence regarding the founder of Christianity, "He went about doing good." As Willard L. Sperry says: "Doing good" seems to be the whole of the matter; more especially that sort of good that involves 'going about'."

We would not minimize action, but we would say that we think many in this modern world have forgotten that giving "a cup of cold water" is an effect and not a cause, so that Emerson is quite right in laying the stress upon being. When a man has the right ideas working in his mind, he will not be content until he serves. So liberal education is more fundamental than technical education. A liberal education is an education that liberates. It sets a man's mind free. A liberal education shows the proper relationships of life and enables a man when rendering service to feel that it is worth while. For if a man serves without being, the question of Tyrrell is a fitting one: "When all are sufficiently fed, clothed, housed and tended, the question still remains: What to do with life, a question which they cannot answer to whom philanthropy is the whole of life."

HOW

DIVERS OF FUTURE MAY BE SUPPLIED WITH AIR.—Hose for conducting air from the surface to the diver under the water has always been considered indispensable. An elaborate system of pumps operated either on land or in boats has been necessary to force fresh air continuously through a great length of hose to the man below the surface. Not long ago, however, it was announced that some inventive genius had conceived and, it is said, put into successful operation a device which it is thought will do away with the old apparatus for diving once the new system is perfected.

By the new method the diver carries on his back two steel bottles containing highly compressed oxygen. Another cylinder contains chemicals for absorbing the carbonic acid exhaled from the lungs. A system of piping carries all the impure air breathed out to a chamber containing the absorbing chemical. In this compartment the carbonic acid gas is entirely eliminated. A small amount of oxygen, just enough to renew the air, is added to the changed and regenerated exhalations and passed on to a compartment in the helmet, where it can be inhaled through the nose or the mouth. By this method the vitiated air is continually being made over into new. The inventor contends that his device will do away with the accidents and loss of life which have occasionally occurred through defects in the diving hose or pumping apparatus.

SHOWS IMPORTANCE OF WOOL

How Much of It Each Person Uses Has Been Proved to Run Into Miles.

How much wool does the average person use? Every inch of cloth contains about twenty-five threads running downwards and the same number running across it, so that a square yard is made up of 1,800 threads, each a yard in length. To simplify calculations we may assume that every yard contains a mile of wool yarn. The average suit or costume needs four square yards of cloth, so that every man or woman wears something like four miles of wool. Allowing two sets of clothes a year, we find that each of us uses four hundred miles of wool in fifty years!

When we come to linen and cotton goods, with eighty or one hundred threads each way to the inch, the total length of thread becomes appalling. A single handkerchief may contain 2,400 strands each fifteen inches long, so that 1,000 yards of cotton thread are required to make it. A shirt represents about three miles of thread. In five years everyone of us uses anything from 500 to 1,000 miles of cloth.

Get-together Social

The Get-together sociable, postponed from a week ago last Monday because of the severe rain storm, was not blessed with so very much better weather because of the postponement. This time a genuine blizzard made very bad travelling, but the walks were cleared along towards night, so the committee, fearing something worse, decided not to postpone it again.

Under these circumstances not as many "got-together" as might otherwise have been the case, but those that did had a good time. Not as spectacular as some others in the series it was perhaps more normal and well fulfilled the requirements of those who started these occasions for the social intercourse they would afford.
But the music was not ordinary, however. It was more than that. And the numbers were very generously given by the musical club represented by a half dozen or more voices.

Interspersed between the presentations were stunts including bubble blowing, the trolley car, musical chairs, etc. And of course there were refreshments. Then came a general get-together sing, which proved a very pleasing feature.

Meanwhile the men of the committee were deep in the dish water in the kitchen, but their spirits were not dampened by the process.

The "next-time" contingent comprise: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Witt, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Collard and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Jepson.

Dates Spoken For

Jan. 23

Schools on Short Time

Owing to the severe snow storm of Monday, the center schools gave up trying to have more than one session. The roads were filling up so fast that early in the forenoon the busses called for scholars living in the outlying districts. The new grade school building, therefore, received a rather cool christening, as Monday was the opening day.

On Tuesday no attempt was made to hold any sessions. The storm had ceased but travelling was not any too good. Wednesday everything was in full swing again, waiting for the "next".

Friendly Co-operation

We have mentioned in our columns that the State school has been co-operating with the town on a number of occasions. Last week we spoke of their helping clear the streets with their snow plow. Hardly had the storm of Monday ceased before they were on hand again, and this time they have been helping out even more.

On Wednesday the main road east and west had not been plowed out, although Enfield had plowed to the Belchertown line, and Granby and Holyoke had come up to our western boundary.

So yesterday morning the State school started out with its tractor and plow on the western end. This outfit was not equal to the occasion, but, nothing daunted, they went at it with the horse drawn plow and together with the help of Messrs. Piper and Peeso with the town plow, accomplished the task. Towards night yesterday the H. G. Sears' truck and scraper made the trip to town, thus making a good road all the way.

Registration Dates

The registrars have made the following dates:
Jan. 17 from 7.30 to 9.30 p. m. at the town hall.
Jan. 20 from 2 to 4 p. m. at South Belchertown.
Jan. 27 from 12 m. to 10 p. m. at the town hall.

Vernon Lodge Installation

Vernon Lodge installed its 1923 officers at a postponed meeting last Friday night. In spite of not over improved weather conditions, about 125 were present.

Past Master Thomas McRae of Thomas Lodge, Palmer, installed with 'Worthy Master Sanborn, also of Thomas Lodge, as marshal.

Past District Deputy E. E. Hobson of Palmer was present and spoke entertainingly. Mt. Vernon Chapter, O. E. S., served supper.

A Notable Year

1922 will go down in history as a notable year for Belchertown. Perhaps in future years those who peruse their old tax bills will decide that something happened even if they will not at present admit it. For, certainly, few years in our history have been so fraught with developments as has this one now closed. Material development, it may be, but if balanced with proper attitudes, it should be quite worth while.

It was just about a year ago that the hearings regarding our school house construction were in full swing, and the close of the year found the grade building completed and the Memorial hall and High school building well under way.

The State school development has also come along promisingly and the year saw it really entering its career of usefulness.

1922 saw the completion of the Stone house renovation and the formal occupation of the same by the Belchertown Historical Association with an exhibit of rare excellence.

It was in this year also that Community League hall was sold to the Catholics who are fitting up the same for a Catholic church, which has long been needed in town.

The year now closed also saw the erection of an exceptionally modern grain elevator, erected for Ryther and Warren.

The year also saw several busi-

President Harding is bold and fearless on national problems. In brave words he speaks about strikes and respect for law, but why this silence on international affairs? Why not a ringing demand that the murder of Christian innocents must stop? (The situation grows worse rather than better among the Armenians and we are for the most part silent.)

If America will not join the present League of Nations, and have nothing to do with it, it is high time that some program of world co-operation which the president promised us before his election, and which the people are increasingly demanding, be inaugurated.

Newell Booth of Boston University, who recently underwent a serious operation on his nose, is obliged to refrain from using his eyes for some time, but is able to keep up with his work by the help of classmates reading the lessons aloud and by taking oral examinations.

Turkey Hill, unlike some parts of old New England, has not been snowed in or under the past week. Charles Cook has been the milk man for the neighborhood, carrying the milk to Larose at Holyoke. Edward Isaac ran his auto to Three Rivers Monday morning where he has remained this week. Harold Booth has made one trip with his truck to the outside world, preparing the road for carrying his week's supply of eggs—which number up in the thousands—to market on Friday, and our faithful rural mail carrier, A. J. Sears, has made the trip every day. E. E. Gay carried the express to Springfield Tuesday but was obliged to remain in the city over night. And so we say that it is such places as Holyoke, Three Rivers and Springfield that are snowed in. Turkey Hill is still on the map and its residents on the job.

Why Does America Keep Silent?

There is no self-respecting one of us who does not wish the voice of America to be heard, and heard clearly and unmistakably, in any matter which pertains to the moral welfare of humanity. Nay more, it is our boast that America takes the lead in all such matters. And it pains us when America is silent. More than that, we are righteously indignant.

Miss Mary McDowell, head of the University of Chicago settlement in the stockyards district, who has recently returned from an extended trip in Europe where she studied conditions among those people who send the most immigrants to this country, tells a pathetic story of America's silence. She spent several days at Geneva and learned first hand of what the League of Nations is doing to suppress the white slave traffic and the opium traffic and other evils. She saw reports which the various countries had sent in when they had been asked for information and time after time the documents bore the record, "No reply from the U. S." Even though we will have nothing to do with the League, it is discourteous, to say the least, to refuse to give information which might be of service in behalf of humanity. Some one has well said, "To be so sensitive to the very name of the League of Nations that we cannot answer courteously worded enquiries regarding prevalent conditions which the League is seeking to remedy, in quite inconsistent with American traditions and American good will."

"Barrett" means Sound-Value Roofings

THE NAME "BARRETT" is everywhere the symbol of sound-value roofings. For almost three-quarters of a century The Barrett Company has maintained its leadership in the roofing field, sparing no effort or expense to uphold the prestige of the Barrett name.

Barrett Shingles—mineral-surfaced in a beautiful fadeless shade of dark red or green—are an example of the high quality for which Barrett Roofings are justly famous. They are exceedingly durable, very economical, highly fire resisting and need no painting.

There's a Barrett Roofing for every kind of building. Ask us about them.

Other popular Barrett products include metal protective paints, roofing cements, shingle-stain oil, fly spray and a wood preservative.

ness changes of importance. D. D. Hazen, who for a long term of years conducted a grocery business in connection with his department store, sold out to A. H. Phillips, who moved from the brick block to newly fitted quarters in the Hazen store. Mr. Hazen also sold his meat department to McKillop Bros. In the fall of last year C. F. Aspengren, who had been using the small store in the brick block, leased the entire lower floor and put in a complete line of groceries and meats.

Another feature of 1922 was the passage by the legislature of the special water act, permitting the town to form a fire district and obtain water from the state. While this matter is still in its infancy, the possibility of securing water is assured, which of itself makes a landmark in the story of the years.

Another possibility that took on realistic portent last year was the positive announcement that Belchertown would be on the route of the Federal highway.

Yes, for those whose dream it has been to have Belchertown "on the map", 1922 has indeed been most satisfying.

So the town finds that because of 1922 its children will have increased educational advantages and the unfortunate children of the state a well equipped institution to care for them. The rising generation will have a greater reverence for the foundations laid by our fathers, and a greater appreciation of modern conveniences because of the historical exhibit, and the promise of new and better roads, and water for fire and household purposes will make for prosperity, a more sound economic future and greater longevity.

Feed the Wild Birds

Winthrop Packard, secretary of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, earnestly urges everyone to feed the wild birds. The ice and deep snow cover their accustomed food supply and thousands of feathered friends will starve to death in bitter cold if we do not feed them. Give them scraps from the table, chaff from the haymow, grain and seeds of any kind. Put the food out near the house where you can watch them from a window.

A good way is to set a common packing box on the snow with the opening toward the house. Scatter the grain on the top of the box and put more inside. The birds will find it and the box will keep it from being buried in the next snow. You will find it very pleasant to watch these birds feed and you will be surprised to find how much they need. Once found they will go back and forth to the food all day long.

Our winter birds withstand even the severest cold if well fed. But, when the snow covers the frozen insects, dormant larvae, eggs and seeds of weeds on which they naturally feed, they often starve in great numbers. Feed them then in your yard and near your home, in the fields and woods if you will. Almost anything eatable is useful. Grain and "scratch-feed" scattered on trampled snow or under evergreen trees will keep the quail, pheasants, grouse, and a host of smaller birds well fed. Bread crumbs and chaff from the barn floor are cheap and useful. Hemp and sunflower seed, other bird seed, and especially nutmeats are most attractive to many birds. With bits of broken peanut you may coax chickadees and nuthatches to eat out of your hand.

Very many people are successful in this, and suet and split marrow-bones, refuse meat, all are eagerly eaten. To feed the birds is a fine philanthropy. In saving them we save ourselves; for the birds are of great value in the economy of nature. The Massachusetts Audubon Society, Boston, Mass., will gladly give further information concerning methods and material for this work.

Grange Notes

The officers of Union grange were installed Tuesday night by Winfred F. Forward of Granby, assisted by Mrs. Forward, the work being done very effectively. Mrs. D. P. Spencer resigned as treasurer and H. F. Putnam was elected to fill the vacancy. Every officer was present. Refreshments were served.

The lecturer announced the program for Feb. 6 as a costume party in charge of Edith Peeso, Madeline Orlando and Dorothy Kimball, and a box social in charge of Mrs. E. J. Ward.

The Community Idea

The Community League Inc. may pass out of existence tonight, but the community exists and we should ever have it on our minds. If the League has succeeded, it is because it has appealed to the larger group. If it has failed, it is because it has not.

The fad of the present day is isolation. This country, after a great crusade for humanity, is trying to be content in its own door yard, but the world will never advance very far on this policy.

The temptation in town may be to shrink from any further venture along community lines, but whether any special organization for special work is thought of or not, there still remains the duty of thinking in the terms of all.

One great advantage of our public schools is that it throws together people of many races and conditions, and a broader vision of life is obtained.

If, in our own community, we fondly hope to get out and keep out of any community responsibility, if we think we can form our little bloc and pursue a course that will bring advantage only to a few, then we build small and poorly indeed, for what is needed in our community and the world at large are people who have at heart the prosperity and happiness of all.

Belchertown Independents Win

W. L. NOEL

The Belchertown Independent basket ball team, which was recently organized, won its first home game of the season last Thursday night when it defeated its old rival, Enfield, on the Town hall floor by a score of 30 to 27. There is always much rivalry when the two teams line up on the floor to see who can boast of the best quintet, and most games have been rough and tumble affairs, but last week's game was one of the cleanest games ever played here. A good sized crowd turned out for the game.

The Independents, led by Capt. Charlie Austin, could not get started when play began and were outscored 6 to 0, when the local captain, veteran of many a game, broke the ice for the home team with a beautiful shot from the center of the floor. The local team then got busy and opened up a defense which completely baffled the visiting players, who scored only two points during the remainder of the first half and that was a field goal by S. Bobovitz.

Capt. Austin, Jack Fairchild and Beef Spencer then started on a scoring spree and when the whistle blew at the end of the first half, the Independents were leading by a score of 20 to 8.

Both teams shifted their lineups for the second half. The Independents took out Guy Allen, local High school star, and sent in Floyd Peeso, who is playing his first year of basket ball. The Enfield team appeared to be much stronger with Dick Jackson at right forward in place of Avery. The visitors, although handicapped by a big lead, were determined to win the game, and displayed such a fine brand of basket ball that the local rooters were kept on their feet every minute, thinking that the Enfielders would overtake the Independents' big lead. But when the final whistle blew, the home team was on the long end of the score, which was 30 to 27.

Capt. Austin, Fairchild and Spencer were the heavy scorers for the

An Imperative Need

Everybody knows it. There are no differences of opinion. The Republicans do not think one way and the Democrats another way. The Protestant does not hold one view and the Roman Catholic another.
Men of all parties and of all creeds
and of all nationalities are agreed.
Even at the Lausanne conference,
we are told by a most reliable authority, there is one and only one opinion: the Armenians must be cared for.

Everyone from the Near East tells us the same story,—hundreds of thousands of refugees are absolutely destitute, completely homeless, thinly clad and almost starved. The story of their sufferings would make the Dark Ages appear bright, and Hell itself appear cheerful, and sav-agery appear human. History has not seen the like.

And everyone feels responsible.
The trustees of the Near East Relief are from many faiths and many parties. The Knights of Columbus, the Catholic Daughters of America and other similar Catholic organizations join hands with Protestants of every shade in urging their constituency to aid in the work of relief.
Twenty-five communions have set apart a field day to present the distress and make the appeal. Other nations are organizing relief societies,
—in Japan, Korea, the Philippines,
Australia in New Zealand.

The Armenians must not be allowed to perish. A million lives have already been saved. The Armenians are our own kin. The Armenians are without a peer in their devotion to the highest ideals. The Armenians are singularly dependable.

We have the power of life and death in our own hands. $5.00 saves a child for a month, $60.00 will maintain it for a year. Let money constantly pour into the offices of the Near East Relief at 151 Fifth Ave., New York.

IS PROTECTED BY NATURE

How the Bubble Bug of British Gulana is Enabled to Defy its Many Enemies.

The bubble bug, a native of British Gulana, is quite as interesting as its name suggests. When the insect is immature, we learn from Mr. William Beebe in the Atlantic Monthly, it wraps itself for safety in a kind of froth of small bubbles.

When the bug has formed a large drop of a clear liquid it forces it into the air as a bubble and then forces out an imponderable amount of oil or dissolved wax and mixes it with the clear liquid; that toughens the bubbles, which continue to pile up until the insect is buried deep.

To penetrate the mass is an unpleasant achievement for small marauders.
I have draped a big pile of bubbles, says Mr. Beebe, round the beak of an insect-eating bird and watched it stab its head and wipe its beak in evident disgust.

The bug does three wonderful things with the clear liquid that it exudes—
it distills sweet water, it draws nourishment, and it adds to its blood and its tissues a pungent flavor that will defend it against the attacks of birds and lizards.

Little by little its wings swell to full spread and, strength; muscles grow in its hind legs, which in time will shoot it through great distances;
and pigment of the most brilliant yellow and black forms on the coverings of its wings. When at last it creeps forth through the filmy veil of bubbles it is immature no longer, but a brilliant frogliopper.

How Grasshoppers Are Destroyed.

Almost as big as a sparrow and endowed with the appetite of an ostrich, the western grasshopper, moving in great clouds, can soon devastate a farm upon which they alight. Their numbers have been kept down in a measure by scattering through the fields a poisoned bran mash, flavored with fruit. A half dozen different preparations were set in the path of these pests to ascertain which they preferred, and vanilla was a warm favorite, though the first place had to be awarded to a dish of amyl acetate.
This had no fewer than 379 patrons out of 2,074, while the vanilla, second choice, had 242. This discovery will lead to the manufacture of a bait which will certainly reduce the size of these visiting aggregations.

How Boers Use Tobacco.

We regard ammonia as the best thing to alleviate pain from mosquito bites, but in South Africa the Boers always use tobacco, whether the attacking insect be a mosquito or wasp.
This tobacco is of granular character,
very light in weight, and so dry that it can be smoked in a large pipe, with a metal filter; otherwise the little chardons are usually found on the field it is only four feet away. The Boer usually carries his tobacco in a coat pocket, and if a rider meets him on the road with a request for some tobacco he passes his temporary acquaintance with a handful.

A New Roofing with a 70 Year-Old Reputation

ALL BARRETT ROOFINGS must measure up to the high standards of quality which The Barrett Company has steadfastly maintained for more than 70 years. There can never be any question as to the quality of a new Barrett Roofing—so that when we offer a new roofing
it's merely a question of whether the style appeals to the individual buyer.

Barrett Octagonal Strip Shingles are one of the new styles that have proved immensely popular. This roofing needs no painting, is rugged, fire resisting, and moderate in price; while the octagonal shape and rich-colored mineral surface make it one of the handsomest roofings on the market.

There's a Barrett Roofing for every kind of building. Ask us about them.

Other popular Barrett products include metal protective paints, roofing
cements, shingle stain oil, fly spray and a wood preservative.

Community League Dissolved

The stockholders of the Belchertown Community League, Inc., at a meeting held last Friday night, voted to dissolve the corporation. After some small matters incident to the closing up of affairs have been settled, the stock will be redeemed.

The League voted to put the reflectoscope and stereopticon in condition and give it to the Federated church.

Death of Mrs. Emory Munsell

Mrs. Nellie (Barnes) Munsell died Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at her home on Maple St. after a long illness. She had been in a helpless condition since last fall. She was a member of the Methodist church and during her active years a most faithful attendant.

Mrs. Munsell was the daughter of the late Estes and Mary Barnes and was born in Pelham May 3, 1861.

She leaves besides her husband, two brothers, George Barnes of Southwick and Arthur Barnes of Feeding Hills, also two sisters, Mrs. Lula Farnsworth of Marlboro and Mrs. Hattie Watts of Northampton.

The funeral was held from the home Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. D. L. Hilliard officiating. The bearers were George Blair of Mitteneague, and E. C. Witt, Leroy M. Blackmer and Jason Hurlburt of this town. Burial was in South cemetery.

To Be Enlarged

The dream of the Social Guild is coming true in that an enlarged dining room at the chapel is now assured. For some time the ladies have had to set the tables in the audience room, they have been so cramped for space.

Because of this they have been accumulating a fund for some sort of an addition. It had been thought that possibly quite extensive building operations would be necessary but a plan was finally hit upon whereby the kitchen and dining room could be thrown together and a new kitchen made where the wood shed and back room now are, leaving only a small addition necessary to take the place of the latter.

The matter was brought up at a meeting of the church Tuesday evening when it was voted to authorize the contemplated changes.

The H. P. Cummings Co. have contracted for the work and will begin the remodeling soon. When the rooms are finished, which will probably be sometime in March, the ladies plan to hold a supper and sale of fancy work and aprons.

Death of Mrs. B. L. Thrasher

Mrs. Alma (Bishop) Thrasher, 76, died last Thursday night in the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Gould, where Mr. and Mrs. Thrasher have made their home for the last seven years. Although Mrs. Thrasher's health had not been good for some time, her last illness was of short duration.

She was the daughter of the late Francis and Olive Ramsdell Bishop of this town and had spent most of her life here. She was a member of the Baptist church for many years and made many friends in the community.

Mrs. Thrasher leaves besides her husband, six children, Frank Thrasher of Florida, Mrs. William Hannum of Indian Orchard, Arthur Thrasher of Amherst, William Thrasher of Springfield, Henry Thrasher of Ware and Mrs. John Gould of this town. She also leaves a brother, W. L. Bishop of this town, and two sisters, Mrs. L. F. Wilder of Holyoke, and Mrs. Chas. Ayers of this town.

The funeral was held in the chapel Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. D. L. Hilliard officiating. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Grange Notes

The next regular meeting of Union Grange will be a costume party at which each member is asked to come in an amusing costume of his or her own choosing, or pay a fine.

Information in regard to the box social will be in next week's Sentinel.

Board of Trade Meeting

There will be a meeting of the Board of Trade in the High school room next Monday evening. The town reports will not be issued by that time, but the object of the meeting is to discuss town affairs and get some of the issues of the coming meeting before the people.

The New A B C

I learned the old A B C long ago in the Little Red School House of my home district. "It was a famous victory" when I could name both the capital and the small letters. In time I could read to the teacher "I see a cat" or any of those delightful stories that were found in my primer, and getting started I kept on till I could read by myself from Mother Goose:

"Great A, little a,

Bouncing B,

The cat's in the cupboard

And she can't C."

The future Mother Goose may rhyme these letters in another way:

Vitamine A, Vitamine B

Should be in the cupboard

With Vitamine C.

What are vitamins? They are substances (not organisms) present in some foods and are essential to health. Scientific research has not yet determined their chemical composition. Three classes of them are mentioned at present, A, B and C,

The New A B C

and some definite knowledge of their functions, that is, of what they do, has been gained.

Vitamine A is called the fat-soluble vitamine because dissolved in fat; it is necessary for the growth of new tissue. Vitamine B is known as the anti-neuritic vitamine: it helps A build tissue and is a protection against neuritis. Vitamine C helps to maintain the general tone of the body and guards against anaemia. It is named the antiscorbutic vitamine.

Let it be clearly understood that the uncertainty connected with the subject of vitamins does not pertain to their functions. The scientific researchers will be able to tell us in time more about vitamins for they are diligent and persistent in their investigations but in the meanwhile they know enough about them to assure us they are essential to health. One cannot do without vitamins and preserve health and life. So we are warned to keep them in the cupboard.

Where can we get these essential food elements? It is a happy provision of nature that vitamins are found in abundant supply in the common articles for food we produce in our home town. Milk and its products, butter and cream, is rich in vitamins A and B, which emphasizes the value of milk in the cupboard and the importance of the children and not the cat getting it. These two vitamins are found in garden vegetables like lettuce, spinach and carrots, also in eggs. The fresh fruits that our gardens produce are sources of vitamine C. It is important that the fruit be fresh. Tomatoes and raw cabbage are named as perhaps the most available sources of C that we produce. Should C not be supplied in sufficient quantity in our home products it can be easily obtained in our home markets in oranges, grape fruit and other citrus fruits. The pale, anaemic child who might not relish pills will hardly refuse orange or grape fruit juice.

"Balanced rations" is the watchword for feeding man and beast. Such rations can be bought in a bag by the farmer for his cows and chickens, but not for his children. The careful housekeeper has been perplexed about the "balanced ration" for the family. Now she is advised to master this new A B C and see to it that whatever else her bill of fare supplies for daily food, it contains a generous supply of vitamins.

"SUCCESS is just another name for service."

And the success of The Barrett Company—its many years of unchallenged leadership in the roofing field—is the result of the economical service that users have always received from Barrett products.

This characteristic of economical service is well exemplified in Barrett Multi-Shingles.

On the roof, Multi-Shingles look exactly like individual shingles, but as they come four shingles to a strip they cost far less to lay. Their rich-colored mineral surface, in fadeless dark red or green, needs no painting, adds distinction to even the finest home and at the same time affords a high degree of fire protection.

With all these advantages, Barrett Multi-Shingles are wonderfully durable and extremely moderate in cost.

Other popular Barrett products include metal protective paints, roofing cements, shingle stain oil, fly spray and a wood preservative.

of '22, B. H. S., and their friends enjoyed a sleigh ride to Holyoke. Joseph Noel's team was hired for the trip. At 5.45 seventeen piled on to the sled and the ride began. A generous amount of water fell from the time Granby was reached until the arrival back home. A bountiful supper was served at Holyoke, and although the rain was still falling, every one started back in fine spirits. (Some were slightly dampened before Belchertown was reached.) But every one vouched for a very pleasant ride and a most enjoyable time.

Death of Miss Mary L. Shaw

Miss Mary L. Shaw, 44 years old, died suddenly of heart trouble at her home near West Ware at midnight Saturday night. She was apparently in her usual health when she retired at 11 o'clock and even some time later talked with her mother. She died at 12 o'clock.

She spent most of her life in Windsor, Mass., coming to town about five years ago. She leaves a mother, Mrs. Hattie Shaw, and two brothers, Harry E. and Benjamin A., both in the home.

The funeral was held Wednesday. Rev. D. L. Hilliard officiating. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery.

The Town Reports

The town reports were issued Wednesday and afford the most interesting reading matter of the week. A town report is as good as a city directory. If one looks long enough the chances are he will find his name somewhere.

This year the items are given in detail, not only in the expenditures but also in the receipts, so that the powers that be have put the microscope on all their doings. The continuance of this expensive publicity feature will be determined at the coming meeting.

The school committee, in their report, comment on the completion of the new grade school building and speak a word for keeping it in good condition. They also speak of the establishment of a Junior High school when the Memorial High school building is ready, and look forward to the time when a commercial course can be added. Both the committee and the superintendent call attention to the aid given by the state in the matter of financing the schools.

Supt. Lewis again calls attention to the increasing number of tardinesses, a bad sign, he states, from the standpoint of both schools and scholars. In speaking of adding new courses in the High school, he says that it "is recommended by the State Board of Education that the pupils of Enfield and possibly Greenwich attend the High school in Belchertown."

Regarding numerous changes in teachers, he hopes that the time will come when Belchertown will no longer be the training field for other towns.

Principal Allen, in his report, again calls attention to the need of home study. He reports an enrollment of 96 in the High school with a probability of passing the 100 mark in the fall.

Mrs. Gildemeister submits an interesting report. She tells of progress along musical lines and has an especially good word to say of the response of the Franklin school scholars. She looks forward to the completion of new accommodations in the center, when better work can undoubtedly be accomplished.

Mrs. Hoag, school nurse, tells of educational and preventative work done. 16 children from Franklin took advantage of a tubercular clinic in Palmer and arrangements are in progress for a dental clinic.

The Overseers of the Poor state that there are two inmates at the town farm and that two people in their own homes or the homes of others have been cared for. As a Board of Health they record 30 contagious diseases: 6 diphtheria, 5 tuberculosis, 6 influenza and 13 measles.

What the most interesting figures in the report are would be hard to determine. The net cost to the town for schools was $16,155.75. The appropriations committee recommend appropriations for this year to the amount of $63,380.45 as against $64,451.09 last year.

Board of Trade Meeting

Following its custom of holding a meeting just before the annual town meeting in February, the Board of Trade met last Monday evening in the High school room.

Previous to discussion of articles in the warrant, a report was given by M. A. Morse for the committee chosen a few years ago to provide the young people a place to skate. He stated that the proposition had been successfully completed, inasmuch as the dam on the Dr. King lot had been constructed and the bill of $175 practically met by individual subscriptions which the committee and others have solicited. The committee, as originally appointed, consisted of M. A. Morse, Guy C. Allen, Jr. and G. E. Scott, but the latter was excused on account of his school building activities.

The committee stated that, whereas their work had been completed, the weather conditions this winter had, so far, not been favorable to skating, so that the enterprise could not be really appreciated. They recommended the appointment of a permanent committee to see to clearing the pond of snow and to letting off the water in the spring. This matter was put over till the next meeting.

When the town meeting articles were considered, the ones concerning roads received considerable attention. Accountant Shaw stated that this year the town would receive approximately $9,000 under the provisions of Chapter 81, a much larger sum than has ever been received before.

Hope was expressed that the Turkey Hill road would be completed, but not much enthusiasm was manifested for doing much on the Three Rivers' road until the state is ready to help.

The sum of $100 to be expended in cutting out walks and improving the park was thought to be little enough. It was also thought wise and courteous to the new State school to install two more lights at the end of West Walnut St., inasmuch as the institution is willing to

Winter

We are grateful for the beauty and fertility of spring, for the warmth and wonder of the summer, for the fruitfulness and glory of the autumn, and now for the cold and snow of winter.

These wintry days are not forbidding to all. How the little children rejoice at the first sight of snow! How the blood of the youth leaps on its way, as a frosty morning greets him! And he who makes much of his living in the woods is happy at a fall of snow.

Listen to the merry voices as they ring out in the wintry air! Look at the beautiful pictures which nature in winter paints as the boughs glisten in the morning sun. Hear the voices which speak of whiteness and purity as we behold the white mantle of snow covering the earth.

We would not be unmindful of the lessons of the seasons. Winter brings her admonitions and we would heed them. The lessons which the leafless boughs, the cold, sharp winds, the drear, dead earth teach are good for us.

The winter has advantages which other seasons do not afford. There is the cheer and attractiveness of the great log fire on a wintry night, and the dancing flames. There are the long evenings with their reading and their mirth and their games. How the winter draws the whole family together around the fireside hearth!

And the winter brings its opportunities, too. There are always the poor to be cared for, the hungry to be fed, and the cold to be made warm. To many the coming of winter is a signal of distress. And we can help them out of their distresses.

We are glad for the grass that grows upon the mountains in summer, but we are grateful also for the snow which comes like wool, for the hoar frost which is scattered like ashes, and for the ice that is cast forth like morsels.

HOW

FAMOUS COLORED CHECKS CAME TO POPULAR FAVOR.

—Sir Walter Scott's black-and-white tweed trousers figured in a paper dealing with the designing and coloring of Scotch tweeds read at a textile congress held at Hawick some time ago. The famous author was one of the earliest wearers of tweed, and the first pieces were made in the black-and-white design.

Colored checks were introduced by accident. A manufacturer had a number of pieces and the white was so impure and dirty-looking that they could not be sold. Then someone suggested that if the pieces were dyed brown the defect would be covered. The suggestion was acted upon and a new check of black and brown was the result.

The new color was sent to London and sold rapidly. It was a short step to dye black and green and black and blue, and to make broken checks, and the trade increased amazingly.

It was now possible for a lady to have a reversible skirt made up in such a way that she might appear at one time in a modest blue and at another in the turn of her clan.

LEADERSHIP is rarely attained by accident—it comes as a reward for diligent adherence to the highest standards of quality.

Thus the Barrett Company's undisputed leadership in the roofing field is the strongest possible pledge of uniform quality and thorough dependability.

Barrett Multi-Shingles are a typical example of the sound value for which Barrett products are famous. Made of the best waterproofed sheet-roofing, and heavily mineral-surfaced in fadeless shades of dark red or green, they are durable, fire-resisting, strikingly beautiful and need no painting.

They come four shingles to a strip for easy laying. This time-saving feature, combined with their moderate cost and long life, makes them exceedingly economical.

Other popular Barrett products include metal protective paints, roofing cements, shingle stain oil, fly spray and a wood preservative.

Cost of New School Buildings

We print below figures given by G. E. Scott of the special school building committee, showing what money has been expended on the two new school buildings and estimates of how much money is necessary to complete operations.

Between the time the town voted on tentative plans and the time when the contracts were let, conditions changed so that the contracts could not be had at as advantageous figures as expected.

There have also been some extras. The water plant which had to be installed in the grade building was a matter of several hundred dollars, which in reality could not be charged to the actual building expense, but which had to be put in before the work could be completed. A similar expense will have to be met in some manner in the Memorial hall and High school building, so estimates are given for that item.

The committee has exercised judgment in stipulations in its contracts and where the expense was not excessive, tried to get as much quality as possible. In the matter of brick, tapestry brick was decided upon instead of ordinary brick. A little better lighting system was also thought advisable.

The figures given require little explanation. They show in black and white just where the town is at, and are printed at this time to inform the voters in season for the annual meeting.

put in lights below the railroad tracks if the town will put in those above.

Although the south end of the town was not represented at the meeting, there was much sympathy for the needs of the people in that section, especially in view of the fact that a good proportion of taxes are paid in from that district.

The apparently insignificant article relative to a public dump called forth considerable discussion, in the course of which H. R. Gould said that he had land suitable for the purpose which could be made available under certain restrictions, providing the town would agree to fence off the ground.

The article relative to the printing of the "Itemized Reports" was summarily dismissed with a few sharp words on these lengthy "town gossip" pages.

The articles were not taken up in order, nor many votes with "teeth" in them passed. Rather it was an informal discussion of town affairs by citizens anxious to think and vote intelligently.

Regarding additional funds needed for school house construction, G. E. Scott, chairman of the building committee, gave some figures showing what this money is needed for. He also explained why the construction could not be put through with in last year's appropriations.

It develops that the plan is to have another bond issue of $10,000 and to raise $3,000 by immediate taxation.

Perhaps the biggest surprise of the evening was the statement made on good authority that this year's tax rate would probably be no more than last year's in spite of school building construction. It was pointed out that several items of expense came last year which will not come this year.

At the next meeting, which will probably be held soon, Mr. Cummings of Ware will be present and speak on the co-operative bank with which he is connected in Ware. Mr. Cummings is anxious to assist the town in its development, and this bank aids those who contemplate erecting homes of their own. It is also expected that Mr. Schoonmaker and other influential Ware people will come with Mr. Cummings.

Speaking of developing the town, the matter of a new street connecting Maple and West Walnut was discussed at some length, the deductions of which were that it was undoubtedly one of the things sure to come, and that if private enterprise would develop the proposition, the town would be glad to accept the street.

Miss Ellen Jepson was hostess to twelve of her friends from four to seven last Friday afternoon in honor of her ninth birthday. Games and music filled the afternoon, the crowning event of which was the supper and birthday cake when the only light was from candles, those on the cake being supplemented by others on the buffet. The color scheme of the decorations was red and green, the favors for each guest being a red basket.

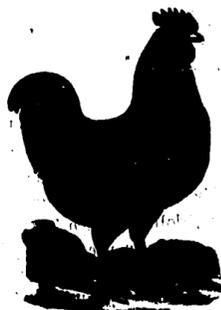

Miss Ellen was the recipient of very many pretty gifts, among them a wrist watch and a coaster sled.

The Town Meeting

If all town meetings are like the one of Monday, some kind of side show will have to be provided in the afternoon for the benefit of those unable to attend until after the dinner dishes are done. In fact something exciting may have to be planned for the forenoon to satisfy those who are bent on seeing the mud slinging of other days. For not only were all the articles in the warrant considered before one o'clock, but the meeting went thru in a very businesslike way, much to the satisfaction of a growing number who do not pride themselves on continuous wrangling.

Only two articles called forth spirited debate. When the town clock appropriation came up, there were those who thought that instead of spending the customary $50, on the present unreliable timepiece, the town should raise about $300 to cover cost of some new works. So the $50 was voted down, but when it came to the larger task, this also fared the same fate. As a result of the discussion, however, a committee was appointed to investigate the cost of a new clock and report at the next town meeting, and $55 was appropriated for the ensuing year.

But the article relative to spending $100 on the park under the supervision of the Park Association, took the prize for contention. The president of the Farmers' and Mechanics' club claimed that the Park Association was dead, and went on to tell the manner of its death, as well as to read its obituary. He claimed that it had not fulfilled its obligations since it took over the park and read from some old documents to prove his statement.

Members of the Park Association were present, however, and refused to be consigned to such a premature demise in view of the fact that some fifty men and several trucks were gotten out last spring to clean the common. A compromise amendment was introduced to have the money spent under the supervision of the selectmen, but the meeting was not out for compromises and the amendment was withdrawn. When the original motion was put to vote, the Park Association support was practically unanimous.

But the biggest expenditure of the article authorizing the borrowing of $10,000 to cover the anticipated deficit of the two new school buildings. There was no discussion on this article and the same was passed by a vote of 43 to 0.

The remaining $3,000 needed by the school building committee was appropriated from the surplus revenue. By so doing, the town was able to keep down the amount borrowed for school house construction.

The article calling for $100 for the upkeep of the Bondsville-Belchertown new gravel road was indefinitely postponed because it was thought that the extra money to be received from the state this year would cover the case without a special appropriation.

Under article 16, $300 was voted to put the Methodist vestry into shape when it becomes no longer needed for a High school room. This is the only rent, it seems, that has been asked for the use of the several rooms.

The article relative to selling a part of the grade school property to private parties was laid on the table without debate.

Girl Scout Doings

The Girl Scouts of Pine Cone troop No. 2 met at Mrs. D. D. Hazen's Wednesday afternoon for their first instruction in sewing under the auspices of the Hampshire County Extension club leaders. Miss Erhard was present and gave a talk on choosing materials for different garments and decorative stitches for trimming. She also demonstrated stocking darning which was afterward practised by the girls themselves.

At the meeting next week Wednesday each girl in first year sewing will begin an apron and those in second year work will begin making Scout uniforms.

Seed for Birds

The local Girl Scout captains have received from the Massachusetts Fish and Game Protective Association a quantity of grain accompanied by an explanatory letter which says: "The heavy snows of this winter have made it extremely difficult for birds to find their natural food and they are in danger of starving."

"Believing that the Boy and Girl Scouts are interested in protecting and increasing all forms of wild life and would be willing to take grain with them on their treks in the country and to distribute it where birds are thought to be, we are sending you a shipment of grain and hope that you will give it to the Scouts in your district who are interested and willing to distribute it."

"The smaller song and insectivorous birds may be fed bread, cake or almost any dry table scraps, together with suet which can be obtained at small cost at any market. Frequently the markets will give away suet if they know it is to be used in this way. Because small birds can be supplied with sufficient food from any household and do not depend on grain, the food which we are sending is intended primarily for pheasants and quail which do not ordinarily come close to habitations and attract attention to their needs."

The above mentioned grain may be obtained from either Miss Richardson or Miss Stebbins, also further details from the association in regard to feeding places, etc.

Grange Notes

Union Grange held an open meeting Tuesday evening. The sleighing parties expected did not arrive, but there were a fair number of members and visitors dressed in costume, and music, dancing and refreshments were enjoyed.

Accidents will happen in the best of regulated communities. Two of our respected ladies, while being driven home from the station by an experienced driver Saturday evening, were most ungratefully landed in a snow bank, and the doctor's car was stalled for some time near the same place when on a trip to visit the sick. We hope for better travelling some day.

Mrs. Frank C. Burton of New Bedford has been at her brother's, E. E. Gay, for the past two weeks, assisting in the care of her mother.

Harold Booth has 20 pullets, hatched the latter part of May, which began laying in November, and during December and January laid 40 eggs apiece.

James Lodge, on the Putnam place, has 4 pullets, hatched Aug. 5th in a stolen nest from eggs of Leghorn hens which came from C. E. Booth's as day-old chicks, which began laying Feb. 5th. Three of the four are now laying. The old hens seem to know how to rear their young even yet in spite of modern inconveniences.

Let the Barrett Reputation Protect You

THE reputation for dependable products earned by the Barrett Company through its 70 years of leadership in the roofing field, offers sure protection to all roofing buyers. For this reputation is too precious an asset to endanger by placing the "Barrett" name on goods of uncertain value.

Thus, Barrett Octagonal Strip Shingles, while new in style, possesses the dependable quality for which all Barrett Roofings are famous. With their unique form and fadeless red or green mineral surface, these shingles make one-color roofs of rugged beauty. Or by interchanging strips of red and strips of green shingles, distinctive two-color effects can easily be obtained.

Other popular Barrett products include metal protective paints, roofing cements, shingle stain oil, fly spray and a wood preservative.

Fordson Tractor Early

Everything points to the greatest shortage of Ford products this year that has ever existed.

Never before has the demand been so great.

You will want a Fordson Tractor early—here is one product you cannot wait for—when the weather opens up you will need it.

You will want it for plowing, seeding, cultivating—and all your other work. Already it has proved the greatest help to profitable farming that has ever been offered to you. And at $395 f. o. b. Detroit, the price is so low that you lose money every day you are without a Fordson. To get delivery you must order early.

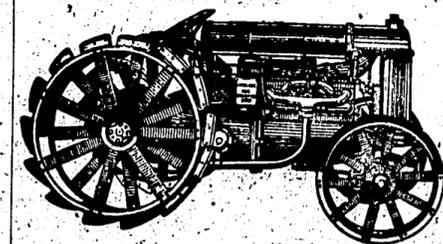

There are no reserve stocks among our dealers—our production capacity, great as it is, will not enable us to build up a reserve.

It must be a case of "first come, first served" and the only way in which you can protect yourself is to list your order with a Ford Dealer immediately.

By taking advantage of our dealer's first opportunity to make delivery, you will be assured of having your Fordson when you need it.

Death of Mrs. F. F. Dewey

Mrs. Loria J. Dewey, 53, wife of Fred F. Dewey, died at her home on North Main street early Sunday morning after a severe illness following two paralytic shocks.

Mrs. Dewey was born in Worcester and was a graduate of the Worcester Classical High school. She was a member of the Episcopal church.

She leaves besides her husband, a daughter, Ethel, connected with the Worcester Memorial hospital, and a son, George, in the home.

The funeral was held in the home Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Ward of Amherst officiating. The body, in charge of Undertaker Roy G. Shaw, was taken to Worcester, where the committal service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Hobson of that city. Burial was in Worcester Rural cemetery.

Grange Notes

The program for the next Grange meeting, Feb. 16, is:

Debate: Resolved that men eat too much and women talk too much.
Mrs. J. W. Hurlburt and M. A. Morse.

This will be followed by a White Elephant party in charge of Miss Ruby Knight. Come and bring your white elephant, wrapped to conceal its identity, and exchange it for some other white elephant.

A jolly, good time is assured and plenty of jokes on the other fellow.

Schools Get Coal

Through the kindness of Dr. McPherson of the Belchertown State School, the coal situation has been relieved at the Center schools. The grade schools closed last week, due to a lack of fuel and the High school had not much ahead. Dr. McPherson's offer, therefore, to loan the school department 25 or 30 tons to help over the crisis, was graciously accepted.

Lent

Lent is a forty days' fast which this year began last Wednesday and ends on April 1, Easter Sunday. Lent comes from an Anglo-Saxon word which means "Spring" and so is always held in the spring of the year.

The observance of Lent is a growth. The early Christians, remembering Jesus' words, "When the bridegroom shall be taken from them then shall they fast," thought a fast day was appropriate. Quite naturally they soon observed a three day fast because their Lord lay in the

Poultry Day

Through courtesy of the Hampshire Co. Extension service, Feb. 24 will be Poultry day in Belchertown.

Prof. Monahan, a poultry expert of prominence, who has been in town a number of times in the interest of better poultry, will be here as will also Mr. Paine, county agent.

This will be an all-day session, beginning at 10 a. m. in Grange hall. There will be a basket lunch at noon, but coffee will be served in the hall.

The town reports show that nearly 12,000 fowls were taxed in Belchertown last year, which would indicate that poultry keeping is a live industry, and if so, those who handle it will be glad to get in touch with those similarly interested.

THE LADIES TOO

The ladies of the town will also come in on the day's program, especially as Miss Boice, home demonstration agent, will be present to speak along lines of interest to the women.

Selectmen's Doings

"At the regular meeting of the board, the selectmen decided by a 2 to 1 vote to appoint J. J. Garvey to have charge of the streets for the ensuing year. Mr. Garvey was named as Superintendent, but will work under the direction of the board of selectmen."

A recount of votes for selectmen was held last Saturday evening, and while some votes were ruled out on technicalities, there was no change in the list of elected officers.

Get-together Social

The Get-together socials are still "news" in spite of the fact that they are now more than a year old and that there have apparently been many climaxes.

The call to come dressed to represent some book was heeded by a good proportion of those attending. The Fair was of sufficient importance so that Josiah and Samantha were on hand as well as other personages of more recent date. Some showed Four Feathers, some came in costumes representing the Past and Present, some came togged in Red and Black and some came tagged with letters and numerals indicating something that had come out at some time in black and white. As before stated, the percentage of "literacy" was good.

Miss Alice Howard, attired in Indian costume, representing the book, The White Strain, was awarded first honors by the committee chosen to judge those most ingeniously attired.

But the fun was not all for the thoughtful. Games and stunts provided varied expression of activity for all. The committee must have lain awake nights to have thought out such a variety and quantity of amusing features.

The men sewed on buttons, diagnosed 20 odd pieces of cloth with a percentage as high as 35, while the ladies played football, using plenty of hot air on a hollow egg, and sawed real elm wood with a hundred per cent efficiency. Husbands and wives blushed when their better half displayed so much expertness, for fear some might think that the other side of the house had been "sick" some time.

The most expensive number on the program, so the committee said, was the Weber quartet, inadvertently advertised as the "weather" quartet, but when H. F. Putnam, Geo. Davis and Clifton and Henry Witt tuned up, the name did not seem so very far amiss after all. It was a combination of a blizzard, a snow squall and a thunder storm.

"What to do in case of an emergency" when the ladies asked the questions and the men replied from slips dealt out promiscuously was grave three days. This was in the second century. By the third century they were observing the six days preceding Easter, remembering thus the last week of their Lord's life, the account of which was so complete in all the lives of the Lord. By the fourth century the fast was extended to forty days because they remembered that their Lord had fasted that number of days in the wilderness. And from that time till now, many Christians have used the forty days preceding Easter as fast days leading up to a proper observance of Easter.

Lent is not the exclusive possession of the Roman Catholic communion or of the Protestant Episcopal church. It belongs to all. But the length of the fast is not an essential matter. Any individual or communion is at perfect liberty to select its own number of days. The time is not obligatory. There is no reason why any group of people may not select any other period of the year. The method of celebrating the fast is not fixed. Each group of Christians has the freedom to select its own plan. The plan which may commend itself to one group may not commend itself to another.

But the principal underlying the observance of Lent is essential. The soul of man needs more quiet than the Lord's days afford. The heart of man needs extended periods in which to meditate and pray, to purify the heart, to cast out the evil and to strengthen the good. Let everyone take some period in the year for self-discovery and self-mastery. We commend these forty days leading up to Easter.

Folks praise the men who help make the laws,
And cheer for the soldier home from the wars,
Make much of the man who can sing or talk—
But I praise the fellow who clears his walk.
When old King Winter stretches his hand,
And snow like an avalanche covers the land,
The man who counts best in our eyes, I know,
Is he who gets out and shovels the snow:
Who waits not to see what his neighbors may do,
But tackles his job and sees it through.

He may be a man of small renown,
But his praise is sung all over the town:

For the short and the tall, the stout and the slim
Free their minds from danger to life and limb.

As a citizen good he is hard to beat;
(Those that don't think so may take a back seat.)

When the hosts of Winter around us stalk,
Hats off to the man who shovels his walk!

Sees Good in It

One of our subscribers residing in New York and spending the summers here, sent us the following clipping from the New York Times of Feb. 4. He is much interested in what prohibition is doing and remarks on the improved conditions in our own community. He also speaks of an interview with an Italian who held a prominent position with our government during the war, wherein it was brought out that the new law is a great boon to the people of that nationality.

Dr. Thomas J. Riley, General Secretary of the Brooklyn Bureau of Charities, says that prohibition is justifying the expectation of its supporters that it would do much to relieve the burdens of the poor. Regarding the definite results among the poor families helped by the bureau, Dr. Riley said:

"Of the families that come to the Bureau of Charities for aid, the percentage in which drunkenness is a cause of their need has declined from 12 per cent. in 1916 to 4 per cent. in 1922. In other words, twelve out of 100 families that came to us for help in 1916 had drunkenness in some member of the family to such a degree as to constitute a disability in that family, whereas last year there were only four out of 100; in 1920 the percentage was six and in 1921 it was five. The New York Charity Organization Society, which corresponds to the Bureau of Charities in Brooklyn, reported that intemperance among the families under its care during the year had decreased 60 per cent. from the figures of 1916.

"This decrease is not peculiar to New York City. Drunkenness as a disability that brings people to the family welfare society has shown a similar decrease in other places. A similar reduction is shown in 29 cities for which the figures have been compiled recently.

Black Sheep Sometimes Appear Among White Flocks

The appearance of black lambs in a flock made up entirely of white sheep has been for ages and is still a cause for wonder and the basis of superstitions. But the study of the laws of breeding and heredity has explained the reasons for the sporadic appearance of these off-color specimens, according to a bulletin of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Feeding and management of sheep have nothing to do with the appearance of black lambs. The black color is hereditary even though it may be transmitted by ordinary white sheep. The black color in such a case is what is called a recessive character. White sheep which transmit this character at all transmit black in 50 per cent of their reproductive cells and white in the remaining 50 per cent. Thus, such white sheep mated with blacks—which can only transmit black—produce 50 per cent black lambs and 50 per cent white. All of these white lambs can transmit black.

White sheep which transmit only whites, mated with blacks, produce only white lambs, but all of these lambs can transmit black. When both ewe and ram are white, but both transmit black, about 25 per cent of the lambs are black, 50 per cent are white which transmit black, while the remaining 25 per cent are true breeding whites.

WORLD ON ITS LAST LEGS?

Why It Is Said Mankind Won't Be Able to Walk After the Next 10,000 Years.

There is comfort for those cheerless people who believe that the world is on its last legs. Scientists are backing them up. Doctor Vaughn, the health commissioner of Detroit, asserts that in 10,000 years there will be no human legs at all.

It is a startling prediction, coming as it does at a time when the visible supply of legs is larger and more beautiful than ever. It seems incredible that legs should fade out of the picture. With what shall generations of that far future walk? Ah, says Doctor Vaughn, that's just it; the race is going to lose its legs because it doesn't use them any more.

We must remember, observes the New York World, that Doctor Vaughn is in a position to be pessimistic. He is in Detroit, where almost everybody lives on and in motorcars. Infants instead of being taught to toddle, are shown how to throw out the clutch shift the gears and slip into first speed; that is, all except the Ford babies, who don't have to bother with gear shifting.

Arms, too, will disappear about the same time that legs depart, unless, says Doctor Vaughn, people use their arms more for real exertion. Is the doctor suggesting that modern folk are not working hard enough? It sounds that way. The world needs to be reminded that unless it keeps its muscles in order there will be no tennis tournaments in a hundred centuries or so. Without legs, no dancing. Without arms, no baseball. At the present of the distant future will be telephonic. The Babe Ruths of the world will swing the ball with the aid of thought. The ace days will recall the tracks of their minds. The world's people will amuse their eyes by watching the action of pure rea-

funny beyond words, the bunching of the "onions", "peaches", "turnips", etc., would have been a good ice breaker if there had been any ice to break, while the drawing of "heart strings" for partners was a thrilling sensation, when one began to feel the tug on the line and to read the sentiments inside the heart of hearts.

The committee were out for all the hilarity possible and didn't stop with mere sentiment—they put on a mock wedding, where the bride, groom and attendants, bedecked in all the colors of the rainbow, did their part most excruciatingly.

This was a prelude to the buffet lunch, "wedding cake" and "wedding breakfast," the very name of which reminded the guests that it was about time to be "at home."

The committee for the next social, as it now stands, consists of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Miss Maggie Hales, Miss Upham, and Mr. and Mrs. George Hussey.

Extension Day

Tomorrow, Saturday, Feb. 24, will be Extension Day in Belchertown, when representatives of the Hampshire County Extension service will be present and talk with and not exactly at the poultrymen of Belchertown with reference to their problems.

The subjects for discussion are live ones, such that all engaged in the poultry business will be glad to talk about, especially as it will be only a short time now before the chicken business will be getting into full swing.

The program is as follows:

- 10.00 Poultry Diseases, Treatment and Control
Prof. Wm. C. Monahan, Extension Poultry Specialist.
- 11.00 Poultry Production as a Business
R. A. Payne
- 12.00 Basket Lunch (Bring your own. Coffee will be served.)
- 1.00 Brooding and Management of Chickens
Prof. Monahan
- 2.00 Guide Posts in Profitable Poultry Production
R. A. Payne

Prof. Monahan has been here on a number of occasions, as has also Mr. Payne, and both gentlemen have the confidence of the people even though they may not exactly agree with all the methods they advocate.

Miss Boice, the new home demonstration agent, wants to meet the women on the same day. She will give a demonstration on the recaning of chair seats and requests those who come to bring an old chair with the seat removed, also 6 plugs to fit the holes in the frame. It is also expected that the women will form a program of work for 1923 at this meeting.

The sessions will be held in Grange hall and a strong effort will be made to start on time.

It is hoped that there will be a good attendance and that because of the meeting the poultry industry will be given a boost and that the ladies will find increased avenues of activity.

Hats Off!

"Business is business," yes, and some business is larger than other business. Uncle Sam and John Bull have just made a financial agreement that is "big business" in the superlative degree. A satisfactory arrangement has been concluded between them for the payment of the greatest bill one nation ever ran up with another.

What an unprecedented bill it is! One can say a billion dollars as easily as he can say a million dollars and not have a very clear idea how large a pile even a single million of silver dollars would make. But this bill is for four thousand millions of dollars and eight hundred millions more. It is an incomprehensible sum. I take off my hat to you, John, when I think of what a job of turning over dollars to Uncle Sam you have before you.

You had, of course, to give your note or bonds for this sum. Ready cash was not possible with a war depleted treasury. Also you sought to make as good terms as to time of payments and rates of interest as possible. We do not lay that up against you, and you should not think that Uncle Sam is a hard, exacting creditor. He had to borrow those dollars he loaned to you and is paying interest on them. He was glad to accommodate you when you so sorely needed help, and all concerned are glad that the arrangement has been made.

It is a transaction of vast significance in the financial and moral history of the world, and promises good fellowship between you and us in the future. When you were hard pressed for cash and asked Uncle Sam if he would help you out, you said you would make it all right some day. Uncle Sam had confidence in you and you have kept your word with no evasions and no whines about it. A good old sport you are, John.

We are happy that our confidence in you has been so splendidly vindicated. The example of such a radiant illustration of integrity is worth a great deal to the nations struggling to keep solvent.

Death of B. L. Thrasher

Bernice Leonard Thrasher, 88, died last Thursday in Springfield at the home of his son, William Thrasher, where he has been staying since the death of Mrs. Thrasher, Jan. 18. Mr. Thrasher was sick for only about two weeks and his passing was due chiefly to old age.

He was born in Cummington, Mass., and was the son of Ezra and Fetna Leonard Thrasher. He was married on June 23, 1864, to Alma Bishop of this town.

Mr. Thrasher was in the stove and tinware business in this village for thirty-eight years and taught most of his sons the trade. He was located for a long time in the basement of the Baptist church.

He leaves four sons, Charles F. of Florida, Arthur P. of Amherst, William T. of Springfield, Henry G. of Ware; also two daughters, Mrs. William Hannum of Indian Orchard and Mrs. John A. Gould of this town. There are also 14 grandchildren besides 3 great grandchildren.

The funeral was held in the chapel Monday afternoon. Rev. D. L. Hilliard officiating. The bearers were the three sons, Arthur, William and Henry Thrasher and John A. Gould, son in law. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery.

What $50,000 Would Do

The topic considered by the young people of the Federated church at their service last Sunday night was of civic interest. It was, "$50,000 for improving our community. How should we spend it?" The young people took the question seriously and ventured many things that they thought would benefit the town.

It was suggested that instead of dabbling at the roads each year, laying out a few thousand dollars, a big sum might better be spent for im-

Eugene Eaton is recovering from a severe attack of influenza.

The members of the Isaac family have all been more or less confined to their beds with attacks of grip but are all improving.

Lyman Hubbard, who is employed by the Rolls-Royce Co. of Springfield, spent the week-end with his parents.

Turkey Hill is still furnishing its own amusement and excitement, although the benefits of some do not reach farther than their own door yard. They hope to keep the residents "above snow," as it were, as for example, to see one of our noted sportsmen starting out with a gun with a dog in advance and a nanny goat following, which could not be persuaded to return home until captured and led back by his young master, was rather amusing for a dull day.

We are thinking of using the camera on such scenes as this. When the next to the oldest man in the neighborhood stumbles over a board and plays football with a bag of grain, some substantial record of the strange gymnastics he plays would be interesting for his grandchildren to peruse in years to come.

Our fruit man, hoping to take his apples to market by auto, started to break out the roads for that purpose, when the wrath of his neighbors was so great that he conveyed his fruit by team, taking the old Lyon road to Lowell.

It's no joke on the two farmers, who have been obliged to buy cook stoves because of the old ones being worn out working overtime.

Last week two strange birds, black with white head and neck, an owl and five deer were seen near the state road.

EVER since the Barrett Company was founded, over 70 years ago, it has consistently pursued a definite business policy. That policy has been to make the best possible products,
and to sell those products at the lowest possible prices. As a result, Barrett Roofings are today the recognized standard of roof value.

These characteristics of quality and economy are found in full measure in Barrett Mineral-Surfaced Roll Roofing.

Its fadeless mineral surface in dark red or green makes it entirely suitable for cottages, bungalows and garages, yet it is so inexpensive that it is an economical roofing for all steep-roofed farm and factory buildings. It is fire-resisting and needs no painting.

Other popular Barrett products include metal protective paints, roofing cements, shingle stain oil, fly spray and a wood preservative.

HOW
ULTRA-MICROBES MAY BE USED TO FIGHT DISEASE.
—In the great realm of Nature every creature preys upon its fellows. Even microbes, the tiniest living things that the most powerful microscope enables us to see, are, for their size, as voracious as the most savage lions.

And now comes an amazing
discovery made at the famous Pasteur Institute in Paris. Microbes themselves are attacked, weakened, and finally killed by creatures so vastly smaller than their own minute bodies that we can never hope to see them, however much the microscope is developed.

These creatures — ultra-microbes — can be isolated, bred, and strengthened until they are ready to fall like an avenging host upon the germs of disease.
Once research has enabled us to enlist as allies the teeming battalions of these tiny friends, we shall be able to wage a relentless war on sickness.

When, for instance, we are able to turn loose the ultra-microbe of typhoid fever into suspected water supplies, one of our worst scourges will become a thing of the past.

The world has never known

The Extension School

Judging by the attendance at the Extension school last Saturday, the poultry business in Belchertown is a live one. Sixty or more availed themselves of hearing Messrs. Payne and Monahan of the Extension Service, and while perhaps all did not believe that at the rainbow's base a pot of gold to buy flivvers, electric sweepers, flat irons, etc., would pan out quite as portrayed, still there was a disposition to believe that with added work and increased efficiency a larger income would be available to those willing to make the effort.

There were the set addresses, to be sure, but questions from the floor were always welcome and brought out many a valuable suggestion—at least, valuable to the ones who asked them.

Mr. Payne, the county agent, opened the morning session with figures showing returns from 29 poultry farms in Plymouth county. The outstanding deductions from these figures were that with but a little more capital and somewhat larger flocks, the more prosperous ones secured much larger returns than the less fortunate. The expense of running was not so very much more, but the gross receipts were much larger.

Mr. Payne laid great stress on the fact that before there can be profit there must be an output. He also emphasized the point that interest on land and equipment must be figured in before a correct net income can be arrived at.

Another deduction from the Plymouth county figures was the almost unvaried demonstration that pullets do much better than fowls kept more than one year.

Mr. Payne said that he wanted to get figures from poultrymen in this vicinity, so as to get helpful lessons therefrom without having to rely on counties far away. These figures

"Have you seen the Crickets—?"

The interrogation on a snappy winter morning of "Have you seen any blue birds or grasshoppers?" will have to be changed. Now it should read, "Have you seen any crickets, butterflies or moths?"

No, we're not joking, for on good authority we have it that on some of last week's coldest days a cricket was singing merrily away at the State school, and on Monday one of our townspeople went home to find that a 1923 butterfly had thawed out under the summer skies, and then the day following, who should show up to the chagrin of the thermometer, but a moth.

You who are spending the winter in the sunny south, in sunny California or what not, we know not what became of the ground hog on Candlemas day, but by testimony of these three other species, it is at least three against one that spring has indeed come and it is about time to inquire the price of a ticket for wide-awake Belchertown.

Defeats All-Collegians

The Belchertown Independents took a decisive victory from the All-Collegians of Amherst last Saturday night, the final score being 35 to 16. It was an exciting game from start to finish. The score at half time was 9 to 4, and at one time during the last half the Amherst team had a one point lead.

The Independents were strengthened by the Grayson brothers, whose playing was interesting at all times. Fairchild played his best game of the season. Another old timer, Bucky Davis, was on hand, and showed by his scoring that he had not forgotten the game when he tossed in seven points.

E. Grayson made more than the whole Amherst team with a total of eighteen points. The score does not represent the speed as Red Ball, who is well known to the fans, was the captain of the Amherst team, and being used to Grayson's play, kept him under guard, showing a brand of ball which has never before been seen in the local hall.

Hurley of Amherst made the most points. It is said that this is not his own name but that he is a professional by trade. Line-up:

WILL PLAY AMERICAN LEGION OF WARE

Another interesting game will come off in the town hall Saturday night, when the Independents will play the American Legion of Ware. This team has been winning nearly every game it has played and comes here with a strong reputation. The Graysons will be in the Belchertown line-up.

Come early, do your shopping, and over to the game we will go!

To Form Men's Club

A movement is on foot to start a men's club or brotherhood in town. The idea is to form an organization, not only for helpful meetings, but for lending a hand in any worthy movement for a better civic life.

Those who have this in mind have called a meeting for next Monday evening in the chapel when the object of the organization and any plans for the future will be discussed.

All men of voting age whether connected with the men's class of the Federated church, where the idea originated, or not, are invited to be present.

would be confidential, as far as names of owners are concerned and would never be used singly. The response to this request was good, a number of the larger poultrymen agreeing to turn in their figures for summarization for at least a year. All those willing to thus co-operate are privileged to receive a special account book free gratis.

Prof. Monahan of M. A. C. followed with a talk on poultry diseases and control. He said that he had given this address here before and that some had heard him at other places, etc., but the school was bound to have him repeat it. Mr. Monahan deemed the matter of great importance to the poultrymen as diseases must be avoided if not combated.

He divided the diseases into two classes, those peculiar to fat hens and those peculiar to thin hens. While there was bound to be loss by reason of fat hens taking sick, he minimized the loss, which was bound, to be small, but cautioned against the diseases of thin hens, which had a tendency to work havoc.

For control he advocated spraying houses and yards with a solution of 2 ounces of corrosive sublimate to 15 gallons of water, and in the yards to use 1 gallon to 10 square feet.

Prof. Monahan gave helpful suggestions regarding a number of diseases.

The noon hour, when a number ate their basket lunches and enjoyed coffee together, was a happy occasion. At this time, Miss Boice, home demonstration agent, showed the ladies—and some men as well—how to cane chairs, and throughout the afternoon interested a number who preferred that to sitting still under the spell of the lecturers.

Mr. Payne stressed the point that raising chickens on new ground each year would help greatly those who had started in successfully in the poultry business but had erroneously come to the conclusion that their stock had run out or that some lamp had gone out at some time or other, or a number of other things had happened to cause the trouble. Mr. Payne said that the ideal way is to have three plots of ground, raising chickens on them in rotation.

Mr. Payne was quite emphatic that the poultrymen must watch out on this point, saying that trouble due to old ground is bound to develop and everybody's turn will come sometime. As a result of his words of caution a number signified their intention of playing safe.

Ventilation of houses by means of open fronts was stressed, as otherwise the litter would soon become wet and soggy and a sure source of trouble.

Prof. Monahan gave quite a lengthy talk on diversity in farming. He said that there were two types of farmers, one that specializes and one that does something of everything. He thought that the ideal one took the half-way ground, neither putting all his eggs in one basket nor spreading himself too much. He said that day old chicks are a good proposition, and that there is money in raising pullets for selling to backyard city poultrymen. He said the supply was way below the demand on this line. He said, however, that they must be raised on fresh soil and be guaranteed. He offered to assist any who cared to enter this field of activity.

Much was made by the speakers of using labor saving methods and cutting corners wherever they could be cut to advantage. The speakers even went so far as to say that for young stock on the range, both mash, scratch feed and water could all be "hoppered" in instead of chasing out to feed a number of times a day. In fact the helpful hints popped out here and there all during the day and bits of witticisms enlivened the proceedings, so that no one really thought he had been to school.

At the close of both sessions, leaflets issued by the college were eagerly sought by the poultrymen or women, as the case might be.

As before stated, it was a very fine occasion. It drew out not only the faddist but the real dealer. M. A. Morse presided at both sessions in happy vein and Mrs. H. F. Putnam saw to it that the dinner hour was a success.

Dies in Portland

The death in Portland last week Tuesday of Daniel Wilkins is of interest to Belchertown people because Mr. Wilkins as a young man lived in this town several years, the last five in the family of M. A. Morse, going from there to Wesleyan academy. He was a member of the Methodist church and sang in the choir. He died as the result of diabetes, from which he suffered a number of years. A Portland paper says of him:

"Daniel Wilkins, one of the most respected citizens of this place, died this morning at his home on Main St., after a short illness, aged 47 years. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Nellie Goodrich before her marriage, one daughter, a sister, Miss Gertrude Wilkins of Boston, Mass., and a brother, Frederick Wilkins of North Brookfield, Mass. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

Mr. Wilkins was born in Boston, April 17, 1876. He prepared for college at Wilbraham academy, Wilbraham, Mass., and was graduated from Wesleyan University in the class of 1907. After his graduation from college he taught for a year at Dummer academy, South Byfield, Mass. In 1908 he entered business with Raymond Goodrich of Hartford and also became private secretary for the late C. C. Goodrich, president of the Hartford-New York Transportation company. In 1914 Mr. Wilkins was elected a member of the board of education, and had served continuously from that time, also serving as secretary of the board since 1917. His work on the school board was a valuable one, his training making him eminently qualified for handling the problems of education. He gave unstintingly of his time and thought to the improvement of the town's schools. Mr. Wilkins had served as clerk of the Congregational church for many years and took an active interest in the church work. He was a gifted singer, having been a member of the glee club while at Wesleyan, and was always willing to exercise his talents along this line when called upon.

"Mr. Wilkins was a member of the Eclectic chapter of the Phi Nu Theta fraternity at Wesleyan university. He was a member of Warren Lodge, No. 51, F. and A. M. and had served the lodge as senior wardener.

"In the death of Mr. Wilkins the community loses a citizen of the highest type, one who was ever ready to work for any cause for the common good, without thought of personal advantage. He was always kind and cheerful, in spite of an illness which he had borne with fortitude for a number of years. A wide circle of friends will sincerely mourn his loss."

Record Snow Fall

(Clipping sent by a subscriber)

Any number of wagers concerning the depth of the snow in Springfield this year and a winter years ago were settled...when the archives at the Springfield Arsenal were taken down and examined. They showed that in the 100 years that snowfall figures have been recorded, no winter has a record equal to the present season. The fall of 80.56 inches, or nearly seven feet of snow, exceeds that of the winter of 1898-99; which was considered unusually severe. More snow fell early in January than came during that winter. There have been 23 snowstorms and two rainstorms this winter. The figures by months follow: November, .06 inch; December, 15.50; January, 54.50; February 10.50 inches.

Boom Cooperative Bank

F. R. Person, treasurer of the Ware Co-operative bank, and Mr. Cummings, a member of one of the bank's committees, spoke at a special meeting of the Board of Trade, Wednesday afternoon in the chapel, trying to interest its members in the co-operative bank proposition, which the visitors proclaimed one of the biggest helps possible to the ordinary working man in the matter of owning a home.

This bank has been in operation in Ware for about three years and has had a very successful history. Mr. Cummings of the H. P. Cummings Construction Co., which is putting up the Lawrence Memorial hall and which has done a number of smaller jobs this winter, is interested in Belchertown's future and thought that the co-operative bank would fit the situation exactly, as no doubt homes will be built in the near future and not all will be able to finance the proposition alone.

It was explained that the bank is empowered to loan 80 per cent. of the value of a completed property, payable in installments.

American Legion Smoker

In spite of the fact that the snow and wind of Wednesday made travelling difficult, the American Legion smoker, postponed from last Saturday evening, was quite a pretentious affair. Quite a number of the boys turned out and a number of guests were present. While rather informal in nature, there was quite a definitely shaped up program.

Wm. Sullivan, the newly elected Post commander, gave an inspiring message to his comrades, whom he called upon to carry the banner of Americanism and assist in the development of the community. He said that the Legion brand of Americanism is the kind that helps the other fellow. He asked the question why there should be less of neighborliness and good fellowship here in peace than on the battlefield in war.

Commander Sullivan said, "Be a loyal Legionnaire and make your community a busier, better place to live in and those who have gone West will sleep in peace."

At the conclusion of his message a letter of greeting was read from Raymond L. Goodell, secretary of

Fire Permits

Fire Warden Peeso is in receipt of the following regulations concerning the granting of permits for fires. They are printed verbatim so that the public may become acquainted with them and live up to their requirements. It is to be noted that there have been a number of changes.

Permits are required from March 1 to December 1.
Permits must not be issued during a drouth.

You must be absolutely sure that the party procuring a permit has sufficient help to keep the fire under control.

Permits for debris, field, gardens or orchards—2 days.

Permits for burning following lumbering or wood-cutting operations—7 to 20 days.

Permits for county or state institutions—30 days.

Permits for railroad section men—30 days.

Permits for Boy Scout or similar organizations at permanent camp sites—30 days.

Permits for hikes cover time of hike only.

Wardens should know the day and, if possible, the hour when permit fires are to be started.

The law must be strictly enforced and violators fined or made to pay the cost of extinguishment.

Section men must burn ties only on rainy days and must entirely extinguish all fires before leaving at night.

The commissioner has power to discontinue the issue and revoke all permits when in his opinion weather conditions justify the same.

dent believer in the co-operative bank idea and wants to do what he can to boom it.

In response to a suggestion that a separate bank be started here, it was brought out that the law requires that about 2,000 shares be sold before a bank can begin business.

Mr. Person said that he would guarantee that every dollar that came from Belchertown to be invested in the bank at Ware, would be loaned to people in Belchertown desiring to build. He emphasized the fact that not much could be done for the people locally till sufficient support is in evidence to warrant it.

A number at the meeting signified
a willingness to buy shares from a standpoint of investment, and some contemplating building had receptive ears. Mr. Person laid considerable emphasis on the fact that each month by month investment in this conservative enterprise is a good habit to get into and also stressed the point that the same method of paying for a home is bound to win

out. He said that when the prescribed time is up the home is sure to be paid for, whereas when one deals with a savings bank, usually the interest only receives attention.

Mr. Person said that the law requires that no loan can be called under the cooperative scheme when all obligations are met and that all money invested is invested in first mortgage loans to stockholders only.
The number of shares any stockholder can own is limited, so that no one can ever obtain a controlling interest.

One of those attending the meeting hoped that the Ware bank would demonstrate a building loan in town, thinking that would be the best way to acquaint the people with the proposition.

No inflammable oil and water scheme was presented, but a cold statement of what cooperation does in the building of a community by a community was ably set forth.

Death of Wm. E. Aldrich

Mr. Aldrich was the son of Henry
M. and Hattie (Jepson) Aldrich and was born in town, where he spent the early part of his life. After a long residence in Springfield, he went to Needham where he has lived for the past three years.

He was a member of Blue Hill Lodge of Odd Fellows who, with other friends, were faithful visitors at the hospital through his long illness. A delegation from the Blue Hill Lodge went to Graham's undertaking parlors, Boston, where a very touching fraternal service was held.

Funeral services were held from the home of his brother, C. R. Aldrich of Walnut St., Monday at one
p. m. The bearers were Roy, Leon and Harry Aldrich and John Wood.
Rev. C. H. Smith of Granby, a former pastor, officiated, assisted by Rev. D. L. Hilliard. Rev. Smith spoke with much feeling about his early associations with Mr. Aldrich, also of other brotherly ties which bind men closer together. Mrs. Bertram Shaw sang two selections,
"There's a land that is fairer than day," and "Abide with me." Burial was in the family lot in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Besides his family, Mr. Aldrich of this town, and three brothers, Roy and Harry G. of Needham.

To Save Old Roofs

DURING its long years of leadership in the manufacture of roofing materials, The Barrett Company has developed many specialties that stand alone in their respective fields. Two of these are Plastic Elastigum and Liquid Elastigum.

Plastic Elastigum is everywhere known as
"The Waterproof Cement with a Hundred Uses." It is the most efficient roof patching and all-round repair material ever placed on the market. Comes all ready for use and sticks firmly to metal, wood or prepared roofing.
Don't be without a can.

Liquid Elastigum is a cement in liquid form.
It forms a durable, weather-proof coating over old "rubber" roofing and adds years of service to their life. Inexpensive and easily applied.

Other popular Barrett products include Barrett
roofings and shingles, metal protective paints, shingle stain oil, fly spray and a wood preservative.

the board of selectmen.

Dr. Watkins of the State school was then introduced. He gave the Post a word of encouragement, stating that while it might have its growing pains, the Civil War veterans had theirs and it is not strange that this younger and larger body should have similar experiences. He said that there is a duty devolving upon every member of the organization. In life we cannot all play the more important parts in the orchestra, but we possibly can play the flute and thus make our contribution.
Dr. Watkins brought a word of greeting from Dr. McPherson, who was unable to be present, and spoke on the part of the school a hearty cooperation.

Raymond L. Blackmer and Belding F. Jackson then gave a character sketch, which was followed by a few timely words by Principal Thos.
Allen. He called attention to the fact that the Legion can, if it so desires, wield a large influence for good. He commented on the new movement to do away with the various forms of gambling at fairs, substituting the giving of real values, and stated that the experiment is yielding even larger financial returns than the more spectacular methods. He called attention to this change taking place at the Northampton fair and submitted that the Post could mold and shape public opinion along this line locally.

Prin. Allen also alluded to the work of the boys in the days of the war and said that while men of other days had gone forth to save a country, the Legion went forth to save a world.

Commander Sullivan then gave some readings. These were followed by appropriate remarks by Belding F. Jackson. He commented on the Legion motto and said that while Americanism has been taught by means of literature, civics and history, there is a demand now to teach it in a more practical manner and said that the Legion is well fitted to do this. He said that negatively this could not be done by crabbing against the government every time the Legion doesn't get what it goes after.

Mr. Jackson called upon the Post members to be themselves examples of what true Americans should be, reiterating the truth that one's influence is no more than what he actually lives. In closing he said that there should be such a fitting observance of Memorial day and Armistice day that the youth would be inspired to noble action.

M. A. Morse wanted the Legion to do things on a big scale, stating that in the war they had done a big job, and asked them not to be afraid to ask for money for support. He wanted the boys to go into the schools to acquaint the youth with their war experiences and wished that there might be a larger turnout
of school children on Memorial days,
such as was the case in earlier years.
Mr. Morse spoke a word for boys permanently injured in the service, for whom he thought nothing too good.

The speech making closed with a few remarks by the editor on healing permanently a world that has constantly been operated upon.

After some of the boys had experimented with the "gloves" which a number donned as they were so inclined, a sumptuous repast of sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee was enjoyed and the evening's program concluded with the singing of America.

A bad chimney fire took place at the home of Leroy M. Blackmer
Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock.
Help was called and the blaze was supposed to have been extinguished, but broke out a second time. It was finally put out with the use of extinguishers. The damage was principally from smoke.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Cook have daughter, Mrs. Wm. Bridgman of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Dr. C. Oscar Ford of Springfield will conduct the quarterly conference of the Methodist church in the chapel next Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

Rev. D. L. Hilliard began last Sunday a series of short talks on the Bible, taking the time just before the study period of the Federated Sunday school. The superintendent cordially invites the townspeople to be present the next few Sundays to hear these valuable contributions.

H. B. Ketchen went to New York club is in receipt of some attractive bronze buttons, which have on them

the lettering, "Metacomet F. R. & G.
C., 1921." In the center of the button is stamped the head of an indian chieftain.

The present special activity of the club is the movement to interest people out of town in the organization.
It is hoped that many who have not forgotten the hills and streams of old Belchertown, and perhaps still com-here for a day's sport, will be glad to join the club on the basis of a dollar a year or make a special gift to this organization which already has about sixty members.

Mr. Jackson has received the following letter from E. H. Forbush of the state department of agriculture, in regard to the Holboell's Grebe mentioned in last week's issue. This visitor, by the way, left its temporary quarters last Saturday, having acquired its strength.

"Your letter of Mar. 2 received. I am interested to know about the Austrian Owl and the Holboell's Grebe.
No doubt the Holboell's Grebe was driven out by the freezing up of the lakes in New York, although I have not heard that those lakes were frozen.
Possibly it came from the Champlain Lakes.

Yours sincerely,

Director.

Death of Mrs. Marietta S. Gay

TURKEY HILL NEWS.
Mrs. Marietta S. Gay, widow of Edward B. Gay, died at her home Sunday afternoon. She was born in Belchertown 84 years ago and was a life long resident of the town. She joined the Methodist church at an early age and was a faithful attendant as long as her health permitted. She was also a member of Union Grange.

She leaves three children, Mrs. Charles Randall of Granby, Mass., Edward E., with whom she lived, and Mrs. Frank Burton of New Bedford, Mass., ten grandchildren and three great grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Ella Conkey of this town, and a brother, Morrison S. Blodgett of Springfield.

The funeral service was held in the chapel Tuesday morning and was conducted by Rev. D. L. Hilliard. Burial will be in Mt. Hope.

Mrs. Ethel Alden Collis sang "Asleep in Jesus" and "Somewhere the Sun is Shining." The bearers were Messrs. Edgar C. Witt, Everett Howard, Richard French and Arthur Ketchen.

Death of James E. Otis

James E. Otis of Federal St., a Civil war veteran, nearly 82 years old, was found dead in bed last Friday evening, when his neighbors entered his house, on suspicion that something must be the matter.

No signs of life had been seen during the day at the house, and in the evening there were no lights. Mr. Otis had lived alone since the death of his wife, who was Augusta C. Pierce before her marriage. She died about six years ago.

On Thursday Mr. Otis walked to the center, but on his return, complained to a neighbor of not feeling well.

Mr. Otis was born in Springfield

American Legion Easter Monday Ball in Park View hall.

and served in the navy in the Civil war. He was a member of the Episcopal church. He came to this town from Granby ten years ago. He leaves a nephew, a Mr. Lane of Springfield, and two nieces, who live in North Wilbraham.
The funeral was held at the home Monday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. D. L. Hilliard officiating.

Funeral of Mrs. Ida W. Brown

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida W. Brown, who died Friday, March 9th, were held at her home in the Blue Meadow district Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. D. L. Hilliard of the Federated church of Belchertown, officiated. A large number of friends were present, including the Community club, which attended in a body. The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

Besides her husband, Albert S. Brown, she leaves one son, Harold S. Brown of Springfield, Mass., two daughters, Mildred J. Brown of Fitchburg, Mass., and Mrs. Frederick E. Lincoln of this town, four grandchildren, and a brother, Walter L. Berry of Chester, N. H.

Mrs. Brown was a Past Noble Grand of Dorcas Rebekah Lodge No. 7, I. O. O. F. and of the Rebekah Assembly of Rhode Island. The body was taken to Lebanon, New Hampshire, Monday morning and entombed.

Death of
Mrs. Barbara Jenks

Mrs. Barbara Ellen Jenks died at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Damon of the Enfield road, last Saturday after a protracted illness due to a paralytic shock sustained the 21st of last September.

Mrs. Jenks was born Nov. 26, 1844 in Pittsburg, Pa., and was the daughter of George and Barbara Bowers Willis. She was twice married, her first husband being Horatio Shaw, who died in 1887. She then married Lyman Jenks, whose death occurred in 1912.

Mrs. Jenks leaves a grandson, Charles Shaw of this town, and three granddaughters, Miss Edith Shaw of this town, Mrs. Edna Cady of New York City and Mrs. Lucy Sheets of West Granville. She also leaves a step-daughter, Mrs. Wm. Bolter of Bondsville.

The funeral was held in the chapel Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. D. L. Hilliard, officiating. Mrs. Clarinda Shaw sang two selections.

The bearers were Loren Shaw of Amherst and J. B. Damon, Charles Shaw, Fred Dewey, Roy Shaw and L. H. Blackmer of this town. The body was placed in the receiving tomb at Mt. Hope cemetery.

Bazaar and Supper

The Catholics will hold a bazaar and supper in the basement of the church tomorrow evening. Roast beef, roast pork, vegetables, rolls, pies, coffee, etc., are among the supper allurements, with ice cream and cake at 20 cents extra. The supper will be 50 cents.

Social Union Officers

The Ladies' Social Union have elected the following officers for the coming year:

Pres., Mrs. Charles Morse
1st-Vice-Pres., Mrs. R. A. French
2nd-Vice-Pres., Mrs. Warren Upham

Which Attitude?

The daily press is continually presenting us with the difficulties in the Eastern hemisphere. The editors believe that they are of such significance that they devote large space on their most commanding page. They believe that their readers are interested in these matters. The Lausanne Conference has figured large among the editorial columns as well as upon the first pages, especially that part of the conference that had to deal with Turks and Armenians. The invasion of the Ruhr territory by the French is given the best space day after day. The whole world has looked on with a great measure of anxiety to the outcome of this occupation of the Ruhr district. From our observation it would seem that there was practically unanimity in the feeling that the treaties at Lausanne sanctioned many wrongs. Who is there who believes that Turkey has been properly indicted for her injustice and cruelty towards the Armenians?

We find that two attitudes have been taken toward these turmoils. One class of people has taken the attitude that it was well that America has kept out of all this trouble, that she is to be congratulated because she has not gotten entangled in these troublesome affairs, and that she was wise in adopting the policy of aloofness and that it is fortunate that we have not as yet joined with the other nations in the League. Another class of people takes a different attitude. This class says that America is somewhat responsible for all these troubles; that if America had been represented at Lausanne by a regular accredited delegate, rather than by an observer, that the dealings with the Turk would not have been so weak and ineffective. This class says that America is to be held accountable for the condition of the Armenian today. This class declares that if America had only been a member of the League, the present difficulty between France and Germany might have been averted.

The present writer takes the latter attitude. He believes that while it is easy to exaggerate the power of America in international relationship, yet by our policy of aloofness we have made all world problems vexatious and alarming, and that we have retarded the progress of the world.

He believes that isolation spells death, he believes that America's wealth and power increases her responsibility, and that she has no right to sit in a cushioned box and look on while others struggle. He believes that no world league can be altogether successful when any one strong nation stands outside. One of the first lessons given to the world was that we are our brother's keeper and that applies to international problems as well as to individual relations. R

The pastor gave notice last Sunday of meetings to be held Sunday and Monday at the auditorium in Springfield, which are a part of a country-wide program to further world co-operation. Dr. Nehemiah Boynton and other noted persons will speak. A member of the secretariat of the League of Nations will give one of the addresses. It is expected that one of the regional meetings alluded to in the following announcement will be held in Amherst.

THE CHURCH CAMPAIGN FOR PEACE

The World Alliance for International Friendship Through the Churches, the Church Peace Union, the World Peace Foundation of Boston, and the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America have undertaken to hold more than two thousand conferences and mass meetings throughout the United States for the purpose of urging more effective American co-operation in organizing the world against future wars. Among the speakers who will take part in the campaigns are some of the most prominent platform orators and educators in the country.

Meetings are being held in the larger cities of the country where further plans are being carried out to hold conferences in out-lying cities and towns at later dates. The meetings will give an opportunity to the Christian people of this country to make themselves heard in behalf of our entering the World Court and taking part in every good international development that shall help put an end to war.

THE BARRETT COMPANY'S LEADERSHIP in the roofing field has been marked by ceaseless experimentation in an effort to improve its products. This has led to the discovery of valuable products not directly connected with roofings.

In this way Everjet Elastic Paint was discovered—a protective carbon paint of unequalled durability for all exposed metal and wood surfaces.

Everjet is easy to apply and dries quickly into a glossy black coat that is free from pin-holes and blebs and that will not plaster or peel under any weather conditions.

When used on metal roofs, iron fencing, piping, farm implements, etc., it positively prevents rust and saves many times its small cost.

Other popular Barrett products include metal protective paints, roofing cements, shingle stain oil, fly spray and a wood preservative.

The American Legion is making plans for an Easter Monday ball to be held Apr. 2.

Mrs. Hattie Taylor requests that all those making articles for her table for the coming Social Guild sale leave or send the same to her home.

Attention is again called to the meeting of alumni and friends of H. S. at the High school room night when plans will be made for furnishing one of the rooms in the new High school building as space of last week.

Where Do They Go To?

making some record shipments of late. On Wednesday 61 crates were sent into the city, and by night 18 more crates were ready to go. This means that 21,960 eggs took part in the exodus with 6,680 eggs remaining.

When one takes these figures into consideration and adds thereto a large unknown quantity that must have been marketed in other ways, some idea can be arrived at of the extent to which the poultry business has developed.

That there has been a marked increase in egg shipments is beyond question.

Not only is the question pertinent as to where the eggs go, but there is also this other, Where do they come from? Already the post office is beginning to pass out yipping parcels that will cause the grocer to bend his back this coming fall.

The large dealers are getting them by the thousands, and the smaller lots by amateurs who have caught the fever add up to no inconsiderable sum.

The day old chick business is at its height, and whereas biddy still holds her own as an expert at hatching, an untold amount of labor would be lost if complete dependence were placed upon her. As in all other lines of business, production is of primary importance, therefore the big hatcheries are doing an increasingly larger business each year.

In this connection it is of interest to know that one of our poultrymen is sensing the trend of the times and is endeavoring to meet the needs of some of the local chicken raisers, at least, by providing chicks on the spot so that a tiresome journey can be eliminated and good stock secured.

W. E. Shaw, some time ago, installed a 2,400 egg, hot water machine of one of the latest patterns that is automatically controlled, not only as concerns the temperature but also as to the turning of the eggs, and is running it for the first time this spring. He is already booked for the entire season, which shows that there is a demand in this line. His experience in the poultry business will, no doubt, make him proficient in this specialized branch of the industry and will help to keep Belchertown on the map.

This town lost its carriage industry because other men outclassed us in business enterprise and capital. In these later days we see signs on the horizon that lead us to believe there are some at least who have the courage to transfer their paddles from the smaller to the larger streams.

Another Ford Record

One million Ford cars in eight months!

That is the new production record set up at the Ford Motor Company's plant, according to advices received from Detroit.

On January 17th, the seven million mark was reached. The six million mark was attained on May 18th, 1922, so that within just one day less than eight months the Ford plant turned out one million cars, a record-breaking achievement in the production of automobiles.

This record means that in eight months the plant averaged a daily production of more than 4,800 cars or 125,000 a month. And some idea of the speeding up in production may be gained from the fact that the last million cars were turned out 4 months quicker than the previous million. The five million mark was reached May 28th, 1921, and it was nearly a year, lacking ten days, in fact, before the six millionth car went out of the plant.

Water Committee on Job

Contrary to the idea of a good many, the water committee appointed last year is still on the job. It has not reported to the town because countless obstacles have been met, which have necessarily postponed putting the proposition in shape where it could be acted upon.

The problem of getting satisfactory arrangements made with the state, and also putting the system in at a price within the reach of the district, has not been quite the same as going to the store and buying a monkey wrench.

So it is not fitting to class the committee with the departed. Some day they will speak up and their message, we trust, will be worth waiting for.

Big Game Saturday

The Belchertown Independents have been fortunate in arranging a game for Saturday night with the Tigers of Springfield. This team has been playing under heavy guarantees all winter and has won every game. The Athol Y. M. C. A. and Agawam town team are amongst its victims.

The team includes Slate, the highest scorer of the Springfield High school and Page of the Technical High school, who plays center. Bob Berry of the Conn. Aggies will be one of its star backs, making a fast combination. The following line up will be used.

Catholic Supper and Bazaar

The Catholics have held suppers before in the same building in which the one of last Friday night was held, but as it is now their own property, there must have been a bit of a different sensation in connection with this latest event.

Mass has been held in the church auditorium above, but the basement rooms, suitable for suppers, etc., like the one just held, had not been christened.

The summertime usually brings large delegations from surrounding towns and cities to attend the Catholic doings, but, because of the bad travelling, these parties were not so much in evidence. Nevertheless, the townspeople supported the event in good numbers and the local aspect of the assembly made it quite a home-like gathering.

The supper was a very fine one, as have been its predecessors, and was most hospitably served.

After the supper, there was a liberal patronage at the booths where were offered fancy-articles of almost every description and candies and sweets of equal variety. The booths were decked with touches of color, so that it was more than a cold buy and sell affair. People vied with one another to get what they wanted.

Ice cream and cake were also on sale, thus providing a unique feature for March.

All during the evening the church was illuminated up stairs, so that those who desired could inspect the work that has been done. This last week the new memorial windows were installed, which added another touch to the appropriately renovated edifice.

When the new altar is installed, the new carpet laid, and improved lighting fixtures put in, the Catholics will indeed have a church home of which they may well be proud.

The following sketch of the Memorial windows is of interest.

Beautiful Windows Installed

Work has been completed on the installation of stained glass windows in the new Catholic church in Belchertown.

The windows are a rich color and harmonize very well with the interior of the church. In each panel there is a different emblematic subject, viz., Ave Maria, Chalice, I. H. S., Bishop's Mitre, and the Dove which represents the Holy Ghost. The four evangelists, St. Matthew, St. Mark, St. Luke, and St. John, have a prominent place in the central windows, while the Chi. Ro. Alpha and Omega and the Lamb with the Flag are well worked out.

The windows are the work of Mr. Henry P. Fox of Providence, R. I., who at present is engaged in executing some very important church windows. His work on the Belchertown church reflects great credit and all are well pleased with the results achieved.

in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed in said mortgage
and described therein as follows:

Three tracts of land with the
buildings thereon, situated in said Belchertown, bounded and described
as follows:

First Tract. Beginning at the center of an old road about sixty rods south of the house leading westerly to land of Alfred P. Hortie;
thence northerly on land of said
Hortie to a stake and stones; thence easterly about ten rods to a stake and stones; thence northerly in a line in the stone wall between Hortie and said Allen to the highway leading from Enfield to Amherst; thence running easterly on said highway to the Belchertown and Enfield highway; thence southerly on said highway to the point of beginning.

Second Tract. Beginning on the highway at a point near the house,
and running thence westerly on the northerly side of said Amherst Road
to land formerly of Jacob Thayer;
thence northerly on said Thayer's
land to land formerly of one Bartlett; thence northerly to land of John Fuller; thence easterly on land of said Fuller and land of Guy C.
Allen, Jr.; to the Packardville highway; thence southerly on said highway to an old cart road (excepting a narrow crescent shaped strip on the northerly side of the Packard-ville Road, bounded by a discontinued road); thence easterly on land of Israel Ward and land of late Henry Stone to the said Belchertown highway; thence westerly to the point of beginning.

Third Tract. Beginning at the southerly side of the Belchertown highway at a point near the barn;
thence running northeasterly to Randall Road, so-called; thence on said Randall Road to land of Mary Allen; thence southerly on land of said Mary E. Allen to land of Miss Miller; thence in a southwesterly direction on land of Miss Miller to the said Enfield highway;

thence easterly along said highway
to the point of beginning.

Why Britain Values the Bahamas.

The Bahamas are a chain of coral islands generally grouped with the West Indies. They belong to Great Britain. The group includes 29 islands and 660 islets, but only about 20 are inhabited. The coral rock is porous, retaining moisture, hence the soil that has accumulated is very fertile. The islands produce maize, cotton, sisal hemp, pineapples, oranges, lemons, olives, tamarinds; and other sub-tropical fruits. Large quantities of sponges are taken from the surrounding seas. The principal exports are sponges, fruits and sisal fiber. To-matos are being extensively cultivated and shipped to the United States.
Mahogany, lignum-vitae, mastic, ironwood, ebony, boxwood and satinwood are found throughout the islands. The fiber exported in 1920 had a value of about half a million dollars.

Why Obituarist Resigned.

The late Archie L. Williams, for many years general attorney for the Union Pacific, was a chief obituarist of the Middle West whenever a notable died, Capper's Weekly states. On one occasion he wrote a column or more about an old friend who had died and concluded it: "Let us pause and on his bier drop a tear." A drunken printer thought he could improve it so he set it up: "Let us pause and on his bier drop a tear or two."
The proofreader, also soused, decided it was up to him to add something so he made it read: "Let us pause and on his bier drop a tear or two, or perhaps three." When the "obit" came out in the paper that way Archie resigned as obituarist.

Why She Wouldn't Buy.

"Did you sell a vacuum cleaner to that woman across the hall?" asked the sour-looking matron.

"No, ma'am, I didn't," replied the salesman. "She didn't seem to think much of my argument when I said this device would make her housework a pleasure."

"Umph! No wonder. You were wasting your time talking housework to a bride expert."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church will meet with Mrs. E. C. Witt next Tuesday at 3 p. m. Extension members are invited to attend.

Next week, movies will be shown Wednesday night, and thereafter on both Wednesday and Saturday evenings. "Old Nest" is one of the coming features.

Due to the severe rainstorm of last Friday night, the meeting of B. H. S. alumni and friends was postponed to a date to be announced later.

Mrs. George Davis returned last Saturday from a four days' visit with Mrs. A. J. Somes of Newton.

A meeting of the men of the Federated church will be held at the chapel next Monday evening to make further plans regarding the formation of a men's organization. Other men interested, although possibly not connected with the church, are invited.

Tractors on Road

It will be of interest to Belchertown people to know that a special town meeting is to be held in Enfield tomorrow to hear the report of a committee chosen at the annual meeting to investigate the desirability of purchasing a tractor equipment to be used in working the roads in summer and clearing them in winter.

We are informed that the committee finds that tractors go away ahead of old fashioned methods, especially where a powerful tractor has been purchased. Ware has a modern machine, and the Ware River News this past winter has all the time had wonderful things to say of their equipment. The work done in Ware and for other towns by the same outfit has undoubtedly opened the eyes of those who have an eye for progressive methods in road work.

The Enfield committee finds that the number of towns using tractors is rapidly increasing.

Whether an appropriation will be made tomorrow or not may be a question. As in all towns there are those who would oppose anew scheme anyway, and of course those who work on the roads are not apt to vote for anything that will dispense with a portion of their services.

There is an element, too, that would purchase a light tractor, thus lessening the cost; but this, in the minds of some, would not be good policy. We understand that less than $2,000 is necessary to purchase real equipment like the Cletrac.

We give this space to the issue in Enfield because there may be a lesson in it for Belchertown. The demand is constantly growing to have the roads open in winter, and modern equipment is necessary to do the work. In summer, also, a large amount of work has to be done here, and of course it should be done in the most economical manner.

It behooves us, therefore, to watch what other towns are doing, and, of course, of more importance, to ascertain the facts of real performance.

The Chapel Opening

It was a gala night at the chapel Wednesday evening. The atmospheric conditions outside were not really conducive to a house warming, being one of the wildest nights of the winter, but within it surely savored of a dedication party.

Not long after the appointed hour the new dining hall, festooned with streamers of orange, green and white, was the scene of the chicken pie supper, one of the best imaginable, and served most painstakingly by young ladies of the church, who were dressed in white with cap and apron to match the prevailing color scheme of the decorations.

Covers were laid for 103 without using the main auditorium as has been necessary of late, so that considerable more space is available. The new lights installed in the hall proved most attractive, making the room something more than noted for its size. The kitchen, with its wide serving windows was found to be most convenient.

The fair was staged in the audience room where the color scheme was the same as that in the dining room.

Five booths were laden with articles that were of great variety and value. Fancy articles, aprons, candy, groceries and children's apparel were all obtainable. Some were obtained quicker than others, the candy specially proving quite popular.

At the children's table Mrs. Taylor had on exhibition bags containing $8.00 earned by seven boys in her Sunday school class who became interested some time ago in helping along the chapel fund.

Articles remaining unsold were auctioned off by Prin. Allen after the program.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Hopkins and consisted of selections by members of the musical club, a reading by Miss Upham and solos by Miss Richardson.

The ladies of the Social Guild put considerable time and effort into the fair and supper and the support, weather considering, was commensurate. The ladies took upon themselves the expense of renovating the chapel and now that it is done, are happy in that they have enough money to pay for the task. Quite a sum was realized Wednesday evening, although the exact sum has not yet been arrived at.

Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Cook had charge of the supper, while the fair was largely managed by Mrs. Taylor assisted by Mrs. Spellman, Mrs. Dwight Randall, Miss Marion Bartlett and Miss Esther Jackson. Mrs. Dora Bardwell, assisted by Miss Hales, had charge of the apron table.

Federated Church
Notes

MEN'S CLASS ORGANIZES
The question has been discussed considerably of late as to whether the men of the Federated church, would organize a brotherhood or a men's club, but it was finally decided at a meeting Monday evening not to form a new organization but to develop the same idea in the men's class already in existence.

The class proposes to radiate a spirit of friendship and helpfulness and to extend a cordial welcome to newcomers to join in all the activities of the Federated church.

W. E. Killmer was chosen president and E. Clifton Witt secretary and treasurer. Further committees will be chosen as occasion requires.

It is planned to hold special meetings from time to time with occasionally an outside speaker.

Good Friday's Victory

Today is Good Friday, a day which has gained in significance with the passing of the years. We perhaps have been inclined to look upon Good Friday as a day of defeat and Easter as a day of victory. To be sure, victory came to its consummation at Easter, but was there not on Good Friday a victory, most remarkable.

The forces of evil thought they were winning on that day, but here was a man who did not hesitate to drain his life's blood ere he would deviate from the path of duty, of sacrifice and of right. Good Friday savored of no compromises with Him. He risked all and the taunts of the multitude did not sway Him.

Easter loses its meaning with us,
does it not, unless we meet manfully
the experiences of Good Friday.
Many a man in public life has died, never to rise in public esteem, because he compromised in the time of decision; but many a man too, supposedly gotten rid of because he clung tenaciously to the right, has risen, either in life or in death, to prominence and power.

Let us not in the maze of other truths, overlook the fact that Good Friday produced the world's shining example of what needs to be duplicated in every avenue of our community, national and world life today—men and women who will not shrink in the testing times of life.

Supporting Law Needed

It is well known that our state police are greatly handicapped in enforcing the prohibition law by a defective, state liquor law. Today, while they can arrest for selling or exposing and keeping for sale, they cannot touch the transportation of liquor.

A Chief of Police in one of our towns who jumped on to a car where liquor was being transported and given out, and arrested the driver, was not able to have his case sustained in court simply because the state law does not cover transportation.

A bill has been introduced into the Legislature that relieves our police from this great embarrassment of not being able to interfere with a truck carrying liquor. Nowhere in the country is such a law more needed than in Massachusetts. This bill, House Bill 641, gives our policemen the power needed to interfere with the transportation of liquor. Every right minded citizen should certainly urge the passage of this measure which is approved by judges and police who honestly wish to do their duty in respect to enforcing the laws of the United States.

Turkey Hill Items

Mrs. J. W. Hurlburt visited her daughter, Mrs. George Williams, of Amherst, Friday and Saturday.

A brisk ride in the fresh air is beneficial to mind and body, and the Turkey Hill school children have been blessed with the opportunity of obtaining it many a day this winter,
March 29 being a fair example, when they had ridden to the center
only to be excused early in the day to walk home or wait about town, the heating plant in the new building refusing to send forth heat.

Line 33 out of order. No news

Why Mirrors Become Clouded.

"These wintry and rainy days are sure tough for me," said the elevator man in an office building.

"How's that?" asked the casual passenger.

"Look at those mirrors on each side of the car," directed the elevator man.
"I have to wipe them off about every five minutes. On cold days the feminine nose gets red, and on rainy days
—well, the rain washes the powder off their noses. What's the result?
Every carload I take up crowds over near these mirrors, takes out the old powder puff and starts dollyn'. There's a bunch of them, you see, and by the time I reach the top floor the mirrors are so clouded with powder they don't reflect a thing."

"Except possibly feminine vanity," observed the casual passenger.

Why Malamute Dogs Are Scarce.

Malamute dogs, the half-wolf, half canine animals known as huskies, are selling in the North at $100 apiece and up, according to returned hunters and prospectors. When the North is snow-bound and lakes and rivers are locked with ice against navigation, travel is almost exclusively by dog-sled. The lowest price at which dogs can be obtained is $100 each, according to advices "First-class animals, such as crack "mushers" pride themselves on keeping, are hard to get at any price, and when obtainable cost several hundred dollars, or as much as a good horse in the South.
Security of dogs, it is said, is due to the neglect of breeding stock by the Indians.

Why the Turkey Died.

Mr. Smart did not allow his debtors much time to discharge their liabilities, and he had the effrontery to call on a customer for the collection of a bill on Christmas day. "I have called,"
he began, "to ascertain when you intend to pay me the cash you owe?"

"Well, sir," replied the debtor, who was enjoying his Christmas dinner,
"at the end of my resources; in fact I have nothing to pay anyone and I am now being starved by me."

"The reason I fail to see why you should be starved is the luxury of a dinner and a comfortable abode, which I have not seen to do for you. I would be glad to see you starved."

the same, will be sold at public auction at the dwelling house formerly known as the Guy C. Allen homestead which is on the mortgaged premises, on Saturday the 14th day of April A. D. 1923, at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the
premises conveyed in said mortgage
and described therein as follows:

Three tracts of land with the
buildings thereon, situated in said Belchertown, bounded and described
as follows:

First Tract. Beginning at the center of an old road about sixty rods south of the house leading westerly to land of Alfred P. Hortie;
thence northerly on land of said
Hortie to a stake and stones; thence
easterly about ten rods to a stake and
stones; thence northerly in a line in
the stone wall between Hortie and
said Allen to the highway leading
from Enfield to Amherst; thence
running easterly on said highway to
the Belchertown and Enfield highway; thence southerly on said highway to the point of beginning.

Second Tract. Beginning on the highway at a point near the house,
and running thence westerly on the
northerly side of said Amherst Road
to land formerly of Jacob Thayer;
thence northerly on said Thayer's
land to land formerly of one Bartlett; thence northerly to land of

The Real Significance of the Girl Scout Movement

Harold L. Fraser

The first of several publicity articles sent out by the state director of the Girl Scout movement for Massachusetts.

This is an age when Bolshevism and anarchy threaten; and people who think seriously at all are thinking most seriously of all about this question; what is the future going to bring this country and other countries in the course of political change? Bolshevism is nearer than most people like to think or admit;
in Russia it is rampant, with ghastly results; in every other country of the world it is represented by well-financed anarchistic organizations, and here in the United States which we like to think is immune to such ideas, our northwestern states, particularly Oregon and Washington, are so invaded by agents of not-far-away Russia, and an attempt at a state of anarchy is so almost possible, that representatives of orderly government prefer not to talk about it.

To prove this fully would be to describe in detail the Girl Scout movement. Its fundamental principles, however, are well known.—loyalty to God, home, country, a good turn every day, training. In terms of the problem which is being considered, what is it that the Girl Scout gets in her training?

In this semi-crisis, all over the United States it is beginning to be realized that in the scout organizations there is a movement which is —to be continued—

Apple Farm For Sale

The Chandler farm, 2 miles north of the village on the proposed Federal highway. This small farm consists of 15 acres of orchards, mowing and pasture land; 400 apple trees in bearing, of early and late varieties. The old colonial house was built before 1770 and is one of the largest and best in town. Some of its rooms are done in wood paneling and still have the old-fashioned doors with their long hinges and latches. Fireplaces are numerous. Other buildings are an ell, wood-shed and barn.

Beautiful view of Holyoke mountain and wooded hills to the north. Within one-fourth mile of Lake Metacomet where fine swimming, boating and fishing can be enjoyed.

This would make a fine fruit and poultry farm or an ideal summer home.

Easter Services

Easter was appropriately observed at the Federated church on Sunday. There was special music in the morning and a fitting sermon by the pastor. Three young people were received into membership of the Congregational church, Miss Alice Putnam, Miss Minnie Squires and Miss Dorothy Blackmer. Communion was administered at the close of the service.

In the evening the choir rendered the cantata, "The First Easter," to a large audience in the Congregational church. Much time had been spent in preparation for this presentation which was most favorably received. The pastor spoke on the unfolding vision that Easter brings as the years pass.

The churches were fittingly decorated for Easter, a number of potted plants having been purchased by the Young Peoples' society which had the matter in charge. At the close of the evening service the flowers were sent to the sick and shut-ins.

Park Association Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Park Association was held Wednesday evening at the town hall. After the reports of the past year were read and accepted, the following officers were elected.

Moriarty-Sweeney Wedding

The marriage of Miss Kathryn E. Moriarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Moriarty, and Clarence L. Sweeney of Worcester, took place at St. Bartholomew's church, Bondsville, on Monday morning, Father McGrath officiating. The bride-maid was Miss Ella J. Moriarty, sister of the bride, while Daniel J. Norton of Boston, cousin of the groom, was best man.

The bride was gownned in beige flat crepe with hat to match and carried Aaron Ward roses. The bride-maid wore pearl grey crepe with hat to match and carried Ophelia roses.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a string of pearls. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a topaz finger ring. The groom gave the best man a pair of gold cuff-links.

A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home, only members of the two families being present. There were many lovely gifts including silver, cut glass and money.

Mrs. Sweeney was a teacher in the Belchertown schools for several years. After a two weeks' wedding trip to Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney will make their home in Worcester.

Girl Scout Entertainment

The Girl Scouts of Pine Cone Troop No. 2 will give an entertainment next week Friday night at the grade school building, to which the public is cordially invited. Eight of the girls have spent considerable time rehearsing the play which forms part of the evening's program. The younger girls will demonstrate some of their Scout work before the play is presented. A number of songs are also scheduled. Candy will be on sale.

The proceeds of the evening will go toward the purchase of material for Scout uniforms. Some of the girls have already begun cutting and making their own suits.

It is hoped that the public will be interested not only in the Scout demonstrations and entertainment, but also in helping out the finances of Pine Cone Troop No. 2.

Social Guild Notes

The Social Guild realized $177 on its chicken pie supper last week. Owing to considerable expense in getting up the supper, a large proportion of the proceeds was realized from the fair, where all the articles were donated. $111 was cashed in from the booths over which Mrs. Taylor had charge. The cost of remodeling the chapel was a little over $600, besides incidental expenses.

The next objective the Guild has is the purchase of suitable chairs for the dining hall. The ones now used are those taken from the audience room and are not as suitable as they might be for use at the tables. Furthermore, it is desired to keep those now on hand for exclusive use in the main room.

Get-together Social

It's been a long time since the last get-together social, but another is due for next Monday evening, and to all accounts, it will be well worth waiting for. The committee has had considerable of a time filling vacancies, making plans, and carrying them out, but they're most out now.

The "deestrick school" is to be the big attraction. A. R. Lewis has been engaged as master and will try to keep his position for at least two sessions. His chief remuneration will come from "boarding out" the pupils.

No further inducement should be necessary to call out the get-together constituency.

Death of

Mrs. Harriet Squires

Mrs. Harriet Newell Squires, a native of this town, died Monday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Hillman of Dalton. Her illness was of about fourteen weeks' duration but her death was
